Delhi Loses Ground

Maple Grove Vote OK's City Merger

That section of the Maple Grove school district lying north of Interstate highway 96 will become a part of the city of Lansing in June.

The school district, the city of Lansing and that portion of Delhi township outside Maple Grove all voted Tuesday to annex the Maple Grove area politically to Lansing.

C. Ross Hilliard, Ingham county clerk, said the area will become a part of Lansing 60 days after the election or about June 28.

The board of canvassers will meet Thursday to canvass the vote and then necessary papers will be prepared certifying the election to the secretary of state.

The annexation of the Maple Grove school district to the Lansing school district will come to a vote later.

Educators pointed out Wednesday that the procedure is this: The Maple Grove school district will submit a petition to the Lansing board requesting annexation. This petition then must be approved by the superintendent of public instruction. If approval is given the Maple Grove board then will set an election to vote on the merger of the 2 school districts. If the Lansing board decides to assume the bonded indebtedness of the Maple Grove district and spread the debt over the Lansing district then only will there be an election in Lansing.

Inside the Maple Grove district the voters cast 467 yes votes in favor of annexation to 376 no votes, in Delhi township, outside the Maple Grove district the vote was 261 yes votes to 191 no votes. In the city of Lansing the vote was 3,276 in favor of annexation and 2,249 against it.

Unofficial figures on the vote by precincts inside Maple Grove and in that portion of Delhi township outside Maple Grove follow:

Inside Maple Grove
Precinct 3 of Delhi township	Yes--241	No--222
Precinct 8 of Delhi township	Yes--226	No--154
Totals	467	376
Delhi Township Outside Maple Grove
	Yes	No
Precinct 1	78	32
Precinct 3	6	16
Precinct 4	43	33
Precinct 5	43	45
Precinct 6	42	20
Precinct 8	11	19
Precinct 9	38	26
Totals	261	191

The newly annexed area of Maple Grove covers about 2 1/2 square miles. It lies southwest of Lansing in the northwest corner of Delhi township. The annexed area has a population estimated by township officials of 3,571 persons. Maple Grove's boundary line on the east follows a line on Haag road, then east a block to the 5600 block of Miller road. The west boundary line is Waverly road, the south is I-96 and the north is Jolly road.

While annexation becomes effective probably within a week, the actual transfer of properties in the area to the city probably will require about 30 days, township officials said.

Democrats To Meet

Supervisors will meet in Mason Friday for the adjourned portion of the April supervisors meeting. Main item of business will be the consideration of the equalization committee report.

Two appointments will also be made to fill vacancies on the Tri-County planning commission.

Ingham county Democrats will gather at the court house in Mason Wednesday, May 13, at 8 p.m. for the county convention of the party. Former Governor John B. Swainson will be the keynote speaker.

Chairman of arrangements for the convention is James McClure of Haslett. His committee chairmen are Bruce King, Lansing, resolutions; Lloyd La Cappare, Lansing, permanent order of business, and Kenneth Hope, Holt, credentials.

The convention will elect delegates to the state convention in Lansing in June.

Candidates Lacking For School Election

A special appeal went out from school authorities in Mason this week to citizens asking that candidates for the posts of school board members at the June 8 election, come forward and pick up their petitions.

Petitions are available at the offices of Superintendent James H. VanderVen at the junior high school. The deadline for signed petitions to be returned is Saturday, May 9 at 4 p.m. All that is needed to gain a place on the ballot is a minimum of 25 signatures of registered electors on the petition.

At the June 8 election voters will select 3 persons to fill 2 vacancies for 4 year terms and one for a one year term on the board.

Glenn E. Oesterle and W. Oren Hall, board members, whose terms expire June 30, have announced they will not seek reelection. Robert Leonard whose one-year term expires June 30, has announced he will seek election to a 4-year term. He was appointed to the board last year to fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of Clairmont Everitt.

"We are badly in need of candidates," VanderVen said. "We urge qualified citizens to step forward and become candidates for the posts which will be vacated July 1 of this year."

Allocation Board Is In Session

Thursday is the day a battle will be renewed as townships, school districts and the county board of supervisors present their budgets to the tax allocation board and start the scramble for the 15 mills available for taxation.

