METHODISTS TO REACH CENTENARY QUOTA

LOCAL CHURCH EXPECTS TO GO OVER THE TOP SUNDAY

To Date About $10,885 of Quota of $15,000 Has Been Reached—Aurelius Half Over

Mason M. E. Church has raised about three-fourths of its quota of $15,000 in the Centenary movement and next Sunday the committee is more than expectant of going "Over the Top." On May 13, thirteen churches in the Lansing District were safely over, Mulliken, Sunfield, Ithaca, Sheridan, St. Louis, Brockbridge, Grand Lodge, Dewitt, Central, Michigan and First M. E. Churches of Lansing and First M. E. Churches of East Lansing and Wheeler.

This is the greatest movement ever undertaken by any church in the world's history. It is a proposition to raise at least $105,000,000 to be paid within five years, one fifth being paid June 1, 1919 and May 31st, 1920, and the other four-fifths each year thereafter for four years.

TO PRACTICE WHEN OFFICE IN LAWRENCE BLOCK IS REPAIRED

Dr. and Mrs. Yerkes are now in Mason and will soon be located in their new home. The office is being repaired and the new doctor will be ready for business the last of the week.

PASSED TEACHERS' EXAM.

There were eleven out of the twenty-three young people who wrote the teachers' examination that passed Second Grade: Mrs. Martha Willard, White Cloud; Third Grade: Miss Blanch Ingalls, Leslie; Laura Black, Danville; Lucile Fuller Stockbridge, Lois Hammond, Williamston; Neva Steiner, Leslie; Anita Thomas, Perry, Archie Tuttle, Leslie; Mrs. Kate Woodland, Leslie; Bernice Whipple, Danville.

PEACE TERMS

On another page of this issue will be found a summary of the peace terms as handed to Germany last week. It was a better pill for the Heines to swallow and so different from the Chlormas, 1914, dinner they expected to eat in Paris.

RED CROSS HONORS JANITOR

Oliver W. Main, janitor of the Ingham County Court house is the proud possessor of a new E. of P. ring, a gift from the local Red Cross in recognition of the splendid services he has been making the waiting rooms in the court house a fitting place for the regular meetings of the local unit during the war.

PVT. SMITH BACK HOME

Pvt. Earl V. Smith of the famous Rainbow Division, reached home last Saturday afternoon after seeing 12 months' service overseas. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Smith of this city. Smith enlisted from Pontiac July 21, 1917, going overseas with the 42nd Division. He was engaged in the battle at St. Mihiel, Sept. 12, 1918, and during the battle in the Argonne, August 11th, he suffered shell shock. Mr. Smith is a barber and beginning next week will be employed in T. E. Dayton's barber shop.

MURDER TRIAL NOW ON IN CIRCUIT COURT

JURY WILL PROBABLY BE COMPLETED THIS AFTERNOON

Judge West Sentenced Two Wednesday—Small Crowds Attend The Court On First Two Days

At noon today the attorneys in the case of The People vs. Peter Maelher were still examining jurors. The original list of jurors drawn were exhausted yesterday afternoon and fifteen more were called in this morning. But two names remained in the box at noon today and Judge West instructed Albert L. Rose, who had been deputized to act because Sheriff Silsby is a witness, to call in ten more.

There's one inning in the game the boys are reluctant about mentioning, and in view of the good showing in the last two games, perhaps it should not be elaborated upon. But it tells the story of a defeat, so here goes: Fourth inning, Stockbridge at bat. Score 3 to 0 in Mason's favor. First man up reaches first on error. Next man struck out. Runner stole second and reached third on wild throw. Another man passed. Next one given life on error. Base on balls. Two lusty hits in succession. Green beamed the next batter. Another safely. Exit Green, enter Campbell. Relief pitcher sent first man back to bench after three healthy swings. Next batter connected with the pill. Twelfth man up in inning was too tired to run making the third out and ended the nightmare for the locals. Eight Stockbridge men crossed home plate during the session.

An Opportunity To Grow!

We wonder if the people of Mason realize that there is at hand an opportunity to profit by the growth of our neighboring city, Lansing. Real Estate men are being besieged by people who wish to come to Mason to live. Many wish to rent desirable homes and when they cannot get a place to rent, they buy.

Houses are not to be had. Inquiries for them either for purchase or rent meet with disappointment. The restriction of building during the war has of course played a great part in producing this scarcity of homes.

A shortage of houses is to be regretted for several reasons. It means congestion. Where two families are living in quarters which are by rights only sufficient for one, there is inevitably crowding enough to affect the conditions of life more or less unfavorably.

Also, if a small town has only houses enough for its present inhabitants there is no possibility of further growth. New residents, however satisfactory they might be as citizens, simply cannot be accommodated.

Men who have capital or can arrange for the use of it should wake up to conditions and realize that the present is an excellent time for building.

In the first place, the greatest necessity of the country just now is work for the returned soldiers and sailors. Building will furnish this.

In the second place, building would be an act of public spirit supplying the builder's home town with the houses required for its progress and growth.

Lastly, the demand for houses shows that well-built homes will prove an excellent investment for the builder. Houses to rent will be an assured source of income. And the sale of houses upon easy monthly payments is a most satisfactory plan. A town which has these to offer can secure a fine class of thrifty, prudent citizens, who as they are property-holders, will be interested in their homes and surroundings.

Local banks should see their interests in financing builders where necessary. It is to be hoped that as the season progresses, we shall see a good class of homes going up in Mason, such as will reflect credit upon the town and bring profit to the builders.

Will You Be Missed?

Some of these days you, who are reading this article, are going to die and pass to your reward—whatever that reward may be.

Will you leave a void behind?
Will you be missed?

The Creator has ordained that man must carve out his career in this world and when he journeys to the great unknown he leaves behind a record founded upon his own acts.

You may leave behind you a wife or children, or other dependents. As you deal by them in life, so will their grief be gauged and tempered at your death.

Will they miss you?

In this town you have friends, and business associates, and many acquaintances. They know you as you are, as you have been for many years. They have judged you living, and they will judge you dead.

Will they miss you?

In our homes are many little children who know you, who have passed you on the streets, who, perhaps you have greeted with a kindly smile or with a frown. They will remember you.

But will they miss you?

Why Is It?

Did you ever know an employer who never breathed any compliments? A man who was just a "boss"?

There are lots and lots of such men; we meet them every day. If an employer makes a mistake those men are quick enough to see it. Oh, yes, indeed. And there is not the slightest hesitancy on their part to mention it. But if the same fellow does a creditable bit of work, something worth while, it is passed without a word. Why is it so?

And then again we meet men—and women too—who apparently find it impossible to say a complimentary word of some friend's efforts, be they mechanical, literary, artistic, decorative or what not. Take yourself, for instance; don't you enjoy a sincere compliment, whether from friend, employer or relative? Sure you do; we all do. Then if you know something that might possibly please some one, why bury it? Let him enjoy it. It costs you nothing. On the other hand it's a big, dividend-paying investment.

When you hear some remark, complimenting an acquaintance, it won't cost you very much of an effort to repeat it to that acquaintance. And he'll appreciate it too. And then he'll try harder than ever to be worthy of that compliment.

This old sphere would be a dry place indeed if we humans didn't have little streaks of vanity running through us.

Your boy or girl, if you are so fortunate as to have one or both, may draw pictures or build toys of various and sundry kinds. Do you smile and assume a friendly interest, or do you frown and endeavor to get rid of the ambitious youngsters as quickly as possible? Why if that child gets the idea that you are interested in his efforts, he will try harder than ever to improve—and he'll improve, too.

Try this for a month. If you have any sunshine, scatter it. If it falls, money back. Smile each morning until ten o'clock, even if it hurts, and we guarantee that for the balance of the day, it will be twice as easy.

Keep Your Own House

The hardest housekeeping in the world is the housekeeping that we do for our neighbors. Half of the troubles that trouble us are caused by worrying about what other people think. What difference does it make what they think, anyway?

No one can live his life and two or three other peoples' lives besides. So what's the use of setting up housekeeping on the roofs or on the outside walls for the benefit of the neighbors? You would rightly be judged insane if you suggested anything of the kind, yet that is practically what half the people do. They can't do this "because the neighbors would talk," and they can't do that "because the neighbors wonder" if they can afford it.

