Robbery Is Labeled A Hoax

This is the story of the Great Armed Robbery that never was.

It all happened Monday when the sheriff's department received a call stating that 2 armed men had robbed a store on N. Cedar street. The sheriff's department turned the matter over to Mason police and Chief Tim Stolz began his investigation.

A clerk at the store described one of the intruders as a blond, curly haired man who pulled a gun on him.

Stolz said the victim told him the men wanted to know where the money was and the clerk said the "boss has it and he isn't here yet." Then Stolz said the clerk told him one man told the other one to look in the office.

Board Asks Millage Vote

The Mason board of education took a look into the future at its meeting Tuesday night after receiving recommendations of its citizens committee and made a study of expected income and expenditures for the school year of 1964-65. The board agreed unanimously to submit to the electors of the school district the following proposals:

1. A 6-mill school operation levy for 5 years.

2. A $600,000 bond issue to be paid in 10 years for build. ing a new elementary school on West Columbia and Aurelius roads, an addition to the Alaiedon' elementary school and addition to the Mason senior high school, these projects to be completed by September, 1965.

The information now goes to the board's attorneys who will draw up the resolution and set the date for the election, which then must be approved by the board, probably in the near future. The board also offered a contract to Mrs. Norma Cook of Lansing who is an Eaton County Normal graduate. She has taken work at Western Michigan university and is now working on a degree at Michigan State university. She will teach the 1st grade at Alaiedon school, filling a vacancy caused by the transfer of Mrs. Sandra Peters to the special education room at Steele Street school.

Stolz brought the clerk to the police station where hequestioned him for 2 hours. Then the clerk finally admitted the whole thing was a hoax, according to the police chief.

Stolz reported the clerk could give no reason why he perpetrated the hoax. He was not held.

Stolz said one thing that led him to believe the story was a fabrication was when he asked the employe to describe the gun the man used. It was a 45 calibre, the man said. Then Stolz said he showed him a service revolver used by Mason police and quoted the clerk as saying the gun the "robber" used was just like it.

Probate Judge Appoints Psychologist for Youth

Probate Judge James T. Kallman has announced the appointment of Thomas E. Jones as clinical psychologist effective January 1, 1964. Jones' primary responsibility will be to administer psychological tests for juveniles under the court's jurisdiction. Tests have been previously contracted out to private concerns,

The probate court will now be able to make immediate determinations as to the disposition of problem children. It will also enable the court to' give continuing supervision over a period of time for these children where previously this was not possible. Jones will also be used to instruct and train juvenile workers so that they will be better able to detect significant changes in children they are supervising.

Jones received his B. A. and M. A. degrees from Wayne State university, and is presently enrolled at Michigan State university where he is working on his Ph.D. in psychology. He is 29 years old, single, and resides in East Lansing. His father is deputy city clerk of Detroit. In 1947, at the age of 12. Mr. Jones was a page boy in congress for 5 years, During the 80th congress he served Senator Homer Ferguson who is presently a justice of the United States court of military appeals.

Before coming to Lansing, Jones worked as a psychologist at the Pontiac State hospital for almost 5 years. During his last year, he worked exclusively with mentally ill children between the ages of 7 and 17. He completed his practicum at the Oakland county juvenile court. He is a member of the American Psychological association and is certified with the state of Michigan as a psychological examiner. He is also a saff sergeant with the Michigan Air National Guard.

Prosecutor Names Smith For New Assistant Job

Ingham County Prosecuting Attorney Leo A. Farhat, has announced the appointment of Kenneth Ian Smith, as assistant prosecuting attorney for Ingham county. Smith was admitted to practice of law this past month.

The new assistant prosecutor was born in St. Louis, Missouri, November 8, 1937, and moved to Flint when his father, W. J. Smith, was transferred to the tank plant in Flint at the start of the war. In 1947, he came to Lansing, graduating from J. W. Sexton high school in June of 1956. That same year he entered Michigan State university, graduating in 1960.

In 1969, Smith entered the law school of Wayne State university and graduated in June of 1963. He has served with the marine corps reserves for over 6 years. He is a member of West-

Peace on Earth

The history of 1963 is now finished and we are standing on the threshold of another year. It is now time to evaluate the history of 1963. Let us open the windows of the past year so the light may shine brightly into the new year. It will help us explore the many fields of endeavor and the accomplishments will be many,

We must not hurry for there are always important things to do first. If we try to run too fast we are apt to stumble and fall. The tireless strive to keep in step and are inspired to run forward, thinking of the new year which lies ahead.

We must all strive to be strong for if we are weak words are of no avail. Out of the evening dusk of the past year we kindle a new fire to light the future of the coming year. The conflicts of life go on forever with each year unfolding many changes. I am now living in the af-ternoon of life. My memory

Satisfied Taxpayer

A weekly by-line in the Ingham County News states, "The Only Money the Government Has to Spend Comes From You." The by-line is, of course, true. Likewise true under normal conditions would be a statement that "the only money a newspaper has to spend comes from its subscribers and advertisers."

Users of the services of a newspaper spend dollars because they feel they get value received. Users of government services, and this includes everyone, trade dollars for services, too. Some are convinced they are getting value received. For proof, I quote from a letter to the editor taken from the current issue of the Michigan Christian Advocate: "In today's market taxes are our biggest bargain. As an example, let's take our car. For several years we have been driving Ramblers. As Rambler buyers, George Romney used to work for us building cars. In that job we think we overpaid him. Now he works for us as governor. He works a lot harder and at a much lower salary. Isn't that a bargain? We are getting much more for our tax dollar than for our Rambler dollar.

around the world. Interested persons should note the change in meeting dates of the club. They now meet the fourth Wednesday of every month beginning with the February meeting. Anyone 65 or over is invited to attend the meetings.

Hulett was found dead about 11 a.m. Wednesday at a Mason filling station. He and Mrs. Hulett had attended a New Year's Eve gathering and returned to their home at 210 S. Jefferson street about 4 a.m. Hulett then left to put his truck in the Fargo gasoline station garage, where he kept it during the winter months. When he failed to return home, Mrs. Hulett called police. His body was found ly-

School Study Committee Report Group Advocates Millage For Operating Purposes

Report of the Sub-Committee on School Operation

The finance sub-committee of the school study committee studied school operations. Its work included an analysis of the teachers' salary schedule, transportation, school facilities for community programs and costs. The following information was accumulated and studied.

As for teachers' salaries it is necessary to maintain a sufficiently competitive salary schedule to enable the school board to secure and retain competent teachers. Fifteen out of 110 teachers went to the Lansing area this year. The Mason school district is gradually falling behind the neighboring communities of Lansing and East Lansing. Of the 12 school districts in the county, Mason is tenth in average teachers salary at $5,464 as compared to Lansing's average salary of $7,129.

