

Farmers Naming Candidates for PMA Positions

Nomination meetings to select candidates for community PMA positions in the county and to pick candidates from which to elect delegates to the annual PMA convention at which the county PMA committee for 1951 will be elected are scheduled for this week and next throughout the county.

The names of the candidates selected at the nominating meetings will be placed on ballots and mailed to all eligible farmers some time between November 16 and 21, 1951.

INGHAM COUNTY NEWS

Farmers will then have a full month—until December 21—in which to decide on their choices for the various offices, to mark their ballots, and to return the ballots to the county PMA office.

The marked ballots may be returned to the county PMA office in person by the farmers voting or they may be returned by mail, sealed in a plain envelope within the mailing envelope in order to maintain the secrecy of the ballot. All ballots will be counted in the county PMA office on December 22 by a three-man election board.

According to Ralph Glynn, present Ingham PMA chairman, no farmer who is eligible to vote should pass up the opportunity to voice his choice of the three farmers in his community best qualified to administer farm programs in 1951.

In the chairman's words, "The coming year can be expected to call for decisions and actions which will demand the most able leadership available. This places the responsibility of electing able committeemen on the shoulders of the farmers in each of the 16 townships in Ingham county.

"With mounting defense activities, problems having to do with obtaining fertilizers, seed, construction materials, transportation, etc., can be expected to increase. At these elections, the farmers in each of the 16 townships in Ingham county will have the responsibility of electing committeemen who will help to make the local decisions on these matters.

"These elections put it squarely up to the farmers of Ingham county."

Aurelius Farmer Demands Hearing

Fred J. Dolbee of Aurelius, farmer, mint grower and processor, who has been compounded and selling remedies, was charged with violation of the medical practitioner act Tuesday. The complaint came from the state board of pharmacy, according to Howard McCowan, Mason lawyer retained by Dolbee.

Dolbee declared that a mistake in the printing of labels may have led to the complaint. He denied in any way representing himself as a doctor. When arraigned before Justice of the Peace Robert M. Montgomery in Lansing township court Tuesday afternoon, Dolbee demanded an examination. Judge Montgomery set November 15 for the examination.

The Aurelius mint grower has a vendor's license and his remedies have been compounded by registered pharmacists, he said.

Hearing Tests Are Given To 700 School Children

Screening of approximately 700 school children for hearing defects is the result of efforts of some 18 parent volunteers during the past three weeks.

Children attending Dunn, Gunn, Harper, Island, Grovenburg, Lott, and Holt schools received screening tests during the last three weeks with the pure tone audiometer, a small radio-like machine. This screening was done by trained volunteers in order to detect children with loss of hearing or hearing difficulties. Children who did not hear well during the screening test are now in the process of being retested by the health department vision and hearing technician. Parents will then be advised of test results and referred to their physicians for further examinations when test results indicate the need.

Parent volunteers helping with the program were Mrs. Robert Reinar, Dunn; Mrs. J. K. Moore and Mrs. Percy Barrett, Gunn; Mrs. Edwin Westland and Mrs. Lawrence Dunn, Harper; Mrs. Edward Rennart, Mrs. Clifford Kinney and Mrs. Marian Spackman, Island; Mrs. George Compton and Mrs. Kenneth Holbrook, Grovenburg; Mrs. Garth Barrett, Lott; and Mrs. J. G. Chapman, Mrs. George Sahn, Mrs. Elmer Rockwood, Mrs. A. C. Albert, Mrs. Hartley Hayes, Mrs. Edwin Clever and Mrs. Edwin Fluke, Holt.

According to the health department, approximately two per cent of the school children tested since the inauguration of the hearing conservation program two years ago were found to have some hearing loss. Of those children who receive medical care, the department estimates that 75 per cent will show improvement and about 50 per cent of this number will return to normal hearing.

Jay Aten of Lansing, local sales manager for the Crowell-Coller company, announces that he has a force of 10 men, who will cover the entire county outside of the metropolitan area of Lansing. The salesmen will carry with them letters of introduction signed by the officers of the Mason unit, which identify them as accredited agents in the sales campaign.