They may not say so in so many words, but they mean it, and it is simply a great big vacuum in some of our natures where moral courage ought to be.

Half the sting of poverty or of small means is gone when one keeps house for himself and not for his neighbors.

WISE and OTHERWISE

A Beautiful Thought For Today
The reason virtue is not always attractive is because it too often is pretentious.

It's all right for you to start out reforming folks but if you can induce some candid friend and still more candid enemy to give their frank opinions of you, you'll figure out you have a lifetime job reforming without going outside the family.

If you wish to find out how inefficient you are, keep a stop watch on your actual working time every day and then see whether the boss may not have more reason to reduce your wages than advance them.

A girl feels complimented if you call her feather-footed, but not if you call her feather-headed, and yet

If you can only believe half you hear, at least you may train yourself to believe the right half.

A cement walk is being built in front of the county jail.

One team brought in 50 cases, 1500 dozen eggs, to the cold storage last Friday.

Fred Lewis and family have moved to the A. D. Tubbs' house on Lansing street.

Joseph Stoffer has sold his brick residence on Okemos street to Austin Riggs of Alhaidon.

May 8, to Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Longyear, Agricultural College, an eight pound boy.

Evert Clark stepped on a rusty nail last Saturday morning and ever since has wished he had not done so.

F. C. McEuen has sold his 160-acre farm near Leslie to Arvee Perry of Leslie. Consideration $4,800.

Prof. W. J. McKone has been tendered the superintendency of the Alhaidon schools for the coming year at an increased salary.

We are informed that Hugh Blakeley will soon build a residence on the property lately purchased of W. E. Howard on West Ash street.

The sad news was received in this city last Saturday morning of the death of Rev. L. E. Spafford, a former pastor of the Mason Baptist church. His death occurred at his home in Bellevue, which place had been his residence since removing from this city. He was born in Otsego County, N. Y., June 28, 1828, entering the ministry at the age of twenty-two.

A shocking and fatal accident occurred in this city Monday afternoon. Lilla, the fifteen months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hinkley, who reside in the northern part of the city, was playing out doors and in some unaccountable way fell head first into a well of water and was drowned. Mrs. Hinkley, upon discovering the child, quickly gave the alarm and a physician was summoned but the child was past medical skill. Funeral services were held yesterday, Rev. A. F. White officiating. They have the sympathy of the entire community.

The report of Earl A. Dunmore,

Are You Waiting for Prices to Come Down?

CURTIS WOODWORK

ABOUT 320,000 houses are built each normal year in this country.

Last year home-building was at a standstill, for patriotic reasons.

The year before that and the year before that, home-building was below normal because "prices were too high." As a result, there is a shortage in this country of about 700,000 houses!

Consequently, there is a "hungry market" for building materials. General Demand is about to launch a campaign for home-building. What will General Supply do? What effect will a big demand have on prices? You can draw your own conclusions.

You can decide now whether you want to take advantage of the present favorable prices of materials and build now, or whether you want to wait three, five, ten or fifteen years until "prices are right" and then build, in the meantime, doing without the comfort, convenience, and satisfaction of a home of your own.

Think it over. Our advice is, Build Now! not because the Government asks you to, but because city treasurer, for April received and filed.

Moved and supported that the Mayor and Clerk be authorized to buy $800 worth of "Fifth" Liberty Loan Bonds. Yeas, Bell, Clipper, Hardenburg, Hilliard, Taylor and Waggoner. Carried.

Resolved: By the Common Council of the City of Mason, "That the second story of the building situated on the East 2-3 of lot 3 block 13, in said city, be leased to Vevay Lodge No. 93, Independent Order of Odd Fellows of Mason, Mich., for the term of 99 years."

Moved and supported that the foregoing resolution be adopted. Yeas, Bell, Clipper, Hardenburg, Hilliard, Taylor and Waggoner. Carried.

Moved and supported that the resignation of C. G. Hardenburg as a member and chief of the M. F. D. be accepted and that the election of Eber L. Otis as chief be approved. Carried.

On motion Council adjourned for two weeks.

The Manufacturing Facilities of The Standard Oil Company (Indiana)

UNDERLYING the manufacturing activities of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), are the same high ideals of service; the same thoughtful consideration of detail; the same earnest desire to do a big job thoroughly and well, which animates the Company in every other branch of its business.

Every facility which wide experience, ample resources, and the utmost skill of scientifically trained technicians can devise, or suggest, is provided to insure absolute uniformity and the highest standard of quality in each of the many products manufactured by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

The manufacturing facilities of the Company are concentrated in three great refineries, one located at Whiting, Ind., covering 700 acres; one at Wood River, Ill., covering 600 acres; and one at Sugar Creek, Mo., covering 200 acres of ground.

The Whiting works is conceded to be the most complete, the most perfectly organized oil refinery in the world. Here practically every product of petroleum is manufactured, and here are located the great research laboratories where the problems of manufacture are worked out and solved.

The plants at Wood River and Sugar Creek are modern in every particular and so organized as to use every part of the crude oil. This enables the Company to keep manufacturing costs at a minimum and to supply its patrons with products of the highest standard at prices which otherwise would be impossible.

The 7,000 earnest, industrious, well-paid men and women who make up the personnel of these three refineries, constitute, we believe, the most loyal, the most enthusiastic, most efficient, industrial army to be found anywhere.

The facilities alone for manufacture maintained by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) represent an investment of approximately $60,000,000. This investment is growing constantly to enable the Company to maintain the high standard of service it has set for itself and which it believes the public is entitled to receive.

Bankers Lend
More On Newly Painted Buildings

One Concern Advances 25% More If Repainting Is Done Every 5 Years

Does it pay to paint carefully farm buildings? Does it add to the selling value of a farm when buildings are properly kept up and regularly painted? A careful inquiry of a number of leading bankers in the Mississippi valley, including such states as Iowa, Illinois, Michigan, Ohio, Indiana and Missouri, reveals the fact that in nearly every case the bankers did not hesitate to say that they would lend all the way from 5 to 50% more on hand where farm buildings were well painted and kept in good condition. They maintain that well kept-up and well painted buildings and fences are an indication of thrift and that the thrifty farmer is a good client, and to him money can be safely loaned. An average of the returns from these bankers shows that the increased loan value because of painted buildings is around 22 per cent.

Some of the bankers make interesting comment. A Michigan concern says that, while not especially prepared to advise definitely in response to his inquiry, the officers would loan more money on farms where buildings were painted than where they were not so treated. This bank also finds that where houses, barns and fences are well taken care of the farm is a profitable proposition, and bankers in general consider the farmer a good client. Another Michigan bank says, "Another building out of repair and needing paint indicate that the owner is slow pay." Such farms are rated at about one-third of the assessed value for loans. Where the farm buildings are in good shape the rating is one-half. The president of a middle western bank says that when real estate loans are considered, painted buildings are always taken into consideration in making an estimate. The general appearance of the property surrounding the house and barn and also the fields and fences would be carefully observed. He further says that he would absolutely refuse a loan on farms where the buildings were not kept up and well painted. In his judgment, unpainted farm buildings would reduce the loan value at least 25%.

A Minnesota banker says that he is much more willing to loan money where the buildings are well painted. In his particular case he believes that he would loan 20% more than if the buildings were not properly taken care of. A farmer who will keep his buildings painted takes a much deeper interest in his work than one who does not. Another Minnesota bank says that well painted buildings have resulted in securing from his bank sometimes as high as 25% more money than where the buildings are not painted. An Ohio concern says that it will loan 25% more money on a well kept farm where buildings are painted at least once every five years. A southern Illinois bank says that it has no fixed rule about this, but it does make a decided difference when owners of farm lands apply for loans. If the buildings are well painted and thus well preserved the loan rate would not only be cheaper, but the amount of money borrowed would be larger. A northern Illinois bank does not hesitate to say that it would loan fully 50% more on a farm where buildings were well painted and in good order than where they were not. The vice president, who answers the inquiry, goes on to say that the reason for this is that substantial people who live in the country keep their buildings well painted."

An Iowa bank, through its vice-president, states that it would make a difference of at least 25% in favor of the farm with painted buildings. Another Iowa concern says that it would make a difference of at least 20 per cent.

All this being true, it is perfectly evident that it is a good business proposition to keep the farm buildings well painted. They not only look better and are more pleasing to the owner, but the farm would sell to better advantage, the loan value of the property would be greatly increased and the buildings themselves would last much longer and need less repair.—The American Agriculturist.