Transportation costs are constantly increasing. It is recommended that school buses be depreciated on a 7-year basis. The present depreciation in the Mason school district is 10 plus years. With increased enrollment each year the transportation cost is constantly increasing. The school board is at present operating 30 buses with an average present day cost, new, of $7,225.

per pupil items in our revenues; that is, state aid and transportation allocation. However, our school population is growing faster than the total tax valuation of the district. The reason given for this is that the complete tax base for a family is its home plus the wage earner's place of employment. A disproportionately large number of our residents work outside the school district and/or work for employers who pay no taxes such as government and schools. Therefore, even if there are no intentional improvements in any part of school operation, we will continue to go in debt at an ever increasing rate unless additional operating millage is provided. The 2 main sources of revenue for operating schools are local taxes and state aid. Mason school district receives $268.95 per pupil which gives the Mason school district the lowest revenue per student in the county as compared with a high of $468.83 for Lansing. The sub-committee also reinforced the school board's position of making the school facilities available for community programs.

The data and its analysis showed that in order to eliminate deficit spending an additional operational millage should be secured.

Mason Meeting

One of a series of some 17 meetings in Michigan is planned at the Hall Memorial library in Mason Thursday at 7:30 p.m. The meeting will concern itself with state aid for libraries and Renwick Garypie, Ingham county director of libraries, and Miss Genevieve Casey, state librarian, will discuss legislation now pending in the state legislature.

The bill is expected to be introduced in the senate during the current session by Senator William G. Milliken (R) of Traverse City.

Garypie is chairman of the legislative committee of the Michigan Library association which is sponsoring the Mason meeting. The meeting is open to the public and special invitations have been sent to residents of Ingham. Eaton, Jackson and Livingston counties.

Circuit Notes

Ken Rundel

The Okemos Chiefs earned themselves a late Christmas present last week as their 78-72 victory over Gabriels enabled them to take sole possession of first place in the Circuit basketball race. The week end also saw the Holt Rams upset Mason, Haslett fall to Eaton Rapids and O'Rafferty down Howell.

Holt's win, coupled with the Chiefs' defeat of Gabriels, gives the Rams and Shamrocks a deadlock for second place. Mason, after its loss at the hands of Holt, is now tied for fourth place with Eaton Rapids and O'Rafferty. Howell and Haslett, both still looking for their first win of the season, share the league basement.

The league's scoring record for one player in one game was again broken last week, this time by Okemos' Bill Breckenfield. On December 20, guard Ron Karr of Holt poured 40 points through the hoop against Eaton Rapids, but last Friday Breckenfield connected on 21 field goals and 4 free throws for a total of 46 points. The 6'2" junior, after scoring only one point in the first quarter, came back with 12 in the second, 16 in the third and 17 in the final period for his 46-point total, the second highest performance in Okemos' basketball history.

Besides Karr's 40 and Breckenfield's 46-point game, several other players in the league have come up with outstanding performances this year. Howell's Ron Arnold, fourth highest scorer in the CC, has turned in a 24 and a 20-point game, both coming in losing causes. Mike Oakes of Holt collected 21 markers against Howell a while ago. The best performance by a Haslett player was a 24-point output by Steve Johnson, currently tied for seventh in league scoring last Friday. O'Rafferty's Pat Hartford has hit double figures every Circuit game so far, his best being 20 against Howell last week. Averaging over 23 points per game, Bill Howe of Eaton Rapids also has hit double figures every time. He is tied for first place in CC scoring with game totals of 17, 18, 25 and 24 points.

Six-place Circuit scorer, Don Wright of Mason, has games of 22 and 20, and also has scored in double figures every game. The third best performance of the young season came in the first league game, as Ron Davis of Okemos totaled 32 points. Steady scoring all year from Gabriels' Skip Drouin has enabled him to stay in third place in CC scoring, with games of 21, 14, 27 and 16 points.

One of the ironles of this 63-64 season has been Coach Bill Klenk's Haslett Vikings. The hapless Lakers, still looking for their first Circuit win, have lost 4 games by a total of 10 points. In 3 of the 4 games they led until late in the game, and so far they have come the closest to knocking off first-place Okemos, losing 56-52. Their defense is second-best in the league, allowing opponents an average of 55 points a game, but the offense is averaging 52.5 per game.

Looking at the statistics, it's easy to see why Okemos is on top of the Circuit. The Chiefs have outscored their opponents by an average of 12 points per game, are first in total defense and third in offense. Their Bill Breckenfield is tied for the lead in Circuit scoring, while Ron Davis is tied for eleventh. Okemos is averaging 66.5 points per game, and has committed the fewest fouls of any Circuit team.

Currently tied for second place in the Circuit, the Holt Rams are making themselves known this year. They have defeated Howell and Eaton Rapids by almost identical scores, 81-62 and 81-64, and their only loss was to Gabriels. Last week they upended Mason, 65-62, stopping the Bull-

Eaton Rapids downed Haslett 63-62 Friday night when John McHugh dropped in 2 free throws in the final seconds at Eaton Rapids.

The win, the first for the Greyhounds, left Haslett all alone in the circuit basement.

Haslett will entertain Howell Friday night while Eaton Rapids has the tough job of taking on Okemos, the league leader.

Eaton Rapids stepped out in front of Haslett 17-14 in the first quarter but saw the lead erased when the Lakers came up with a 22-12 second quarter. In a wild third period the Greyhounds came back to trail by 2 at 60-58 and then came up with the hair raising finish brought on by Mc-Hugh's 2 free throws, the only points he scored all night.

In the Eaton Rapids scoring race Bill Howe dropped in 24 points. Steve Johnson also had 24 points to pace the Haslett scoring attack.

Mason let Holt get the jump in the beginning of the third period and trailed the Rams by 5 to one points until the final seconds of the period when Mike Combs potted a floor shot to give Mason the lead. Romney Reports

One of the Christmas gifts which all Michigan citizens received this year was a share in the savings which has resulted from a concerted drive for economy in state the troop. government,

The task force on expenditure management which I appointed before taking office has compiled a report on its activities which should encourage the most economy-minded citizen.

Our program to bring further efficiency and economy to state government is gathering momentum. We have made substantial savings already and have placed machinery in motion to insure further savings.

