In pirate regalia Mason Cub Scouts staged a pack meeting and program entitled "Pirate Waters" Wednesday evening in the high school auditorium. Parents of the Cub Scouts and the Mason Boy Scouts attended as guests for the program and presentation of awards.

The pirates came upon the scene through a cave entrance. During the meeting there were exhibitions of pirate boats, duels, skits and games by the various dens. Charles Schmitter and 2 of his students from Michigan State University gave an exhibition duet.

Duane Evans, assistant Cubmaster, presented the following awards: Bobbins, Stanley Holmes, Howard Harkness and Larry Woodrough; wolf, Billy Foster and Paul Eddy; wolf and one gold honor point, Richard Clem; lion, Brian Jacobs and Roger Pritzel; wolf and one gold and one silver honor point, Robert Bartlett; silver honor point, Frank Carr and Joseph Brady; and webelos, Charles Jewett, Mike Betcher, Duane Evans and Tom Woodard. Duane also received one gold and one silver honor point. Charles, Mike and Tom were advanced from Cub Scouts into Boy Scouts in a graduation ceremony. Kim Strickland and Bill Bullen received 3-year pins for Cubbing work. They are active den chiefs. Den mothers were presented with citations.

The meeting closed with dividing the booty.

He's Looking for a Mountain!

You see, he knows what he has down under that beautiful hood—a great, powerful V-8 engine that's pulsing with life—and he's simply itching to give it the word!

But he is a sane and sensible driver, who stays within the regulations and observes the laws of common sense—and he knows he can't unleash that engine on a normal stretch of highway.

So he's looking for a big, long, steep hill. Maybe he can get the throttle down there for a short thrust—just to see what it's like!

Well, maybe so—but even on a mountain, he won't use full throttle for long. For this car is powered far beyond all normal requirements.

Why, you might ask, is this so?

Well, in the judgment of Cadillac engineers, it's done for a number of reasons.

First of these is safety. A great reserve of power for the quick escape from an emergency is of the essence of highway safety. There is simply no substitute for it.

Then there's economy. A big, powerful engine that loafs at normal speeds permits the use of an axle ratio that makes for gasoline economy.

There is long life, too—for the absence of strain adds years and years to the life of any mechanism.

And finally, there is the great riding and driving luxury that comes with extra power... the whisper-silent engine, the instant response to the throttle, the sense of safety and security.

Of course, luxuriant power is but one of the basic superiorities in the 1956 Cadillac. For here is the finest of all Cadillacs—more unmistakably than ever, the "car of cars."

Why not come in soon and see for yourself? We will be most happy to supervise a personal demonstration on the highway.