PASTIME THEATRE

A program of especial merit is promised at the Pastime Theatre during the coming week, tonight Eddie Polo appears in "The Aerial Disaster" the sixth episode of the stupendous serial, "The Lure of the Circus." Those who enjoy a serial with a punch, a continual melodrama, brimful of thrills from start to finish, are enthusiastic in their praises of this greatest of all circus plays. One of those uproarious Nestor comedies, "Only a Janitor," and a one reel educational feature, "The Screen Magazine," complete tonight's program. The bill for Saturday afternoon and evening is also above the ordinary. Eddie Lyons and Lee Moran, originators of the clean, bright, "dressed up" comedy of today, will be seen in "Guilty." The feature of the day's program is "The Velvet Hand," starring Fritz Brunette, and the sincere, dramatic artistry of her impersonation of Glanna Russell, the beautiful Italian dancer, will be a revelation to theatre-goers accustomed to the ordinary program picture. "The Velvet Hand" is a fascinating story, in an Italian setting, of a peasant dancer who took the oath of the vendetta to kill her brother's murderer. Circumstantial evidence points to Count Paul Trovelli as the guilty man, and Glanna decides to make her vengeance three-fold; to ruin him financially, and then to kill him. How this seemingly tragic state of affairs eventuates in their great happiness is the outcome of this absorbing story. An equally attractive program is promised for next Tuesday evening, when pretty Peggy Hyland will be featured in one of the most touching love stories ever penned or acted, "Bonnie Annie Laurie." Although she is the publicly announced bride to be of a young fellow countryman, Bonnie Annie, a charming Scotch Lassie, is compelled to yield her devotion to the impetuous wooing of a dashing American officer. How this tangle of three hearts is unraveled by the stern hand of war, is the theme of this notable drama. "Mutt and Jeff Landing a Spy," the first of a long series of these well known Budd Fisher cartoons, will be an added attraction on this program. Next Thursday "The Lure of the Circus," a one reel comedy and an interesting number of the Screen Magazine are promised, and on Friday and Saturday following "The Common Cause," J. Stuart Blackton's screen masterpiece, described as the war story with a laugh, a thrill and a throb, will be shown for the benefit of the Mason High School Junior class. A more extended notice of "The Common Cause" will appear in this column next week.

LOOK OUT!

Kidney troubles don't disappear of themselves. They grow slowly but steadily, undermining health with deadly certainty, until you fall a victim to incurable disease. Stop your troubles while there is time. Don't wait until little pains become big aches. Don't trifle with disease. To avoid future suffering begin treatment with GOLD MEDAL Harrison Oil Capsules now. Take three or four every day until you are entirely free from pain. This well-known preparation has been one of the national remedies of Holland for centuries. In 1696 the government of the Netherlands granted a special charter authorizing its preparation and sale.

The housewife of Holland would almost as soon be without food as without her "Real Dutch Drops," as she quaintly calls GOLD MEDAL Harrison Oil Capsules. They restore strength and are responsible in a great measure for the sturdy, robust health of the Hollanders. Do not delay. Go to your druggist and insist on his supplying you with GOLD MEDAL Harrison Oil Capsules. Take them as directed, and if you are not satisfied with results your druggist will gladly refund your money. Look for the name GOLD MEDAL on the box and accept no other. LETTERS From "OUR BOYS"

Corp. Francis Noble, with the 339 in Russia, writes the following to his mother of Onondaga: "This is Wednesday, Feb. 19, and will try and write a few lines to let you know that I am well. It is raining and blowing quite hard here today, just like March weather. The snow is also very deep here. "We came in from the front last night and will be here five days, then God only knows where we will then go. Have been all over the northern front of Russia, from Archangel to about 150 miles south. We were also quite a ways to the left where we did some very hard fighting. We haven't been in any battles in nearly three months and I surely hope that we are through with them. There are many rumors that we are going home before long but one can never tell. However, don't worry about me as it does no good and I will be home some time. This country is nothing but a stopping off place. The only game we have played in the last three months has been Freeze and quite a few times we have been frozen out. We go to bed and then about

DARKEN GRAY HAIR, LOOK YOUNG, PRETTY

Sage Tea and Sulphur Darkens So Naturally that Nobody can tell. Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe. Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite to impart color and a youthful appearance to the hair. It does not

HEAVY MEAT EATERS HAVE SLOW KIDNEYS

Eat less meat if you feel Backache or have bladder trouble—Take glass of Salts.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.
The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will set fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with bicarbonate, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.
Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure; thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

Compare Goodrich 375's with other Ford Car Tires

If you have not used these husky, de Luxe tires for the Ford car, go at once to a Goodrich Dealer and say to him, "Give me a Goodrich Three-Seventy-Five."
Compare it with an ordinary Ford-size tire, and you will find it bigger and burlier in every way.
As a matter of figures and measurements, it is an inch bigger on the circumference, and much thicker in the cross section—that is, a 31 x 3 3/4 inch tire.
That extra size means a finer looking, easier riding Ford car to begin, and a longer lived car and tires in the end.

Though "Three-Seventy-Fives" cost a little more at the outset, built to meet the special needs of the Ford car and bring out its known virtues, they soon reveal a greater dollar economy which makes it the better buy in the long run.

That Salvation Army Smile

Several thousand veterans of the Argonne Forest recently entered New York harbor. Among them were several badly wounded Marines. One man, easily distinguished because of a coat sleeve that dangled empty at his side and a Croix de Guerre, was making his way slowly to the waiting ambulance when a Salvation Army girl approached him and offered doughnuts and coffee. "Now I know I am home," he said. "Those doughnuts helped a whole lot 'over there,' and, first crack out of the box when we land, we find more waiting for us. The best thing about the Salvation Army work out near the front line was the smile that accompanied the gift. Those girls had a knack of wrapping up every doughnut and every cup of coffee in a smile. The doughnuts were fine, but the smile—that took the place of powdered sugar." The Salvation Army Home Service Fund Campaign for $13,000,000 opens May 19, to last one week.

SALVATION ARMY VALIANT IN WAR

Having Served Gloriously in the Trenches, Is Coming Back From Overseas for Peace Time Activities.

ASKS HOME SERVICE FUND.

National Campaign to Replenish Resources Depleted by Long and Direct Contact Services With Our Boys Scheduled for May 19-28.

New York (Special).—Like the 2,000,000 American boys whom it served so gloriously in the trenches of France, the Salvation Army is coming back from overseas, ready to put aside its khaki uniform of war service, don again the "Civvies" and embark once more on its normal peace time activities.

And, just like those doughboys, the Salvation Army has come out of the war victorious and with citations for bravery, decorations for gallantry under fire and golden chevrons indicative of honorably won wounds on its arm. The victory which the Salvation Army has won is a victory over the obstacles that lay before it in its purpose of efficient service of the fighters of Pershing's army. Its citations are the thanks, cheers and prayers of 2,000,000 doughboys. Its wound stripes are rightfully golden of hue, for they typify the unselfish way in which the Army threw all its resources—financial, spiritual and moral—into the effort to help the American soldiers in France.

Now the Army is asking the people of America to give it concrete evidence of the gratitude which has been so loudly, and so willingly expressed. From May 19 to 28 the Salvation Army will conduct in the United States a campaign to raise $13,000,000 for its Home Service Fund. The money is needed both to recoup the fortunes of the Army, shattered by its long service of the soldier and to permit it to carry on the work it has always done on the larger scale which the public now demands. Raising the money by this means, the Salvation Army explains, will eliminate, perhaps permanently, the necessity for the ceaseless solicitation of funds which has been a bug-bear to the Army and the public alike. It will permit the workers of the Army, who, forced to devote more than half their time to gathering money, were in consequence only half efficient in their evangelistic and social service work, to devote all their time in future to the duties for which they have been trained.

Your selling medium. One merchant who recently did some special advertising said to us: "Those ads certainly did the business. They brought results."

We want to hear that kind of language from every one of you.

"Clever is the individual who can condense a peck of trouble so that it will go into a quart measure."

"It is not always common sense that counts—sometimes it's the uncommon kind."

The amount of the fund has been determined exactly and logically by means of budgets prepared locally by workers of the Salvation Army in all parts of the United States.