The tax allocation board meeting at the court house will probably find the same old story--not enough millage to go around. The tentative budget called for by the county board of supervisors means that the county is going to demand a millage increase to the 6-mill mark. Some of the townships are sure to put in a request. The schools have given indications that they will be asking for more of the tax pie.

Final determination is up to the allocation board composed of Supervisor John Patriarche, chairman of the county and means committee, County Treasurer Harry Spenny, Vernon Ebersole, Lansing school board member representing the largest school district, Charles R. MacLean, representing the largest township, Lucile Belen, Lansing supervisor, and Alton Stroud, superintendent of the Ingham intermediate school district.

New Schedule

Patrons of the Mason Post Office are requested to mail earlier in the day due to a change in train schedules. Mail which formerly left the Mason post office at 2:30 P.M. now leaves at 12:50 P.M. Mail must be deposited in the Mason post office no later than 12:00 noon to provide adequate time for cancelling and sorting for this dispatch.

Prosecutor Asks Ruling On 'Obscenity'

The Ingham county prosecutor's office has filed with the Ingham county circuit court an action to prevent the further distribution on loan by the Lansing public library of the book, 'Tropic of Cancer,' by Henry Miller, Prosecutor Leo A. Farhat announced this week.

Farhat explained that this action is not a criminal, but rather a civil action in which the court is being asked to make a judicial determination of the obscenity or non obscenity of the book.

"If a deterioration is made that this book is obscene, we ask for an injunction against the Lansing board of education, as controller of the Lansing public library, ordering the board of education and all its members, agents and employees to cease distributing or loaning this book and to refrain from any future distribution or loan of this book," Farhat said in a statement.

FFA Boys Tap Trees For Profit

Mason FFA members had a vintage year for their initial start in the maple syrup business. This year they took over the Paul Scherer sugar bush north of town, tapping 400 trees and hanging 1,000 buckets under the direction of FFA adviser Mike O'Malley. With 50 members and some teacher volunteers operating the bush the chapter came up with 262 gallons, most of which has been sold. They are still taking orders, though.

Money made from the project is going toward setting up a swine chain, a spring banquet and a week's trip through the Upper Peninsula.

Hearing Set On Transfer

The Clinton and Ingham Intermediate boards of education will conduct a hearing May 4 in the offices of the East Lansing Board of Education at 8 p.m. to consider the transfer of an area in DeWitt township in the Gun-isonville school district south of New York Central railroad and west to Chandler road in Clinton county to the East Lansing school district.

The meeting will be open to owners of property in the area and others interested. Alton J. Stroud, secretary of the Ingham Intermediate board, said.

Islands Beckon Inco Graphics

Sheldon Bibbins, of the Ingham County News and Inco Graphics, is in the Virgin Islands this week and next week giving technical assistance to the Daily News.

Inco Graphics offers consulting service to newspapers being converted to offset printing. While Inco Graphics has served as a consultant to various Michigan newspapers, this is the first request from out of the country. The Daily News is located in St. Thomas. Plans call for the Daily News to convert to web offset in about 6 months. Bibbins' trip is the initial step in the conversion program.

Books Needed

Books are needed to fill the shelves of the Mason Jefferson street junior high school. The library project is being undertaken by the Honor Society. The society is seeking biographies, books on Michigan and historical books.

Mason Hires 5 Teachers

Employment of 5 new teachers for the Mason school system during the 1964-65 year was approved by the board of education in a special meeting last Wednesday night.

The 5 are: Rexine Glynn who will teach the 2nd grade at the Cedar street school. She has a B.A. degree from Michigan state university, taught at the Alaledon school in 1962-63 and is now attending MSU. She resides on Meridian road.

Dorothy Brooks, now teaching at Big Rapids, will teach either art or vocal music here next year. She has a Master's degree from Michigan State university.

Elaine Steinberger of Long Beach, New York, has a B.A. degree and is now teaching in New York City. She will teach an elementary grade here.

Lorraine Boner who has a B.A. degree from Boston university and Maureen Aver, with a B.A. degree from Wisconsin State college, will teach in elementary schools here under elementary provisional certificates.

Tax Sale Deadline Is Near

County Treasurer Harry Spenny has established some special hours to enable delinquent tax payers to pay up and remove their property from the May tax sale lists.