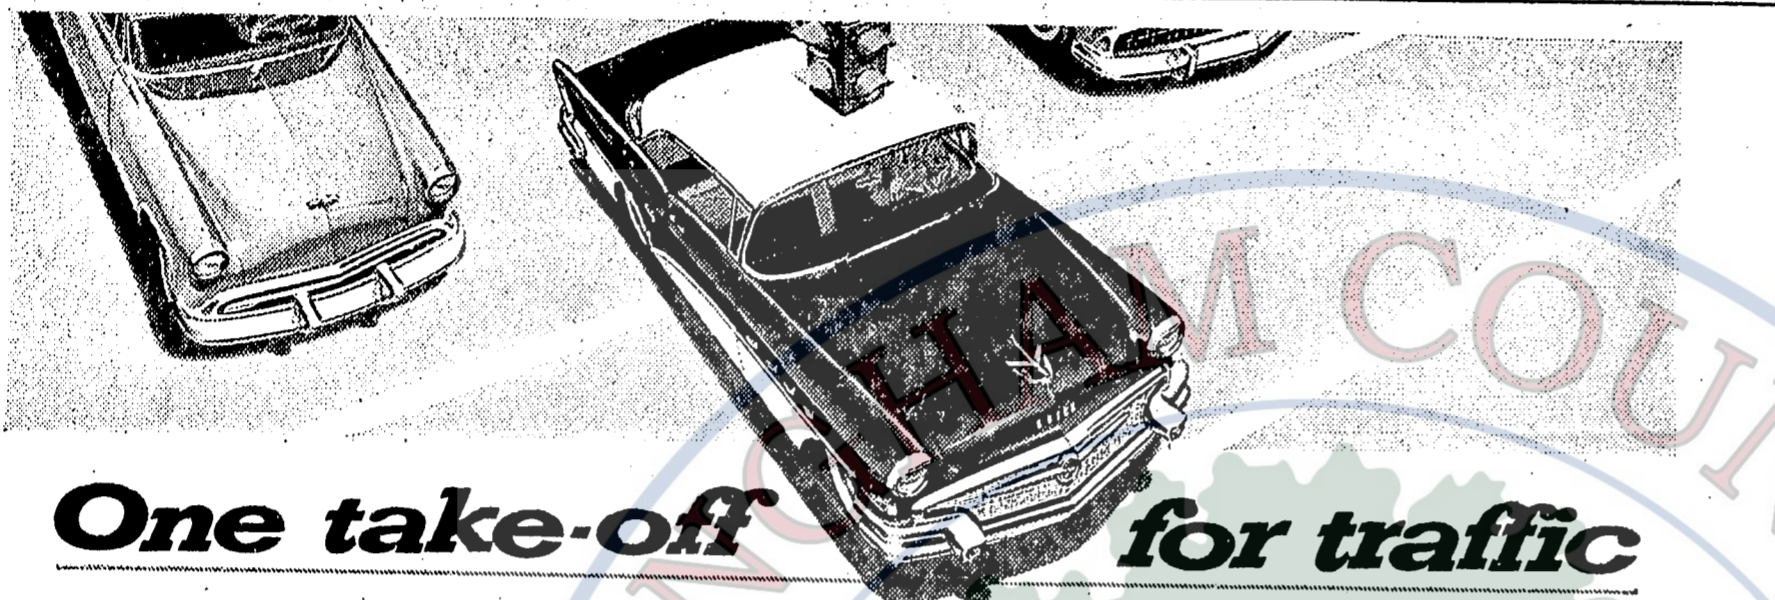

The car is waiting for you—and any time you find the time would be a good time for a date!

The light is red and you're ready.

It flashes green and you go—but quick.

And that's when you discover the Number One news about Buick's new Dynaflo...

That it gives you brilliant new getaway response for city traffic at only part throttle—even before you switch the pitch of this airplane-principled transmission. (And think of the big gas savings that means!)

Next comes the Number Two discovery—out on the road.

For here—still without switching the pitch—you have plenty more nimble acceleration to surge or spurt ahead, to climb hills, to do with almost effortless ease all the things normally called for by highway driving.

But comes an emergency—the need to get out of a tight spot—and you discover the Number Three news...

That you can do what a pilot does. That you can switch the pitch of your Dynaflo blades—just by flooring the pedal. And that you get, instantly, a full-power take-off from cruising pace—an electrifying burst of acceleration—the most thrilling safety measure on four wheels today.

This is performance too good to pass up—and you really ought to try it.

It's performance sparked by the whispered might of big new 322-cubic-inch V8 engines raised to record highs in power and compression.

It's performance that goes with the best ride yet, the best handling yet, the best interiors yet, the best styling yet—and, literally, with the best Buick yet.

Come in and see—and be shown—and learn, in the doing, about prices that make these '56 Buicks the best buy yet.

Legion Cites Co-Sponsor Of Junior Baseball Team

At a meeting of Browne-Cavender post of the American Legion last Thursday night Roy Christensen, Mason Ford dealer, was awarded a citation. He was cited for his co-sponsorship of Junior Legion baseball in Mason for 4 years. He has provided uniforms for the Mason team.

Roy Christensen

Mike Simone, post athletic officer, made the presentation to Christensen. Among the signers of the scroll were Ford, Fredrick, league baseball official, and Ad Andrews, national commander of the Legion.

Joy O. Davis provided the venison for the dinner which preceded the award. After the business session he showed slides and his brother Vern of Lansing showed movies of trips made into northern Canada. The films and slides in color showed fabulous fishing scenes, and many shots of deer, moose and bear taken far north of Red Lake in an area which was reached by plane.

Student from India Says People Fear U. S. Policy

Lansing-Delhi Farm Bureau members heard first-hand reports Friday night on the U. S. foreign policy as it applies to Asia. The meeting was at the Richard Andrews home on Cavanaugh road. Ramchandra Desai, a public administration student from India enrolled at Michigan State, declared the U. S. foreign policy appears to be based more on military necessities of the U. S. than on an understanding of the economic needs of the people of India and Asia.

The U. S. policy appears to stress materialism and personal profit, said the student, working for his doctor's degree in philosophy. Nehru wants more of the good spiritual things, Desai said.

illiterate and poverty-stricken people of India, who make up 80% of the population, are easily misled by the Russians, said Desai. Russians made political capital out of the fact that the first atomic bombs were dropped on Asians, he pointed out. Failure of the United States to recognize Communist majorities in China is regarded as an insult by many Asians, the speaker explained.

"When Premier Nehru came to the United States he was pictured as a beggar with a bowl in his hand," Desai said. "Russians are wily interpreters of U. S. foreign policy, but Russia is giving economic aid to India where it is needed."

Only 1% of U. S. aid to India is

Fox Program Features Top Comedy

Nature, both beautiful and terrifying, is featured in the Friday and Saturday double feature at the Fox Theatre.

Robert Wagner and Terry Moore are starred in "Beneath the Twelve Mile Reef." The second feature is "The Living Swamp." Both pictures are CinemaScope films.

The sensational Broadway comedy hit, "Mister Roberts" has been brought to the screen starring Henry Fonda, James Cagney, William Powell and Jack Lemmon. "Mister Roberts" has been filmed in CinemaScope and Warner-color. The comedy plays Sunday and Monday at the Fox Theatre.

"Mister Roberts" takes place aboard a navy cargo ship, the USS Reluctant, which has been given the nickname of "The Bucket" by the crew. Lieutenant Roberts, second in command, years for more active sea duty and in his efforts to transfer into combat duty has incurred the displeasure of the captain, tyrannically portrayed by James Cagney. The captain, eager for promotions and honors, such as the potted palm tree presented him as a sign of achievement in loading and unloading cargo, refuses to relinquish his hold on Mister Roberts despite the combined efforts of the crew and the other officers to persuade him otherwise. Roberts' eventual transfer and the rise of Ensign Pulver, Jack Lemmon, from passive to active participation in the affairs of the ship comprises the main plot of the comedy. Some laugh highlights are the crew's first shore leave, Pulver's romantic encounter with a sextet of nurses and "Doc's" home-brewed Scotch whiskey.

