Council Begins Study of Water In Tank or Well

Whether Mason should have an elevated water tank, or a new well, either shallow or deep, is again being studied by the city council. Aldermen are also contemplating the replacement of old four-inch mains with six-inch or eight-inch.

Monday night the council commissioned Henry Ness of Lansing to make recommendations on Mason's water system. The recommendations will be studied by the council as a committee of the whole. Mayor C. H. Hall said, Ness handles well-drilling operations for the Layne-Northern Co. The firm developed both of Mason's gravel-pack wells.

Alderman Frank Evans declared, and Ness confirmed the statement, that drilling other wells, either deep or shallow, would be just another patch on a patched-in system. The solution lies in the replacement of small mains, the joint-ing of the present spokes of the water system into a wheel with a main, and, above all, an elevated tank, the two agreed.

Tank Would Cost $75,000

The tank would not only give Mason a reserve water supply of two or three days but would provide needed pressure for all sections of the city. City Engineer Walter B. Zimmer pointed out, he explained that Mason has enough water for present needs and that a 100-gallon-per-minute deep well, as contemplated, will not provide pressure or appreciably boost the supply.

A 250,000-gallon elevated tank would cost about $75,000. The present standpipe has a capacity of only 100,000 gallons. It does not keep the pressure up because there is no elevation.

Alderman W. Davis Post told the council that the Jefferson street well is definitely failing and that Mason now relies almost entirely on the Park street well. The Park street well is one of the best in the state, Ness told the council. It is capable of producing 900,000 gallons per day. The two wells have a joint capacity of 1,500,000 gallons in 24 hours.

According to Alderman Post, the peak water demand in Mason last summer crept up to 900,000 gallons, too close to the supply for comfort. He also said that pressure on South Barnes and on the east side is dangerously low.

Ness told the aldermen that a deep well under constant pumping might be drilled in the low pressure area to build up the pressure. He said the well could be expected to produce 100,000 gallons of water a day. Replacement of four-inch mains, which now serve as bottlenecks, and connecting terminals would provide more relief, Ness said.

Old Well Debated

The city engineer called the council's attention to the deep well drilled and abandoned 20 years ago at the corner of Lansing and Maple streets. He said that abandonment resulted from a quarrel on the council and not because of failure of the well. Alderman Gerald Parsons disputed the statement. He labeled the well a failure.

Zimmer stated that tests show that a gravel-pack well can be developed near the Wolverine engineering plant. Ness commented, but he said that health authorities have advised against it. The health authorities were mistaken in their opinion that a well in the section would prove dangerous, Ness added.

A deep well and pump to produce 100 gallons per minute would cost about $4,000, Ness estimated.

Ferris Institute Plans Homecoming

The annual homecoming at Ferris will be October 7 with a parade followed by a football game with Michigan Tech and a ball game at the evening. Barnhill Wants Curfew Silenced

Alderman Harold L. Barnhill at the council session Monday night asked that the curfew be silenced or sounded at noon instead of at 10 o'clock on Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights and 11 o'clock on Friday and Saturday nights. He said he thought it was blown to test out the fire sirens.

Other aldermen informed Barnhill that the curfew was to warn youngsters off the streets, and that there was an ordinance governing it.

Barnhill charged that the curfew broke the slumbers of babies and that mothers had complained to him.

No action was taken on the issue.

Pensions

on the ballot at this fall's election the question of the employees' retirement plan. I told the board of supervisors that at that time there were no plans for an extensive campaign on the part of the Ingham County Employees association and that, in fact, we did not have enough money in our funds to wage an extensive campaign and that I did not know of any plans for a future campaign on behalf of the Retirement plan.

Last Friday at a meeting held by various committee members of the Employees' association, a meeting of which by the way I had no notice, it was decided that the employees should wage a very active campaign and to that end raise funds and a man to manage the campaign. Such an action may be wise but it is one with which I cannot agree.

"The theory of the whole campaign for the employees' retirement plan as it has been waged since I have been president of the Ingham County Employees association, has been that an intelligent discussion of the merits of the plan without any pressure or force was the very best way to secure the success of the plan. I entertained that theory because I believe that the plan is a good one and because I believe that it should be adopted. I further believe that it would be adopted on its merits without any pressure tactics.

"We have succeeded this year in making more progress with the pension plan than has been done heretofore.

"I wish to assure you and the rest of the employees of Ingham county that I am in favor of this employees' retirement plan which is to be placed on the ballot this fall. I shall work for the adoption of the plan by the voters. I do believe, however, that since a campaign is to be waged contrary to what I may have led some members of the board of supervisors to believe and contrary to what I believe is wise under all of the circumstances that I must resign my position as president of the Ingham County Employees association. I know that under your leadership the Ingham county Employees association can accomplish a great deal. I extend to you my sincere good wishes for success in your endeavor."

Mason Firm Seeks Big Cadillac Job

Dart & Cady plumbing and heating company of Mason has entered the red hot labor trouble that has stalled the construction of a million dollar school building project at Cadillac.

The labor controversy broke out when subcontractors used local non-union labor on the project. Picket lines were thrown up and work came to a complete stop.

The Mason firm may be the partial answer to the labor strife. Negotiations are now under way which will allow Dart & Cady to take over the plumbing and heating contract.

When bids were taken on the entire school building program the Mason firm was low. They did not get the contract, however, because of a big slash in the project. When the bids were re-advertised Dart and Cady did not submit one.

The Mason plumbing and heating contractors employ union labor.

August Festivals in Japan Are Described by Mrs. Joel Richert

In Mrs. Joel Richert's last letter to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Jewett, she described the Tannabata and the O-Bon festivals, which were the main events in Sapporo, Japan, during August.

Mrs. Richert wrote, "The first signs we saw of the Tannabata or Star festival were the youngsters gathering without thought from the tall willow trees throughout the city. In the sixth way would be plentiful, those bougts are used instead of the willow. The orthodox Japanese who observe this festival tie many pieces of colored paper to the branch and stick it in their garden or driveway. Love poems or some original compositions pertaining to the festival are written on these colored papers.

"Tannabata (lit. celestial loom) takes place annually on August 7 (July 7 on the lunar calendar). It is observed in accordance with an old Chinese legend about two stars who meet once a year on this date. For 10 centuries, Vega (lit. weaver) has met Altair, (lit. cowherd), her lover, on the milky way or celestial river, each year at this time.

"Originally it was primarily a festival for girls for, since weaving was an important household task, they worshipped the Star Weaver and hoped they would be better weavers and sewers. Also, the romance of this annual meeting appealed to the sentiment of young girls and they believed they must pray for the success of their own love at festival time. They also prayed that the evening would be fair for if it rained they thought that the milky way would be flooded and the two stars would not be able to meet. In the evening of the festival we saw many children on our street carrying lanterns and doing folk dances to the strains of the oriental drum.

"The festival came to be observed by everyone as an occasion for enjoyment and feasting. However, today many of the picturesque habits have disappeared and the young folks who do observe it do not know the significance of the Tannabata. They enjoy the day as it brings good things to eat and their mothers are in good spirits.

"The O-Bon or All Souls festival was introduced about August 13 by the nightly drumming of drums throughout the city. We had heard about this important festival, observed by all of the many Buddhist sects, since our arrival in Japan one year ago August 23. At last we were to witness the ages-old expression of Buddhism's adoration of the family. Unlike the Shinto festival that I wrote about in June, the O-Bon takes place at night and lacks much of the color and costuming.

"According to the Buddhist belief, a dead soul hovers over its earthly home for 49 days, therefore its remains may be kept in the home that long, but no longer, before burial. After burial the spirit will make an annual visit to its former home to stay for three days. On the first evening those Buddhist families who have dead members will light a welcome fire in front of their house to light the spirit's way home.

County School Superintendent Will Attend National Meeting

Ingham county school superintendent, Alton J. Stroud, will participate in the fifth annual conference of county and rural area superintendents at Columbus, Ohio, Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

"My Professional Job as a County Superintendent" is the topic of the conference which is expected to draw more than 1,000 superintendents from all over the nation.

Raymond W. Miller, special consultant to the food and agriculture organization of the United Nations, will be one of the speakers. He will outline world problems as they affect rural people.

Many other prominent educators and government officials will appear on the four-day program.

Stroud's attendance was authorized by the county board of education. He will serve on one of the sectional programs Wednesday afternoon.

Hattie V. Wright Dies at Ann Arbor

Miss Hattie V. Wright, 87, of Oshkosh, Wisconsin, died at St. Joseph's Mercy hospital in Ann Arbor on October 4. Private funeral services were held prior to the burial in Maple Grove cemetery in Mason, with Rev. Leonard A. Parr officiating.

Miss Wright was born in Syracuse, New York, on May 13, 1863. Her parents were Dennis W. and Harriet Wright. While still a child, she moved with her parents to Mason, where the family took up a homestead. She lived here until she entered the nurses school at the University hospital in Ann Arbor.

She was a member of the third graduating class of the University hospital school of nursing. She followed her profession for nearly 45 years in and around Oshkosh, until she retired about 10 years ago. She had been in poor health for several years. Since retiring, Miss Wright had spent the summers in Ann Arbor with her sister, Mrs. Arthur I. Reamer.

Besides Mrs. Reamer, she is survived by a brother, Daniel W. Wright of Frankfort, and several nieces and nephews.

Jury Convicts Blackie Minix

In circuit court in Lansing last Friday a jury brought in a verdict of guilty in the case of Roy (Blackie) Minix, 24, Stockbridge.

Minix was charged with assault with a deadly weapon. He was accused of striking at Fred Patton of Stockbridge with a ballpeen hammer August 23 in a revival of a Kentucky feud.

Patton testified that he was summoned from his bed the night of August 23 when Minix, Elmer Salyers and Joseph Caudill, all of Stockbridge by way of Kentucky, asked for aid with their car. When Patton went to the car, he said, Minix rushed at him, brandishing the hammer, and saying that Patton's father had killed Burley Salyers back in Kentucky 25 years ago. Burley Salyers was an uncle of Minix, Patton said, and the father of Elmer Salyers.