The local auxiliary plans to add more wheel chairs and crutches to its supply. A demand during the past year. The present equipment comprises a number of hospital beds and wheel chairs, fracture frame, polo-pak and a variety of smaller articles, such as bed tables, ice packs, crutches and back-rests. These articles are stored at the Jewett funeral home in Mason and are loaned free anywhere in Ingham county. Most of the equipment has been in constant use since the Mason Auxiliary first added this project to its activities.

The campaign for this year's supply of equipment was begun late last week end. Aten has informed Mrs. Harley Kinney, president of the Mason unit, that he expects his representatives to cover the entire county within the next 10 days or two weeks.

Lansing Engineer Backs Pensions

Support for the Ingham county employees' retirement proposal came from many new sources this week.

Glen P. Manz, director of Lansing's public service department, in a radio talk declared that the "security obtained under Lansing's municipal retirement system has tended to keep employees on the job, and has stabilized employment. This has resulted in more efficient and economical operation of the various departments of city government," he added.

Manz said he has observed operation of Lansing's retirement plan since its inception more than nine years ago and urged voters to support the county retirement proposal to give the remaining public employees in the county not covered by retirement an opportunity to work for security in their old age.

He said prior to adoption of the Lansing system many workers in the city were actually kept on the payroll with a "full time pension" at a greater cost to the city.

Richard Foster, Lansing attorney and former Ingham county prosecutor, was another speaker who urged a "yes" vote for the county retirement plan.

Alaiedon Supervisor Opposes Pension for County Employees

November 2, 1950

THE INGHAM COUNTY NEWS

Section 3

Lloyd Aseltine, supervisor of Alaiedon township, voiced his opposition to the county employees' pension proposal when it was before the board of supervisors. He demanded first that the board itself and not the people decide the issue. When that move failed he led the fight to have the supervisors inform the public of the pension cost to the county.

Prosecuting Attorney Charles R. MacLean ruled that the board of supervisors can not appropriate funds for propaganda either for or against any proposition.

Here in Supervisor Aseltine's own words are the arguments he presents against adoption of the proposal on next Tuesday's ballot:

Because of the recent publicity favorable to the proposed county employees' retirement system, I am constrained to state my position which is just the opposite.

In the Lansing State Journal of October 19 and also in the Ingham County News of the same date, Frank Evans, president of the Ingham County Employees' association, is quoted at some length. Also in the October 26 issue of the Ingham County News appears nearly a half-page ad setting forth the benefits the county employees hope to reap if the plan is approved by the voters November 7. I have no quarrel with the employees of the county or Mr. Evans. On the contrary, we are very friendly terms. Also, anything I say I wish to be in the spirit of Christ, "whose I am and led the fight to have the supervisors inform the public of the pension cost to the county."

In the statement Mr. Evans is quoted as saying administrators are reluctant to lay off or fire employees who have worked long years at low pay. That certainly is not the case with the county employees.

As a member of the salaries committee of the board of supervisors, I have seen the book which lists the salaries of the employees and in most cases the committee thought the pay was good. In some cases salaries should be adjusted upward.

And who compelled any employees to remain on the job if the compensation was inadequate? The employees must have considered their jobs paid them as well as any they could find, and certainly not many are quitting court house jobs.

I have the auditor general's report of county government in all the counties of Michigan for 1949.

"HE'S GOOD BUT DUMB."

Let us compare Ingham salaries with other counties. Ingham's county clerk gets $5,000 per year and there are only three counties in the state that pay more. This also goes for the employees in the clerk's office. Only three counties pay higher total salaries. The county treasurer also gets $5,000 per year and only three counties pay a greater total salary. The register of deeds receives $4,700 per year and that office's total payroll is exceeded by only five counties.

In 1949 Ingham's per capita cost of county government was $23.44, the highest of any county over 100,000 population.

Don't be misled. Ingham is liberal with its employees. Another thing to remember is that if the plan is adopted it is next to impossible to get rid of it in later years it is found undesirable.

It will cost the county $50,000 in round figures to finance the first year and if salaries are advanced and employees increased the cost will go higher year by year.

It has been estimated that it will cost the county $1,000,000 the first 15 years of operation. This $50,000 means over $1.60 per working day for every day of the year. Elective officers who are now campaigning for re-election come under this plan, too.

This plan will bring either higher taxes or reduced service from our county government. It is already working that way for the Ingham county road commission whose employees are not covered by this $50,000 kitty but who have recently come under this plan by using gas and weight tax revenues to pay the county portion.