In the title role of the film is Henry Fonda who created the role on Broadway. Fonda "enlisted" into the stage hit soon after his discharge from actual naval service in the same rank as that of the fictional "Mister Roberts." He helped establish the show as the biggest hit of the season, which enjoyed a run of more than 1,000 performances on Broadway.

James Cagney, in his role of the captain, turns in a laugh-provoking performance as he bellows and struts in his portrayal of the captain with the potted palm tree.

Returning to Warner Bros. for the first time since his award winning performance in "Life With Father" is William Powell as the benign "Doc."

As Ensign Pulver, Jack Lemmon climbs the comedy heights promised in his previous roles opposite Judy Holliday in "It Should Happen to You" and "Phffft!" In "Mister Roberts" Lemmon is the hapless junior of-

A star-studded cast with James Cagney, Henry Fonda, Jack Lemmon and William Powell will bring the long-run Broadway play, "Mr. Roberts," to the Fox Theatre screen Sunday and Monday. The side-splitting laugh riot is the story of the crew of a navy cargo ship during World War II.

Jack Webb stars in the torrid 20's and he's telling his story today in "Pete Kelly's Blues" the new Jack Webb melodrama with music which plays Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at the Fox Theatre. Jack plays Pete Kelly and the film, in CinemaScope and WarnerColor, also stars Janet Leigh, Edmond O'Brien, Peggy Lee, Andy Devine, Lee Marvin and Ella Fitzgerald.

Kelly, and his Big 7 jazz combo, are playing in a speakeasy which is run by a guy named Rick, but really owned by the racketeers who sell Rick his prohibition whiskey. Pete's got a girl, played by Janet Leigh, and she is always busy looking for fun and excitement.

Pete's got other kind of trouble, too. The mob wants a piece of his band. And he's got a singer, who sings well, but drinks better. All these troubles add up to the story of Pete Kelly and his blues.

As the story unfolds, Jack Webb reports, movie-goers will be treated to an authentic glimpse of life in the 20's. Ella Fitzgerald is there to sing the blues and the jazz tunes of the times while Pete Kelly's Big 7 introduces a new hit, "Pete Kelly's Blues." Webb reports that the same air of authenticity which marked his former productions will be evident in "Pete Kelly's Blues." The cars, the clothes, even the cigarettes and matches are said to be of genuine 1927 origin.

Air Force Opens Up Enlistments

For the first time in 6 months, the United States air force has increased enlistment openings in the air force, according to Sgt. Pilarsky, air force recruiter for this area. Twenty-nine new recruits can be enlisted locally during January, he said. This is an increase of 20 more than were enlisted during December when the monthly quota was held to 9. Pilarsky stated that the new opportunities for training and service in the air force arise through the need to meet the 137-wing goal authorized last year by the joint chiefs of staff and congress.

During the past 6 months, air force recruiting offices ceased taking enlistments upon reaching monthly quotas.

Information concerning the opportunity for enlistment in the air force during January is available at Room 221, Postoffice Building, Lansing.

Okemos Schools Will Again Join Clothing Drive

Winter this year will be a little warmer for many needy American children—if students and teachers of the Okemos schools have their way.

Supt. George Richards said, "The schools are going all out in a drive to collect good, clean clothing for needy youngsters during the week of March 19 through March 23.

The Okemos efforts will be coordinated with "Bundle Week in Michigan," which Dr. Clair Taylor, state superintendent of public instruction, recently announced. It will be part of a Save the Children Federation's 14th annual clothing crusade.

Michigan and Okemos have participated in 3 previous bundle weeks for the federation. In the last 2 years, Michigan school children collected 400,000 lb of used clothing.

The clothing collected will be distributed in this country in a number of ways—some without cost to Navajo Indians and to impoverished people in isolated rural mountains of the southern United States; some sold for a few pennies per garment to mountain people who will not accept charity.

The remaining clothing will be shipped overseas to Europe and Korea for free distribution or stockpiled for emergency purposes. Earthquake, flood, storm and fire victims in Greece, Italy, North Africa, Austria and Haiti received emergency shipments in 1954 and 1955. Over the past 3 years more than 2,000,000 pounds of clothing have been sent to Korea.

Non-Service Pay Not Tax-Exempt

Former service men who draw non-service connected disability pensions are subject to annual income limitations.

Questionnaires are now being sent out to such pensioners. Unless the questionnaires are returned to the Veterans Administration within 30 days, pension payments must be stopped, regulations provide.

For income tax purposes, pension payments for service-connected disability need not be reported. All other payments, including gifts, income from employment, payments from commercial life insurance, social security, annuities and retirement benefits must be reported on the questionnaires sent out.

Pension rate for a veteran who is permanently and totally disabled is $86.15 a month. After the veteran has received the pension for 10 years or has reached age 65, the rate is increased to $78.75. A veteran who is receiving a pension and who needs the regular aid and attendance of another person or who is helpless or blind may be eligible for the top rate of $135.45 a month if he is not in VA hospital or home.

Air Force Offers Special Flight

The air force is organizing a special flight of 60 Michigan enlistees which will be flown to Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, January 31.

"This flight, called the Texas Special," said recruiting officers, "offers an opportunity for young men to train as a unit during their basic indoctrination at Lackland."