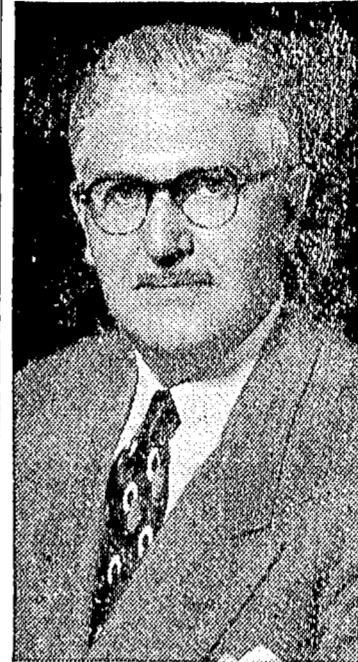

Patton told the court he ran for his house when Minix threatened him. Upon reaching the house, he testified, he grabbed his shotgun and fired at the three men who made off.

Sheriff's officers arrested Minix the day after the attempted attack. Salyers and Caudill fled and have not yet been located.

Minix is on parole from Jackson prison.

John Leighton, attorney for Minix, and Patton had a verbal brush in court. Leighton was questioning Patton about his record in Kentucky when Patton inquired who was on trial—Minix or Patton. Patton challenged Leighton to get on the witness stand and "tell the folks about my record in Kentucky."

Planck Heads Bar

Joseph W. Planck

The board of commissioners of the State Bar of Michigan on September 20 elected Joseph W. Planck of Lansing president.

Planck has been a commissioner since 1924 and has served as first vice-president, second vice-president, and secretary. He is a past president of the Ingham County Bar association, and served four years in the House of Delegates of the American Bar association.

For the past five years he has been president of the Lansing board of education and has served on the Ingham tax allocation board.

Northwest Ingham Mrs. Ami Terrill

Mrs. Ina Davidson returned home Sunday after spending the week at Blanchard with her nephew, Arthur Swan.

Burr Spencer and family of Haslett were Sunday evening callers of Mrs. Ina Davidson.

LaDonna Nims and her guest, Evelyn Townsend, attended the Theta Rho weiner roast at Rayner park, Mason, Thursday night.

Mrs. Ernest Nims has received word that her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Lillywhite of Morrice, are visiting her brother, Harvey Lillywhite at Elmont, Long Island.

Mrs. Ami Terrill and Mrs. Ina Davidson attended funeral services for Mrs. Emma Potter at Dansville, Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. LaVern Soule and sons of Stockbridge were Sunday afternoon callers at the Terrill home. On Monday Mrs. Lawrence Simpson and sons and Mrs. Terrill were callers at the Soule home.

Charlotte Downs Mason 20-6, Vikings Next Foe for Mason

Mason came out a poor second in its first conference game Friday night. Charlotte breezed to an easy 20-6 victory on Athletic field at Mason.

Friday night will be another rough evening as far as the Bulldogs are concerned. Mason will play at Everett.

The Vikings are smarting over the upset Howell handed them Friday night and will be out for revenge. On paper Everett has the strongest team in the league. Clarence Quinn and Jerry O'Donnell give the Vikings a two-fisted attack on the ground. The Everett boys have been effective striking through the air too.

The Viking line is a big, tough one. Pat Ray, a fast-moving big boy, spearheads the Everett defense, which last week held Howell to 33 yards rushing. The Highlanders had a net gain of one yard in the first half.

Mason will string along with the same lineup that has been used in the three games so far. Mason line play has been sharper with every succeeding week but there is a lack of downfield blocking that has proved costly to the Bulldogs.

Brave Start Made

Mason played one quarter of light football Friday night before giving ground to the bigger Charlotte Orioles. Both teams locked horns in the middle of the field in the first period with neither team getting the advantage.

In the second period the Orioles attack began to roll. With Jack Idle, Lee Williamson and Dale Rolfe alternating at jugging the ball, the Orioles piled up four first downs in a row. Lloyd Braithwaite ended the touchdown march by exploding into the end zone for the first Oriole marker. The kick for the extra point hit the crossbar and was no good.

Mason took to the air in a futile attempt to score in the last part of the second period.

Charlotte kept right on with its attack in the third period. The Orioles picked up one first down after another in a march that covered 65 yards. Then Jack Idle carried the ball across. Later in the third period the Orioles took to the air. A perfect pass from Rolfe to Harold Risenhoover covered 50 yards for the third Oriole marker.

Jewett Skirts End

Mason made a belated bid in the last period. With Wayne Every picking up yards on the ground and Danny Stolz hitting his receivers, Mason worked down to the Oriole 30-yard line. On a beautifully executed end-around play Bob Jewett skirted the right end and galloped all the way to pay dirt.

Bob Thomas tried for the extra point but failed.

The Mason forwards played good defensive ball most of the time. In the third period they let down long enough for the two Oriole tallies. Lyle Newman, who came into the game in the last period at tackle, came up with a couple of bone-jarring stops. Jewett looked good on offense and didn't let very many plays get around his end position on defense.

Mason's running game was practically non-existent. Every was the only consistent ground gainer. Stolz, handicapped by a bad foot, didn't have the speed or power to pick up any yardage. Chuck Howell came up with a couple of sharp pass catches and ran the ball good on a few occasions. Bob Thomas was a line standout.

Mason

Charlotte

Clyde Palen Dies Of Heart Attack

Clyde I. Palen, 55, of Route 1, Mason, dropped dead of a heart attack Sunday, October 1. Justice Roy W. Adams acted as coroner.

Mr. Palen was born November 23, 1894 in Napoleon township, Jackson county, the son of Ida and William Palen. He is survived by one brother, Jesse Palen of Lansing, and cousins.

Funeral services were conducted from the Ball funeral home Wednesday at 2:00 p. m. with Rev. Henry Liddicoat officiating. Burial was in the Maple Grove cemetery.

An attraction at Morrystown (N. J.) National Historical park is the Ford house, where George Washington lived the winter of 1779-1780.

Aggies Drop Game To Holt Ramblers

Dansville Aggies lost to the Holt Ramblers Friday night 18 to 0 when they got off to a bad start by letting Larry Gullies get through the line on two successive plays. On each one of these plays he scored a touchdown running 70 yards for one and 75 yards for the other.

After that it was a close ball game with Dansville giving just as much as they took. They were on the one-yard line when the half ended. During the second half Dansville made a lot of yardage but most of it was in midfield. Although they controlled the ball about two-thirds of the half they were unable to score and the game ended 18 to 0.

Paul Oesterle was the only new addition to the starting line up. Freshman, Darwin Sheathelm, played under fire for the first time and did very well.

This week the Aggies play Okemo here Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Irene Braman Entertains WMS

The Woman's Missionary society of the Free Methodist church met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Irene Braman. Following the devotion a vocal duet was sung by Nora Hedglen and Frances Sherman. Mrs. Corla Hayhoe presided over the business meeting.

Showers Honor Margie Anderson

Twenty-four friends and relatives of Miss Margie Anderson were entertained at a bridal shower in her honor held Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Forrest Walker. Games were the diversion of the evening with prizes being presented to the honored guest. Refreshments were interspersed by the hostess.

Last Friday evening Mrs. Lawton Gauss, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Peggy Wright, entertained 17 guests in Miss Anderson's honor at a miscellaneous shower. Prizes from the games were also presented to the bride-to-be. Gifts were presented from Williamston, Howell, Lansing and Dansville.

The marriage of Margie Anderson and Bud Gauss will be an event of Sunday, October 8.

Rites Sunday for Mrs. Emma Potter

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 at the Methodist church for Mrs. Emma Potter, who died Thursday morning at the St. Lawrence hospital in Lansing following a short illness.

Emma Swan was born in Orleans county, New York, April 23, 1859 to Purtyee and Mary Swan. She came with her parents to Michigan at the age of four.

On September 1, 1888, she was united in marriage to William F. Potter. Most of their lives were spent in Ingham county. Two sons were born to this union, both of whom survive. They are Russell of Williamston and Clarence of Lansing. Mr. Potter died October 11, 1944.

Besides the sons, there survive seven grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Mrs. Potter had been a member of the Methodist church for many years and was also active in the missionary society and W. C. T. U. Rev. Marjorie Hawkins of Charlotte, assisted by Rev. Samuel Seizert, officiated at the services with burial in Fairview cemetery.

Relatives and friends were present from Shepherd, Coleman, Flint, Albion, Lansing, Williamston, Litchfield and Mason.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Harold Jenkins of Grand Ledge visited Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Anderson.

Steven Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Forest Anderson, Jr., is confined to his home with chickenpox this week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Diehl, David and Dora Diehl, Lyle Tompkins, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Barry and Mr. and Mrs. David Overholt attended the Michigan State and University of Michigan football game at Ann Arbor Saturday.

Customers' Corner
Packing your order may sound like a little thing, but our trained employees give it a lot of thought.
They know that it isn't right to place five pounds of flour on top of a quarter pound of butter . . . or to place soap next to cheese.
The men and women of A&P will appreciate it if you will let them have any suggestions as to how they can make a handier package for you to take home. Please write:

BECAUSE: Meat Is One of the Most Important and Expensive Items on Most Menus
BECAUSE: There Are So Many Different Ways of Cutting and Selling Meat
A&P BELIEVES YOU SHOULD KNOW THESE IMPORTANT FACTS WHEN BUYING MEAT

WHEN YOU BUY A RIB ROAST AT A&P
You Don't Pay Rib Roast Prices for Short Ribs (which are removed)
Short ribs of beef are delicious braised, but they're not as tender as the rest of the ribs and should not be roasted along with them. Furthermore, they contain more bone, so they should obviously cost less per pound than rib roast. That's why A&P removes the short ribs (along with 2 heavy blade ribs and the tip of the chine bone) before weighing your roast and sells them separately. The only part of a rib of beef you pay for is the tender, juicy heart of the roast.

WHEN YOU BUY A STEAK AT A&P
You Don't Pay Steak Prices for Stew Meat (excess fat, bone, and tail are removed)
Instead of getting excess fat and a large portion of flank meat, which is not desirable as steak, you get only the choicest part of the cut when you buy a Close-Trimmed Super-Right steak at A&P. And that's the only part you pay for! The rest is removed before your purchase is weighed.

WHEN YOU BUY CHOPS AT A&P
You Don't Pay Chop Prices for Long Tails and Bone
Because the excess bone and long tail are removed from every Close-Trimmed chop before it's weighed and priced, such a chop costs you less than one with the excess bone and coarser meat left on. Yet a Close-Trimmed chop gives you just as large a portion of the heart of the chop.

