1983

Mason Middle School
235 Temple Street
Mason, Michigan

In the olde days of King Arthur, there lived a young squire. His dream was to become a fearless knight and join the Knights of the Round Table.

"That squire is none other than me, Melvin. I'll take odds that you squires and damsels are wondering what someone from the olde days is doing at Mason Middle School. Well, it happened like this:

"If one could believe the songs and poems, knights are the most perfect men who ever lived. They are brave and generous to the poor, they protect widows, orphans and damsels in distress. It is said that they never try to win by trickery, and never strike an unarmed opponent. Knights are suppose to be 'free of heart and handsome of body, gallant, gentle and modest — not given to talking'.

"I have fulfilled all requirements to become a knight, except for the gallant part. I have tried over and over to perform a gallant, heroic deed, but alas, something always goes wrong.

"I finally went to my uncle, Merlin the Magician, and asked him for a potion to help me perform my deed. He refused (he said it was cheating), but instead, gave me a potion that allows me to journey through time. Alas, I find myself enrolled in Mason Middle School, in the year of our Lord, 1983, in search of my gallantry and my knight-hood."

Now that you know me, any my history, you should meet the stars of the school — the students.

Here are the sixth graders, fresh out of elementary, they make up the largest class in the Middle School. The students in the sixth grade can really enjoy themselves. The sixth graders spent most of their day in one of the eleven homerooms, and then changed for reading, gym and music classes.

Not only are they active, but the sixth graders are also academic. The sixth graders learned to use the school's six APPLIE computers. They also attended a play of Treasure Island at MSU's Waron Center.

So take your time and look at this book. After all, you, the students, are the stars of this book!

Although the sixth graders may be the youngest, they still make up a big part of the school. And so, they are into all the fads like the rest of the students.

Here you can see two girls dressed in "E.T." shirts, hats and who are also trying to have "E.T." phone home for math answers!

Sometimes the students put away the books and work on projects. The students in both Miss Akers' and Mrs. Wilson's classes made leaf collections.

Above is a picture of sixth grade lunch. These sixth graders have a half hour to eat and then they may go outside if they have time.

In case you don't know or can't remember, the people on my left are not crazy. At Halloween anyone dressed up who wanted to — including teachers. The big one is Mr. Payne. I can remember when we used to have masquerade balls, but no one showed up like this!

Also, as you can see video was big this year. I'm sure you know of Pac-Man, Donkey Kong and Space Invaders. The students here were very interested in that type of thing too. Back in my day all we had was traveling dancers and tournaments for entertainment.

On the next page you will see the sixth grade bands. All we had were trumpet players.

Ye Olde SPORTS

And now we come to the sports section. Back home as we had sports like jousting. Here they have such sports as basketball, skiing, volleyball, swimming, soccer, tennis, track and wrestling.

At home the closest thing we had to wrestling was a tavern brawl. Here they travel to other schools when they're in inter-scholastic sports. They call playing against other teams of your own school intramural sports.

Hear Ye! Hear Ye! Now they enter the seventh grade as squires and damsels. The sixth grade pages and lasses of last year have now become squires and damsels.

The requirements to become a squire it seems are: good grades, accepting more responsibility and figuring out a way not to take a shower in gym class.

From what I've seen damsels also must have good grades, good citizenship and be able to wear leg warmers over their jeans.

The young damsels here at Mason Middle School showed many new ways to adorn themselves. This style wasn't the way fair damsels wore their hair during the Middle Ages. The clothes have changed as well. "New Wave" and "Preppy" seem strange, but at least they don't rust like my armor does!

Sixth Grade

Welcome, ye students to the Ye Olde Staff section. We will start out, on this page, with the Ye Olde Sixth Grade Staff. On the following page we have the Ye Olde Seventh Grade, and following that, the Ye Olde Eighth grade Staff. Also, Ye should look for Ye favorite people on the following pages, such as Mr. Borgert and the cooks. And now, let us all browse through these pages together.

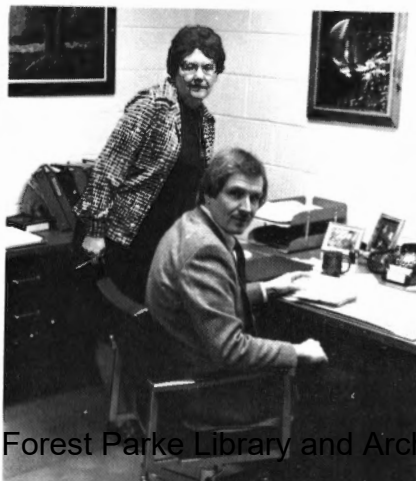

ABOVE (L/R): SITTING: Ms. Baird, Mrs. Campeau, Mrs. Dow, Mrs. Spicuzza, Mr. Fry

SECOND ROW: Mrs. Ferguson, Mrs. Bouth, Mr. Gillengerten, Mr. Campeau, Mrs. Clarke, Mrs. Prebble
 BACK ROW: Mrs. Oesterle, Mr. McLaughlin, Mr. Pulver

Seventh Grade

BELOW: Mr. Borgert, our principal, in conference with Mrs. Strickland.