Considered individually, the savings resulting from each of the cost-cutting projects do not appear large. But when the task force's recommendations are fully implemented, the savings will be measured in millions. During the past year, the purchasing department has made several changes which resulted in savings of $319,000. For example, we found that by shipping rock salt used in snow removal by boat we could cut $90,000 from the price of salt purchased by the state. Our printing buyer was able to convince authorities at one state university that the type of paper used in printing 20,000 cellege catalogs could be changed. The result: $1,980

General Pugh is presently assigned as the commanding general of the 3rd armored division in Europe. He is expected to report to his new assignment at 6th corps sometime in February, 1964. General Pugh will succeed Major General Jonathan O. Seaman, who has been reassigned as the commanding general of the 1st infantry division at Fort Riley, Kansas, effective in January, 1964. General Pugh was born on July 27, 1909, in Norristown, Pennsylvania, and graduated from the U.S. military academy at West Point in June, 1932, where he received his commission as a second lieutenant of cavalry. Charles H. Milton, 42, of 211 Stevens street, Mason, escaped injury at 6:10 a.m. on Wednesday, January 1, when his car ran off the road at Columbia and Meridian. Milton said he could not see the end of the road coming up because of fog and when he did see the sign he was at the end of the road. He said he applied his brakes but because of the icy road the car slid into the ditch. A passenger with Milton, Harry Clemens of Holt, also was uninjured. The right front of the car was damaged.

Temperatures in Uruguay, however, are measured by the centigrade system and the seasons there are just the reverse of those in the United States. Miss Bretschneider said that Uruguay is now having its summer season during which temperatures of 80 to 100 degrees fahrenheit are not uncommon. Summer starts in December and continues through February; then autumn arrives and continues until about June when the winter season takes over until September which is the start of spring. Erika is much impressed with Michigan's highways. "We have nothing like them in Uruguay," she said.

She also is amazed at the hugeness of American supermarkets. Her country has supermarkets but they are no where near as large as these in Michigan, she said. While there are some Amercat. Neither animal was inican cars in Uruguay, European cars are more often Carl L, LeDafoe, 5125 Harseen, she said, because they per road, Holt, was driving are cheaper and more west on Harper road just east economical to operate. of Onondaga road Monday, Preparation of food in America has been interesting to Erika.

"You prepare it so quickly here." she said. "In my country it requires from 2 to 3 hours to prepare a meal. You do it in minutes. We buy everything fresh in Uruguay. Canned goods are too expensive."

Erika says the most important industry in Uruguay is meat which is exported to many nations in Europe and other continents. Farmers raise a lot of sheep and beef cattle. The hides of the cattle and the wool of the sheep are turned into use in making wool lined leather boots and other leather articles.

In the southern part of Uruguay the wine industry thrives. Wine also is a heavily exported product.

"And Uruguay has the finest peaches in South America," says Erika. The country also grows apples, pears and oranges among other fruits.

Uruguayan farms, she says. are all mechanized and much of the farm machinery used is made in the United States.

The school system

Uruguay differs somewhat from that in America. First there is the elementary school, similar to ours. After that comes high school if the student is preparing to enter the University of Montevideo. After 4 years of high school there are 2 more years of preparatory school before entering the university.

There is another avenue to education also. A student, after completing his elementary courses, wishes to learn a trade, he goes immediately to a vocational education school, 3 years of which he spends in the capital of the department in which he lives and the final 3 years in the university.

Erika enjoys dancing, she says, and also likes music and swimming. She is well versed in the popular sports in Uruguay which she says are soccer football, played professionally; baseball, basketball, bowling, swimming, track events, golf and car racing.

She goes to movies in Uruguay and enjoys television programs. The movies are American films, those made in Latin American countries and some from Europe. She watches both American and Uruguayan television shows.

The Christmas season in her country comes in the summer time. It is somewhat like the season in America, although there is no snow. The big day of the season is not so much Christmas as New Year's day, Erika said.

"We go out of our home at 6 p.m. on December 31, and we come back at 5 a.m. January 1," she said with a smile. "We dance in the New Year.'

"Of course," she added, "it is summer there then and many people are at the seashore. Almost everyone spends his vacation at the seashore in the summertime."

After Erika completes her 7 months visits to Michigan poultry farms, she will have 15 days to do with as she wishes before she returns to Uruguay.

She plans to spend those 15 days in California, she replied.

"I want to see those poultry farms out there which I have read so much about."

Only One Contest In Leslie

LESLIE - Only one contest is seen for the village primary election, February 17, village officials said this week, with the deadline past for the filing of nominating petitions. That contest is for posts on the village board of trustees. Three seats are to be filled and there are 4 candidates. The 4 are A. J. Houghtaling and Guy Kiefer, both running to succeed themselves; Robert Shipman, former trustee who resigned when he moved out of the village, and Fred Wyman, former assessor who resigned that post in May because of poor health. Shipman has now moved back into the village. Only one candidate has filed for each of the 4 other village offices. Duane Phelps, a councilman for 5 years, is seeking the office of village president to succeed Kenneth Brooks, Unit No. 491 of Leslie at its who did not enter the race meeting on January 2. this year.

Frances Omnes, appointed village clerk to fill a vacancy when Joyce Dickinson resigned last June 1, is seeking election to a one-year term. Mrs. Helen Baldwin, village

Wednesday, January 8, 1964 - Page B-2

LESLIE - That old house Cook, 86, of Onondaga, died at Main and Race streets is in the news again.

> Henry Yerby of Jackson, coowner of the building, appeared before the village council Monday night to ask how much time he had before the village started proceedings against the property.

> He said he thought his attorneys had started proceedings to quiet title and agreed to advertise for bids to tear down the worst part of the house. He will return to the council in 2 weeks to report what has been done.

The Ingham county health department has stated that the building is in bad condition and recommended that it be razed or removed.

EASY TO INSTALL

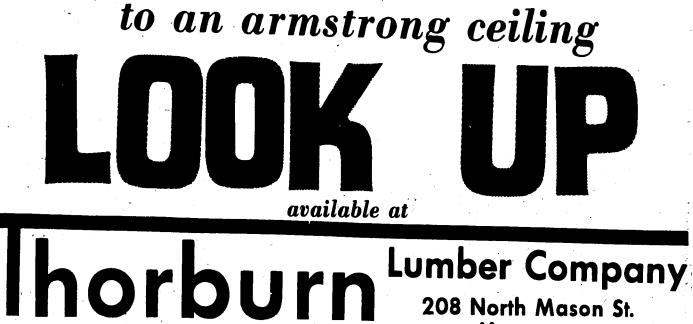

Unlike messy and inconvenient methods of repair, installing an Armstrong ceiling is quick, clean, and easy. Installed by the doit-yourselfer or professional, these ceilings will end your ceiling repair problems.

PRACTICALLY MAINTENANCE-FREE

Although cleaning is rarely necessary, the surface of these Armstrong ceilings is washable. A sponge dampened in mildly soapy water will remove stubborn stains and smudges without harming the finish. Wallpaper cleaner or a gum eraser may be used to remove small stains. In fact, in most homes, an Armstrong ceiling will stay bright and new looking for years.

COST OF A NEW ARMSTRONG CEILING

An Armstrong ceiling is frequently the least costly of any major remodeling, redecorating or building item. For example, Georgian Cushiontone costs about $30 for a 10' x 12' room. Whether you install your new Armstrong ceiling or have the job done professionally, the combination of sound conditioning, high style, and a maintenance-free ceiling make it well worth the price.