Homemakers Use New Materials For Floor Coverings

Because of their inexpensive nature, other types of floor coverings are being purchased instead of wool rugs, reports Mrs. Margaret Foster, home furnishings extension specialist at Michigan State college.

Soaring costs of carpet wool are given as the reason for the higher prices of wool carpeting. If this upward spiral in raw material continues, and the demand for wool floor coverings remains high, there appears to be little chance that retail prices will drop, Mrs. Foster believes.

Serviceability, beauty and warmth of wool rugs have kept them on the preferred list but now cotton, linen, rayon and hard wood floor coverings are becoming popular with many homemakers. Lin-

Many Vegetables Are Provided By Fall Harvest

Long before the "frost is on the pumpkin" many of our popular summer vegetables disappear from vegetable counters or are used up from family gardens. It's then that fall harvested vegetables come to the rescue with more good buys in nutrition, variety, color and flavor.

Here are a few fall vegetable tips and facts for the homemaker from Mary Bodwell, agricultural economics department food specialist at Michigan State college.

Many of these vegetables are well adapted to storage. If you have the space you might want to try buying some of them for storage at home.

Although most of the fall vegetables are stored commercially, the vegetable dollar will usually buy more during harvest season than later in the fall or winter.

For a quick "facial," slather an cleansing cream before you pop into your bath. The steam from the tub will open the pores and the cleansing action of the cream will do a thorough job as you bathe.

Form the habit of gently pushing back the nail cuticle with the towel each time you dry your hands. It's a quick trick that takes only a second, but it will keep your cuticle smooth, shapely and in good condition between manicures.

Farmer Peck's Wife

Getting fitted to a suit.

Where will the pounds come from?

Feminine canaries can also sing.

Cinnamon keeps mold off applesauce.

Yesterday afternoon I came home from the leaders' home extension lesson full of determination, resolve and hope. It was mostly a lesson in choosing and buying the right color and design of clothes and accessories for the individual you but it was so evident to many of us that there is something besides color and style, what's underneath all that finery that makes a dress beautiful. Your posture and outline have to be good or fairly good or it's a flop.

So right now I'm going to start on my suit idea so next spring will find me with a fitter. I hope, wearing a suit. Never felt I was suit material but Miss Green said everyone could wear one if it were the right kind.

Dut, oh, me! That freezer that I have been praising so highly is also my undoing. . . . that and a husband who likes good food and lots of it. He goes further and says I'm all right to suit him just the way I am and am "out" to catch another husband. . . . He may be afraid of not getting his three square meals a day with evening treats thrown in, or that dieting women almost starve the family with salads and get pretty cross and disagreeable doing it. Anyway, I know something should be done. I don't care to regain my wedding-day 97 pounds but this. . . . these 39 pounds of lumps and bumps and bumps that have gradually appeared in the last nine years. Oh dear!

Then I let up on so much pie shortcakes, cinnamon and nut rolls, filled cookies, fried chicken, dressing, pork chops and other good things and where will I lose a few ounces? Right in my face. Must be that I want to eat my cake and have it too and that's just what a lot of us women and men are doing. Guess this isn't going to be much of an argument with myself as when I consider how happy, healthy and harmonious I feel with my friends, neighbors and family. I don't want to change that to be so-called stylish looking, but who says you have to get shortchanged?

I never intended to get started like this but then I never know what will come out of this typewriter when I sit down to start

Next week's lingo. More than once I've been sorry when the papers came out and there it was in bold print to confront me.

Phoebe can sing! We supposed a female canary would not sing much but this one does and more every day. Right now she is sitting in the sunny window looking out at my flower garden and watching the wild gold finches. Susy and Sally think she is the most beautiful bird they ever saw, and she is a pretty little thing.

It is nice to have a tiny pet like this who likes companionship and attention and responds with a cheery song or chirp. Makes these rainy dull days seem cheery in her corner.

Ruth Wiseman of rural Ithaca wrote me an interesting letter about her bird family and her sister, Ethel Ferrai, who lives in this district, and I am going up some day and see them. . . . and her too.

Did you know that you could sprinkle a bit of cinnamon on the top of your applesauce just before you sealed it and you would not have that mold film that sometimes appears. Marilyn Valentine's mother told me. She said when you open it you can dip this off with a spoon if you don't want it or stir it in. She puts hers up without sugar and then heats it, adding the sugar when it is opened. This way it tastes like fresh applesauce.

Here is another trick that I use and I'd like to pass on. My sister gave me a pyrex pie plate for my birthday with a box of drinking straws which she said were to be cut in lengths and stuck into openings of the crust. I use about four and keep them cut ahead in a little glass. It seems the steam escapes out the top of these straws and the juicy and best part of the pie does not run over or out.

Next week I'll include some other ideas I've tried and found good. Isn't it funny how you learn something new all the time. . . . some you can use. . . . some you forget don't. . . . and some you forget it's nice being alive isn't it?

Garden Advice

In October—Dig and store. DAFLIA tops should be cut off, roots dug and thoroughly dried and stored—not later than the end of the month.

GLADIOLUS—Cut and burn the tops. Dry the corms in the sunshine; then store.

TUBEROUS BEGONIAS—Dig and dry thoroughly. After the tops fall off, clean the tubers, then pack in sand.

CANNA LILLIES—Take up root clumps with plenty of sand around them and pack close together in a box.

Planting Bulbs and Peonies
Any time now before the ground freezes is bulb planting time. Daffodils, jonquils, tulips, hyacinths, narcissus, and lilies may all be put out or transplanted during this period. Your overgrown peony clumps should be dug and separated too.

Separate your peony roots so there are at least three to five eyes or buds to each division. Set them so that the eyes at the top of the root are about two inches beneath the surface of the ground in heavy soil, or three inches in light soil. Space them two and one-half to three and one-half feet apart.

If the peonies are planted in a fairly good soil there is no need to add plant food until next spring.

The amount of fat in the form of cream, salad oil or other fat in the dressing is the chief factor influencing the caloric value of most vegetable and fruit salads.

Food Hints

Dessert Pears
8 under-ripe winter pears
1 cup sugar
1/4 cup orange juice
1/4 cup water
1 tablespoon grated orange peel
Peel, halve and core pears. Bring sugar, orange juice, and water to boil. Add pear halves and simmer gently until fruit is tender, about 15 minutes. Remove fruit and add grated peel. Cook syrup until thickened to desired consistency, about ten minutes longer. Pour over pears and chill.

Before serving, sprinkle with macerated crumbs, crushed dry cereal, or chopped nuts and top with ice cream or whipped cream. For extra glamor, if you use whipped cream, just before you have finished heating the cream, whip in some strawberry preserves or currant jelly.

TOAST in many forms makes a wonderful base for creamed food mixtures. Buttered triangles of toast make an easy topping for meat pies; squares of bread with crusts removed can be buttered and pressed into muffin pans and baked crisp for toast cups.

Household Tips

Tomato and Fruit Juices
Plenty of jars of tomato and fruit juices are a most welcome addition to your canning cupboard. Fruit juices go into desserts and allow for jelly-making the year round. Tomato juice adds flavor to your soups, stews and the like.

Use pans of stainless steel, heat-proof glass, aluminum or enamel-ware in heating or simmering the fruit or tomato juice. Never let chipped enamelware, old tinware with the tin worn off, or any zinc or galvanized metal come in contact with the juices. If the juice comes in contact with iron or copper, it will cause a metallic flavor as well as destroy the Vitamin C.

Remember that the flavor of tomato juice is improved by adding 1 tsp. of salt per quart of juice.

To vary a chocolate cake add a half cup of broken nut meats to the batter just before pouring it into layer cake pan. Put the layers together with a banana cream filling and sift confectioners' sugar over the top.

In choosing floor coverings, remember that your room has three parts—floor, walls and furnishings. Your room will look better if only one of these has a prominent pattern and the other two are plain or inconspicuous.

College Advises On Cooking Game

Hunters and housewives who will face their first experience in preparing wild game for table use will be interested in the bulletin "Good Eating from Woods and Fields," compiled by Michigan State college in cooperation with the Michigan conservation department.

The publication tells of various tested methods used in preparing wild duck, pheasants, rabbits, grouse and other game. According to Charles Shick, extension specialist in game management for Michigan State college and the conservation department, hunters are getting some good pointers on bleaching, dressing and cutting up of game animals.

A copy of the bulletin may be obtained from county extension offices or by writing to the Bulletin Office, Michigan State college, East Lansing. Ask for Extension Bulletin 253.

with the INGHAM COUNTY Extension Clubs

Aurelius Center extension club members heard a lesson on life insurance, presented by Mrs. Earl Jones at their September meeting last week. Several kinds of basic insurance were described and discussed.

The Christmas work shop is scheduled for October 11, an all-day meeting with a potluck dinner at noon.

Vantown
Officers for the new club year were elected at the September 26 meeting of the Vantown extension which convened at Mrs. Basil Stowe's home for a potluck dinner. Mrs. Harlow was named chairman. She will be assisted by Mrs. Orville Henselet, secretary; Mrs. Basil Stowe, treasurer; Mrs. Selton Monroe, publicity chairman; and Mrs. Thelma Curtis.

The month's lesson on insurance was presented by Mrs. William Delmar Carr. Other business included a decision by members to have a birthday cake at each meeting.

Members will meet next on October 12 at Mrs. Delmar Carr's for a potluck dinner at noon.

day afternoon at Milner funeral home with burial at Stockbridge cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Martin of Clawson and Mr. and Mrs. William Garner took a trip to Alpena and West Branch over the week end.

Art Hadley and his daughter and family of Munith and Mr. and Mrs. Gale Link of Jackson called on the William Garners Sunday.

When you use the last of your paper towels, save the cardboard rollers. Roll your freshly ironed dresser scarves and dollies around them. Then wrap each tube with tissue paper. They keep your linens unwrinkled and dust-free.

A united family at the breakfast table means a better breakfast for the nine-to-twelve-year olds. They are also more likely to eat a good breakfast if someone else prepares the meal for them.