"This is also one of the few occasions when enlistees will go by air to their basic training base. Normally, new enlistees travel to their first base by rail transportation."

The local air force recruiting office is located at the Lansing postoffice.

The Crusaders class of the Williamston Community Methodist church met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lorraine Perkins for the January meeting. It is planned that the next regular meeting, February 11 will be a polio supper with families invited. This will be at the church.

Plans were completed for the pancake supper Friday evening, January 27, in the church basement from 5 to 7 p. m. It is to be family-style. Following the close of the meeting the hostess served refreshments.

Eight Scouts Earn Polar Awards

Eight boys, Lloyd Van Sledker, Mike Long, Jackie Palmer, James Ball, Steve Schoff, Gary Langton, Robert Haynes and George Peirides qualified last week for their Scout polar bear awards.

The youths achieved the awards under the standards of Boy Scouts of America. They were not permitted to use tents. They were limited to regular scout equipment and were forced to use their ingenuity in providing their own shelter and meals.

Fifteen boys and several fathers made the polar expedition to Camp Kirolex on Clear Lake near Jackson. They left by bus Friday evening, returning Sunday evening. Scoutmaster Donald Duncel was in charge of the trip.

Besides the boys who qualified, other scouts making the trip were James Baldino, Douglas Cochran, Paul Consavage, David Chase, Denny Haskill, Larry Hummel and Rod Taylor. Fathers on the trip were Alvin Keck, B. Dale Ball, Cecil Taylor, Art Long, Stan Consavage and Charles Langdon.

Long Joins Byerly Store

Howard Long has joined the staff of the local Byerly store and will serve as assistant manager. ## Sorority Plans Valentine Party

A Valentine party and dance for members of Beta Sigma Phi and their husbands was planned at the last meeting of the club. The dance will be held at the C. B. Smith Sales pavilion on February 4.

A report on the project to send a Care package was presented by Marge Patterson.

Shirley Tobias, chairman of the evening's entertainment, introduced Helen Miller, who showed slides taken during her European trip last summer.

At the close of the program the hostess, Mrs. Wayne Fate, served refreshments.

Card Party Scheduled
The Woman's Relief Corps will hold a card party Friday night, February 3, from 8 to 10 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Ed Porter, 124 West Middle Street. Refreshments will be served and prizes will be given. Euchre will be played.

Sophomore Boy Injured
Garrett Rogers, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Rogers, suffered a broken jaw, head injuries, cuts and abrasions as the result of an auto accident. The youth lost control of his car on the ice on Turner road. He was taken to a Lansing hospital for treatment. He is a sophomore in the Williamston high school.

Hospital Group Meets
Mrs. Beth Bates, R. N., supervisor of nurses at the Ingham county hospital and rehabilitation center, and Mrs. Nina Ketchum, also of the hospital staff, attended a meeting at the Edward Sparrow hospital nurses home Wednesday evening. The meeting was called by the Lansing nursing home operators and was in the form of a panel discussion, between the nursing homes and the hospital. Dr. Frederick Swartz, Dr. Combs and Mrs. Bates presented the Ingham county hospital and rehabilitation center's side of the picture, speaking on benefits and how patients are received into the center. Mrs. Lilly represented the operators of the nursing homes. Each member of the panel discussed their part of the program, after which questions were asked. It was felt that this sort of meeting gave a better understanding of the nursing homes and county hospital. Prior to the meeting and at its close coffee and cookies were served by the committee in charge.

Dr. and Mrs. Wendell Dwight and son, Gary, and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hunt returned last week from California where they saw the Rose Bowl game and toured several states including Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska, Colorado and Mexico.

READ A GOOD BOOK lately? Here's one we think you'll enjoy, as will all the family. It's the new edition of the Telephone Almanac. It's chock-full of interesting, informative reading. Wonderful drawings, too. Kit Carson, the opening of the Erie Canal, the ringing of the Liberty Bell, and, of course, the story of the beginning of telephone service. Contains many tips for farmers, businessmen, housewives, students and other telephone users. Pick up your free copy at our Business Office.

WHAT'S THE WORST part about running a home? Many housewives will tell you it's the "running." There ought to be some way to cut out all those unnecessary steps. Fortunately, there is—additional telephones. Installed in the bedroom, the living room, kitchen and basement, they save countless steps and a lot of time for the home "manager." And, of course, they make possible better service for everyone in the family. The cost? Less than four cents a day, plus a one-time installation charge. Order your additional telephones from the Business Office today.

MORE AND MORE people are using Conference Calls to hold family meetings. Conference Calls used to be made chiefly for business purposes, but the word is getting around that they're wonderful experiences, too, for families whose members are miles apart. All you do, you know, is tell the Long Distance operator, "I want to make a Conference Call." You give her the names and telephone numbers. She'll get all the folks on the line at whatever time you specify. Then everyone can speak to and hear each of the others.

Through the Centuries...

Through cold, snow-covered fields, underneath ice-encrusted trees, the river runs its course.

This brings to mind the Christian Church. It was founded upon the teachings of Jesus who lived His life and did His work unperturbed by the coldness of many of His fellowmen and of the ruling officials. He knew that His work would stand because it was founded upon truth. It not only stood, but has flowed steadily on for centuries. It is still going on today in His churches.

If you do not attend church services why not go this coming Sunday, and identify yourself with this steady flow of the best for which life stands?