ABOVE (L/R): ROW 1: Mrs. Forche, Mrs. McFaddin, Mr. Riley, Mr. Miller, Mrs. Rogers, Miss Roe, Mr. Trantum

ROW 2: Mr. Souza, Mrs. Tomaro, Mrs. McLaughlin, Mr. Pulver, Mr. Trosko, Mrs. Gotts, Mr. Coss, Mrs. Moxley

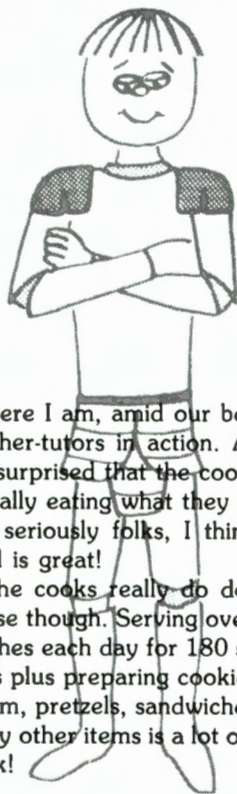

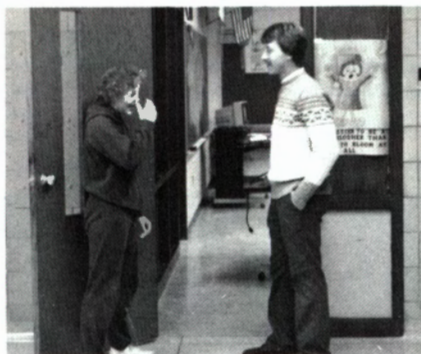

Mrs. Strickland and Mrs. Johnston, our school's secretaries, caught just after making an announcement.

ABOVE: Mrs. Everett, the counselors' secretary, and Mr. Lamphere and Mrs. Kelly, the counselors

Eighth Grade

Here I am, amid our beloved teacher-tutors in action. Alas, I am surprised that the cooks are actually eating what they made! But seriously folks, I think the food is great!

The cooks really do deserve praise though. Serving over 700 lunches each day for 180 school days plus preparing cookies, ice cream, pretzels, sandwiches and many other items is a lot of hard work!

YE COOKING STAFF

- Mrs. Carl
- Mrs. Weaver
- Mrs. Oxendale
- Mrs. Lienhart
- Mrs. Morgan
- Mrs. O'Berry

ROW 2:

- Mrs. Andrews
- Mrs. Johnson
- Mrs. Lambertson
- Mrs. Weldon

BELOW (L/R): Mike Walter and Norm Peterson, our "7 to 4" janitors, who are always busy making sure the whole school is clean.

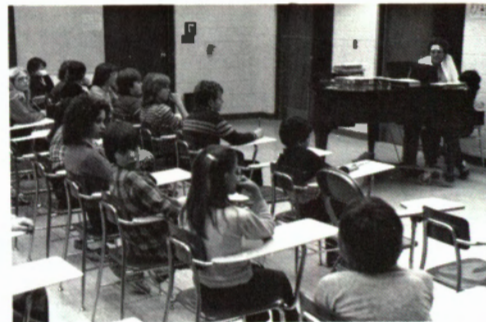

BELOW (L/R): Mrs. Ferguson, Mrs. Gotts, Mr. Trosko, and Mr. Pulver are our physical education teachers. Not only did they help us improve our abilities in sports, they organized a self-defense class for the seventh and eighth grade girls.

BELOW: Mrs. Clarke and Mr. Trantum our resource teachers.

Our ye olde teachers work hard to help ye folks to get ready for the world out there. Whether ye want to be a scientist or a factory worker, ye need the basics. The ye olds teachers you have seen will be here after ye leave still helping other students prepare for the world and all its hassles. But right now their main concern is ye, the student. So whether you have 4, 5 or 6 years left of school; learn all ye can from the teachers. It will help ye later. And now, on to the 8th grade section. See you on the next page.

Hear Ye! Hear Ye! These are ye ole' Eighth graders of 1982-83. They will graduate in 1987. They've only been in our school for two years and now they're leaving to enter the realm of knighthood. Better known as ninth grade. This section was made as tribute to these young sires and beautiful damsels.

Now let us get on with the celebrations.

During the year you guys garbed in both horrendous and beautiful costumes. Everyone seemed to enjoy my costume although I couldn't see where they got that I even had a costume on.

Back home the Druids celebrated something like that but they called it Hallow's Eve. The people of this time call it Halloween and it's quite like the All Saint's Day of my time.

Now tis time to bid farewell to our gallant eighth graders, for they will be leaving to go to the realm of knighthood, alias high school. Alas, ye shall never kick ye olde locker again; thy teachers will be banished forever from thy lives.

But woe is me! I shall not go with them, for I needs must travel back in time to . . .

LOCKER

"For my uncle Merlin has reached accross the centuries with the message that I am finally about to be knighted. You are probably wondering why?

It appears that in helping the yearbook staff, I have unknowingly completed my good deed.

So now I bid farewell to the Mason Middle School, where I spent a very happy year."

“In the name of King Arthur, St. Michael, and of St. George, I dub thee knight; be gallant, be courteous, be loyal.”

... the oath
of knighthood

... And I Hope Your dream
also comes true!
— Sir Melvin