Baptist Home Is Near Chicago

By Rev. E. J. Cross
I am now writing from the Baptist Home at Maywood, Ill. I live on the fourth floor with a window from which I can see over the "wonder city" which is directly west of my window in Washington boulevard, which extends east to "The Loop" with Lake Michigan on its east side, just 11 miles away. There are a lot of people living within that distance and much crime, I am sorry to report. Two policemen were killed last week. From this window I can see the roof of only one house as the leaves on the large trees obscure all but the sky over the big city. Sometimes it is smoke and at night the reflection of lights.
Last week I used a typewriter with a French keyboard. This week I have another borrowed machine. It has a standard keyboard and is the property of a student of the Chicago Lutheran Seminary, who is earning some of his student expenses by serving as night watchman here at the home. He is a fine young fellow.
By way of contrast to the home, there is directly across Pine street to the south, the Emerson grade school. The playground is on our side of the school and I have made it a point each morning of the first

First Church of Christ, Scientist, Mason, holds services at the church, corner of Oak and Barnes streets, every Sunday at 11:00. Sunday school is held during the services for pupils up to the age of 20. Wednesday evening meeting at 8:00 includes testimonies of Christian Science, healing. A public reading room is open at the church every Wednesday and Saturday from 2 to 4. "Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, October 8.

Holt Brotherhood Temple Methodist, Wilson M. Tennant, minister. "God Remembers" will be the subject of the sermon by the pastor at the 10:00 worship service next Sunday morning. The chancel choir and the youth choir will sing special anthems for the service. There will be a nursery to care for small children of parents attending the worship service. Sunday school will meet at 11:00. The Intermediate Youth Fellowship meets Sunday night at 8:30. Senior Youth Fellowship meets at 6:00 p. m. The youth choir will be directed by Mrs. Tennant. The worship service will be led by the youth and there will be a fellowship period following in the social hall. Twenty-four youths attended the retreat and planning conference for our church youth at the Griffith Methodist church near Springport last Sunday afternoon and evening. Officers for the year were elected and plans made for a youth program in the church for this year. Paul Cooley assisted Rev. and Mrs. Tennant in conducting the retreat. Chancel choir rehearsal Thursday night at 7:30. Girls choir rehearsal Saturday morning at 10:00.

"Sierra" Stars Audie Murphy

Wanda Hendrix is held captive by Audie Murphy and Denn Jagger in a lonely mountain cabin in this highlight scene from Universal-International's technicolor western, "Sierra." The new film is Jagger's first screen appearance following his being named the best supporting actor for 1949 for his "Oscar" winning performance in "Twelve O'Clock High." The film is a Thursday and Friday feature at the Fox.

TELEPHONE CHIEF

Ben R. Marsh
The board of directors of the Michigan Bell Telephone company has elevated Ben R. Marsh to chairman, effective October 1, upon the resignation of Thomas N. Lacy who will retire at that time. Marsh, who has been in the telephone business for 42 years, has been serving as vice-chairman of the board. Lacy will remain a member of the board. Typical of the up-from-the-ranks tradition in the Bell System, Lacy rose from a $3-a-week board operator to president and board chairman of Michigan Bell. The telephone itself was only about 22 years old when young Lacy watched a boyhood pal operate a switchboard in his home town of Lititz, Pennsylvania. Lacy decided he would do the same. That summer-vacation job determined his career and, after his graduation from Lehigh University with an electrical engineering degree, he went with the Bell System and remained for 43 years. Five months after he arrived at Michigan Bell's Detroit headquarters in 1925, Lacy was appointed chief engineer. He was named vice-president and general manager in 1934, and president in 1946. He headed the company through the greatest expansion and construction period in its history, involving the expenditure of nearly a quarter billion dollars.

Kaiser Enters Low-Price Field
Low initial cost plus great operating economy and exceptional performance are the 1-2-3 features of the all-new Henry J sedan models which go on display at Kaiser-Frazer dealerships across the country Friday, September 29. Buyers will have a choice of the four-cylinder Henry J and the Henry J DeLuxe, six-cylinder models offering greater styling refinements. Both engines are new high-compression "Kaiser Supersonic" L-head types. Edgar F. Kaiser, K-F president, said prices, to be disclosed Friday, will be the lowest in America for a full size sedan, thus marking the first full scale new competition in the low priced auto market in nearly a quarter-century. The company reported that in the most extensive pre-marketing tests ever given a new automobile the Henry J demonstrated its ability to leap from zero to 50 miles an hour in 10 seconds, and to 60 in 14 seconds. An impartial report on remarkable operating economy was furnished earlier this month when the six-cylinder model delivered 34 miles to the gallon in gasoline mileage tests conducted by the American Automobile association. The tests, held on the recently opened New Hampshire turnpike, were supervised by David L. Gundry of the certified test committee of the A. A. The new model provides the largest luggage capacity of any passenger sedan. It offers a maximum cargo area of 50.3 cubic feet achieved through a utility feature which allows the rear seat back to be folded forward and anchored in place as part of the trunk floor. The convenience of the folding seat feature eliminates need for the traditional rear trunk opening. Arrival of the Henry J models marks K-F's first challenge in the low priced field. Including them, the company is now nearing production of its first half-million cars. Popular and medium priced models in the 1951 Kaiser and Frazer lines have been in production since last spring. The new car will be displayed at Bartholomew Sales & Service on Friday.

Services Held For Claire Hill

Claire Hill died suddenly Wednesday at his home at 502 E. Race Street, Leslie. Mr. Hill was born 54 years ago in Onondaga township and lived all his life in the Leslie area. He was employed at the Acme Industries in Jackson. Mr. Hill was unmarried.

He is survived by five brothers, Earl of Battle Creek, Jay and Wilford of Leslie, Clyde, his twin, of Mason, and Clifford of Ann Arbor; and two sisters, Mrs. Lena Snow of Brown City and Mrs. Nina Alrich of Leslie.

Funeral services were held Friday at 2:00 p. m. from the Behrens-Laucht funeral home with burial at Greenwood cemetery, Aurelius Center.

Leslie school pupils will have a two-day vacation while the teachers attend the teachers institute at East Lansing on October 12-13.

Library Has New Location
The Leslie library will soon open in its new location at the G. A. R. hall. The main floor of the hall has been entirely redecorated, the roof recovered, and the windows refinished outside. The book shelves are ready to be placed. Other furniture will arrive soon and the library will be opened in about two weeks according to Miss Alta Parks, Ingham county librarian at East Lansing.

Hot Lunch Program Starts
Hot lunches will be served at the Leslie school beginning October 2. Elementary pupils will be served at 11:30 and high school pupils at 12:00. Pupils living near the school are expected to go home to lunch. The lunches consist of a hot dish, sandwich, milk and dessert at a charge of 25 cents.

The Childs church, under the direction of Rev. Maurice Harlow, will unite with the Leslie Baptist church for the evening service Sunday. Miss Margaret Comstock will sing and the showing of the sound film "The Churches Work Together" will be part of the service.

The public is invited to attend a school assembly on Tuesday, October 3, at three o'clock to hear Inve Kovac, formerly of Hungary, speak on Americanism.

The Leslie Band Mothers have purchased a second baritone horn for the school band with funds earned through their activities. They will continue serving beverages and sandwiches at the ball games. The annual Jubberwock committee is Mrs. Paul Lantz, Mrs. Gula Hartness, Mrs. Ralph Kelley and Mrs. Leslie Chuppell.

SOCIAL SECURITY ADVICE

A representative of the Lansing office of the Social Security Administration will be at the Mason postoffice on the third Thursday of every month to give advice on benefits. He will be at Mason October 10, November 16 and December 21. He is scheduled to arrive at 11:00 a. m. Persons desiring information regarding old-age and survivors insurance benefits, social security account numbers or other business concerning social security may call on him.

An announcement by Henry J. Kaiser

Today, at your Kaiser-Frazer dealer, you will see what we believe to be the most important car that America has produced since the automobile became a necessity of daily living. It fills the needs, the wants, the purchasing power of all America as no other car has done in the last ten years. It is rugged. It has outstanding maneuverability, handles and parks easily, and is powered with our new Supersonic Engines which deliver up to 30 to 35 miles to the gallon. The Henry J is the lowest-priced car in the low-price field. It has the full, generous proportions to which Americans are accustomed. We have given it the best combination of performance, comfort, styling, and economy of operation. It is the car that you and every American family can afford to buy, to operate, to maintain...and be proud to own.

The Henry J...the lowest-priced car in the low-price field.
$1299. Delivered at Willow Run, with Federal taxes paid. Only white sidewall tires, deluxe bumper guards and local tax (if any) additional.

The most important new car in America!

Here today...The

Henry J

Available in two models: Henry J (as illustrated above), Henry J DeLuxe (six-cylinder at additional cost).

Important because...It's Smart! Smart to look at... smart to own! Notice the extra-wide doors...front seat 58 inches wide...head room and leg room galore! And—look! The back of the rear seat folds forward, giving you 51 cubic feet of storage space, almost double that of the largest sedan trunk compartment!

Important because...It's Tough! Husky, Double-Channel Frame, reinforced like a steel bridge! The rear axle Hypoid geared, as in most expensive cars. Extra-wide windshield and windows give you the largest vision area in any low-priced car...short turning radius permits the easiest parking.

Important because...It's Thrifty! You got 30 to 35 miles per gallon from the quiet, responsive Supersonic Engines. (Henry J—4 cylinders, Henry J DeLuxe—6 cylinders.) Holt and Fowlerville In Front In Ingham County League Chase

Holt and Fowlerville continue to lead the pack after Friday night's grid play in the Ingham County League. Holt got off to a fast start and defeated a stubborn Dansville team 18-0. Fowlerville barely edged Haslett 14-12 in the dedication game for the new Haslett field. Williamston jumped back into the running after a week's lay-off due to a polo scare by beating Okemos 16-7 and Leslie turned back Stockbridge 20-6.

Friday night Stockbridge will play at Holt with the Panthers rate as the underdogs. Fowlerville will take on a strong Williamston eleven at Fowlerville.

Leslie will play at Haslett Friday night, and Okemos will play at Dansville in the only afternoon game.

Extra Points Win
Fowlerville had to rely on two points after touchdowns in order to turn back Haslett. Fowlerville scored a touchdown and converted in both the first and second quarters. From then on out Haslett took the offensive.

The Lakers pushed across a touchdown in the second period and scored again in the last quarter. Failure to convert the points after touchdowns cost them a tie game. Dick Copeland was the big gun in the Fowlerville attack. He raved 40 yards for the first Fowlerville tally and booted the two extra points. Fowlerville's second touchdown came on a pass from George Essert to Tom Butler.