The treasurer's office will be open Saturday from 8 to 12 and from 6 to 9 on Monday night. The tax sale will start Tuesday morning at the court house beginning at 10. It will be a short session Tuesday but Wednesday those still on the state tax list will all be sold off for the back taxes.

The original 1964 back tax list had 1,063 parcels listed as up for grabs. Of these 600 are still on the list with the rest redeemed through the payment of back taxes.

School Theft Brings Arrest

A Leslie high school junior was awaiting circuit court arraignment Wednesday on a charge of taking money from 3 boxes in a filing cabinet of the principal's office at Leslie high school.

Cecil Winslow, 17, was arraigned before Justice Leonard Rouse in Leslie Tuesday on a charge of larceny from a building. He waived examination and was bound over to circuit court on bond of $500. Up to Wednesday the bond had not been furnished and Winslow is in the Ingham county jail to await his court appearance scheduled for Friday.

Deputy Donald Haynes, marshalled at Leslie, said Winslow admitted going to the high school Sunday morning between 7:30 and 8:30, entering through a window he found unlocked on the east side of the building and making his way to the door of the principal's office. Haynes quoted Winslow as saying he opened this door with a paring knife, took the money and left by the gymnasium door.

Teenagers Schedule Fund Drive

About 60 Mason teenagers will start out next Sunday at 1 p.m. to ring doorbells in a city-wide solicitation for funds to aid leukemia stricken American children.

The goal in the campaign is $1,000 and the solicitation of funds will continue for 4 hours or until 5 p.m. The solicitors will be aided by ham radio operators. Four of these are Harold Hill Jr., Pete Hill and Ron Andrews, all of Mason, and Leon Clark of Lansing. A 5th operator is yet to be named.

The city will be divided into 5 sectors with a platoon leader in charge of each sector. One radio car will be assigned to each sector to aid the solicitors if needed. Fred Fillingham is in charge of the 4-hour campaign.

Aid for Leukemia Stricken American children (ALSAC) is known from the work in behalf of these stricken children at St. Jude Research hospital for children which was started by Danny Thomas, Hollywood and TV celebrity.

No

Voters in the Sheridan Road school district, lying north of Lansing in DeWitt township, went to the polls Tuesday and defeated a proposal to annex the district to the city of Lansing by casting 188 no votes to 72 yes votes.

Under the law, if voters living within an area proposed to be annexed vote in opposition to it, the proposal is lost.

Lansing voters cast 3,144 yes votes and 2,292 no votes on the proposition.

NUTRITIVE VALUE of dairy products was brought to light for 2 local girls, Trudy Thorburn and Ida Webster, when they attended the 1964 4-H Dairy Foods Conference at the Kellogg Center in Lansing last week.

4-Hers Study Michigan's Creative Dairy Industry

Trudy Thorburn of Mason and Ida Webster of Williamston were among more than 80 4-H girls from throughout the state who studied the Michigan dairy industry during the 1964 4-H Dairy Foods Conference at Michigan State University's Kellogg Center, April 19-21.

The program, the first of its kind in Michigan, was designed to teach young women the nutritive value of dairy products and create an appreciation for the Michigan dairy industry through knowledge of career opportunities in marketing and promotion of dairy products.

Major emphasis throughout the program was on giving these young women a better understanding of dairy foods and teaching them to serve as resource persons in their respective home counties.

Dr. Charles Stine, associate professor of food science at Michigan State University, spoke on the new dairy products available to Michigan families.

"Freeze-dried foods are becoming more and more popular," Dr. Stine said. "Foods with high water content, such as cottage cheese and shrimp, are first frozen and dried under a high vacuum." He pointed out that this process and another, spray-dried foods, are being used on many of today's dairy products. "Food milk, because of its low butterfat content, is creating much appeal," he noted, "especially to people on restricted fat diets."

Other Michigan State University speakers on the program were: Dr. Malcolm Trout, professor of food science, who outlined new developments in cheese; Dr. Dena Cederquist, chairman of foods and nutrition, who spoke on teen-age nutrition and its impact on today's youth; and Dr. Charles Lassiter, chairman of the dairy department, who mapped out Michigan's dairy industry.

In addition to the speakers, these young women entered into panel and group discussions on how they could improve the dairy industry in their own counties.