Already headquarters for the campaign have been established in New York City. A ready response in encouragement and cheering wishes for success has been heard from all parts of the country. Men and women prominent in all walks of life have volunteered their services as active participants in the drive. The Army's 2,000,000 loyal rooters—the boys who went overseas in khaki—are all lined up ready to help. The Army not only helped them over there, but it found jobs for many of them after they had been mustered out of service, helped them get the civilian clothing that was necessary if they wanted to take those jobs, fed many of them, gave them shelter and furnished them with transportation to their homes.

For the war service of the Salvation Army is still under way. Its workers are still, many of them, in France, and its huts, clubhouses and hotels for the reception of the boys returning from abroad are in full swing here.

Neither, the Salvation Army asserts, will its war work be abandoned until the last boy is out of the khaki of the army or the blue of the navy. The larger activities which necessitated the coming campaign will exist and be financed independently of the service of the fighters from abroad.

CARDINAL GIBBONS ENDORSES S. A. DRIVE

Venerable Churchman Expresses Hope That $13,000,000 Will Be Raised.

The following letter was addressed to former Governor Whitman of New York state by Cardinal Gibbons:

"Honorable and Dear Sir—I have been asked by the local Commander of the Salvation Army to address a word to you as National Chairman of the Campaign about to be launched in behalf of the above named organization. This I am happy to do, and for the reason that along with my fellow American citizens I rejoice in the splendid service which the Salvation Army rendered our soldier and sailor boys during the war. Every returning trooper is a willing witness to the efficient and generous work of the Salvation Army both at the front and in the camps at home. I am also the more happy to commend this organization because it is free from sectarian bias. The man in need of help is the object of their effort, with never a question of his creed or color.

"I trust, therefore, your efforts to raise $13,000,000 for the Salvation Army will meet with a hearty response from our generous public. Faithfully yours,

"J. CARD. GIBBONS."

The New House Home Sweet Home

Now that the din of war has ceased and the soldiers are coming out of the trenches and from training camps the one word that is oftener on their lips and the ideal to which they look forward with most pleasant anticipation is "Home." The time of full employment at high wages, with concurrent enforced economies, it has been felt, was the time to induce people to save with a view to building homes after the war. In this connection the beautiful description of what the new house means, written by Winifred Black a contributor to the Newspaper Feature Service, recently published reproduced in the American Building Association News, for its emphasis of a growing need and its wholesome timeliness is worth reprinting and spreading broadcast wherever people are interested in building more homes:

"The house is almost done. Next week we will move into it. I wonder if I will love it as much as I want to. I couldn't bear not to love my own house, that, through the aid of a friendly building and loan association, I have planned with my own heart at every stroke of the hammer. I had a nice, romantic, interesting name for the house—the Hearth of the Four Winds, it was going to be—and a fine name it was, too, for the house stands right where the winds from the North and the breezes from the South and the wild storms from the West and the sharp gales from the East will go singing round the chimney in the wild way I love with all my heart.

"There's a fireplace in the middle of the house, and that's why we named it the Hearth; but—what do you think? The house was named itself and that's what it's going to be called from this day on, just as sure as you live.

"What a nice, soft gray it's going to be when the rains set in and the sea winds begin to do their duty! The red on the roof really is friendly, isn't it? What shall we put at the pergola? Something quick. I never could wait a whole summer, after I get used to things, for a bit of green. Honey-suckle, of course, and ivy and the wild cucumber. Don't you love that, all foaming white in the spring and covered with prickly green globes in the fall, with nice little lace fluffy-doodles for the dolls, inside?

"Glorious! I'm glad we built that fireplace right in the middle of the house, too.

"What fun we're going to have in the inglenook this winter! Whose seat is this on the side? I know, but I'm not going to tell. Let's see if every one who knows the house can't guess without being told.

"Little steps for the children to sit on. Dear me, they won't be sitting there long. We must measure

INGHAM CO. SHEEP BREEDERS AND WOOL GROWERS ASS'N

The Ingham County Sheep Breeders and Wool Growers Association, took in several thousand pounds of wool last Saturday, May 10th, at the Co-operative Elevator at Williams-ton.

The wool was bought according to grade and paid for accordingly, averaging the wool growers several cents more per pound than they could get otherwise. The percentage of the higher grades of wool were exceedingly in evidence.

The grower can get the full amount in cash, or consign all his wool and sell on the open market, or take about 80% of value in cash and consign and take a chance on the open market. As fair a deal has never been given the wool growers of this section before, also the man that grades the wool will take pains in showing you the difference in the grades of wool and give you a just grading.

We are planning on shipping another car of wool from Williams-ton the forepart of June, and would like to ship from other points of the county. If there is any section of the county that wants to join this association, and has a prospect of furnishing a few thousand pounds of wool to handle, we will be glad to hear from them and will come to help them get organized. Our best wool brought 62 cents and the prospects look still better for our next shipment.

The total of the drive $105,000,000 for five years.

Still later, however, the joint Centenary Committee decided to include in the Centenary fund $5,000,000 a year for war reconstruction work in Europe for the five years over which the actual paying of the money subscribed is to run. This brings the total Centenary fund of the Methodist Episcopal church to $105,000,000. If to this the fund of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, is added the sum of $140,000,000 is arrived at as the total fund being sought by two branches of Methodism during the first week of May 1919.

The purpose for which this vast amount of money is to be used is fully understood and outlined. There is to be no uncertainty about it. Forty-five percent goes for foreign missions and reconstruction work abroad. For instance in poor devastated bleeding France. Forty-five percent for home reconstruction and educational work, and ten per cent for administration and other purposes.

A million children have been left fatherless in France. Three hundred thousand in England. Millions in the other countries.

We can think of one fatherless home. We can even think of a small village of fatherless homes. But when we try to grasp the thought of hundreds of such villages, hundreds of thousands of homes in which the name of the father is spoken softly and sadly, millions upon millions of members of broken, grief-stricken and economically disrupted families—the strength of 200,000 arms and legs is gone. That is in France alone.

Seven thousand French soldiers have been permanently blinded by shrapnel. The sight of 5,000 British soldiers is gone. More than 5,000 Italian soldiers will have to be led to their homes.

The total Army of the Blind for all Europe certainly numbers 30,000 and probably far exceeds that. The Centenary will be a Godsend to them.

He recommended the use of soy beans drilled with corn for silage and alone for hay. Sweet clover stands to be hastened and is not as expensive seed as June Clover, but for hay, must be cured in small cocks. He urged farmers to send samples of soil to the M. A. Born in Massachusetts, he worked his way West, going to cider mills, getting sacks full of apple seeds and planting them. He died in 1845 and is buried north of Ft. Wayne, Ind., and is the pioneer of apple raising, having honestly earned his name of Johnny Appleseed. Foreigner Robbed By Two Armed Men Early Sunday Morning

DETROIT—Walking in Wight St. between Leib street and Adair street at 11:15 o'clock Sunday morning, John Mulaji, was held up by two armed men and robbed of $1,650 in large bills, according to a report to the police. The men's descriptions tally with those of a pair held responsible for several other large holdups in foreign quarters of the city. The custom of many foreigners to carry nearly all their money with them makes them attractive prey, according to the police.

YOUNG BANDIT RETURNS; SHOOTS FRIEND WITH AIRGUN

HOMER—Edward Gilchrist, 12 years of age, who figured with his brother, Leroy, in several thefts here a year ago last fall and was sent to Detroit to live with his father, turned up again in Homer Wednesday and this time shot at several school children with an air gun. Donald Deming received a wound on his temple which was quite ugly considering that an air gun was the source. Edward ran away from Detroit and came to Homer. Detroit authorities arrived here Wednesday afternoon and took the boy back with them.

GOVERNMENT RETURNS BORROWED TELESCOPE

EATON RAPIDS—D. Lewis, the pioneer jeweler, has just received from the government a fine telescope he loaned the navy department about two years ago. The telescope was returned in fine condition, and has the words "United States Navy" engraved upon it. It has seen considerable use during the past two years, and the government promises to send data later telling where and in what capacity it served. Mr. Lewis was given one dollar for the use or purchase of the instrument with the understanding it would be returned if possible; otherwise it would be considered the government had purchased it and was U. S. property.