The play of the game was a 90-yard touchdown sprint by Herb Hagenbush for the first Haslett tally. Jim Mitchell tossed to Bill Haskins for the other Lakser score.

Holt Starts Fast
Holt sped to an 18-point lead in the first quarter and then settled back and hung onto its lead. Dansville stopped the Holt running game in the last three quarters but the Aggies could not start any attack for themselves.

Larry Gules ran over all three markers for Holt on touchdown sprints of 65, 60 and five yards. The tallies against Dansville sent Gules' touchdown total to six in two games.

First-Half Points Good
Williamston scored all its 16 points in the first half in beating Okemos 16-7. The Chiefs scored one touchdown late in the last period to save themselves from a whitewash.

Astaire and Vera-Ellen Captivating New Dance Team in Fox Film

Fred Astaire and Vera-Ellen form the scintillating new dancing and romancing team of "Three Little Words." M-G-M's big technicolor musical based on the lives and music of songwriters Bert Kalmar and Harry Ruby. Here they are shown in three of their varied routines in the new film. Left, Astaire in the vaudeville partner, Jessie Brown, center, they are seen in a graceful ballroom routine done to the tune of "Thinking of You." Right, the dancing stars team for a pantomime story-in-a-dance, titled "Mr. and Mrs. Hoover at Home."

"On the Isle of Samoa," coming to the Fox Theatre on Saturday is a story of a greedy adventurer, fleeing from the law, who takes refuge on a tropical island and is eventually conquered by its friendly inhabitants.

Jon Hall is the money-mad individual who, having robbed his employer, takes off in a plane in search of a tropical island and the lush life of a tropical island. There, a white missionary, who has chosen the simplicity of the island life to the ways of civilization, and an island beauty befriended him. But the good life lived by the natives on their tropical paradise makes little or no impression on Hall, who dreams of repatriating his plane and taking off for civilization so he can spend his gains. An island volcano erupts, causing a violent earthquake, just as he is about to take off and the girl is hurt in attempting to save him. This act of simple devotion makes him decide to go to Australia on a passing ship to pay for his crime and then return to his island beauty.

Monogram's "Snow Dog," scheduled to open Saturday at the Fox Theatre, is an action-loaded story of multiple killings in the Canadian north woods and the tracking down the slayers by a Royal Canadian Mounted Police corporal. The picture stars Kirby Grant in the role of the corporal, Chinook, all-white German Shepherd thoroughbred, is featured as his canine companion and aide.

The supporting cast includes Elena Verdugo, Rick Vallin, Milburn Stone, Richard Karlan, Jane Adrian, Hal Gerard, Richard Avonzo, Duke York and Guy Zanette.

Based on Real Story
With Fred Astaire and Vera Ellen as an exciting new dancing team, with Red Skelton in his first straight character role, and with such other luminaries as Arlene Dahl, Keenan Wynn, Gloria De Haven and Phil Regan adding to the parade of star talent, "Three Little Words" offers Fox Theatre audiences one of M-G-M's most delightful technical musicals. It will be shown at the Fox on Sunday and Monday.

Latest of the popular biographical tuners, the new offering is based on the lives and songs of Bert Kalmar and Harry Ruby, two of America's most successful composers. The story traces the careers of the songwriters from their first meeting in a Coney Island beer garden, where Harry Ruby (Skelton) bumbles up Bert Kalmar's (Astaire) magician act, and continues with their happy efforts as collaborators despite such diver-

Howell Upsets Everett Vikings

Howell, the pre-season dark horse in the Capital Circuit, turned out to be just that as the Highlanders dumped favored Everett 12-0 in a hard game under the lights at Everett Friday night.

In another conference game Charlotte served notice on the rest of the circuit that it is a strong contender for the crown by downing the Bulldogs 20-6 at Mason.

Grand Lodge and Eaton Rapids took on foes from outside the conference Friday night. Grand Lodge beat down Hastings 20-0 while Hillsdale edged Eaton Rapids 6-0.

Friday night, all six Capital Circuit teams will be playing league games. Mason will try to stop the big Vikings at Everett. Charlotte will square off against the Comets at Grand Lodge and Howell will play Eaton Rapids on the Greyhound field.

Everett will be trying to make up for its surprise defeat by Howell last week. Charlotte should have an easy time with Grand Lodge while the Highlanders of Howell are rated over Eaton Rapids.

Pass Defense Lax
Everett stopped the Howell ground game cold Friday night. The Vikings didn't do so well in the air, though. Both Highlander touchdowns were scored on passes.

Howell had the help of five Viking fumbles in registering its upset. Everett started out in the driver's seat. The Vikings marched from deep in their own territory to the Howell 21-yard line before the drive bogged down and Howell got the ball. From then on out the two teams played in the middle of the field until the closing seconds of the first half. Then the Highlanders moved the ball into Everett territory.

With time left for one more play Boyd Shertzer, Highlander sophomore quarterback, came into the game and found Dick Lawson, a glue-fingered banker, in the end zone with a perfect pass.

Lawson was the spark plug of the Howell team. He snagged five straight passes.

In the third quarter Bill Hilton faded back and tossed a long one to Lawson for a touchdown play that covered 51 yards.

The second touchdown took the wind out of the Viking sails. Everett never did make any third attempts that Howell moved the ball on the ground only 33 yards. Everett's high-powered team could only advance the ball 69 yards all night.

If you do any driving today, the chances are you will see a new Pontiac before you have gone very far—for more people are driving Pontiacs than ever before.

Take a good long look at the next new Pontiac you see. Some of the reasons why its owner is so proud of his car will be quickly apparent. You can see that Pontiac stands out above all other cars for rare beauty. You can see that Pontiac is a big, luxurious automobile. You can see that Pontiac glides away in traffic and strides smoothly along the open road.

Some things you can't see, but they are there nevertheless. Things like Pontiac's dependability year after year—things like the deep pride and satisfaction of owning and driving this immensely respected automobile—things like Pontiac's real economy.

One look is very convincing, but a few miles behind the wheel is the surest way to know that dollar for dollar you can't beat a Pontiac!

Onondaga's Responsibility

Onondaga voters are faced with a greater responsibility than are other voters this fall.

In Onondaga the voters will have to decide whether or not they should authorize the sale of liquor by the glass. A petition has been signed asking for permission to sell liquor by the glass. Under the law the decision is up to the residents of the township.

Unfortunately the decision will affect far more people than will have the opportunity to vote on the proposition. The saloon keeper at Onondaga can't make a living out of sales to Onondaga people alone. He'll have to draw customers from Aurelius and Leslie townships in Ingham, from Hamlin and Eaton townships in Eaton and from the townships of Rives, Tompkins and Springport in Jackson in order to make his saloon pay.

Voters in Onondaga township will have to decide on a saloon not only for themselves but for all the residents of nearby townships. Onondaga parents have the responsibility of deciding what is best for their own sons and daughters and for the sons and daughters of hundreds of their neighbors who live outside the township.

Onondaga is a rural community. It has no adequate police protection. Neither do the adjoining townships in Eaton and Jackson counties.

People will buy liquor whether or not they buy it by the glass in an Onondaga saloon. Sure they will. The law makes it legal for them to do so. But liquor sales show big increases when saloon licenses are voted. Such places invite loafing, or lounging as it is now called, and the steady consumption of hard liquor by the glass, by two glasses and three glasses and more glasses until the night or the pay check is gone.

A saloon in Onondaga will have to draw its patrons from an area covering many miles. They'll all have to get home somehow after the place closes. Onondaga provides no bus or trolley transportation. There is no taxi service. The saloon's best customers will have to drive their own cars home. They'll have to drive not only in Onondaga township but in Leslie and Aurelius, Hamlin and Eaton, Rives, Tompkins and Springport.

On Tuesday, November 7, while the rest of us are passing on the oleo referendum, pensions for county employees, and some other comparatively minor issues, Onondaga voters will be called upon to decide on a saloon. Onondaga voters will have to decide not only for themselves but for their neighbors who live outside the township.

On November 7 Onondaga voters will be their brothers' keepers. They should not forget it.

The Right to Know

Americans have a right to know what lies before them. Between now and November 7 is the opportune time to exercise that right.

Political responsibility between now and November 7 is the responsibility of revealing what's in the offing after election.

Radio and newspaper commentators continuously hint of the calling up of all National Guard divisions "after the November 7 election." They talk of the imposition of wage and price controls "after the election." They slyly indicate that aid to Europe and Asia will jump by leaps and bounds and so will new taxes "after the election."

The American people are entitled to the facts, not rumors.

Political leaders should do that telling and do it truthfully. Radio commentators and Washington news analysts should not have to intimate. Americans need not have to gain their information by inference.

Isolationism is not an issue. There are as many Republicans as there are Democrats who shun isolationist labels. Communism is not an issue. Both Democrats and Republicans vie with each other, publicly at least, in hating the Communists.

The issue or what could be an issue is truth; the truth about American plans in Europe and Asia, the truth about promises of further military and economic aid, the truth about commitments made by President Truman and Secretary of State Dean Acheson, the truth about rearming Germany and Japan, the truth about draft plans, about new tax programs and about wage and price freezes.

Rep. William W. Blackney and Herbert Devine, the two candidates for congress, should be telling the people what they know about these things. The voters should be asking candidates where they stand and why.

Americans have a right to know. It's high time we began to find out some of the things Washington officials are trying to keep from us.

Officers Need Help

Derailing a freight car, breaking freight shed windows, tipping over tombstones—these are not the pranks of mischievous boys. They are the malicious acts of hoodlums.

State police, railroad police, city police and sheriff's officers are trying their best to run down the vandals. The officers have not succeeded, and they won't succeed unless all good citizens pitch in and help.

When any of us see a car loaded with youngsters in a place where there is no sound reason for their presence it's up to us to investigate and to report. When we see cars parked alongside freight sheds or railroad tracks at night; when we find cars driven or parked under suspicious circumstances, we should make note of the license plates, get descriptions of the occupants if possible, and notify officers.

We hire officers to help protect our lives and our property. But we can't hire enough to keep all property in view. Officers are virtually helpless unless they have the help of citizens. We must give it to them wholeheartedly if we expect to stamp out the wave of hoodlumism that has broken out the past few weeks in Lansing, Mason, Holt and other places in the county.