Anyone interested in having these girls speak at meetings should contact the 4-H extension office.

2. Money orders will not be issued on Saturdays. Rural carriers shall not accept money order applications from their patrons on Saturdays. Patrons are requested to purchase their money orders during the week.

3. Only one service window will be open to the public from 8:00 AM to 12:00 Noon on Saturdays. Stamps are also available from the vending machine in the post office lobby. 5¢ stamps may be purchased with either a nickel or a quarter and two 4¢ stamps are available by the use of a dime. U. S. coins only must be used.

made in youth arrests such as driving, drinking and morals and other type of trouble that young people get in to. He stressed the importance of young people being individuals and making their own decisions as to their own character and moral convictions rather than being swayed by the crowd.

There is a tendency today for youth to want to be accepted by the crowd and in doing so it quite often leads to trouble," Preadmore said.

He challenged the young people to stand up for their own convictions.

An interesting question and answer period followed.

Death Claims Walter Foster

Coronary thrombosis claimed the life of a Mason man Saturday, Walter W. Foster, born in Oxford, Ontario, Canada, December 25, 1879, died at his home after a few hours of illness. He was 84.

Masonic services were conducted Tuesday afternoon from Jewett funeral home by F. and A. M. No. 872 of Holt. Pallbearers were Emory Dirling, Howard Chappell, Alfred Balyard, Walter Robinson, Dallas Langham and Franklin Crossgrove. Burial was in Maple Grove cemetery.

Mr. Foster was also a member of the Mason Church of Christian Scientist, Loris Curtis, reader, conducted the services. Mr. Foster is survived by nieces and nephews.

DARE Plea Rejected

DANSVILLE — The Ingham Township board and the Dansville Village council met in joint session Monday night to consider the dump problem and a request by D.A.R.E. for financial support.

The combined boards approved fencing of the dump area to control disposal of rubbish and reduce fire hazards. The Village Council will select an attendant at its next regular meeting to manage the dump. The village has a 99 year lease on the dump property, which is located off Howard road, just east of Williamson road adjoining the state conservation land.

The dump was closed 2 weeks ago by Melvin Battige Dansville Fire Chief. A fire burned out nearly 150 acres before being brought under control. A combination of burnable rubbish and lack of rain created a serious fire hazard.

A committee of 4 was appointed to arrange for the erection of the fence. Representing the village on the committee are, Tom Cooper and James Call. Wayne Taylor and James Ridgeway are the township trustees on the committee.

A communication from the D.A.R.E. board of directors pointed out that the registration fee for the recreation program would be eliminated if the township and village voted to underwrite the cost of the program director. This action by D.A.R.E. was made because of objection that the fee would price out too many youngsters who could not afford it. A lengthy discussion followed and a motion that the village and township pay the director's salary died for lack of support. More arguments pro and con followed but no action was taken.

The Dansville post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars requested financial support for the Memorial Day services, at Fairview cemetery. The request was approved.

Golfers Take Shamrocks

Mason's golf team topped Gabriels Tuesday night at the Mason course 162-183.

This was supposed to be Mason's rebuilding year, according to Coach John Axford, but he has come up with a young squad which has compiled a 4-1 record in league play.

Against Gabriels Ron Reynolds was medalist with a team record breaking one-under-par 35. Dave Lewis was next with 39, Ward Clark came in with 44 and so did Brian Johnson.

For Gabriels Skip Walcott had a 42; Larry Curtin, 45; Ted Palmer, 46; and Jim Walcott, 50.

Tennis Team Wins 2 More

Mason's red hot tennis squad added 2 more victories in action over the last 7 days. Thursday Mason stopped Holt 3-2 and on Tuesday Mason swept Waverly 8-0.

Against Holt Bill Strait came up with his best day of the season by stopping Mike Bostrum, another good tennis player, 7-5, 6-2. Gary Blood beat Greg VanHoeten 6-0 6-3. In the other singles game Holt's Rick VanHoeten stopped Dennis Browers 10-12, 3-6.

In doubles play Strait and Dave Plotzke teamed for a win. Dan Webster and Blood won their match and Jeff Cotton and Greg Lamberston came out on top.