CHARLOTTE RAISES $2,000 FOR ORGANIZATION OF NEW BAND

Funds For Musical Organization Are Raised After Public Mass Meeting

CHARLOTTE—That this city is to have a new band is a foregone conclusion. A public mass meeting was held on Monday evening in order to get the sentiment of the business men and all interested in the project and at that time it was deemed advisable to send out a bunch of committees to make a house canvass besides taking in all factories. It will take at least $2,000 or $2,500 to float the deal and up to date nearly that amount has been subscribed. Ernest Moore, leader of the Industrial school band is picked as the leader and a contract will be made with him to develop the talent.

OFFICIALS OF BARRY CO. FAIR RE-ELECTED

Men Who Resigned Re-elected To Office By Large Vote

HASTINGS—At a special election, all of the officers and directors of the Barry County Agricultural Society, who recently resigned on account of what they considered unjust and unmerited criticism, have been re-elected by a good vote. At the annual meeting, several women appeared and protested against what they called unclean features at the last fair. As the officers had been particularly careful to avoid granting licenses to anyone who might present objectionable attractions, the officers were greatly offended and resigned in a body, and called a special election. As the administration has, during the three years of control, entirely revived the society, rescued it from deep indebtedness and placed it upon a sound financial basis, in addition to holding fairs which drew great crowds, the occasion of their resignation was discussed throughout the county, and they were returned to office by a good vote.

WHISKY-FILLED TOURING CAR IS FOUND IN A DITCH

Deserted Cadillac and 300 Quarts of Whiskey Found Near Horton

JACKSON—A deserted Cadillac touring car and 300 quarts of whiskey were found in a ditch near Horton Wednesday morning by officers from the sheriff's department of this city. Reports from the vicinity stated that the car ran into the ditch Tuesday evening. In attempting to get the car back onto the road, the occupants unloaded the liquor. Failing to succeed in their task, they left the car, whisky and all, stating that they would return in the morning. Sheriff Edwin Larrabee has no clue it is understood, as to the owners, but stated that the car can be pressed into service for the county temporarily. If not claimed, the machine is the legal property of the state, it is said.

DEAD BABE IS FOUND IN CAN IN MILL POND

Headless Form of Five Months Old Infant Revealed by Boys

JACKSON—Dead for but a few days the headless body of a four or five months' old boy was taken from the mill pond last Thursday evening by officers, following its discovery by two boys who were playing in the vicinity.

The body, which had been placed in a tin can, was found Wednesday by Albert Inman and Sammy Colandrea, 14-year-old lads, and they informed their mothers of the discovery Wednesday evening. The parents paid no attention to the matter until Thursday afternoon, when the children again told of the dead baby. The matter was reported to Coroner John Pulling and with officers from the police department he went to the scene Thursday evening and removed the body to the Knickerbocker undertaking rooms.

In the opinion of the coroner the child had been dead only a few days. Whether the head had been cut off before the body was placed in the can is not possible to determine. There was nothing by which identity could be established.

NEW LAW PROHIBITS KID DRIVING AUTOMOBILES

Lads of Sixteen Years Must Obtain License To Drive Car

The new automobile law, when signed by the governor, will prohibit children under the age of sixteen years from driving automobiles, and make it necessary for all over that age who drive autos to secure a license, which we understand can be secured, providing your driving record is all right, from the chief of police of the city in which you reside.

This bill, which would empower public authorities to revoke the license of any driver found guilty of reckless or careless driving, is aimed at the drivers who absolutely disregard the life and limb of pedestrians and other motorists in the streets. It was introduced in the 1919 legislature and passed through the efforts of the Detroit Automobile club and the Detroit police department. "Without a registration of drivers there is no way to curb this unnecessary evil. Of course, it is possible to arrest them and take them to court to be fined, but that does not stop the reckless driving and the ac-

The time to curb this recklessness is before any further damage is done, once a driver is found guilty of gross negligence. This new law, when signed by the governor, will take care of the situation nicely." Eaton Rapids Review.

GREAT PEACE PACT WITH GERMANY IS GIVEN IN SUMMARY

Substance of the Treaty Which Was Handed to Delegates at Versailles Palace.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS FIRST

Alsace-Lorraine, Saar Basin, Danzig, Poland and Other Territory Lopped Off—German War Power Reduced to Minimum—Wilhelm to Be Tried.

Herewith is the official summary of the great peace treaty which was handed by the representatives of the allied nations to the German delegates at Versailles:

The preamble names as parties of the one part the United States, the British empire, France, Italy and Japan, described as the five allied and associated powers, and Belgium, Bolivia, Brazil, China, Cuba, Ecuador, Greece, Guatemala, Haiti, the Hedjaz, Honduras, Liberia, Nicaragua, Panama, Peru, Poland, Portugal, Rumania, Serbia, Siam, Czechoslovakia and Uruguay, who with the five above are described as the allied and associated powers; and on the other part, Germany.

Section One—League of Nations.

The covenant of the league of nations constitutes Section I of the peace treaty, which places upon the league many specific in addition to its general duties. It may question Germany at any time for a violation of the neutralized zone east of the Rhine as a threat against the world's peace. It will appoint three of the five members of the Saar commission, oversee its regime and carry out the plebiscite. It will appoint the high commissioner of Danzig, guarantee the independence of the free city and arrange for treaties between Danzig and the neighboring Poland. It will work out the mandatory system to be applied to the former German colonies and set up a court in part of the plebiscites of the Belgian-German frontier, and in disputes as to the Kiel canal, and in certain of the economic and financial problems. An international conference on labor is to be held in October under its direction, and under the international control of ports, waterways and railways is foreseen.

Section Two—Frontiers of Germany.

Germany cedes to France Alsace-Lorraine, 5,600 square miles of it in the southwest, and to Belgium two small districts between Namur and the Rhine, totalling 380 square miles. She also cedes to Poland the southeastern tip of Silesia, 47,000 square miles, between the western border of the Polish palatinate of Bavaria and the southeast corner of East Prussia, 40 square miles, between the city of Poznan and the city of Danzig, 729 square miles, and the basin of the Saar, 725 square miles, between the western border of the Polish palatinate of Bavaria and the southeast corner of East Prussia. The Danzig area consists of the Y between the Nogat and Vistula rivers made into a W by the addition of a similar Y on the west including the city of Danzig. The southeastern third of East Prussia and the area between East Prussia and the Baltic sea, 10,000 square miles, are to be divided into three minutes to have its nationality determined by popular vote, 6,785 square miles, as in the case in part of Schleswig, 2,787 square miles.

Section Three—European Political Classes.

BELGIUM.—Germany is to consent to the abrogation of the treaties of 1839 by which Belgium was established as a neutral state and to agree in advance to any convention with which the allied and associated powers may determine to replace them. She is to recognize the full sovereignty of Belgium over the contested territory of Moresnet and over the Prussian Moresnet, and to renounce in favor of Belgium all rights over the cities of Eupen and Malmedy, the whole of which are to be entitled within six months to protest against this change of sovereignty either as a whole or in part. The final decision to be reserved to the league of nations. A commission is to settle the details of the Belgian and Prussian regulations for change of nationality are laid down.

LUXEMBOURG.—Germany renounces her various treaties and conventions with the grand duchy of Luxembourg, recognizes it to be a part of the German Zollverein from January 1 last, renounces all right of exploitation of the railroads, adheres to the principle of its neutrality, and accepts in advance any international agreement as to it, reached by the allied and associated powers.

LEFT BANK OF THE RHINE.—As provided in the military clauses, Germany will accept the military fortifications or armed forces less than fifty kilometers to the east of the Rhine, and any maneuvers, and maintain any works to facilitate mobilization.

In case of violation, she shall be regarded as committing a hostile act against the allied and associated powers, and as intending to disturb the peace of the world. Germany shall be bound to respond to any request for an explanation which the council of the league of nations may think it necessary to address to her.

ALSACE-LORRAINE.—After recognition of the moral obligation to repair the wrong done in 1871 by Germany to France and the people of Alsace-Lorraine, the territories ceded to Germany by the treaty of Frankfurt are restored to France and the French frontiers as before 1871, to date from the signing of the armistice, and to be free of all public debts.

Citizenship is regulated by detailed provisions distinguishing those who are immediately restored to full French citizenship, those who have to make formal application therefor, and those for whom naturalization is open after three years. The latter class includes German residents in Alsace-Lorraine, as distinguished from those who acquire the position of Alsace-Lorraine as defined in the treaty. All public property and all private property of German ex-servants passes to France without payment of credit. France is substituted for Germany as regards ownership of the railroads and rights over concessions of tramways. The Rhine bridges pass to France with the obligation for the league of nations.