There is always room in the river for one more drop of water. There is always room in the Church for one more worshipper.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Local People Appear on Farmers' Week Program

By M. H. AVERY
County Agent

The annual Farmers' Week at Michigan State university will be a rendezvous for farm people from Ingham.

The event this year will again feature exhibits, programs, annual meetings, and other events which will interest many.

Ingham farmers should be proud of the representation of farm people on the program for the week. In going through the program that Ingham will be represented by 10 people at the program. Here is the list:

Elwood Reame will be appearing on the agricultural economics program Tuesday at 10:55 on "We're Getting Started as Renters." Howard Townsend of Stockbridge will be on the afternoon farm crops and soils program on Wednesday with "My Experiences in Harvesting with a Picker-Shellor," and Norman Topping of Stockbridge will be on the agricultural economics program Thursday morning at 10:35 with a discussion with Dale Butts on dairy marketing. Carlyle Waltz will be on the program "Making Machinery and Buildings Save You Dollars" on Thursday at 2:15 at Fairchild theater.

His topic will be "How We Make Our Machinery and Buildings Pay." Dave Diehl of Dansville will be on the agricultural engineering program at 1:55 on "Thursday afternoon at the agricultural engineering building. His topic will be "Grain Handling from a Farmer's Viewpoint."

Charles Davis of Aurelius will be on the farm crops and soils program on Thursday morning at 10:30 with a panel discussion. His topic will be "The Future Pasture Program for Our Farm."

George Thornburn will be on the sociology program on Thursday morning at 10:00 with a discussion of the "Problems of Our Aging Farm Population from the Farmers' Viewpoint." Duane Baldwin of Stockbridge will be on the muck farmers' program Friday afternoon as chairman of the annual business meeting of the Michigan Onion Growers' association.

Mrs. Morell Fox and Mrs. Delmar Carr of the extension home economics advisory council will be representing the state advisory board at the state advisory board meeting on the campus during Farmers' Week. Mrs. Fox is a district representative. Mrs. Carr is on the state board.

I have checked the program rather carefully and I hope that I have not missed some farmer who is appearing on one of the programs. I congratulate these people on availing themselves of the opportunity of representing Ingham county farm thinking on this statewide program.

Exhibits from Ingham County
The animal husbandry department is sponsoring live exhibit programs during the week. Beef breeding and feeding farmers have been asked to feed out steers to enter the rate of gain contest for beef feeding. Three farmers from Ingham will be represented in this Michigan beef-feeding project. They are Grand River Stock Farm, Weberville; Pine Cone Stock Farm, Williamston; and Mrs. John Ruppert, Perry. Steers will be judged in the judging pavilion Thursday morning starting at 9:00. The sale will be in the afternoon of the same day.

The department also has a barrow feeding project and to my knowledge only George Ellison of Mason is enrolled in this project this year with Poland China barrows. These barrows will be judged Wednesday morning at the livestock pavilion starting at 8:00. Classes will be carcass hogs on foot, individual market classes, pen classes, and champions. These barrows will be sold Thursday afternoon before the steers.

Sheepmen of the state will be having their annual bred ewe sale at the livestock pavilion Tuesday at 12:30. There will be 66 ewes on hand of the major breeds including Shropshires, Corriedales, Suffolks, Hampshires, Oxfords, Southdowns and Dorsetts. These ewes are from many of the state's best known flocks. All ewes will be shown and judged beginning at 10:00 Wednesday morning the day of the sale.

Four-H club members and F. F. A. members are urged to avail themselves of the opportunity of buying a good bred ewe for their project because they are again offering a 10% discount for junior work. Last year 34 ewes were bought by 4-H and F. F. A. members for program work. Members should have a statement from their teacher or extension agent to get the 10% discount.

It is impossible to list all of the meetings in the program for Farmers' Week. However farmers who attend may receive this program by putting their names on the list to receive this program each year. If you did not receive one this year, plan to sign up at one of the information desks while on the campus during Farmers' Week. I would like to call attention to a few meetings.

First, Monday is Dairy Day when dairy associations representing the different breeds will be meeting, and in the evening is the annual all-breeds banquet when the 500-lb and the 400-lb herds throughout the state will be recognized. Last year there were a number of herds from Ingham county.

Another day for dairy farmers of the county will be the ABA meeting on Friday along with the annual ADA, American Dairy Association, meeting for Michigan and the annual luncheon at 12:15 at Kellogg Center auditorium.

For farmers who are interested, at 11:00 the Disneyland films in color will be shown in the Kellogg auditorium. Reservations should be sent in for the complimentary luncheon at noon.

In addition to the area meetings and many exhibits are general meetings each afternoon in the auditorium building just north of the bridge on Farm Lane. Outstanding speakers will appear on these afternoon and evening programs.

For details of programs which you are interested in ahead of time and if you do not have a bulletin, each member of the extension staff has a bulletin from which he would be glad to help you locate the meeting you are interested in.

Members of the extension staff have bulletins carrying details of the programs. They will be glad to advise on times and places of scheduled events.

Jersey Breeders Plan MSU Meet

Members of the Michigan Jersey Cattle club will meet in the auditorium of Kellogg Center Monday, January 30, at 10. The program will be part of dairy day during Farmers' Week at Michigan State university.