It costs the road commission $2,500 per month to give this plan to its men or $100 per working day. The money is tax money—from gas and weight taxes.

Does anyone know of a road that needs $100 per day spent on it? If you see a road of more being spent on the county roads, remember $100 per day is going for something other than road maintenance.

The board of supervisors was given to understand that no campaign would be put on by the employees to put this plan across, but the half-page ad looked like a campaign to me. Attention has been called to the fact that industry has begun paying pensions, although unwillingly, but surely no one believes that Ford, General Motors or Chrysler Corporation is paying these pensions. You, Mr. and Mrs. Consumer, are paying them.

If the pension plan is adopted by the people of the county, who will pay for that? You, the taxpayer! Don't be misled. Ingham county is a liberal paymaster, and this plan should not be adopted.

Alaiedon Township Supervisor

Woods Declines Lindemer's Offer To Debate Issues

There will be no public debate between Republican Lawrence B. Lindemer of Stockbridge and Democrat Charles S. Woods of Ingham.

The two men are opponents for second district representative. Last week Governor G. Mennen Williams spoke kind words in behalf of Woods and urged that the Ingham township supervisor be elected to the legislature.

Lindemer expressed resentment over the governor's avowed interest in a local contest. The Stockbridge man challenged Woods to a public debate on legislative issues.

Here is Supervisor Woods' answer to Lindemer:

"During the years I have been in the public service I have seen a number of political debates; and I have long since decided that they accomplish no purpose. Literature is available on the subjects you mention, to enable anyone to determine the facts. Therefore, having no faith in your proposal and knowing that the facts can be otherwise obtained, I must decline.

"My case before the people of the second representative district, in which I was born and raised, can rest with my record as a public official. My purpose will be to carry out the will of my constituents, and to use my own seasoned judgment on all questions. I believe the folks in the district know that they can depend upon me to do that—to work and vote for any program I believe in, and to work and vote against any program I can not conscientiously agree with."

"Sunset Boulevard" a Triumph for Gloria Swanson

A double feature program starts the week's entertainment at the Fox Theatre on Saturday. Abbott and Costello in "Here Come the Co-eds," and Tex Williams in "South of Santa Fe" are the headliners.

Marine History
Out of a blazing chapter in Marine Corps history Paramount has fashioned an exciting motion picture entitled "Tripoli," and starring Maureen O'Hara, John Payne and Howard da Silva. It will be shown at the Fox on Sunday and Monday.

In color by Technicolor, the film is set in 1805 when the United States was at war with the Tripoli pirates who were attempting to limit freedom of the seas. Millions for defense but not one cent for tribute was the slogan of the times. And to Marine Lieutenant Presley O'Bannon, brilliantly played by John Payne, was entrusted the hazardous task of bringing the pirate nation to heel.

Crossing the danger-ridden seas to the Barbary Empire, O'Bannon recruits a native army to supplement his handful of fighting Marines. Thrust by enemy spies and intrigue in his own ranks, O'Bannon nevertheless leads his troops across 600 miles of desert to attack the fortress city of Tripoli from the rear while warships are shelling it from the harbor. Victorious, the Marine hero raises the American flag on foreign soil for the first time.

South Seas Intrigue
The exotic spell of the South Pacific, with all its Oriental intrigue and loves and hates, is exerted in Universal-International's "South Sea Sinner," which is scheduled for the Fox on Thursday and Friday.

A dishonorably discharged Navy pharmacist's mate operates on an American living under the shadow of the law, on board a tramp steamer which sails into the island of Orca. Also on Orca is an American girl who sings on various Pacific islands until thrown off them, one after another, because she incites riots with her sultry, passionate songs.

A murderous operator of a water-front drive persuades the American girl to spy on the American who is dodging the law, and the two fall in love. The American's fiancée reaches the island in company with men who could free him of suspicions against him but who instead plan to involve him even deeper in their toils.

Beatings and murder occur before the girl singer gives the American up to his fiancée and leaves on board the steamer in company with the pharmacist's mate.

Western Action
High voltage thrills and tenses are instore for Western action fans when "Texas Dynamo," starring Charles Starrett and Smiley Burnette, arrives at the Fox Theatre Thursday. The new Columbia action movie features

Louis Hall, Jack O'Mahoney and Slim Duncan.