THE SAAR.—In compensation for the destruction of coal mines in northern France and as payment on account of reparation, Germany cedes to France full ownership of the coal mines of the Saar basin with their subsidiaries, accessories and facilities. Their value will be estimated by the reparation commission and credited against that account. The French rights will be governed by German law in force at the armistice excepting war legislation, France replacing the present owners whom Germany undertakes to indemnify. France will continue to furnish the present proportion of coal for local needs and contribute in just proportion to local taxes. The basin extends from the frontier of Lorraine as re-annexed to France north as far as St. Wendel, including on the west, the valley of the Saar as far as Saarlouis, and on the east, the town of Esch-sur-Alzette.

senting three different countries other than France and Germany. The league will appoint a member of the committee as chairman to act as executive of the commission. The commission will have authority to request the governments belonging to the German empire, Prussia and Bavaria, will administer the railroads and other public services and have full power to interpret the treaty clauses. The local courts will continue but subject to the commission.

After fifteen years a plebiscite will be held by communes to ascertain the desires of the population as to continuing of the existing regime under the league of nations, union with France or union with Germany.

Section Four—European Political Classes.

GERMAN AUSTRIA.—Germany renounces the total independence of German Austria in the boundaries traced. CZECHOSLOVAKIA.—Germany recognizes the entire independence of the Czechoslovak state, including the autonomous territory of the southern part of the Carpathians, and accepts the frontiers of this state as to be determined, which in the case of the man frontier shall follow the frontier of Bohemia in 1914. The usual stipulations in addition and change of nationality follow.

POLAND.—Germany cedes to Poland the greatest part of upper Silesia, Posen and the province of West Prussia, on the left bank of the Vistula. A field boundary commission of seven—five representing the allied and associated powers and one each representing Poland and Germany—shall be constituted within 15 days of the peace to delimit this boundary. Such special provisions as are necessary to protect racial, linguistic or religious minorities and to protect freedom of transit and equitable treatment of commerce of other nations shall be laid down in a subsequent treaty between the five allied and associated powers and Poland.

EAST PRUSSIA.—The southern and the eastern frontier of East Prussia is to be fixed by plebiscites, the first in the region of Allenstein, between the southern frontier of East Prussia and the northern frontier of Rutenburg. The boundary between East and West Prussia to its junction with the boundary between the circles of Oststettin and Angermunde, thence the northern boundary of Oststettin to its junction with the present frontier, and the second in the area of the circles of Stuhm and Rosenberg and the parts of the circles of Marienburg and Marienwerder east of the Vistula.

In each case German troops and authorities will move out within 15 days of the peace and the territories be occupied under an international commission of five members appointed by the five allied and associated powers, with the participation of a representative of the neutralized zone. The commission will report the results of the plebiscites to the five powers with a recommendation for the boundary and will terminate its work as soon as the boundary has been laid down and the authorities set up.

The five allied and associated powers will draw up regulations assuring East Prussia full and equitable access to and control of the Vistula. A subsequent convention, of which the terms will be fixed by the five allied and associated powers, will be entered into between Germany and Danzig, to assure suitable railroad communication across German territory on the right bank of the Vistula, between Poland and Danzig, while Poland shall grant free passage from East Prussia to Germany.

The northwest corner of East Prussia about Memel is to be ceded by Germany to the allied powers, the forerunner of the league to accept the terms made, especially as regards the nationality of the inhabitants. The district immediately about it is to be constituted into the "free city of Danzig" under the guaranty of the league of nations. A special commission, appointed by the league and resident at Danzig shall draw up a constitution in agreement with the duly appointed representative of the city and shall deal in the first instance with all differences arising between the city and Poland. The boundaries of the city shall be delimited by a commission appointed within six months from the peace, and three representatives chosen by the allied and associated powers and one each by Germany and Poland.

A convention, the terms of which shall be fixed by the five allied and associated powers, shall be concluded between Poland and Danzig, which shall include Danzig, through a free area in the port; route to Poland, the free use of all the railways, canals, docks and other port facilities, the control and administration of the Vistula, and the whole through railway systems within the city, and postal, telegraph and telephonic communication between Poland and Danzig; provide against discrimination against Poland in the city and place its foreign relations and the diplomatic protection of its citizens under the authority of Poland.

DENMARK.—The frontier between Germany and Denmark will be fixed by the self-determination of the population. Ten days from the peace Germany and Danish authorities shall evacuate the region north of the line run from the mouth of the Schlei, south to Kaap, Esbjerg and Friedrichstadt, along the Eider to the North sea, south of Toning; the workmen and soldiers' council shall be dissolved and the territory administered by an international commission of five, of whom Norway and Sweden shall be invited to name one.

HELGOLAND.—The fortifications, military establishments and harbors of the islands of Helgoland and Bismarck are to be destroyed under the supervision of the allies by German labor and at Germany's expense. The islands are to be reconstructed for any similar fortification built in the future.

Section Five—German Rights Outside Europe.

Outside Europe Germany renounces all rights, titles and privileges as to her own or her allies' territories to all the allied and associated powers, and undertakes to accept whatever measures are taken by the five allied powers in relation thereto.

COLONIES AND OVERSEAS POSSESSIONS.—Germany renounces in favor of the allied and associated powers her overseas possessions with all rights and interests therein. All movable and immovable property belonging to the German empire or to any German state or to the government or to the governing authority therein.

These governments may make whatever provisions seem suitable for the repatriation of German nationals and as to the conditions on which German subjects of European origin may hold property or carry on business. Germany undertakes to pay reparation for damage suffered by French nationals in the Kameruns or in any territory through the acts of German civil and military authorities and of individuals from January 1, 1900, to August 1, 1914.

Germany renounces all rights under the conventions of November 11, 1918, and September 28, 1912, and undertakes to pay to France in accordance with an estimate presented by the reparation commission all deposits, credits, advances, etc., thereby secured. Germany undertakes to accept whatever provisions by the allied and associated powers as to the trade in arms and munitions in Africa as was formed in the general act of Berlin, of 1885, and the general act of Brussels, of 1900. Diplomatic protection of the inhabitants of former German colonies is to be given by the governments exercising authority.

diplomatic or consular establishments in the German concessions of Tientsin and Hankow, and the other Chinese cities, except Kiaochow and agrees to return to China at her own expense all the property and other possessions in those cities. China will, however, take no measures for disposal of German property in the concessions of the concessions of Hankow and Tientsin, China agreeing to open them to international use.

GERMANY renounces all her rights, titles and privileges under the act of Algeciras and the Franco-German agreement of 1904 and under all treaties and arrangements with the sherrifian empire. She undertakes not to intervene in any negotiations as to Morocco between France and other powers, accepts all the consequences of the French protectorate and renounces the capitulations.

EGYPT.—Germany renounces the British protectorate over Egypt, declared on December 18, 1914, and renounces as from August 4, 1914, the capitulation and all the treaties, agreements, etc., concluded by her with Egypt. She undertakes not to intervene in any negotiations about Egypt between Great Britain and other powers.

There are provisions for jurisdiction over German nationals and property and for German consent to any changes which may be made in relation to the commission of the Suez canal. Germany consents to the transfer to Great Britain of the powers given to the late sultan of Turkey securing the free navigation of the Suez canal. Arrangements for property belonging to German nationals in Egypt are made similar to those in the case of Morocco and other countries. Anglo-Egyptian goods entering Germany shall on the same treatment as British goods.

TURKEY AND BULGARIA.—Germany renounces all her rights, titles and privileges under the act of Algeciras and the Franco-German agreement of 1904 and under all treaties and arrangements with the sherrifian empire. She undertakes not to intervene in any negotiations as to Morocco between France and other powers, accepts all the consequences of the French protectorate and renounces the capitulations.

Section Six. In order to render possible the initiation of a general limitation of the armaments of all nations, Germany undertakes directly to observe the military, naval and air clauses which follow: MILITARY.—The German demobilization of the German army must take place within two months of the peace. Its strength may not exceed 100,000, including land officers with not over seven divisions of infantry and three of cavalry, and it be devoted exclusively to maintenance of internal order and control of frontiers.