WHY I OFTEN GET OUT OF STEP

Peace Stocks Do Best in War

By Vernon J. Brown

Let it be confessed at the outset that this contribution is one concerning something of which my personal knowledge and experience is limited. What I aim to say here reflects merely what I have been reading and the conclusions which have followed. Certainly there is no claim to expertise. My only hope is that someone will read what is here printed and that they too will do some thinking and arrive at more sound opinions than have come to me.

In the world of finance and industry there is such a thing commonly referred to as the Dow-Jones Industrial Average as applied to the stocks and securities of the larger and more important corporations of the United States and which are traded in on the New York stock exchange, and elsewhere wherever stock exchanges operate.

The house organ of a well-known investment concern has recently pointed to its own statements made in 1945 when it was evident that World War II was about over. At that time this concern had taken the lead of common stocks of 30 of the more prominent industrial and business firms of the nation between September 22, 1939 and January 1, 1945. During that period these 30 stocks, taken as a group, according to the Dow-Jones average, experienced only about six-tenths of one per cent increase in selling price. Fifteen of these selected stocks showed a stock market loss ranging from 36.5 per cent to 4.7 per cent. The other 16 stocks showed plus changes ranging from 142.7 per cent to as little as 3.1 per cent.

Now which stocks did the best during the war years?

Theater Stock Leads

Not the stocks of the big chemical concerns and not the steel stocks, nor the food concerns nor the big smelters. The stocks which made money for those who invested in them during that war period included some major car concerns, a few oil companies, the International Harvester and Westinghouse. The stock which made its traders the most money was that of Loew's Incorporated, a theater chain. In second place was Goodyear tires and in third, National Distillers. Sears, Roebuck and John-Manville were up in the big money, while United Artists lost its holders most.

For a while I found it difficult to find a reason for so strange a quirk in the demand for industrial stocks. Then all at once it seemed to me the clouds were cleared away.

The stocks which reflected the most consistent demand were those of concerns outside the pale of governmental rationing and controls. Procter and Gamble stocks were deserted because oils for its manufacturing processes were limited by governmental decrees. The steel companies, the chemical concerns, the smelting industry and others of similar character were tied up in governmental red tape until the public became afraid and sold their holdings to retail merchandising, etc. In other words, those who buy stocks, either for speculation or investment, shy away from those most subject to bureaucratic interference. At least that is the only way I am able to analyze the matter.

Another thing which has me guessing at times is the attitude of the public in respect to certain matters of government and of economic affairs. At times I wonder what makes me arrive at conclusions so far away from those held by so many others.

The same house organ which brought me the facts mentioned above also brings me light on the subject of public opinion versus my own. Here are some of the things which contribute to my being out of step with the present generation.

Population Change

Since 1940 some 13 1/2 million people have died in these United States and during the same period 17 million new families have been established through marriage and 30 million children have been born to them. That means that one-third of all the families now existing have been formed since 1940.

Here is something else. Of the present inhabitants of these United States 63 per cent have no personal recollection of World War I and 52 per cent do not remember when the New Dealers and the Fair Dealers did not run the country. Only 52 per cent of our people have any knowledge of what conditions were like before World War II and only 44 per cent have experienced a free market in which can be bought the things they want from normal assortments.

Behind all these statistics are many other factors which bear upon business and industry and certainly upon government and the attitude of the average American citizen toward that government

For want of a nail the shoe was lost, for want of the shoe the horse was lost and for want of the horse the battle was lost.

For want of a crate the onion was lost. For want of the onion the hamburger was lost. And for want of the hamburger Art Cullum's Deluxe Hamburger Shoppe might have to close down.

Two weeks ago rain prevented woodsmen from cutting timber. Because there was no timber the haulers took the week off. When no timber reached the mills the sawyers had nothing to do. Because the mills shut down the crate and slab factories ran out of material. Because they had no crates onion growers could not harvest their crops. That's why on one of the best days in the harvest season onion growers and toppers had time to talk last Friday.

Cephas Smith of Stockbridge had told me that the world's champion onion topper was in action on the Patterson Bros. onion ranch at Stockbridge (See Page 1) and that it was a sight well worth seeing. So I drove over as I was running shy of Prescott's Hickory Smoked Bacon anyhow. (Memo to advertising department: Check with Prescott on same paid advertising.)

Cephas and I drove on out to the Patterson place. We were still a quarter of a mile away when Cephas said, "Jose Vasquez isn't working this afternoon."

"How can you tell from here?" I inquired.

"If Jose was out there in the field there would be a cloud of dust and onion tops following him up the row, and there would be two men running ahead with empty crates and four men following to pile and stack," explained Cephas.

We went on across the muck anyhow. But Cephas was right. Brooks Patterson had had to lay Jose off at noon so as to have enough crates for the other six toppers in the afternoon.

Brooks agreed to dump enough crates to provide Jose with containers for five minutes of topping before the camera. On that promise Cephas and I drove back to town and picked up the champ. Upon our return to the field Jose was allotted a high stack of crates and some nice acreage of yellow globes.

Did you see the movies of the Ezzard Charles and Joe Louis fight? That was slow motion beside the view of Jose in action. Have you ever seen Jose tumbly at the piano? He can't make his fingers fly like Jose Vasquez does.

Only LeRoy Lee and Ken Shaffer on the Ingham County News typesetting machines can make their fingers go so fast. I marveled as I watched the crates filling up with onions, and Ken and LeRoy don't have to reach down into the ground to grope around for mats. They are right there in the magazine ready to be released as soon as the keys are struck.

There is genius in onion fields, corn fields, bean fields as well as in the fields of art. Too much of it goes unrecognized. Jose Vasquez may not be able to play a piano as well as Jose Iturbi but out the two Joses at work in an onion field and see who fills the most crates.

An onion can make people cry, but there has never been a vegetable invented to make them laugh. I ran across that old saw once and I guess it's true. Vegetables and grains and fruits when ground and permitted to ferment may make people laugh but not in the natural state and they don't laugh naturally either.

Voters Must Decide These Four State Propositions

Michigan voters will have to decide four state propositions in addition to voting for candidates November 7. In Ingham county there will also be a pension proposal for county employees upon which voters must decide. In Lansing and Lansing township there is an annexation issue and in Mason voters will have to decide on a proposed charter revision and the election of nine charter commissioners. Onondaga township voters will be asked to decide on legalizing the sale of liquor by the glass.

Here are the four state propositions:

Proposal No. 1
PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION RELATIVE TO THE ELECTIVE FRANCHISE

A Joint Resolution of the 1949 Legislature proposing an amendment to section 1, article 3 of the state constitution relative to the elective franchise by deleting all reference to a person of foreign birth who had declared his intention to become a citizen 2 years and 6 months prior to the 8th day of November 1894, and had not completed naturalization prior to January 1 1924 and to change the residence requirement of electors in any city or township from 20 to 30 days.

Proposal No. 2
PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION PROVIDING FOR THE BORROWING OF MONEY AND ISSUING OF BONDS

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article 10 of the constitution of the state of Michigan by adding thereto a new section 24, to read as follows:

Section 24. The state may borrow not to exceed $65,000,000.00 to plan, acquire, construct and equip hospitals for the mentally ill and epileptics, and training schools for mental defectives and the tuberculosis hospitals and issue bonds pledging the full faith and credit of the state, on such terms as shall be provided by law.

Proposal No. 3
PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION RELATIVE TO SUBVERSION

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article 7 of the constitution of the state of Michigan by adding thereto a new section 22, to read as follows:

Section 22. Subversion shall consist of any act, or advocacy of any act, intended to overthrow the form of government of the United States or the form of government of this state, as established by this constitution and as guaranteed by section 4 of article 4 of the constitution of the United States of America, by force or violence or by any unlawful means.

Subversion is declared to be a crime against the state punishable by any penalty provided by law.

Subversion shall constitute an abuse of the rights secured by section 4 of this article, and the rights secured thereby shall not be valid as a defense in any trial for subversion.

Proposal No. 4
Petition for a referendum of initiative measure presented to the legislature, adopted by it, and signed by the governor February 14, 1949, being Act No. 1, Public Acts of 1949 of the State of Michigan, and to read as follows:

"AN ACT to amend section 1 of Act No. 22 of the Public Acts of 1901, entitled 'An act to prevent deception in the manufacture and sale of imitation butter.'

The People of the State of Michigan enact:

Section 1 of Act No. 22 of the Public Acts of 1901, entitled 'An act to prevent deception in the manufacture and sale of imitation butter,' is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 1. No person, by himself or his agents, or servants shall render or manufacture, sell, offer for sale, expose for sale, or have in his possession with intent to sell, any article product or compound made wholly or in part out of any fat oil or oleaginous substance or compound thereof, not produced from unadulterated milk or cream from the same, which shall be in imitation of yellow butter produced from pure unadulterated milk or cream of the same, and which could not be lawfully transported or sold in interstate commerce under the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act:

Provided that nothing in this act shall be construed to prohibit the manufacture or sale of either yellow colored or uncolored oleomargarine in a separate and distinct form, and in such manner as will advise the consumer of its real character, which shall have been manufactured in accordance with the Federal definition and standard of identity for oleomargarine, as fixed by regulations promulgated by the Federal Security Administrator of the United States of America, pursuant to the provisions of Section 401 of the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act, as amended."

Better Buy Buick!

PERHAPS you've noticed that there seem to be a lot of these brawny beauties running around on America's highways — and it isn't just that boldly gleaming forefront that spreads this impression. It isn't just the fact that folks who own a Buick get such a bang out of it that they do a lot of driving. Back of all this is another fact. It's a fact that contains a broad hint to anyone who'd like to know what's what in motorcar buys. 1950 Buicks are breaking all past popularity records, as registered in sales.

So we suggest that you do some personal investigating. Find out, for example, how masterful you feel, with Fireball power purring away the miles, at a polite touch of your toe on the gas treadle.

Find out how the jolts and jars seem to disappear, when you have big soft coil springs on all four wheels, and fat low-pressure tires on wide Safety-Ride rims.

Then there's Dynaflo Drive,* which Buick owners vote the biggest automotive hit that has come along in years.

With all this, there's room, and comfort, and road-hugging heft combined with a light and willing response to your hand on the wheel — and prices that start down with the sixes.

Seems like almost everyone wants to own one of these Buicks — and most people can. How about you? Isn't it a smart idea to see your Buick dealer now and get your name on his list?