DeRose's Chief Killed in Crash

Frank Dean Waters, head coach at Walled Lake high school in Oakland county, was fatally injured in an automobile collision near Charlotte, Saturday morning. An Otsego woman was also killed.

Waters and his wife were driving to South Bend to see the Michigan State-Notre Dame game. Officers said Waters was apparently trying to pass another car in a dense fog when the crash happened.

Last year Waters played with Michigan State against Notre Dame.

Paul DeRose of Mason is principal of the Walled Lake junior high school and has been assisting Waters as varsity coach.

When he was in Mason Sunday DeRose had not yet been advised as to whether or not he will be expected to take over Waters' coaching duties. At Mason high school DeRose was a star in basketball, football and baseball.

Remember in November ELECT Senator John B. MARTIN

State Auditor General
"Guardian of Your Tax Dollar"
VOTE REPUBLICAN NOV. 7

Michigan Voter: PROTECT YOURSELF AND FAMILY!

1 PROTECT YOURSELF Against Imitation Butter

Your right to know—for sure—that there's BUTTER on the table—is threatened by a move to tamper with Michigan's long-standing imitation-BUTTER law. The present law is a GOOD law. It protects you—your family—and the family table. Especially, it also protects you when you "eat out."

Now, with a referendum vote on this subject on the ballot November 7, it's up to you. It's your job to protect yourself against imitation-BUTTER—to make sure you get the real thing. Vote "NO" on Proposal 4, November 7th.

2 PROTECT YOURSELF Against High Milk Prices

In case Michigan's present law—prohibiting substitutes colored yellow in imitation of BUTTER—is rendered ineffective in the November general election... thousands of Dairy Farms will be driven out of business. Milk will become scarcer... higher in price... as it has in other states which now allow imitation-BUTTER to be sold colored yellow. It is no accident that milk prices in cities in those states are 1½ cents a quart higher than milk prices in states (including Michigan) which maintain a protective law against selling imitation-BUTTER colored yellow. Keep Michigan milk plentiful—reasonable in price. Vote "NO" on Proposal 4, November 7th.

3 PROTECT YOUR OWN and Michigan's Prosperity

WARNING: The first year Canada allowed substitutes to be colored yellow in imitation of BUTTER cost Dairy Farmers there 50 MILLION DOLLARS. That can happen in Michigan... where 600,000 people depend on Dairying for their livelihood... with an investment TWICE THAT OF THE ENTIRE WORLD OPERATIONS OF THE FORD MOTOR COMPANY! Reduce Michigan's income by many millions of dollars and you depress the market for all kinds of Michigan goods... besides irreparably damaging Michigan's soil and agriculture.

For your own sake... for your family's sake... for Michigan's sake... VOTE "NO"—on Proposal 4—general election, November 7th!

These facts are published by the Dairy Action League, 415 Hollister Building, Lansing, Mich., working with consumer, labor, farm and dairy groups in behalf of keeping Michigan's present and effective "no-yellow butter-imitation" law. It is financed by the 600,000 Michigan People dependent on dairying.

It would seem that the reporter who handled this assignment should have been able to find out who Margaret was. Maybe you had better speak to him.

RAYMOND H. McLEAN

Yellow Oleo Is Threat
Our Farm Bureau and several people have asked me to write a letter to your paper on why we should vote against yellow oleo.

At first I could not think of much of a reason. . . just like the rest of you folks that haven't paid attention to what is going on around us. I did not know much about the oleo situation myself. I thought if people wanted to use it that that was their right. But then people kept asking me to write to the paper and tell some facts about oleo that most people do not know. So I read and listened and tried to find out what it was all about.

I learned some surprising things. How can people be so ignorant of things around them. I wish everyone could learn them too before it is too late. . . after the bill letting oleo manufacturers color oleo yellow is passed. Then it will be too late.

First off it is not a fight against oleo as it is being sold in Michigan today but against oleo being sold yellow or colored yellow.

Now I suppose many of you will say, "We do not live on a farm so how can it affect us other than give us a cheap spread already colored to look like butter?"