Divisions may not be grouped under the same command as before the war. The great German general staff is abolished. The army administrative service is to be reduced to the minimum. Included in the number of effectives, is reduced to one-third the total in 1913 budget. Employees of the German army, as such, officers, first sergeants and coast guards, may not exceed the number in 1913. General and local officers are to be reduced only in accordance with the growth of population. None of these may be assembled for military training.

ARMAMENTS.—All establishments for the manufacturing, preparation or storage of arms and munitions of war, except those specifically excepted, must be closed within three months of the peace and their personnel dismissed. The exact number of establishments and the number of German military personnel allowed Germany is laid down in detail tables, all in excess to be surrendered to the allied powers. The importation of asphyxiating, poisonous or other gases and all analogous liquids is forbidden, as well as the importation of arms, munitions, explosives, etc. Germany may not manufacture such material for foreign governments.

CONSCRIPTION.—Conscription is abolished in Germany. The enlisted personnel must be maintained by voluntary means. The number of conscripts in five years, the number of discharges before the expiration of that term not in any year to exceed 5 per cent of the total number. Officers remaining in the service must agree to serve to the age of forty-five years and newly appointed officers must agree to serve actively for twenty-five years.

No military schools except those above-mentioned for the purpose of the peace shall exist in Germany two months after the peace. No associations such as societies, clubs, educational establishments or universities may occupy themselves with military matters. All measures of military character are abolished. PORTRESSES.—All fortified works, fortresses and field works situated in the territory with a zone of 50 kilometers (30 miles) east of the Rhine will be dismantled within three months. The construction of new fortifications there is forbidden. The fortified works on the southern and eastern frontiers, however, may remain.

CONTROL.—Inter-alleied commissions of control will see to the execution of the provisions for which a time limit is set, the maximum named being three months. They may establish headquarters at the German seat of government, and go to any part of Germany desired. Germany must give them complete facilities, pay their expenses and surrender to them, on execution of the treaty, including the labor and material necessary in demolition, demobilization or surrender of war material.

NAVAL.—The German navy must be demobilized within a period of two months after the peace. It may include six small battle ships, six light cruisers, twelve destroyers, twelve torpedo boats and no submarines, and no military or commercial, with a personnel of 15,000 men, including officers, and no other personnel. Conscription is abolished, only voluntary service being permitted, with a minimum period of five years. The number of men and 12 for men. No member of the German mercantile marine will be permitted any navy or surrender of war material.

All German vessels of war in foreign ports, and the German high sea fleet in force at the peace, shall be considered, the final disposition of these ships to be decided upon by the allied and associated powers.

AIR.—The armed forces of Germany must not include any military or naval forces except for coast defense and for the purpose of search for submarines. No fighting air force shall be maintained. PRISONERS OF WAR.—The repatriation of German prisoners and interned civilians is to be carried out without delay. The repatriation of prisoners of war is to be carried out by a commission composed of representatives of the allied and associated powers. Those prisoners of war who are to be repatriated without regard to the completion of their sentence, Germany is to surrender persons guilty of offenses against the laws and customs of war, and the allies have the right to request of Germany a special tribunal set up, composed of one judge from each of the five great powers, with full guarantees of the right of defense. It is to be guided by the highest motives of international policy, with a view of vindicating the solemn obligations of international undertakings and the validity of international law. It shall be held in the permanent tribunal which shall be established by the league of nations.

German authorities in 1870, belonging then to M. Reuter, and to restore the French flag taken during the war of 1870 and 1871.

FINANCES.—Powers to which German territory is ceded will assume a certain portion of the German pre-war debt, the amount to be fixed by the reparations commission on the basis of the ratio between Germany and the ceded territory and Germany's total revenues for the three years preceding the war.

The commission may require Germany to give from time to time by way of guarantee, issues of bonds or other obligations to cover such claims as are not otherwise satisfied.

Twenty billion marks, gold, payable not later than May 1, 1921, without interest; forty billion marks, gold, bearing 2% per cent interest between 1921 and 1925 and thereafter 5 per cent, with a 1 per cent sinking fund payment beginning in 1925; and an undertaking to deliver forty billion marks gold bonds bearing interest at 5 per cent, under terms to be fixed by the commission.

SHIPPING.—The German government recognizes the right of the allies to the requirement, ton for ton and class for class, of all merchant ships and fishing boats lost or damaged owing to the war, and agrees to cede to the allies all German merchant ships of 1,000 tons gross and upward; one-half of her ships between 1,000 and 1,500 tons gross and upward; and her steam trawlers and other fishing boats. These ships are to be delivered within two months to the reparations committee, together with documents of title evidencing the transfer of the ships, free from encumbrances.

As an additional part of reparations, the German government further agrees to build merchant ships for the account of the allies to the amount of not exceeding 200,000 tons gross annually during the next five years. All ships are to be restored within two months, the amount of loss not covered by such restoration to be made up by the cession of the German river fleet up to 20 per cent thereof.

Section Eight—Economic Clauses. CUSTOMS.—For a period of six months Germany shall import into the territory higher than the lowest in force in 1914, and for certain agricultural products, wine, vegetable oils, artificial coal, tar, washed or scoured wool this restriction obtains for two and a half years or for three years unless further extended by the league of nations.

Germany guarantees to repay to Brazil the fund arising from the sale of São Paulo coffee, she refused to allow Brazil to withdraw from Germany.

Section Eight—Economic Clauses. SHIPMENT.—Ships of the allied and associated powers shall for five years and thereafter, under condition of reciprocity, unless the league of nations otherwise decides, enjoy the same rights in German ports as German vessels and have most favored nation treatment in their purchase, trade and towage, even in territorial waters. Ships of a country having no tonnage may be registered at some one place within its territory.

Section Eight—Economic Clauses. UNFAIR COMPETITION.—Germany undertakes to give the trade of the allied and associated powers adequate safeguards against unfair competition and in particular to suppress the use of such wrappings and markings and on condition of reciprocity to respect the laws and judicial decisions of allied and associated states in respect of regional appellations of wine and spirits.

Section Eight—Economic Clauses. TREATMENT OF NATIONALS.—Germany shall impose no exceptional taxes or restrictions upon the nationals of the allied and associated states for a period of five years and, unless the league of nations acts for an additional five years, German nationality shall not continue to attach to a person who has become a national of an allied or associated state.

Section Eight—Economic Clauses. MULTILATERAL CONVENTIONS.—Some forty multilateral conventions are renewed between Germany and the allied and associated powers, but special conditions are attached to Germany's ratification to several.

Section Eight—Economic Clauses. PREWAR DEBTS.—A system of clearing houses is to be created within three months, one in Germany and one in each allied and associated state which adopts the plan for the payment of prewar debts, including those arising from contracts suspended by the war for the adjustment of the payment of the liquidation of enemy property and the settlement of other obligations.

Section Eight—Economic Clauses. ENEMY PROPERTY.—Germany shall restore or pay for all private enemy property seized or damaged by her, the amount of damages to be fixed by the mixed arbitral tribunal. The allied and associated states may liquidate German private property within their territories as compensation for the property of their nationals not restored or paid for by Germany for debts owed to them by the allied and associated states.

Section Eight—Economic Clauses. CONTRACTS.—Prewar contracts between allied and associated nations, excepting the United States, Japan and Brazil, and German nationals, are canceled except for debts for accounts already performed, agreements for the transfer of property, where the property has already passed, leases of land and houses, mining concessions, contracts with governments and insurance contracts.

Section Eight—Economic Clauses. Mixed arbitral tribunals shall be established of three members, one by Germany, one by the associated states and the third by agreement, or failing that by the president of Switzerland. They shall have jurisdiction over all disputes as to contracts concluded before the present peace treaty.

Section Eight—Economic Clauses. INDUSTRIAL PROPERTY RIGHTS.—Industrial, literary and artistic property are re-established, the special war measures of the allied and associated powers are ratified and the right reserved to impose conditions on the use of German patents and copyrights when in the public interest. Except as between the United States and Germany prewar licenses and rights to sue for infringements are canceled.

Section Eight—Economic Clauses. OPIUM.—The contracting powers agree, whether or not they have signed and ratified the opium convention of January 23, 1912, or signed the special protocol opened at The Hague in accordance with the resolutions adopted by the third opium conference in 1914, to bring the said convention into force by enacting within 12 months of the peace the necessary legislation.