At Leslie Church David Treadwell Weds Yvonne Childs

Rev. Dorr Garrett, pastor of Leslie Methodist church, officiated at the wedding rites December 14 which united Miss Yvonne Childs of Leslie and David L. Treadwell of Mason in marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Childs of Leslie are the parents of the bride and Mr. and Mrs. Willard Treadwell of Mason, formerly of Eaton Rapids, are parents of the bridegroom.

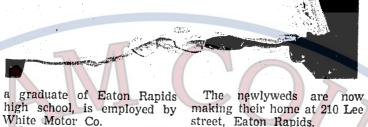

The bride approached the altar on the arm of her father to strains of traditional wedding music gowned in a floorlength dress of lace and net over satin. The long lace sleeves terminated in points over the wrists. A crown of seed pearls held her bouffant veil of illusion and she carried a white orchid on a white Bible.

Miss Carla Lantz of Leslie served the bride as maid of honor. Assisting as bridesmaids were Miss Janice Childs, sister of the bride, and Sue and Carol Hause of Lansing. Best man was William Hall of Eaton Rapids. Ushering guests were Wayne Clone and Jerry Merchant of Eaton Rapids and Sam Graham of Onondaga.

After the ceremony the newlyweds were feted at a reception in the Fireside room of the church. Registering guests was a sister of the bride, Edna Childs. Assisting with gifts was Miss Carla Lantz. Helping at the refreshment table were Miss Jacki Sellers, Miss Sandra Burt, Miss Bonnie Wardowski and Miss Judy Smith.

Mrs. Treadwell was graduated from Leslie high school and is employed at Michigan State university. Her husband,

Baptist Pastor at Holt Dies

HOLT — Funeral services were Saturday afternoon, January 4, at the Gorsline-Runciman funeral home in Lansing for Rev. Robert M. Hall, 2524 Dean street, Holt, pastor of the Holt Baptist church. He died January 2 in a Three Rivers hospital.

The clergyman suffered a stroke while visiting friends in Schoolcraft and was taken by ambulance to Three Rivers.

Rev. Hall was 55 and a native of Middleville. He was graduated from the Middleville high school and the Moody Bible Institute in 1927. He also attended Calvin college and seminary.

Rev. Hall took over the pastorate at the Holt Baptist church in August of 1962 following pastorates in Breckenridge, Minnesota. Earlier pastorates in Michigan were in Factoville, North Athens, Wakesma, Litchfield, Big Rapids, Grand Rapids and Three Rivers.

He is survived by his wife, Jeanette; a daughter, Mrs. Annette Lundberg of Three Rivers; a son, David, of Wheaton, Illinois; 3 grandchildren, a brother, Hugh Hall, of Elkhart, Indiana, and 2 sisters, Mrs. Margret Keegstra of Middleville and Mrs. Florence Gillette of Jackson.

Christian education facilities will rate priority for completion and furnishing in every detail.

The planning committees and the congregation felt this to be an important area in the church program expansion and desired to provile adequate facilities.

The classrooms have large windows with ample light and wills will be painted by members of the congregation befor ceilings are finished.

There are 2 large rooms for activities of the Women's association and youth fellowships and other events of the church.

Grading for the parking lot will be done soon and plans for grading and landscaping and sidewalks will be completed this spring.

The congregation expects to be in the new building for worship in February. Memorial funds will be used for purchasing new song books, pulpit Bible and other furnishings for the church.

Over one-third of Michigan's Lower Peninsula and the entire Upper Peninsula average over 60 inches of snow each year. This combined with Michigan's location -- within 600 miles of over one-third of the nation's population -has increased the use of Michigan winter sport centers twenty-fold in the last 20 years, according to Michigan State University tourist and resort researchers.

Feed Birds in Winter

STOCKBRIDGE - Each year, many birds migrate to a warmer climate and better food.

However, many persons forget that there are many birds that remain in this area during the winter months.

There are those who remember, though, and try to provide food for the chickadees, red birds and others

One youngster was heard to say recently: "After all, don't we owe it to them? What about the service that birds perform for mankind, such as eating harmful insects?"

Many Stockbridge citizens have installed bird feeders in their yards, providing a welcome haven for many a feathered creature.

One young citizen, 12-year-old Faye Camp, says she finds it easy to feed her little friends. She said if nothing else is available, a few bread crumbs scattered about is a welcome sight to a hungry bird.

"So," says she; "Why not make a resolution to help take care of our feathered friends this winter."

Judge Kallman Explains Get-Tough Juvenile Policy

Judge James T. Kallman, has been getting many comments regarding the new "get tough" policy of the court in handling juveniles. Almost all of those comments have been favorable.

However, Judge Kallman issued a statement intended to acquaint the community with the procedures as followed by the court.

"The juvenile officials donot believe that this "get tough" policy is an "attitude of defeatism hiding behind the robe of authority." We feel it is the facing of facts by the authorities involved that waiving this juvenile to circuit court to be tried as an adult is the only possible solution. The final authority for such a decision is the court; and such decisions must, at this point, be based on all the facts available. The question society faces at this point is notwhether punishment will deter lawless conduct on the part of other offenders, but whether society can afford to suffer further damage from the completely lawless and incorrigible youth who is roaming the community. "When proper attitudes and moral standards are taught at home. church and school, only then will we have the beginnings of a victory over our juvenile problems.

"The juvenile officials make a thorough evaluation of each child, his parents and environment. Then the child's problem is discussed with the child and his parents, and a program is established for the purpose of rehabilitating the juvenile. This may include psychological testing and observation of the child while at the juvenile home. If, at all possible, we strive to keep the child with his parents as we feel this is in the best interests of the child, parents and society. In fact, about 95 per cent of our cases are as-

Paul C. Dancer. Stockbridge banker, has lived his entire life in Stockbridge and has found in the village of his birth, success, prominence and a host of friends.

He was born in Stockbridge May 30. 1893, and is now in his 71st year. He attended elementary schools in Stockbridge. and then went on to Stockbridge high school where he graduated in 1911. Then for 2 years he attended Michigan Agricultural college (now Michigan State university) where he played 2nd base on the varsity baseball team which was coached by John Macklin.

After 2 years at MAC he came back to Stockbridge to take a job in his father's bank. His title (and these are his own words) was janitor, bookkeeper and assistant cashier. Today he is president of the bank, the Stockbridge State bank.

In 1944 he married Mrs. Ruth Ellison of Mason. The ceremony was performed in Indianapolis, Indiana. They have 2 daughters and one son, Miss J. H. Dancer. Prior to that he had been secretarytreasurer of the company since 1926.

His brother, Robert Dancer, is president of Dancers and another brother, William G. (Gurn) Dancer is president of the firm known as the Dancer company. All 3 brothers reside in Stockbridge, as does also a sister, Mrs. Sumner Hall.