I don't know which to start on first but it surely makes me disgusted when people who do not farm think that they (the urban dwellers) control the purchasing power of the country. Michigan farmers have an investment of $2,375,000,000, twice that of the Ford Motor Co. In the entire world. And right on top of that statement goes this statistic: 80 per cent of Michigan's farms depend on dairying for part or all of their income.

Should the yellow oleo proposal be adopted by the voters in Michigan it would be disastrous to our economy. It would not be the dairying industry alone but every other business would be hurt. The dairy farmer who does not receive the money cannot spend it. The merchant who loses that business must cut his purchases from the manufacturer or the wholesaler. The manufacturer or wholesaler who loses business through the reduction of the dairy farmer's income cannot maintain his present payrolls. Some workers must lose their jobs. It's as simple as that. Everyone loses. It does not make sense for the people of Michigan to vote to legalize the sale of a yellow synthetic product made in England, the West or South to replace one of our own products and injure our own economy. If you live in town and think it cannot affect you, see how wrong you can be.

And this is the most evident of all but cleverly disguised. Oleo manufacturers are not out to make it easier for you housewives but to make a big profit and you should know that, to vote wisely. Why do they want to imitate butter color. Why not make it pink? Dairyman would not object to this. But housewives would not buy it then. It has to look like butter. In fact people who use oleo always say, "Please pass the butter." Am I not right? Did you ever hear anyone say, "Pass the oleo?" But that is their right.

Why put dairying on skids because you do not want to do your own coloring? Such a short white ago oleo advertisements clamored that it was such a simple job of only a minute and a half to color oleo at home. Now they contradict themselves. And oleo users will be surprised too if it is passed to find the price has increased with the addition of color.

HOLE IN ONE — With one punch, Pvt. Roy Thomas of Huntington, W. Va., put a hole in the head of North Korean premier Kim Il Sung. An observer with South Korean troops, Thomas had cut down the portrait of the red premier from an office building in Manchou, North Korea.

Dairymen cannot sell all their milk as fluid milk. With oleo factories in full swing, before long it will be oleo milk, oleo cheese, oleo ice cream etc. All restaurants cannot be watched for fraud. Did you know that virtually all of the money spent for oleo leaves Michigan? Do you think then you can accuse a dairyman of selfishness when he asks you to consider these points when you vote November 7? Please look beyond tomorrow and visualize what will happen if this purchasing power is curtailed. Vote "No" November 7 on Proposal 4. Keep Michigan prosperous. MRS. RAY W. PECK, Elsie, Michigan

Michigan Interests Lead to Farmers

Banquet Speaker Pleads For Unity of Farm-Town

Don Kinsey, head of the educational department of Michigan Farm Bureau, made a plea for farm and town unity in an address at Mason last Thursday night. He spoke at the annual farm and town night, held by the Ingham Farm Bureau. The meeting was held in the I. O. O. F. hall.

Kinsey declared that forces are at work in the United States to tear down unity between groups. He pointed out that Americans are made up of people of all races, colors and religion, and that the contributions made by each group have helped develop a great nation.

The speaker declared that farmers are not in favor of huge farm surpluses nor are they in favor of high parity payments. High parity payments result in the loss of foreign markets and the creation of costly surpluses. Kinsey warned. He called some of the congressional farm program unsound, and unwieldy for farmers.

Kinsey warned farmers to guard their independence. He pointed out the perils of a farm bill before the present congress which would have placed United States farmers under complete control of bureaucrats. He cited the growth of bureaucracy and urged farmers to oppose further centralization of government.

Also Called Threat
Roger Bowhly of Michigan State college urged farmers and their guests to vote against the proposal.

Soil Study Reveals Nutrition Source

Louis Bromfield, famed novelist and authority on scientific agriculture and nutrition, told the nation's food editors, gathered in New York on October 10, that although it has long been known that good soil produces good crops, it had not been known why. Now a whole new world has opened up in the field of agriculture and it is closely linked with the field of nutrition. He explained that to measure the amount of vitamins and minerals in the foods we eat, we must go to the soil itself.

Bromfield told of having observed, some years ago in Europe, that the crops in some areas were not affected by the pests and blights that seem so prevalent here and which we try to offset by various remedial devices such as spraying, etc. He stated that when we learn to correct the fault at its source, in the soil, we shall have better and more abundant crops, and when you get the perfect vegetable of desirable color and shape, it will also be the best flavored and the one with the most vitamins and minerals in it.