At noon there will be a luncheon for Jersey breeders at the Center. The annual meeting will follow.

An all-breeds dairy banquet will start at 6 Monday night when Jim Hayes of the MSC dairy department will be master.

Politicians Start Tooling Machines for Vote Battle

By ELMER WHITE
Michigan Press Association

Politicians are tooling up for the Battle of the Ballots in 1956. Both sides are polishing issues and grooming slates of candidates, the better to put together a campaign machine sometime in the spring and summer.

Republicans, convinced he will try for a fifth term, are still hoping for a candidate to go against Gov. Williams.

At a kickoff dinner in Lansing some weeks ago, Mayor Albert E. Cobb, of Detroit, a favorite of many party leaders, got a standing ovation when he started and ended his speech.

Rep. Bentley was on hand and received polite applause when he was introduced. Donald S. Leonard, former state and Detroit police commissioner who lost to Williams in 1954, also attended.

Behind the scenes works the party organization, headed by State Chairman John Felkens.

Felkens has been criticized by some elements for not putting a Republican in the executive office and for letting Democrats put in a full slate in 1954.

Observers around the capitol and the state believe Felkens has been doing a good job. Without a governor, a party tends to lack unity on a number of issues. A thousand ideas are hard to crystallize against a single, forceful one from the governor's office.

Friends of Felkens also point to the fact of Williams and the Democrats: No one has beaten them since 1946, even before Felkens was state chairman.

The story of the Democrats for 1956 is pretty well known and politicians are awaiting the final climactic developments before making a move.

Felkens stresses the issue is for individual rights. He tells the story of a rural union member who ran for county office on the GOP ticket. Not only did he fail to receive union support, but his money which he was forced under union rules to pay in dues, was used against him.

Felkens says that union support is a desirable thing for any party, but it must come from individual donations.

Republicans have gone a step farther to organize a Republican Labor committee, composed of a number of CIO members in southeastern Michigan.

Republicans, whose support has long come from outside Michigan, insist that they are not opposed to organized labor.

Democrats, who have had the power of labor unions behind them for years, claim they are the only political friends the working man has and that is why they continue to be elected.

The situation has given rise to an interesting switch: Democrats have taken a keen

MSU Offers Policy Talk

Farm policy will get a going-over during Farmers' Week. A special meeting is planned Tuesday afternoon, January 31, in Fairchild theatre for farmers to both give answers and get answers.

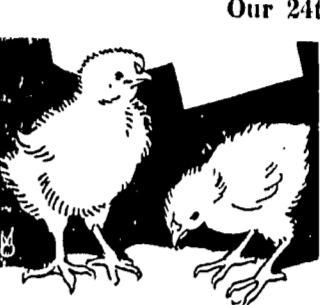

Jack Younger, executive secretary of the Michigan Farm Bureau, John Spoelman of the Farmers Union and William Brake, master of the Michigan Grange will offer their organizations' farm policies. Charles Ely, assistant to Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson, will be at the afternoon meeting to report on the present national farm program.

The meeting begins at one.

Not blinking an eye or faltering, Felkens answered: "He'll be here tonight."

Over in the capitol a half block away, Democrats don't have that problem. It will be either Williams or Hart.

POULTRY FEEDING PROGRAM

(See Boxes for Further Details)

BIRDS	MASTER MIX	GRAIN	OYSTER SHELL — GRIT
CHICKS Start to 6 weeks	Master Mix Chick Starter, or Dealer Brand Starter made with Master Mix Chick Concentrate according to Master Mix Formula.	None
PULLETS 7th Week to Egg Production	Master Mix Pullet Grower, or Dealer Brand Grower made with Master Mix Chick Concentrate according to Master Mix Formula. Change to Egg Mash when first few eggs are laid.	Shelled corn and whole oats or scratch feed	Scatter small amount hen size grit on top of mash twice a month. Start feeding oyster shell free choice in separate feeders a month before pullets start laying.
LAYERS	Master Mix EGG MASH, or Dealer Brand Egg Mash made with Master Mix Layer Concentrate according to Master Mix Formula.	Scratch feed or Shelled corn and whole oats (2/3 corn and 1/3 oats makes a desirable mixture)	Keep oyster shell and hard grit in separate hoppers before layers.
BREEDERS	Start feeding Master Mix BREEDER MASH, or Dealer Brand Breeder Mash made with Master Mix BREEDER CONCENTRATE according to Master Mix Formula one month before eggs are saved for hatching.	To egg producing strains: A mixture of 2/3 corn and 1/3 oats. To meat producing strains: A mixture of 1/2 corn and 1/2 oats.	Keep oyster shell and hard grit in separate hoppers before breeders.

CHICKS
100 chicks need one 4-foot feeder or 100 inches of feeding space, and two 1-gallon founts or 20 inches of watering space the first 2 weeks. They'll need two 4-foot feeders or 175 inches of feeding space, and two 3-gallon founts or 40 inches of watering space the next 4 weeks.

LAYERS
Feed grain on a 50-50 basis with mash — increase the grain slightly in cold weather . . . decrease it slightly in hot weather. Each 100 layers need at least 32 feet of feeding space and two 5-gallon founts, or automatic waterers, to get adequate feed and water intake.

BREEDERS
Feed grain on a 50-50 basis with mash to egg producing strains . . . a 40-grain 60-mash basis to meat producing strains. Increase the grain slightly in cold weather . . . decrease it slightly in hot weather. Use the same feeding and watering space as for layers.