Dancer has many hobbies, chief of which is deer hunting. He belongs to a club of Stockbridge hunters who have a hunting lodge near Alpena, where he has hunted for the past 44 years. In that time he figures he has bagged about 40 bucks. He went again in 1963 but failed to get his deer.

He also enjoys practically all sports from a spectator standpoint, but baseball he likes best. He played 2nd base with an independent ball club in Stockbridge in his younger days.

He is a former member of the village council and once belonged to the Stockbridge fire department. He is a life member of Stockbridge lodge No. 130, F. & A.M. and served as its treasurer for 35 years.

He has been a member of the Stockbridge Presbyterian church for 50 years and is a regular attendant in the choir.

When World War I broke out he joined the army in 1918 and was stationed at Camp Grant, Illinois, for the duration. He was honorably discharged from service 10 days after the armistice was signed November 11, 1918.

Editorial Comments

Look Who's Talking

Neil Staebler, Michigan congressman-at-large and Democrat for governor, revived old memories over the week end while making some political observations.

Staebler is critical of Governor Romney, the man who he wants to replace, because Romney "treats the legislature like employes and works against them instead of with them." He points out that Romney was unable to give Michigan the fiscal reform it needs and therefore has been an ineffective governor.

This is the same class hatred junk that elected and re-elected ex-Governor G. Mennen Williams. Staebler is credited with the ballot box successes of Williams so it isn't surprising that he is using the same tools to wrap up the state's top job for himself. is credited with writing his script. Romney, in fact, won election with the campaign promise of leadership, capitalizing on the lack of leadership of Staebler's governors.

So it takes a straight face and a strong stomach for Staebler to criticize Governor Romney for failure to work with the legislature. The fact is, Romney has done surprisingly well in rebuilding the confidence between the executive office and the legislature — a re-building job unnecessary had Williams and Swainson done half a job of leadership in the first place.

barbs, praise and Jud Brown

What color glasses do you wear? There are few issues in the world today which are all black or are all white. There are few things which are all right or are all wrong to all people.

It depends on the glasses of the people doing the viewing as to the shade of gray the problems of the world take on.

One person would look at a laughing child and deduce that the child is happy. Another person could look at the same laughing child and deduce that the child was silly. A third person could deduce that the child was hysterical.

To one person a young woman might appear to be friendly. Another person might change the friendliness tag and label the same young woman a flirt.

To one person a law might appear to be his protector. To another person the same law might be an infringement on his freedom.

In other words, individuals interpret events and people according to the color of the interpreter's glasses.

We can wear rose colored glasses and be happy or we can put on the dark ones and be miserable. Very few people have the ability to wear crystal clear glasses and see issues and people as they really are.

That's what makes for so much confusion and controversy in the world.

All of this discussion on glasses brings us around to Joseph J. Kowalski, Democratic leader in the house of representatives.

The Detroit blatherskite (Webster says this means a blustering or noisy talkative fellow with an inclination to nonsense) either has 2 pair of glasses or one pair so opaque nothing can be seen through them.

In his weekly and weakly written letter last week he demonstrated this penchant for seeing things differently and hazily. His subject was leadership. When the Democrats had the governor's office Kowalski directed his venom at legislators for refusing to think as the governor thought. Now with a Republican in the office he is directing his venom at the governor for not thinking like the legislature. It must be his new glasses.

If Kowalski had studied his American government he would not have found any law, unwritten or written, which makes it mandatory for legislatures and governors to see eye to eye. In fact, that's one of the great things about our form of government. The checks and balances of legislature and administrative powers might not be the most efficient but these checks and balances secure our rights to freedom.

Evidently what the Detroit legislator wants is a state legislature that stays out of the way when a Democrat is governor and stays in the way when a Republican holds the office.

Staebler's insinuations are nasty. He introduces the division of employer and employe relationships into the political arena hoping to reap the harvest.

In the first place, where was Staebler when Williams and his relief man, ex-governor John B. Swainson, were harassing the legislature? It was this very sick situation that many political observers credit with finally dooming the tight hold the Democrats once had on the executive office.

There probably has never been a governor in Michigan who went out of his way more often to buck, ridicule and bear false witness against the legislature than Williams and at the expense of Michigan. And all this time, Staebler cess in business and politics. He's too intelligent to really believe Romney is to be condemned for antagonizing the legislature. For better than a decade Staebler aided and abetted his governors who piloted this state into chaos without parallel.

Staebler's secret formula in the past has been to divide groups of Michiganders by pitting one against the other. With his shallow observations over the week end, there is no reason to believe that he knows any different way to campaign.

Michigan people showed they had had enough of Staebler's brand of politics when they defeated his boy wonder, Governor Swainson, 2 years ago. It is conceivable that the people have not yet forgotten the vicious political backbiting which was a way of life while Staebler and his governs reigned. Let's hope so, anyway.

Thanks, Mr. Mackie

Government can be an instrument of action.

That was demonstrated last week by Highway Commissioner John Mackie in rising to do battle with the dangerous US-127-Columbia road intersection at Mason. After city council concern and newspaper editorializing brought the matter to the personal attention of the highway commissioner things started to happen.

Just one week after the 41st accident at the corner brought on the eighth fatality, road experts, including the commissioner himself, descended on Mason in an effort to work out a solution.

First problem was to attempt to come up with a temporary but immediate partial solution. Traffic experts agreed to do this by installing danger signs on US-127 in an attempt to caution north-south motorists.

More important, the overpass scheduled for the intersection was put on a crash program. Originally the overpass was scheduled to be put out for bids in the last quarter of 1965. Last June the project was re-scheduled to be put out for bids in the first quarter of 1965. Thursday Highway Commissioner Mackie personally moved up the schedule to October of this year. It took some doing and will continue to take some doing, especially in the field of right-of-way purchasing and final engineering.

The city council and the people in Mason are grateful for the fast action. The sooner the intersection problem is solved the safer drivers heading west out of Mason or east into Mason will be.

Highway Commissioner Mackie should be complimented for his personal interest in the US-127 problem. Such action as he demonstrated brought state highway agency a little closer to the people in Mason.

The project speedup also indicates that the voice of the people can be heard on local matters if there are people at the state level willing to listen. Five alarms brought out 110 men and 22 pieces of apparatus.

Earlier in the week, 7 firemen were burned, 2 quite seriously, while dealing with a blaze in a residence's attic.

They were victims of a back draft, which is like a giant blowtorch. It happens sometimes when a large quantity of oxygen suddenly reaches whatever is burning.

Comparison of the casualties whatever is burning. vignettes the basis for a complaint fire fighters sometimes voice concerning the public's understanding of their job, and a misplacing of emphasis by the press.

According to firemen, the fire which may appear fairly small and simple to the laymen can offer them more problems and perils than the spectacular 5-alarmer.