Partnerships on Farm Work Well

Father and son farming partnerships are pleasing both parties in the agreement, according to a survey made by H. S. Wilt, Michigan State college agricultural economist.

Wilt interviewed a large number of those with a family partnership and 96 per cent of the cases studied showed both father and son felt that they were doing as well, or better, together as they could operating individually.

Both parties agreed that 4-H club, F. F. A. and M. S. C. short course training contributed materially to the success of the farm partnerships, Wilt explains.

Efficiency to Be Dairy Profit Key

Good dairy farm management in 1951 will call for a large output of milk with continued emphasis on efficiency. Total milk production in the year ahead will be about the same as for 1950—dairy product prices will be slightly higher.

These predictions come from Michigan State college agricultural economists in their annual outlook opinions.

The economists point out that while dairying will be profitable, dairy prices will continue low relative to beef and hog prices, as they have for several years. Demand is expected to rise, faster than dairy product supplies, but price rises will be slowed down because of the storage stocks of butter, cheese and dry skim milk.

A changing fats and oils situation is seen as a favorable factor in the dairy outlook. Edible vegetable oils production will be lower. Reduced cottonseed and peanut production is expected to more than offset increases in soybean production. Higher fats and oils prices will bolster butter and other dairy prices.

Many farmers who have switched to marketing cream off the farm in recent years are expected to go back to selling milk in 1951. Less butter will be produced as demand for other dairy products expands. Continued high consumer incomes will result in a greater proportion of milk used for fluid purposes.

The Michigan State college economists believe that with volume a major goal in 1951, it will not pay for the dairyman to cull as closely as in the past year unless he is sure of replacements. They also suggest feeding grain at a fairly liberal rate to high producing cows. The farmer who can substitute high quality roughage for expensive protein supplement will be able to reduce costs without lowering production.

Oat Stem Rust Is Threatening Michigan Crops

Michigan farmers who grow oats have their fingers crossed and are watching developments on the spread of a new race of stem rust which damaged crops as much as 20 per cent in parts of the mid-west in 1950.

It is race 7 of oat stem rust and M. E. Turner, official of the U. S. department of agriculture in charge of barberry eradication in Michigan reports it was found in Gratiot and Alger counties in 1949. It was generally distributed this past summer. Turner says the new race of stem rust affects most varieties of oats grown in the mid-west, including Bonham, Kent, Clinton, Benton and all the new Bond crosses. These make up 95 per cent of the Michigan crop.

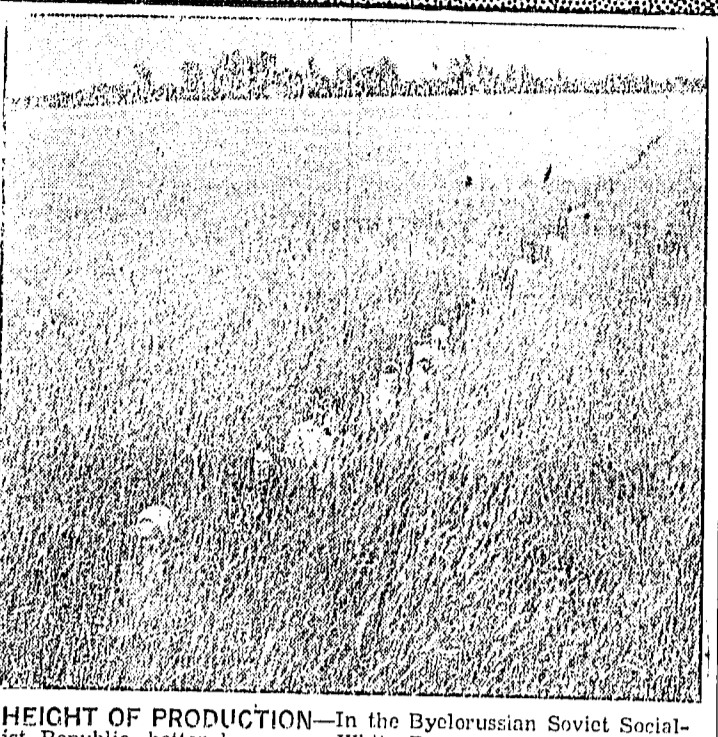

Turner works in cooperation with plant pathologists at Michigan State college and the Michigan department of agriculture.