Tree Planters

Fourteen boy scouts of Troop 62 last Tuesday planted 1,400 pine trees in various areas around Mason. The troop is planning a Court of Honor, Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the Cedar street school basement.

IN LOVING MEMORY of our father, son, brother and uncle, Donald R. Vickers, who passed away April 30, 1960. Sadly missed by Mr. and Mrs. Dale Cole, Rodney Vickers, Mr. and Mrs. George Vickers, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Weise, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Baker and family. 18w1p

Masonic Officers Help Hail Leslie Festival

Leslie Council No. 50, Royal and Select Masons, observed the 50th anniversary of its annual strawberry festival last Saturday night at the Masonic Temple with approximately 250 persons in attendance.

The Super Excellent Master degree was conferred on a class of 13 candidates. The candidates, known as the Golden Festival class, included the following: Frank K. Baldwin, Darwin L. Cole, Joy O. Davis, Dewayne R. Evans, Floyd Evert, James Gildart, Max R. Harvey, Howard J. Haven, Robert J. Ingham Jr., Berneth V. Odell, Franklin W. Sassaman, Hazen S. Shults and Nathan G. Shults.

Several distinguished guests attended the event, including Arthur M. Rozelle, Most Illustrious Grand Master of Michigan; Charles M. Muir of Sarnia, Ontario, Most Illustrious Grand Master of Ontario.

During the afternoon wives of the Masons attended a style show staged through the courtesy of the J. C. Penny company store of Jackson.

Several persons present were recipients of life membership and honorary membership certificates. Lee Jay Herrick of Charlotte, Thrice Illustrious Master, gave the address of welcome at the dinner which was featured by the serving of strawberry shortcake and ice cream in keeping with the name of the festival.

The feature of the Festival was an address by Donald E. Bodley, Ph.D., the rector of the Episcopal Church in Adrian, an active member of all the branches of Masonry. Basing his remarks upon the fable of Aesop concerning the mice who threatened by extinction by the cat, could come up with no better solution than that of hanging a bell upon her, he declared "unless we men, rather than mice, can make use of the creative powers and imaginations

God has given us, we, like the mice in the fable, are as surely faced with extinction by that old black cat which I shall name Complacency or satisfaction with the status quo."

Kenneth Luther of Sarnia introduced officers of Riblah Council of Sarnia and Herrick introduced the officers of Leslie Council. Ralph Rhodes of Onondaga introduced the members of the Golden Festival class. Arvid R. North of Mason introduced the distinguished guests, Charles M. Muir of Sarnia spoke briefly and Arthur N. Rozelle introduced the Grand Council officers.

Earl DeBar of Gladwin received a life membership certificate in Leslie Council. It was a coincidence that DeBar presided over the Silver Anniversary Festival twenty-five years ago as he was Master of the Council at that time. Emory Barr of Mason was also scheduled to receive a similar certificate, but was unable to attend.

Two honorary memberships were granted by Leslie Council. As a humorous sideline to the presentation, each of the recipients, Grand Master Rozella and Donald Bodley, had been led to believe that he was to present the certificate to the other. The Strawberry Festival was started in 1914 by William H. Johnston, Most Illustrious Grand Master. Johnston died about 12 years ago.

Officers of Leslie Council, R. & S.M. include the following: Lee Jay Herrick, thrice Illustrious master; George C. Elliott, deputy master; Homer H. Snyder, principal conductor of the work; Robert A. Osborne, treasurer; Arvide R. North, chaplain; Donald R. Barto, captain of the guard; Ralph B. Rhodes, conductor of the Council; Eugene M. Mulkey, steward; George J. Karslake, marshal; and George Walker, sentinel.

Mason Defeats Holt

Mason's baseball team came up with a 1-0 win over Holt Thursday. It was strictly a pitcher's duel between Mason's Mike Doolittle and Holt's Pat Brown.

Doolittle held the Rams to 3 hits and with Jim Roberts getting 2 of them. Mason had trouble getting the bat on the ball, too. The Bulldogs got to Brown for 4 hits with Jim Bodrie getting 2 of them and Roger Hill adding a double to go along with Gary Underwood's single.

Underwood's single was actually the big hit of the game. It came in the first inning after Rober Remar had walked and taken second on an infield out. Underwood then stepped to the plate and singled Remar home for what proved to be the game's only run.