With the latter, often there isn't much the firemen can do but stand back and deluge it. They become, in their own opprobrious term, "curbstone firemen."

But when the blaze is what a fire fighter might describe as a "one-alarm working fire," he's usually called on to track the blaze to its treacherous source and deal; with it hand-to-hand.

What this can lead to as a way of life is told by the fact that for one of the 7 back draft victims it was his second painful searing in a week.

The big ones, with hoselines played from the tops of aerial ladders and an engine on every hydrant for blocks around, make the dramatic news photographs and draw the awed crowds.

But as the back draft incident illustrated, the fireman is being sold short if it's supposed that there's not much to it if nothing can be seen from the street except smoke seeping through shingles or a ruddy tinge on a basement window.

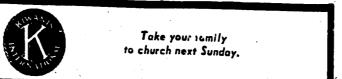

Meditations

Let us run with patience the race that is set before us, looking unto Jesus the author and finisher of our faith. (Hebrews 12:1-2.)

As a young man, I attended the World Christian Endeavor Convention in London. While there I was asked to fill the fourth place on the Irish team for a relay race. I accepted, even though I had no experience in relay racing.

The Irish runners outdistanced the runners on other teams in the first three legs of the race. When I received the baton to begin the last leg, I had a start of several yards. Perhaps halfway to the tape, I tried to look over my shoulder to see if the opponents were gaining on me. At that moment there was an outburst from the Irish onlookers who shouted: "Keep looking ahead." By my foolish attempt to look back, I almost lost the advantage gained by my teammates.

In life, as in a race, there is only one safe rule. We must keep looking toward the goal—to Jesus. When we keep looking to Him, we find new strength and fresh courage. He enables us to win the race.

Two years ago I thought I had seen my last daughter off to school. Yet Monday morning I was back again with another youngster — this time it was our newest daughter, Annelies Herman, 19, an exchange student from Amsterdam who is enrolled in the 12th grade at Mason high school. Annelies has already graduated from high school in the Netherlands. In this country she will attend school, but expects to learn just as many lessons outside of the learned halls of Mason.

Adopting a new daughter had some complicating influences on our family. Our amy and Jennifer, for family. Our Amy and Jennifer, for separate bedrooms. We did our spring house-cleaning early before Annelies arrived so we could make as good a first impression as possible. Now Amy and Jennifer are in one room and although they resisted at first, living together may be the making of those 2 girls.

Tim prefers to bunk alone and that's all right with Annelies who has a room to herself. Mama and Papa changed rooms, too, and the move has the same pleasure of moving into a new house.

At Christmas when we had Jacob Kuriyan from India as our house guest, we agreed that young people from foreign lards contribute more to the enjoyment of a visit than we did. Annelies seems to be the same. Give us a week or 2 and we'll be speaking Dutch. She's giving us lessons at the dinner table.

A few weeks ago, The News ran a picture on this page showing a group of Mason high school girls in 1914. None of the girls were known by those of us at The News, yet several readers wrote to tell us they knew who the girls were. Mrs. Edgar Adams of Muncie, Kansas, and Mrs. E. R. Doolittle of Edinburg, Texas, came through with the right answers. Women on the 1914 girls basketball team were Gladys Robinson, Bernice Dean, Alice Harris, Bernice Bateman, Ruth Grow, Thelma Hilliard, Ruby Hammond, Irene Sweeney, Iza Hannah and Bertha Blanchard.

When L. Swaboda discovered youngsters had cut down one of his Christmas trees and let them off because of his Christmas spirit, the story was picked up by Associated Press wire service and went coast-tocoast. Editor Emeritus Vernon J. Brown sent us a clipping of the story which appeared in the Bradenton, Florida, Herald.

It used to be that the best way to start the new year was to clean house. At the old office building it was a matter of self-preservation to shovel off the desks and hoe out the corners to make room for a whole new year of accumulation. But because we've been in the new building a little over 3 months, there just doesn't seem to be the need for a general new year clean-up. It will probably be different next year.

Church and State Issue Argued a Century Ago

OKEMOS - One hundred and three years ago Decemher 31 a special meeting called the voters of the Meridian school district No. 2 together to discuss a matter which today is still being discussed and which still evokes a great variety of opinions --- state and church.

The following quote is taken from the school officer's record book; this book bound in gray marbleized cover paper with brown leather back binding records the business of the school board from the date of April 21, 1849. District No. 2 has always been known as the Okemos school. Quotes from pages 77 and 78 ----At a special meeting holden at the school house in District No. 2 on the 31st day of December 1860 the following preamble and resolution was offered and approved by a unanimous vote.

"Whereas it has been the custom since this house has been erected to allow its use for religious meetings, Sunday schools, and singing

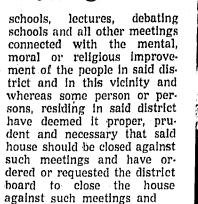

WILLIAMSTON --- Williamston's American Legion hall was a joyous place New Year's Eve with many friends gathering to welcome in the vear 1964:

Sixty-seven couples began arriving at 9:30 p.m. to dance to the music of Jeffery's band. Dancing continued until 3 a.m. with a luncheon being served by the auxiliary at 2 a.m.

The Legion hall was lightedby many colorful lights atop the dance floor and candles on the many tables. At midnight balloons were released down amid the dancers, adding to the excitement of the magic hour.

Colorful hats, noisemakers and streamers, the New Year's tradition, were given to guests. *****

Whereas we as good, peaceable, quiet, moral, inoffensive and religiously inclined citizens are yet too poor to erect churches for religious services and also too poor to build halls of other purposes calculated to elevate the minds, morals and social qualities of this community and would therefore resolve that:

This house of this school house, District No. 2, be opened for religious meetings, Sunday schools, singing schools, lectures, lyceums, debating schools and funerals, orations and all other meetings connected with the mental, moral or religious improvement of the people of this vicinity. Provided always that such meetings shall not interfere with our day school or other school purposes except on funeral occasions,

HE DIDN'T INVENT THE WHEEL but C.Y. Post, Mason mail carrier, improved on it at least as far as postoffice equipment is concerned. The Mason carrier came up with an idea of oversizing the front wheels of his GI mail carrier cart in order that it might mush through snow, mud and ice easier. The idea was submitted to the postoffice great ideas department and Post received a check for his suggestion. Dick Ferris, a member of the district idea committee which evaluated the change, made the presentation Friday.

signs, which would consist of a brick planter with a large wooden signboard in the middle - this will be lighted and. painted to read "Welcome to Williamston, Founded 1836.". Other action was discussed by Chuck Teske as to the possibility of the merchants placing concrete planters in front of their downtown stores. The board members indicated that they hoped the installation of planters would start the ball rolling on a downtown beautifying program.