The new race 7 has been present in New England for several years, having been found on barberry bushes in New York several years ago. It first appeared in the central states in 1942 and in 1950 it was found in many states in the oat producing area of the mid-west.

The 1950 season in Michigan was "ideal" for rust, according to Turner, who pointed to high moisture and humidity and a late crop. Damage, however, was relatively small for all grains, amounting to less than one per cent of the crop. Most of that came in late maturing fields.

In Michigan, barberry eradication work has resulted in 91 per cent of the bush in which the stem rust carries over from fall to spring.

Everything in a modern home is controlled by a switch except the children.

HEIGHT OF PRODUCTION—In the Byelorussian Soviet Socialist Republic, better known as White Russia, these peasants are almost completely hidden by the tall wheat that will soon be harvested. The chief wheat-producing section of the Soviet Union is the Ukraine, with its famous belt of black soil. This Soviet photo, however, attests to the fact that modern drainage methods have greatly increased the arable area of White Russia's marshy land.

CARVENS ATTEND DINNER
Mr. and Mrs. Walter Carven attended a cooperative dinner in Pontiac Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Simmons. Mr. Simmons is secretary manager of the Michigan Milk Producers' association and the party was in honor of his 25th year of service in the organization.

A man is usually known by the company he keeps away from.

Scours Will Cut Milk Production

Milk production in many dairy herds is going to be cut back sharply during the coming months by "winter scours," the American Foundation for Animal Health, warned herd owners.

When a cow suddenly refuses feed, appears dull, secretes less milk and scours badly, the owner may suspect that the animal has eaten spoiled or frozen feed.

But if other cows in the herd rapidly develop the same symptoms, the trouble may be winter scours, a quick-spreading infectious disease.

Veterinarians have isolated the germ which causes the malady. It is a (vibrio) organism, related to a germ which sometimes causes abortion in cattle.

Few cows die outright from the disease. But it causes heavy setbacks in milk production. Affected animals usually require a long time to return to full production. Most cases occur during the fall, winter and spring.

Control of the disease is very difficult, even in the best-managed herds. However, if action is taken soon enough, segregation of the first cows to become infected may stop its spread.

Also highly important is to obtain an early diagnosis of the condition, because winter scours may be confused with coarctosis, or with several other intestinal diseases.

Once diagnosed, several treatments are effective in holding down the harmful effects.

People who are out for all they can get are soon in for it.

Mason Defeats Eaton Rapids 13-0, Will Play at Grand Ledge Friday

Mason bumped into a determined Eaton Rapids team Friday night and had to go all out to win 13-0. It was a walk-away for the Bulldogs but turned out to be a close, bloody battle.

Wayne Every, Mason's leading ground gainer, was stopped most of the time and the Mason passing game was not up to par. A surprise Eaton Rapids line held the Mason attack at bay while Vern Smith, a 200-pound pulverizing fullback, rocked the Bulldogs back on their heels with short gains through center.

From there the Mason scoring threat was dealt a couple of hard blows. First Jewett saw a Stolz pitch slip off the end of his fingers in the end zone and then a couple of plays later he leaped high into the air to snatch a touchdown pass only to have it nullified by an off-side charge against Mason.

Jewett Provides Spark Eaton Rapids was lucky Friday night that Bob Jewett wasn't feeling very well. Coach Lou Lort kept the rangy sophomore end out of the game except on punting assignments until the last quarter. When Jewett finally did get into the game he was strictly dynamite. He personally sparked the drive for Mason's second touchdown with as brilliant a game of football as has ever been played on Athletic field. He handled the punting chores well all through the game but really broke the Greyhounds, backs with his circus catches and brilliant running on end-round plays in the closing minutes of the game.

Every finally rumbled the ball over from the four-yard line. The try for the extra point was no good. That six-point lead didn't look too big. Eaton Rapids came back strong. The Greyhound attack bogged down finally, deep in Mason territory. Then Coach Lort threw in Jewett. The Mason scoring machine came to life.

Parishan Plays Well Phil Parishan played his best game of the year. He added a lot of drive to the Mason ground game and caught some passes. Chuck Howell came up with a good game. He pulled in some passes and tossed a few for good gains.