BIO-FEED
A special supplemental feed for chicks, pullets, layers and breeders . . . stimulates feed intake during disease outbreaks. Effective against CRD (Air Sac Disease), Blue Comb and many types of enteritis.
BioFeed contains all the essential energy and growth nutrients birds need . . . plus a high level of antibiotics. Palatable and highly digestible . . . available as meal, pellets or crumbles.
HOW TO FEED
Remove regular feed at the first sign of disease. Feed BioFeed as the only feed for one week, or until recovery seems certain. Follow with regular feed.

EGGLAC PELLETS
A special supplemental feed in pellet form for layer or breeder flocks . . . sharpens the appetite and stimulates feed intake . . . can be fed right on top of the mash.
EggLac Pellets are loaded with essential vitamins and fortified with Methio-Vite to boost egg production . . . prevent production drops due to cold spells or hot weather . . . keep birds healthy, working and laying longer.
HOW TO FEED
Feed EggLac Pellets every day at noon . . . or any other time as long as it's the same time each day. Feed 2 to 3 pounds per day for each 100 birds . . . don't feed grain at the same time. Increase EggLac, when there is an abnormal drop in egg production.

WAYLAC
A special supplemental feed to repair tissues damaged by disease and get birds back on feed. Waylac is high in milk products and other essential nutrients that soothe the intestinal tract and produce a mild flush.
HOW TO FEED
Feed "pasted-up" chicks Waylac for one day . . . then switch back to Chick Starter. Feed Waylac straight for one-half day to growing chicks and pullets when off feed.

More Meat Consumption Will Answer Surplus

By M. H. AVERY
County Agricultural Agent

"There is lots of meat being produced, so let's cut our way out," was the advice given to the Williamston Shippers association Saturday by Ike Walton, manager of the Michigan Livestock association.

"The government will try to help, but this is an election year and the help which can be expected this year is very doubtful. It would look like the farmers must do most of the job themselves."

Walton claimed that farmers should do a better job of marketing. First, by selecting a market that will pay the best price, whether it is a local market of the Detroit or the Chicago market. He suggested farmers follow the market on radio each day and know what the prices are being paid.

Questions came up concerning the price of hogs and weights. Art Blokford claimed that farmers are putting hogs on the market too heavy. He said, "Keep your hogs under 220 lb. Heavy hogs are causing a heavy waste because housewives will not buy the heavy cuts with a large amount of fat."

Jim McCrumb stated that cleaner cattle should increase in price in the next 90 days, but not too much can be expected on the better class of cattle.

There was also considerable discussion concerning wool marketing and sheep improvement work. Ike Walton suggested that the sheep men of the county organize a sheep improvement association or organization to carry out a definite program of sheep improvement for Ingham county. This will be discussed at the sheep meeting in the county on February 22 when Graydon Blank of the Michigan State university will be in the county.

Some 40 farmers attended the annual meeting. Directors elected were Porter Risch, Hershel Head, Russell Stover and Paul Bauer. A movie of the meat industry was shown by Bill Drake, FFA teacher from Williamston.

A poultry meeting was held at the court house in Mason January 12 with Harry Hathaway from Michigan State university as the speaker. He discussed some of the newer trends in poultry work and a movie was shown on the Hemlock Poultry co-op. This organization was set up a year ago to purchase turkeys and poultry from farmers of central Michigan to be processed for the market. It appears to have proven satisfactory to poultry folks in this area who have been sending poultry to the co-op.

Following a movie, Hathaway went into his talk about the poultry program.

"An egg strain bird will produce the most eggs," Hathaway said. "We have made as much change in poultry in the past few years as the Oldsmobile company has in cars."

He stated that automatic poultry equipment has made it possible for farmers to keep many more birds than they did previously.

Dressed birds can be kept several days now by treating with aureomycin at dressing time. This will be a big aid to the dressed poultry program. Plastic egg cartons with the eggs sealed in will make the eggs keep longer without increasing the bacteria count.

He stated that farmers should attempt to convert buildings to low-cost housing in order to keep more birds with very low increased cost for housing. In some places, bales are being used for side walls for poultry houses with satisfactory results.

There was considerable discussion about the price of baby chicks—as to whether farmers should carry pure strains or hybrid chicks. One hatcheryman mentioned that they were selling many more hybrid chicks than last year. It was felt that farmers could pay too much for hybrid chicks over purebred strains and should know the hatchery and the quality of chicks before buying.

Soil Bank Won't Solve Ag Dilemma

The soil bank plan proposed by the Eisenhower administration will give farmers more purchasing power but it won't control production or surpluses for long.

That's the opinion of Dr. Arthur Mauch, a Michigan State university farm economist.

But the soil bank plan, said Mauch, stacks up as one of the best choices for the taxpayer, consumer and the farmer to get a good return on the investment.

The plan calls for storing soil fertility for future use instead of storing grain and other products in government store houses. That includes seeding land to soil building grasses and legumes.

And that, emphasized the economist, is one reason the plan won't control production. The soil removed from cash crop production will yield even more when it is again cultivated. That in addition to more know-how in getting bigger yields will boost production higher.

So, Mauch said, no one should expect the soil bank plan to solve the farm problem.

Farmers' Week, traditional winter event at Michigan State university, gets underway Monday, January 30, on the East Lansing campus and runs until February 3.