Also discussed at the meeting was the lack of a Williamston sign at Stockbridge road and Grand River. President Larry Van Tassell said he would contact the highway department and request the erection of signs as soon as possible The Chamber also has greet-

To Discuss Problems Of Teachers

WILLIAMSTON - William. ston Parent-Teacher association will meet January 8 in the high school cafetorium at 8 p.m. and the "T" in PTA will be stressed, according to Car-Fetterolf, vice-president los and program chairman.

Fetterolf said the PTA is often concerned with the problems of parents and children. Therefore, the January meeting has been designed with the school faculties in mind. Richard Adams, a resident of Williamston and employed by the Michigan Education association, will discuss the leacher tenure issue, teacher unions, salaries and other related problems of major im-questions from the floor.

In The Beginning

... God created all things. He gave us science and He gave us religion ... they never conflict. His words and His works harmonize. He can perform both scientific and spiritual miracles. God can take the nucleus, the cell, the molecule and get staggering results. He can also take a body that has almost gone to hell and convert it into a man. The laboratory and the human body are the Lord's work shops. He can pull a switch and set it all to work. He is still saying ... "My thoughts are not as your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways." His church on the corner is a good place to learn that fancied discords blend in perfect harmony. Won't you attend services somewhere this week?

The American Association of Retired Persons is a nonprofit, non-partisan organization of persons age 55 or older - whether retired or not. It is the cooperative enterprise of over a half-million mature persons gaining for themselves and their fellow retirees dignity, security and prestige. Dr. Ethel Percy Andrus, national president of the organization, said that "AARP is the answer for older persens who believe that the way to keep young, maintain independence and dignity as they grow older, is through activity, usefulness and service to others."

Many non-profit services that stretch retirement incomes are offered to members including: a low-cost, mail order drug service, low-cost group tours of Europe, budget priced group insurance, and a special hearing aid service. Members receive the magazine Modern Maturity and the bi-monthly News Bulletin.

Officers in addition to Cardinell, are: Miss Mabel Lilly, vice-president; Mrs. Mason. Anna McFarland, Lansing,

State Raises In for Battle

A unique effect of the new constitution will be seen in the legislature this year in the area of salaries for civil servants.

At stake will be hikes for about 32,000 state employes averaging slightly over 3 percent.

The new constitution provides the legislature may reject or reduce any pay increases authorized by the civil service commission on a twothirds vote within 60 days of submission by the governor. Pay hikes averaging 4 percent went into effect at the beginning of the current fiscal year, more or less with legislative blessing. In several past years, however, agency heads had to adjust other costs to cover payroll expenses because legislative appropriations did not provide funds for raises approved by the constitutionally independent commission.

USDA Crop Insurance Makes Policy Improvement

Three major improvements in the 1964 corn policy offered by the Federal crop Insurance corporation were announced today by Earl Wilson, state director. The bushel guarantee has been increased, the premium rate has not been increased, and loss adjustment methods have been simplified. Wilson stated that these changes will result in more protection for each premium dollar, and provide faster claim service to policyholders.

In Ingham county, the bushel guarantee on corn has been increased by an average of 29 percent; yet the premium rate remains the same as last year. This increase in guarantee results in the highest protection ever offered under an all-risk crop insurance policy. Wheat is also an insured crop in Ingham county.

Federal Crop Insurance is an agency of the United States department of agriculture. Protection is provided against all causes of loss, such as drought, excessive rain, flood, frost, insect infestation, plant disease, hail, wind, wildlife, fire, lightning, snow and all

The Ingham County 4-H Service club invites all 4-H members 15 years of age or older to a skating party at Rayner park, Mason, from 7:30-9 p.m., Saturday, January 11, weather permitting. Otherwise, the program will start at 8 p.m. at Cathy Mc-Dowell's home, 522 E. South street, Mason, where Rex Bul-Ien of Mason, who is a student at Michigan State university, will tell of his peace corps experiences in Venezuela.

Sue Alexander, a Hootenanny enthusiast, of East Lansing (now studying at MSU) will lead folk singing, after which refreshments will be served.

Harold Willis, district director for this area, said that increasing interest was being shown in the new program for 1964. Those desiring additional information may contact the federal crop insurance district office at 4613 N. Grand River avenue, Lansing.

Egg and Turkey

Egg prices during the first half of 1964 should drop 1 to 2 cents per dozen compared with a year ago, point out Michigan State university agricultural economists. Increased production is the cause.

Reaction to these prices may also bring a reduction in the spring hatch of egg-type chicks. If this happens, then producers can look for improvement by the last quarter of 1964. Turkey producers can expect about a 1 cent per pound decrease in prices during 1964.

Slightly higher turkey prices during 1963, are suspected of encouraging a small to moderate expansion in turkey numbers during the coming year.

Pig Crop Down Here in Michigan the 1963

total pig crop was slightly over 1.2 million head, down 8 per cent from a year earlier. The fall pig crop which was down sharply (14 per cent) was largely responsible for the decrease. The number of sows farrowing in 1963, was down 13 per cent from 1962 and 4 per cent below the average.

Farming Expenses Increase

Production expenses on the average Michigan farm jumped $200 in 1963, and that upward trend is expected to continue in 1964.

"Michigan farmers spent about $622 million dollars for production expenses-an increase of $11 million over 1962," reports William A. Tinsley, Michigan State university agricultural economics extension specialist. "We expect a similar increase in 1964, Prices May Drop "These aggregate expenses have been increasing about $8 to $9 million a year over the past decade-an increase of about 1½%. But, because the number of Michigan farms has been declining, production costs per farm have been increasing by about 5%."

While the state average suggests a rather small change in annual farm expenditures, more marked changes are occurring on individual farms. Tinsley cites the records of some 800 cooperators in MSU's mail-in accounting project which shows an increase in farm expenses of about $2,000 since 1958.

Production expenses on these commercial f a r m s amounted to $25,000 in 1962, considerably above the average of $5,500 for the 111,000 Michigan farms. "These farms are not representative of the average farm in Michigan," says Tinsley, "because they have more land and larger total investment." In fact, a large part of the over-all per farm increase in expenditures has come about because farmers have expanded their businessess.

"In 1950, the average value per acre of farm land and buildings in Michigan was $99. This year, the average was

To Discuss Forage Crops

"Five Steps to Five Tons of Alfalfa Per Acre" will be one of the topics discussed at the Dansville town hall at 1 p.m. Thursday, January 16. The subject of forage crops for hay and pasture will be discussed by Dr. Milo Tesar, research specialist and Professor Stuart Hildebrand of the crops science department at Michigan State university. This will be the third meeting of the course in farm crops that is being held at the Dansville town hall, 1 to 4 p.m. There are 27,814 acres of Ingham cropland planted to alfalfa cut for hay. Yields have increased from 1.7 tons per acre in 1949 to 2.7 tons in 1959.