Dull First Half Both teams locked jaws in the middle of the field in a colorless struggle the first half. Neither team could get the advantage.

Another Touchdown With Denny Stolz pitching some perfect passes and Phil Parishan picking up the first downs when they were needed on quarterback snafus the Bulldogs fought their way into Eaton Rapids territory. Jewett lugged the ball on an end-round play to the Eaton Rapids 15. He really picked them up and laid them down as he raced through the entire Greyhound pack. The safety man finally tripped him up or he would have gone all the way.

Holt Ramblers Win Another at Fowlerville

Holt high school is one game closer to its third straight Ingham County league football title. The Ramblers knocked out their nearest competitors Friday night by whipping Fowlerville 27-0.

There is only one game between Holt and the county title. Haslett will meet Holt November 11 in the last Ingham county league game. This week end the Ramblers will face no more outside competition at Fowlerville.

Charlotte Moves Closer To Another Circuit Title

Charlotte edged closer to another Capital Circuit title Friday night. The Orioles, unbeaten in circuit competition, barely squeezed by Everett 14-13. In other circuit games Eaton Rapids fell before Mason 13-0 and Howell slipped by Grand Ledge 18-13.

Everett came back strong at the end of the second period. Buck Sartor punted deep into Charlotte territory for the Vikings. Charlotte could not move the ball and on the return kick Clarence Quinn moved all the way back to the Oriole 29. Quinn carried the ball all the way to the one-yard line and Lynn Eighert bucked it over. The try for the extra point was good.

Stands Give Way Under 400 Fans

Football took a back seat at the Fowlerville-Holt football game at Fowlerville Friday night. A score of people were injured, two seriously, when a section of wooden bleachers collapsed just as the game started.

There was an estimated 400 persons in the stands. Ambulances were summoned by sheriff's officers and the injured removed to the offices of two Fowlerville doctors.

Thieves Break in At Ranch House

Thieves, maybe hungry ones, raided the Ranch House on US-127 at College road early last Friday morning.

There was a report made to sheriff's officers that some boys started the stands swaying before the game started. It is thought that if this were true, it might have weakened the braces and underpinning enough to cause it to collapse during the excitement of the opening kickoff. Officers are investigating this story.

Aggies Trimmed By Haslett 46-7

Haslett was the complete master of Dansville Friday afternoon in a one-sided game that saw the Lakers win 46-7.

Haslett scored in every period. Dansville managed to cross the Haslett goal line once in the second period. From there on out the Aggies were never in the game.

Herb Hagenbuth was the big gun in the Haslett attack. The 160-pound sophomore scored four times with runs of over 40 yards to pace the attack. When the Lakers weren't striking on the ground they look to the air. The other three Haslett scores came on pass plays. Jim Mitchell tossed two touchdowns passes to Bill Haslins and Ted Medjia and Medjia gathered in another touchdown toss from Noel Miller.

Dick Carter was bottled up all afternoon by a defense plan designed especially for him. He did tally the one lone Aggie score from two yards out after the one and only Aggie sustained drive.

Haslett scored two times in the first period and once in the second. Dansville talked its marker in the second. In the third quarter Haslett added two more and with the reserves in the entire last period the Lakers came up with two more tallies.

Farmers Depend On Dairy Herds

Investment in dairy farming in Michigan amounts to more than two and a third billion dollars, Dr. Earl Weaver, head of the Michigan State college dairy department, reported this week. This, he cited, was greater than many of the large auto manufacturing corporations in the state.

In pointing to the size of the dairy industry, Weaver said 80 per cent of Michigan's farmers depend on dairying for a part of their income. He added that one out of every 6 persons in the state depends on dairying for a part or all of his income when equipment manufacturing, dairy plants, distributors and others are included.

Michigan's 1950 apple crop is estimated at more than 7 million bushels—slightly above average, according to G. N. Motts, Michigan State college agricultural economist. About two-thirds of this crop will be marketed as fresh fruit. Last year 64 per cent was sold fresh, 16 per cent went into vinegar, 7 per cent was canned, 3 per cent was frozen and 10 per cent went into other processed forms.

Many theories look good on paper, but quickly killed when put into practice.