Section Eight—Economic Clauses. RELIGIOUS MISSIONS.—The allied and associated powers agree that the properties of religious missions in territories belonging or ceded to them shall continue in their work under control of the powers. Germany renouncing all claims in their behalf.

Section Eight—Economic Clauses. AERIAL NAVIGATION.—Aircraft of the allied and associated powers have full liberty of flight and landing over German territory, equal treatment with German planes as to use of German airports, and with most favored nation planes as to internal commercial traffic.

Section Eight—Economic Clauses. FREEDOM OF TRANSIT.—Germany recognizes the full validity of the treaties of peace and additional conventions to be concluded by the allied and associated powers with the powers allied with Germany as to the territories of Austria-Hungary, Bulgaria, and Turkey and to recognize the new states in the frontiers to be fixed for them.

Section Eight—Economic Clauses. MISCELLANEOUS.—Germany agrees to recognize the full validity of the treaties of peace and additional conventions to be concluded by the allied and associated powers with the powers allied with Germany as to the territories of Austria-Hungary, Bulgaria, and Turkey and to recognize the new states in the frontiers to be fixed for them.

Bulletins on Small Fruit Growing Ready at M.A.C.

EAST LANSING—Bulletins giving full information on the culture in Michigan of raspberries, currants, and gooseberries have just been gotten out by the Horticultural Department at the Michigan Agricultural College. Facts regarding varieties, soil conditions, planting, and general care are given. The adaptability of small fruits to Michigan conditions is pointed out, and greater plantings in both the commercial and the home garden are advised.

Great Increase in Speltz Acreage Shown

Crop Reported Adapted to Adverse Conditions—Can Be Planted in Late May

EAST LANSING—Nearly 10,000 acres of speltz were grown in Michigan last year, according to figures given out by the farm crops department at M. A. C. which indicates a tremendous increase in the use of the crop. The popularity of the cereal is thought by Prof. J. F. Cox of the college to be due to its ability to produce a profitable yield under unfavorable conditions. The term "speltz" is used for both true speltz and for common wheat.

Allow at least eight feet square for such a stove.

5 Confine the heat to the deflector of the stove, during the spring months, by the use of a curtain around the heat deflector. A cool outside temperature promotes early feathering.

6 Clean, dry, sand on the floor, during the first week, gives ideal conditions. After the first week use plenty of cut straw and practice deep litter feeding. This prevents leg weakness and makes the chicks husky.

7 Get chicks outside on ground as early as possible. They grow faster and by so doing, toe picking, cannibalism and other brooder evils are eliminated.

8 Select the early feathering and early crowing cockerels.

9 Reduce the heat as chicks grow older and eliminate it when they are fully feathered.

10 Provide plenty of ventilation.

11 Supply roosts in ladder formation. Once the chicks are taught to roost, mortality is almost entirely eliminated.

A great many people read music without really hearing it. It is because in learning to read, they did not take it up from the purely musical standpoint. Let us not start the children on a superficial basis. If music is a language expressed in terms of sound, they must be able to hear inwardly the sound they outwardly make.

NOTICE OF LETTING DRAIN CONTRACT

Notice is hereby given, That I, George Graham, County Drain Commissioner of the County of Ingham, and State of Michigan, will on the 26th day of May, A. D. 1919, at the residence of W. S. Greer on section 32 in the Township of Delhi, in said County of Ingham, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, proceed to receive bids for the construction of a certain Drain known and designated as "Clark Drain," located and established in the Townships of Aurelius and Delhi in said County of Ingham and described as follows, to wit:

Mrs. James Videto, Mr. and Mrs. Don Videto and daughter, Madaline, WELCOME!

Since you sailed away on the Henry Clay we've held up our thumbs, carried a rabbit's foot and stamped every Ford to bring you luck.

We have watched your mothers, fathers and the others going to the office after the mail. We have seen them at the Banks for Bonds, at the Postoffice for W. S. Stamps and coming gladly to the War Board to pay their share of the War Chest quota. Some inspiring things relative to this little old war have happened in this old town you're coming back to. We've lived, thought and talked war for months and every man, woman and child was out to put a punch into the celebration Nov. 11th.

Since that time we've been gazing eastward and saying, "Soon the bunch will be home." This morning coming along to work we heard a girl singing "Johnny's in Town." The joy and gladness in her voice just spoke the thanks and welcome that's in every heart in this old burg and the country 'round.

You've come singly and in small groups and Tuesday we left this town, as though it was being bombarded, to see the big bunch on parade in Lansing. But no matter how or when you've come we say "Glad you came through well and you're more than welcome."

You are so glad to be home that perhaps you fail to fully comprehend how cheered up we home folks are--we've past from the mist and haze of early morning to the full light of day and though days may pass before we see each one of you, we say, "Howdy boys--howdy."

Mason, Michigan

of Spring Arbor and Rina Dell and family were Sunday visitors at the home of R. E. Allen. In spite of the rain Thursday afternoon, a large crowd attended the Okemos M. E. Aid Society at the home of Mrs. H. Bennett.

Dist. No. 6 and Vicinity

Quite a number from this vicinity attended the big time in Lansing Tuesday.

Mrs. Floyd Straight is in Eaton Rapids for treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kurts were in Lansing Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Mills of Lansing spent Sunday at Fred Brenner's.

Rev. and Mrs. Elias Roser and Miss Louise Gansley of Lansing called on relatives here Tuesday afternoon.

Peter Spaulding and family of Alaledon Center were Sunday visitors at August Wolf's.

Mrs. Burlingame, a prominent club woman of Grand Rapids, will give an address on "Club Women" at the Wilkins Memorial Hall, Friday afternoon, May 16, at two o'clock. Every one cordially invited and it is hoped the ladies of Alaledon will be especially interested and will attend this meeting.

Maple Corners

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Traver and daughter, Florence of Lansing spent Sunday at George Traver's, Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Porter were in Lansing Sunday.

Miss Laura Cheeseman spent the week end with Hattie Howarth at Williamston.

Margaret Traver spent Sunday with her parents.

Mrs. Alma Goetz is home again after having spent several weeks at the home of Frank Smith, where they have been sick.

George Traver, Sr.'s, house caught fire last Wednesday afternoon and but for the timely and heroic aid of the neighbors would have been ruined.

Saturday night another alarm of fire was given on the lines that Lou Austin's house was on fire, but it proved to be a building which contained a brooder and 43 small chicks, all of which were burned up.

Lloyd Eaton and family of Olivet accompanied by his mother, spent Sunday at B. I. Eaton's.

Mrs. R. N. Porter, who has been quite sick, is on the gain.

Birney Gould of Lansing spent the week end in this vicinity.

Miss Lida Chettle of Webberville visited her sister, Mrs. W. Grover last week.

Their Roar!

A leopard once met a lion down by a water hole in the jungle and said, "Why do you go about the jungle roaring the way you do?"

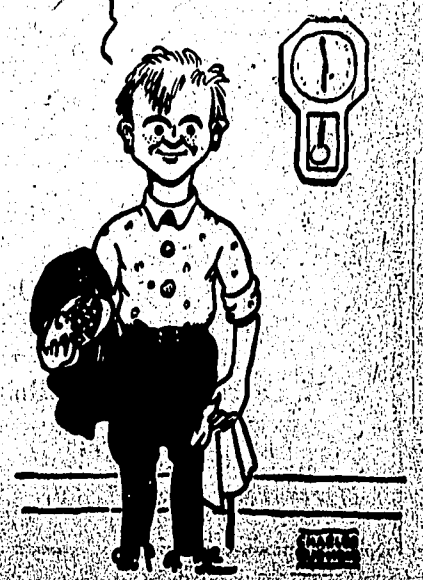

The lion said, "I believe in advertising. If it had not been for my advertising I would never have been made king of beasts. It pays to advertise, and I never fail to grasp an opportunity to do it."

It so happened that a rabbit who was crouching down in some weeds heard this conversation and appreciated the logic of the thing. Next day, as he was nibbling at a tree, he filled his lungs, threw back his head and let out what he expected to be a roar; it resulted in a high-pitched squeak. A fox happened to be on the other side of the tree, and hearing the squeak, went around to investigate.

As a result he ate the rabbit.

Now the moral of this parable is--it is folly to advertise if you "can't deliver." First make yourself capable of "delivering the goods," then ROAR!