It is a $1,500,000 crop, finding its market as a valuable feed for livestock. Varieties, fertilization, seeding methods, management for larger stands, thick planted corn for green chopping, best crops for enlarging pasture will be discussed.

The topic of small grains and soybeans is being presented January 9 and the last topic of the course on weed con-

New Soybean To Make Bow A limited number of Michigan soybean growers will be able to plant a new diseaseresistant strain called Harosoy 63 next spring. Seed supplies are available to plant about 20,000 acres, according to Stuart Hildebrand, crop extension specialist at Michigan State university. The new seed is similar to the regular Harosoy variety - popular among growers in the southern part of the state - except it contains a resistance to phytophthora root rot.

Hildebrand points out that this root rot has been a destructive disease in northern Ohio for several years. The disease has been found in Michigan's Lenawee and Monroe counties during the past few years. It has also been present to a small degree in Gratiot, Ingham and Shiawassee counties. The disease occurs most frequently in patches in the low areas of a field. Plants can be attacked at any stage of development. Reduced yields are the result.

"One way to avoid substantial losses in yield and quality of any crop is to take ad-

Cattle feeders can expect 1964 prices to remain steady or push slightly lower due to continuing increase in fed beef production, say Michigan State university agricultural economists.

February 3-7

Farmers' Week at MSU To Offer Many Programs

ings.

"Michigan Agriculture Grows With Michigan'' is the theme for the 49th annual Farmers' Week at Michigan State university scheduled for February 3-7, at East Lansing.

Numerous educational sessions will provide the state's farmers with the latest information on efficient production throughout the special midwinter week. Special exhibits will also help show some of the latest methods adapted for our "space-age" agricultural society.

Monday sessions will be of particular interest for dairymen. State dairy breed associations will hold annual meetings and special awards will be presented at the evening all-breeds dairy banquet. Jim Hays, retired dairy extension specialist, will present his widely-known talk entitled 'Bovine Architecture.'

TUESDAY SESSIONS

The agricultural economics department program will highlight manpower, food and markets affecting Michigan agriculture. They will take a close look at changing markets both in the U.S. and abroad, manpower in the 1970's and state legislation geared to improving the marketing picture. Valuable experiences and ideas will also be presented for getting started in farming today.

A new idea in dairy housing, free-stalls, is gaining popularity among farmers throughout the state and, will be discussed at a Tuesday session. Cleaner cows, better materials handling and efficient use of power are several of the scheduled subtopics.

Tuesday will also be sugar beet day as growers gather to hear about weed control, the sugar situation through the eyes of a congressman and new varieties. Horticulturists will discuss growing top quality fruit and nuts during the day.

The new egg law and Michigan's Seal of Quality as it relates to the consumer will highlight the poultry session. A producer, marketing agency representative and consumer marketing agent will discuss cultural committee of the WEDNESDAY SESSIONS Synthetic plant growing mixes, growth regulators, controlled atmosphere, infrared heating and plastic greenhouses will interest vegetable and bedding plant growers during the day.

Beekeepers, maple syrup producers, goat raisers and professional dairy farmers will also hold special meetwill

Four poultry producers usscientists. ing different management methods will discuss various cost cutting opportunities. Scientists will also take a peek at the laying hen of the future.

Dairy experts will approach successful herd improvement by analyzing the common practices among 78 Michigan dairymen. Both good and bad ideas, common to a large number of these owners, will be outlined. Crops men will hear the latest reports on corn, small grains, beans and soybeans during a morning session. During the afternoon, many people will elect to take in the joint departmental program on forage crops.

Economists will analyze the current farm labor situation to help farmers better understand some of the unique problems.

Animal waste disposal-a never-ending problem on most farms---will be the order of the day in the agricultural engineering building.

THURSDAY SESSIONS

Centennial farm owners will hear 4 Michigan legislators report on the new constitution at a morning session. Gover-George Romney is nor scheduled to speak to the group at their noon luncheon. Economists will have tips for keeping farming dynamic and highly-competitive at their morning session. Telfarm and the use of electronic computers in modern agriculture are slated during the afternoon. The annual farm management banquet will recognize top farmers view" of some new ideas now being investigated. Hay wafering, safety tips for slowmoving vehicles and narrow row harvesting equipment also be reported by Michigan's newest weed. the Giant Fox Tail, will highlight a chemical weed control session. This pesky weed can 3- A POPULAR FORM OF SKI reduce corn yields by as much as 30 per cent with little effort.

FRIDAY SESSIONS Muck farmers will duscuss celery, carrots, head lettuce, mint, sod and field crop production on organic soils during their meetings. Community development, rabbits and the annual bred ewe sheep sale will round out the activities scheduled for Friday. Special programs of interest to homemakers and youth will also be held during the week.

Exhibits will be on display in many buildings and at Spartan stadium throughout the week.

Detailed programs listing times, names and places are available from county extension offices.

"We're looking for high quality trees which are fast growing and resistant to disease and insects.'

Wright points out that the red pine (or Norway pine as it is sometimes called) accounts for about half of Michigan's 1.4 million acres of forest plantations. And the western part of the lower peninsula seems to be the best place to go for the best natural varieties.

"We've found that red pine grown from seed collected around Grand Traverse, Manistee and Charleviox counties are growing 5 to 10 per cent faster than seedlings originating in other areas such as the upper peninsula and Quebec," contends Wright.

The search for better red pine varieties began some 30 years ago when scientists started making an inventory of natural trees and their variations. Then, about 5 years ago, seeds from all parts of the natural range were collected and grown in the Bogue forest research nursery on the MSU campus.

When the seedlings were 3 years old, they were shipped via airplane to 13 different localities in Michigan, Wisconsin, Kansas, Nebraska, Indiana and Minnesota. Air travel allowed the trees to be lifted out of the ground in the afternoon and re-planted in any one of the field test plantations the next morning.

Another step aimed at putting a better red pine in Michigan forests will be taken this

Don't Allow Yourself To Be Run Over By Low Prices!

Ask yourself honestly - What will it be next year? There is a solution - COOPERATION. Support a farm organization that is:

1. Bargaining for fair prices for farm products based on production costs plus a reasonable profit through contracts with processors.

2. Supporting farm legislation that will increase farm income and farmers' bargaining power. This includes supporting the basic principle of the Feed Grain Program and working for immediate cutback of imports.

3. Helping farmers price their products just as other businesses price their goods and services.

* * * * * * *

THE NFO OFFERS A PLAN WHEREBY FARM-ERS CAN STAY IN BUSINESS IF THEY WILL SIMPLY BE BUSINESS PEOPLE ON THEIR OWN FARMS.

Farmers joining the NFO sign a three-year membership agreement. This authorizes their elected NFO bargaining committees to represent them at the bargaining table with processors. The contracts with the processors cannot be activated until approved by a two-thirds vote of the members affected. Pending this approval, members market as usual.