Detroit Milk Production And Sales Both Show Gain

Milk production was up 6.8% in the Detroit milkshed in December over the same month last year with Class I sales up 8.85% over the comparable period, the Detroit sales committee of the Michigan Milk Producers' association reported.

There were 475 fewer shippers on the Detroit market than a year ago, the report stated, but a 10.5% in average production per shipper accounted for the increase over last year.

Secretary-Manager Howard F. Simmons announced at the meeting that the association's presentation to the department of agriculture, the national congress and senate of the imminent threat to the federal school milk program because of lack of funds, appears to be bearing fruit. Assurance has been received that additional federal funds either are earmarked or appropriations requested to continue the program in Michigan.

Simmons explained that 3,282 schools in the state are now enrolled in the special milk program and that during the first 2 months of the school year 8.3 million more half-pints were consumed than in the corresponding period a year ago. The fear that this rate of consumption would exhaust funds available for the program by the end of January prompted the association's action, he said.

The Detroit market sales committee voted, by an almost unanimous decision, not to accept a plan proposed by the "fair share committee" group at a special meeting earlier in the month. The plan involved, among other things, affiliation with labor organizations in bargaining for higher prices for milk.

What kind of a government farm program do farmers want? What do they think of the "soil bank" plan?

Rural Michiganders will get a chance to hash over those questions and hear views of their farm organizations at the Tuesday afternoon session of Farmers' Week at Michigan State university, January 30-February 3.

The Farm Bureau point of view will be outlined by Jack F. Yeager, East Lansing, executive secretary of the Michigan group. Jack Spoelman, Central Lake, president of the Michigan Farmers' Union, will tell his organization's ideas on the farm program question.

William J. Brake, Lansing, master of the Michigan Grange, will report the Grange point of view.

Yeager's Farm Bureau claims a membership of 65,000 families in 63 county organizations in Michigan. Spoelman's Farmers' Union has a membership of 4,200 farm families, and Brake's Grange has 30,000 farm families in its fold. The Grange estimates that about a third of its members also are affiliated with the Farm Bureau.

Following the farm organization men will be a report from Charles Figy, assistant to the secretary of agriculture. Figy, formerly head of the Michigan department of agriculture, will discuss the national administration's viewpoints on a farm program.

After the main speeches, the audience will take part in the discussion.

The afternoon program will be preceded by a talk explaining the choices people have in selecting a farm program. Arthur Mauch, Michigan State university farm economist, will be the speaker.

Peddlers Gyp Farmers With Unknown Seed

Buyers of field seeds, particularly oats and wheat, are being victimized by peddlers of little known out-of-state companies who sell at fancy prices varieties uncommon to Michigan with an agreement with the grower that the firm will buy from him or offer to sell the grower's crop.

More of this will come to light in coming months, according to John E. Carver, chief seed analyst for the Michigan department of agriculture, who says peddlers will make calls at farms and also will be in evidence at fairs.

Here is how it works. The peddler usually approaches the grower with a sales pitch about some new variety of seed that has enjoyed some success in some other area in the north or in Canada. He may have clippings and literature to prove how successful this variety has been elsewhere. Not always, however, are varieties that prove excellent elsewhere suited to Michigan's nearly 6 degree range in latitude or soil variations.

The peddler does not dwell long on this nor does he say too much about the fact that the price he is asking is all out of proportion to the prevailing price for seed of proven productivity in Michigan. Suitable varieties are listed by the Michigan Crop Improvement association, and county agricultural agents usually know what they are.

The gyp artists instead talks about a "seed grower's agreement" or a "selling and commission agreement." Under this the grower buys seed at the fancy price. Difficulty stems from the objectionable features in the contract. The seed usually can pass purity and germination requirements of the Michigan department of agriculture.

The company agrees only to "offer for sale" the grower's production or to buy it "if needed." The contract, covering the seed company's responsibility to sell the seed or buy it is vague and gives the company a great deal of latitude. Thus the grower is overcharged for seed of a variety that may or may not be suitable in Michigan climate under the impression he has ready sale for his crop.

Guard against losses from Newcastle and infectious bronchitis disease outbreaks in your flocks by planning a vaccination program now, advise Michigan State university authorities.

FARMERS' WEEK

Jan. 30 - Feb. 3

Much that has been gained over the years by Michigan's farmers is the result of the co-operative research, experimental and educational work of the College of Agriculture of Michigan State University.

During Farmers' Week, Jan. 30 to Feb. 3, thousands of farmers will meet with the faculty and extension staff of the University to learn about and discuss new developments and improved methods in the production and marketing of Agricultural products. There will be many dairy-farmer members of the Michigan Milk Producers Association on hand.

Mr. Farmer... This Is Your Invitation

Dear Friend:

You and your family are invited to be our special guests at our coming John Deere Day program.

On that day, planned and set aside just for you, everything will be our treat — including a presentation of entertaining, full-color movies which we're sure you'll enjoy from beginning to end.

The feature film, "Tim's Choice," is a happy-type picture built around our modern, bewildering — but ever-lovable — rural youth — a picture that could well have been filmed right in your own home.

Many other colorful films — both entertaining and educational — fill out a day of enjoyment you'll long remember.

If you have not already received your free tickets — be sure to call for them at our store.

Remember — keep this date open!