Only BUICK has Dynaflo — and with it goes: HIGHER-COMPRESSION Fireball valve-in-head power in three engines. (New Fireball engine in SUPER models.) • NEW-PATTERN F-263 engine in SUPER models. • NEW-PATTERN STYLING, with MULTI-GUARD fender, leg-through fenders • TRAFFIC-HANDY SIZE, less over-all length for easier parking and gauging, short turning radius • EXTRA-WIDE SEATS cradled between the axles • SOFT BUICK RIDE, from oil-coil springs, Safety-Ride rims, low-pressure tires, rido-steadying torque-tube

*Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on Super and Special models.

FEEDING OPERATIONS CALL FOR PLANNING

Feed Supply and Costs Count

(This is the third and last in a series of articles on the best cattle feeding situation by Dr. H. Stark, extension livestock marketing specialist at Michigan State college.)

Good cattle feeders are good planners. Begin now to size up your feed situation and the kind of cattle you want to buy.

This means analyzing feed on hand, cost of additional feed, when and where to buy your feeders, how much you want to pay for them, and the relative price and demand for the cattle when ready for market. War conditions will again emphasize production, and cattle feeding should be profitable under the present feed situation.

Do any of these operations or combinations fit your business?

1. Buy light good quality steers or steers and heifers. Here you have the advantage of putting on low cost gains on young animals. Margins are welcome but not an absolute necessity.

2. Full feed quality calves and market at around 900-1,000 pounds or carry them longer and market later. This latter method allows the use of pasture gains, keeping cost down.

3. Feed medium grade (around 700 pounds) cattle, using plenty of roughage with some grain and market during spring months. This is a particularly good operation for the dairyman who wants to feed a few more cattle to supplement his income and not carry cattle into the following summer and fall months. Spring is the best time for marketing medium cattle.
4. An experienced cattle feeder may want to be a bit more speculative and take on heavier, unfinished good quality feeder, cattle, step them up a grade, or feed them into the grade and market. He depends pretty much on margins since his costs of gain are higher in a heavy cattle. This feeding period is usually from 30 to 90 days.
5. Do not overlook the dairy heifer as a good beef feeding bet. Good 600-700 pound rugged dairy heifers may be purchased and fed for a two-way market. They may be turned for dairy cows or beef according to the demand for each.

Some dairymen or farmers may like this method of feeding to utilize their surplus feed.

At no time are we attempting to indicate one operation as being better than another. There

College Planning Livestock Day for Next Wednesday

Answers to timely meat industry problems will be the goal of Michigan's meat men representatives expected to convene on the Michigan State college campus for Livestock and Meat Day, October 11.

Producers, packers and retailers of livestock products from throughout the state will be tackling questions concerned with effective and equitable marketing of a quality product designed to satisfy consumer demand, with emphasis on hogs. They will hear prominent speakers in the various sections of the meat industry, consider new trends in the meat merchandising field, and take a first look at a proposed new system of grading hogs.

Don Stark, Michigan State college livestock marketing specialist, reports that plans for the day's events have been completed, and announces the program as follows:

Egg Production Has Big Increase

During the last 20 years, poultry farmers have become experts in egg production, says Henry Larzelere, Michigan State college agricultural economist, in citing recent U. S. department or agriculture figures.

By adopting better strains of chickens, by keeping more pullets in the laying flocks, and by better feeding and sanitation, they now manage to get over a third more eggs per hen than they did 20 years ago. U. S. D. A. economists expect these improvements to continue through the next 10 years.

Along with this, the number of chickens and eggs needed will increase as our population grows. But they say that unless production goes down in the next year or two, and then expands at the same rate as population, prices for chickens and eggs will continue low compared with other livestock products.

The economists believe the fewer chickens being raised this year indicates that adjustment is already under way.

FARM FIRES KILL 3,500 A YEAR, DESTROY $100 MILLION PROPERTY

Fire is always a menace on the farm. Last year alone there were about 165,000 farm fires which destroyed $100,000,000 worth of property and killed 3,500 people.

But figures alone tell only part of the tragic story of fire loss. They do not tell of the many millions of hours spent in building up herds of fine stock, or hours spent in making the house more livable, or of the many precious keepsakes that never can be replaced. And figures never could tell the story of sorrow and loneliness that results from each of the 3,500 deaths.

Farms suffer more than their share of the total national fire loss. This is partially caused by the fact that most farms do not have an adequate supply of water with which to fight fires. Often, fires which cause a total loss of property are discovered early and could be put out if an ample supply of water were available. Often, too, more than one building is burned on a farm because water is not available to "wet down" buildings close to the one in which the fire started and thus the fire spreads.

Many fire insurance companies recognize the fire risk of farm property and require for rate re-

Haskell Jerseys Lead Ingham No. 6

Lawrence Haskell's eight Jerseys topped the Ingham No. 6 Dairy Herd Improvement association test for September, according to the Lester Reid Losey.

The other 10 herds testing over 30 pounds of fat were: William Panson, 13 registered, 34.5 pounds of fat, 79.5 pounds of milk; Leo Baumer, 17 grade Guernseys and Holsteins, 33.6 pounds of fat, 73.5 pounds of milk; Gun-Smith, 13 grade Holsteins, 33.1 pounds of fat, 92.6 pounds of milk; Glen Fox, 8 registered Guernseys, 32.3 pounds of fat, 648.7 pounds of milk; Lloyd Miner, 12 grade Guernseys and Holsteins, 31.7 pounds of fat, 837.5 pounds of milk; grado Holstein, 74 pounds of fat, 1500 pounds of milk; Coy Dunsmore, Holstein, 70 pounds of fat, 1880 pounds of milk.

Under five years: Lynn Haynes, grade Holstein, 72 pounds of fat, 1620 pounds of milk; William Stinger, grade Jersey, 68 pounds of fat, 1410 pounds of milk.

Under four years: Hayward and Todd, Holstein, 79 pounds of fat, 2250 pounds of milk; Dr. F. L. Frost, registered Guernsey, 73 pounds of fat, 1460 pounds of milk.

Under three years: Paul Scheuer, Holstein, 65 pounds of fat, 1910 pounds of milk; Lynn Haynes, Durham, 53 pounds of fat, 1260 pounds of milk.

There were 55 50-pound cows for the month. High cow in the association for the month was one owned by Hayward and Todd.

Clipping of Herd Adds to Comfort

Once again it's time for dairymen to set up a barber shop for Bussy to give her the clip she so badly needs before being shabbled for the winter, say Michigan State college dairymen.

Cow's udders and flanks must be clipped so that manure and other debris will not cling to them. Each tiny particle of this material carries millions of invisible bacteria and is a common source of excessive sediment and high bacteria counts.

Clipping helps improve the quality of milk and at the same time removes harboring places for lice, dust, and other vermin which make contented cows uncomfortable. Feed costs are high and uncomfortable cows may be less productive, the dairymen say.

Are you having troubles? Let a hand help you solve them!

Ten Herds Make 30-lb. Average

Ten herds in Ingham-West Dairy Herd Improvement association averaged over 30 pounds of butterfat for September according to the report of the Lester Bob Witt.

High herd was owned by C. B. Smith and Sons with 19 registered Holsteins averaging 35.7 pounds of fat from 987 pounds of milk.

The other high herds were: Chellis P. Hall, 29 registered and grade Holsteins, 35.4 pounds of fat, 1104 pounds of milk; Miller's Dairy Farm No. 5, 32 registered Holsteins, 35.4 pounds of fat, 1048 pounds of milk; Carlyle C. Waltz, 28 registered and grade Holsteins, 34.4 pounds of fat, 962 pounds of milk;

Harry DeLaere, 25 registered Holsteins, 33.8 pounds of fat, 977 pounds of milk; Carl Robb and Clint Brissitte, 19 grade Holsteins and Guernseys, 33.7 pounds of fat, 912 pounds of milk; Miller's Dairy Farm No. 1, 26 registered Holsteins, 33.6 pounds of fat, 997 pounds of milk; Howard J. Coy, 10 registered and grade Holsteins, 33.5 pounds of fat, 896 pounds of milk; Charles J. Davis, 24 registered Holsteins, 32.5 pounds of fat, 845 pounds of milk; Ludell W. Cheney, 27 registered and grade Holsteins, 30.9 pounds of fat, 860 pounds of milk.

High individual cows were: Five years and over—Chellis P. Hall, grade Holstein, 81.5 pounds of fat, 2330 pounds of milk; Ralph H. Darling & Son, registered Holstein, 68.2 pounds of fat, 1750 pounds of milk.

Over four and under five—Ralph H. Darling & Son, registered Holstein, 62.3 pounds of fat, 1450 pounds of milk; Miller's Dairy Farm No. 5, registered Holstein, 58.5 pounds of fat, 1950 pounds of milk.

Over three and under four—Charles J. Davis, registered Holstein, 71.7 pounds of fat, 1940 pounds of milk; Ludell W. Cheney, registered Holstein, 66.5 pounds of fat, 1750 pounds of milk.

Over two and under three—Harry Coyard & Son, registered Holstein, 56.6 pounds of fat, 1490 pounds of milk; Chellis P. Hall, grade Holstein, 52.4 pounds of fat, 1810 pounds of milk.

Okemos Mrs. Clyde Williams

Theodore Wagner died at the Sparrow hospital September 22. Mr. Wagner was the eldest son of Anna and John Wagner. He was born in Davenport, Iowa, September 27, 1888. In his early childhood the family moved to Battle Creek. After the death of his father, Theodore provided a home for his mother and sister and three brothers. When they were all through high school Theodore entered the high school at Okemos. He finished high school and entered Michigan Agricultural College later known as Michigan State college where he completed his course in landscape architect. In June of that year, 1924, he was united in marriage to Norma Ensign. They bought their home of Professor L. C. Winton in 1928. Surviving are his widow, Norma; duction an ample supply of water to be maintained on the farm near the buildings.

For farms without a natural supply of water nearby, an underground concrete fire cistern provides an excellent method of storing water. Such a tank can be built economically and once built is there to stay. Concrete does not rot, rust or decay and requires little if any maintenance.

Most rural fire organizations recommend that a cistern have at least 3,000-gal. capacity, which is large enough for most farms. This amount will supply one nozzle for about one hour. If the cistern is also to furnish water for household use it should have at least a 6,000-gal. capacity. It is best, though, to have a cistern reserved only for fire fighting to make certain that the water supply will be adequate for such emergencies. It takes about 40 sacks of portland cement for a circular cistern of 3,000-gal. capacity. A rectangular cistern takes about one-fourth more cement.

It is generally advisable to locate the cistern within 700 ft. of the building group, but not closer than 50 ft.

FLUID MILK BUTTER CONDENSED MILK CHEESE POWDERED MILK DAIRY INDUSTRY supplies a large percentage of states' beef and veal

BUTTER IS THE KEystone OF MICHIGAN'S AGRICULTURE

AGRICULTURE is Michigan's most VITAL INDUSTRY
BUTTER is that industry's most VITAL PRODUCT

The welfare of every man, woman and child in Michigan depends on the state's dairy industry represented by more than 132,000 dairy farmers with an investment of 2 and 1/2 billion dollars.

One in every six families in the state is dependent for livelihood on the dairy industry. More than 600,000 derive all or part of their incomes from dairying. Income from dairy herds last year amounted to $681,000,000.

And this vast industry depends on butter for its solid foundation. Butter is the one dairy product which is a storable, staple food—the dairy product which absorbs excess production during the flush spring season and makes it possible to have a sufficient supply of fluid milk and other dairy products during the many months of low milk production.

Without butter, the vital dairy industry would be completely out of balance—during many months of the year fluid milk would be scarce—prices would zoom and the public health would be jeopardized. Butter is of great import to every person in Michigan—it helps to keep milk production on an even keel. Farmers realize the great importance of butter for it means large dairy herds throughout the state. Dairying is the greatest soil conservation measure known to mankind.

To keep Michigan prosperous and her people healthy, dairying must be maintained—milk provides one-fourth of all of our food. There is little wonder that thinking people want to protect the butter market against imitators who would help destroy Michigan's greatest industry for the sake of profit to themselves. And those who seek to wreck this state's dairy business for the most part have no interest in Michigan except to take her money away. Michigan is prosperous and a wonderful state in which to live largely because of her excellent dairy herds and unsurpassed abundant supply of milk.

Michigan's dairy industry has grown up with the state—it can be given a mortal blow over night by letting selfish imitators destroy the KEYSTONE of the industry—THE BUTTER MARKET.

Dozens of outstanding features... built and priced to give you value! And there are FOUR models built for your needs... row crop with dual front wheels, single front wheel, adjustable front axle and standard with non-adjustable front axle.

Speed your Work with this New CO-OP Manure Spreader!

The Improved CO-OP Tractor-Drawn Manure Spreader
This handy, rugged CO-OP spreader has a low box for easier loading. And it is perfectly balanced for easier handling. One man can move it around by hand when empty! The 70-bushel box, made of seasoned, acid-resistant wood, gradually widens from front to rear for even feeding to the cylinders. The long, round cylinder teeth... solidly riveted to channel bars... deliver shredded manure to the distributors. Spreads thick or thin, 3 to 18 loads per acre. Shields protect beater drives. Pneumatic tires and lubricated roller bearings for smooth operation, longer life. Quick hitching and unhitching with manual jack... a great tool for your better farming practices!

Co-op One Row Rear Elevator Corn Picker
Puts Corn IN the Wagon—Not AROUND IT!
At just the right time, when corn is best for feed or storage, the rugged, capable CO-OP Corn Picker is ready to perform quickly, efficiently what was once a slow, laborious task. Important, too: it's priced the way you want it!

THIS FARMING BUSINESS
BY CARL COLLIN

Rice is Korea's main food crop. The principal producing area is in the southwest quarter of the country. Just what condition the crop will be in when the Reds leave is a question. But Korea will need some grain imports. How much will come from the U. S. and how much from other UN nations hasn't been worked out. Probably Australia will send considerable quantities.

Another 10 per cent increase in Western Europe food production is likely in the next 2 years. After that, European farmers will do well to boost production 1 or 2 per cent a year, or just about enough to keep up with increase in population.

U. S. exports to Western Europe are expected to run less in the year ahead. There might be more feed grains shipped from here because of short crop in Argentina. Exports of fats and oils will be down about 10 per cent, with a bigger share of exports in soybeans. With dollar resources less, there is no prospect of exporting much fruit from U. S.

USDA marketing officials warn hog farmers that the record size of this year's spring pig crop means large marketings during the next 2 or 3 months. Farmers did a first-rate job of orderly marketing last year. They started moving hogs early at lighter weights than in previous years. Then they kept up a rather even movement through the marketing period. Officials hope farmers will follow this same plan this fall to prevent abrupt drops in hog prices.

That deep salmon pink flesh color highly prized in the Puerto Rican sweet potato grown in the South for table use is further threatened by a delay in harvesting until the first killing frost is due.

Close to 650 million bushels of storage space have been added to the nation's supply since June of 1949. The Commodity Credit Corporation has bought storage bins that will hold almost 550 million bushels. Farmers have built about 54 million bushels of storage, using CCC loans. Commercial grain handling companies or farmer co-operatives have increased their storage capacity by more than 83 million bushels. They had assumed that the space will be used by CCC. Also the CCC has obtained the use of war time airplane hangars and ships which will provide temporary storage amounting to about 20 million bushels of grain.

This may be a bad "flu" year for hogs. In some years the disease causes very little trouble. At other times it flares up over quite wide areas and takes a heavy toll.

Usually only a small percentage of a herd dies from "flu" in recent outbreaks, however, death losses have reached 50 per cent. Watch out for these symptoms: listlessness, coughing, rimy-eyed eyes, head shaking, sneezing, convulsions, diarrhea, and a general depression; plenty of clean bedding; plenty of clean drinking water; keep swine free of parasites.

Public health officials are alarmed over the increase in number of new chemical compounds being used in production, processing, packaging and distribution of food. The toxic effect of many of these new chemicals and the compounds they form is not known. Medical authorities want more research to be done on the effects of the chemicals. Some of them think that the burden of proof should be placed on the manufacturer, plus some careful checking by the federal government.

Production of baby chicks by commercial hatcheries in August was over 75 million—the largest on record for the month. It was 40 per cent greater than August 1949.

Latest report from Canada indicates that percentage of low-grade wheat (unfit for human use) from 1950 crop will be larger than believed a week or so ago. Reports say that crop from Western Canada (about 455 million bushels) will be half bread and half feed wheat. That would mean a total milling wheat of about 263 million bushels out of a crop of 450 million. Added to carryovers, the total supply of millable wheat, U. S. feed grain prices so far apparently haven't been influenced by prospect of large feed wheat supplies in Canada. Some grain officials figure Canadian feed wheat supplies might affect U. S. feed grain prices only in northwest and northeast. They say poultry feed prices might ease in these areas for a while.

Ten per cent of the income of U. S. farmers in 1949 came from sales of poultry and poultry products.

Heat your eggs to preserve their freshness! That's a possibility. For over a century it's been known that a certain heat process would preserve an egg's freshness. Recent experiments have shown that when an egg is subjected to moderate controlled heat, enough to bring about a slight physical, but no chemical change, it becomes resistant to normal deterioration which occurs in storage.

Records over 100 years old tell of preserving eggs by "dipping them" for 20 seconds in boiling water and then keeping them well dried "in finely sifted ashes". Another way was to dip them in a hot bath several times and then place the eggs, small end down, in bran, salt or oats. Records show these treatments keep them "perfectly fresh and good."

In recent experiments a heated, flowing film of oil was used. Then the eggs were placed in cold storage. Quality lost was much lower in treated eggs after 8 months storage than for untreated eggs. Until such time as this heat treatment can be refined for farm use, better stick to the old tried and true method of cooling your eggs just as soon as you can!

A small boy, waiting in the heavy shop for his mother's hair to dry, walked impatiently over to her and asked: "Mom, how much longer will you be under that brooder?"—Successful Farming.

Farmers who are buying heifers for dairy herd replacements this fall should watch for big, growthy, roomy animals that have the ability to produce well.

Butchering should be postponed until you're sure near-freezing weather is here to stay. It requires near-freezing temperatures to cool down the 100 degree meat of a freshly slaughtered carcass to below 40 degrees in 24 hours.

Frozen sea water loses its salt through crystallization.

CROP Is Saving Lives of Refugees in Korea

A CROP gift to Asia. Here are two typical Oriental scenes. The first shows a refugee mother watching while sister gives baby a drink of CROP milk. The second scene is a typical milk station, one of the 500 maintained with CROP milk. With Oriental efficiency, supplies are allocated strictly on basis of need. This milk you donated goes a long way towards stamping out the menace of TB.

As usual the invading armies have left in their paths untold destruction and misery and the Koreans are going to need a lift to get back on their feet. This job our churches are ready, willing and able to undertake with your help.

After relief officials in Asia were able to get a glimpse of the relief requirements, original plans, drafted some time ago, had to be scrapped in favor of a totally new approach.

Reports filtering back to Taegy, headquarters of the United Nations Mission to Korea, from the northern fighting front were immediately passed on to Tokyo because of the gravity of the situation.

These reports speak of wholesale requisitioning of surplus supplies from the last harvest, and the destruction of almost the entire crop of this year's harvest. This includes soybeans, rice and wheat. It is estimated, although not reliably because military movements have not been brought to their Korean harvest will at most not exceed 25 per cent of last year's production.

On the basis of these reports, a relief observer attached to LARA

(Licensed Agency for Relief in Asia), stated that almost the entire population of South Korea will require assistance in some form or another, but almost certainly half of the people will have to depend on relief organizations for foodstuffs.

Japanese church organizations were aware of this need before it became known to occupation officials. A number of churches in rural Japan have received offers of help from members of their congregations who declared that it was Japan's duty to help the Korean neighbors in this hour of need.

ECONOMICAL! SAVES CORN! NO DUST!

IT'S OUR BUSINESS TO MAKE NEW METHODS EASY

You switch to new farming methods only because they mean a bigger income. You will continue with them only if they are convenient as well as profitable. That's where we come in.

It's our job — our challenge — to fit modern machinery to modern farming. No one except the owner has a bigger stake in productive farm land than we do. Let us show you a new handbook, "Making Paydirt Last." It looks at soil management from your side of the fence, with practical ways to keep cropland, grassland and woodlots paying extra profits.

We're always glad to talk to you about ways to make power machinery serve you better. And if we don't have all the answers, we'll get them for you. That's our business.