Mason had a hard time in the field, committing 3 errors, but they came at times when they didn't cost runs.

Holt batters had a hard time with Doolittle's pitching. He struck out 12 and none got beyond first base.

As I See It

By Hayden Palmer

The well known saying that little children are usually the ones that suffer most, became a reality last week for a Stockbridge lad . . . at least for a few minutes.

Dale, 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Wright lost and recovered his most prized possession, bringing anguish and happiness, all within the space of a few minutes.

It all started when fire broke out in the family's rented home about 2 miles south of Stockbridge. The fire, caused by a defective chimney, was confined to the upper floors, but filled the entire house with smoke.

Everything was saved but Dale couldn't find his pet, a white rabbit which he had come to love dearly and with the loss, his world just about collapsed.

"Buddy" as the rabbit had been named had been last seen before the fire, somewhere in the house. A fireman who had just left the house heard Dale tearfully telling a spectator about the missing "Buddy" and with a knowing smile, went back and returned with the rabbit who had been hiding in the kitchen.

Dale's tears quickly disappeared as a happy reunion took place and the rabbit nestled in his owner's arms.

A surprise birthday party was planned to honor Mrs. Byron Stanfield the other evening in Munith. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Harr, invited her sisters and their families to their home for a gala event. The guests arrived—all but the guest of honor. It was then learned that Mrs. Stanfield had been taken sick, was confined to her bed and could not attend.

The Lansing Junior Chamber of Commerce, is busy promoting the Miss Lansing pageant this year to select a young woman in the Lansing area to represent the city in the state contest at Muskegon later on. The winner of that contest goes on to Atlantic City to compete for the title of Miss America.

Lansing is looking for entries from Mason. Mason has many nice looking young women who could enter the contest which is conducted on a high plane and worth attention. Michigan girls have won the big event at Atlantic City and the most recent one came from a town smaller than Mason.

Mrs. James J. Rutherford of Lansing called the other day to tell of the giant-bridge tunnel which has been built across Chesapeake Bay in her native Virginia.

The bridge-tunnel is 1½ miles long and cost $200,000,000. To build it engineers dug two trenches in the bay, created 4 islands and linked them and the shores with steel and concrete.

The construction of the span has been called the top engineering project in the entire world. The bridge, which opened April 15, links Virginia's tidewater with the state's eastern shore, will cut off 70 miles on a trip from New York to Norfolk, Virginia, and points south, including Florida.

Mrs. Rutherford is proud of the project in her home state but even more so by reason of the fact that the chairman of the commission which supervised the building of the behemoth is her cousin, Lucius Kellam.

Construction work on the bridge-tunnel started in September, 1960, and was completed this month.

Now comes Rodney Couling of 10250 Rossman highway, Dimondale who says all this talk about Nubian goats being rare animals in these parts is for the birds.

Nubian goats, according to Couling, are among the most numerous breeds of goats in Michigan. He ought to know as he owns a herd of 29 such animals.

All this started because of a story which appeared in the Ingham County News from Stockbridge that a boy down there had 2 Nubian goats as pets which were declared in the story to be rare in Michigan.

Not so, says Couling, who points out that he knows a farmer over near Park Lake who has a herd of 15 Nubians. "And they don't fly either," says Couling, still referring to statements in the Stockbridge story. "They have long ears and that is a sign of good breeding. They also have Roman noses, also a sign of good breeding."

As to the colors of Nubian goats, Couling says his are "all colors." For instance, he said he has orange and gray goats, chocolate goats, and one blue roan with silver ears.

Simazine OK'd As Weed Killer

Simazine has been approved for weed control in stone fruit and pear orchards, according to a Michigan State university horticulturist.

Dr. R.P. Larsen reports that the United States department of agriculture and the food and drug administration recently added simazine to the list of approved chemicals for weed control in bearing peaches, pears, plums and sweet cherries.

Non-bearing and bearing apples and pears should be treated with four pounds of simazine and two pounds of amtrite. Non-bearing trees should be established for more than one year.

Bearing peach, sour cherry, sweet cherry and plum trees should receive two to four pounds of simazine per acre. This should be applied in early spring prior to extensive weed growth and when quackgrass is two to four inches high, points out Larsen.

State Police Verify Poor Teen Driving

How good or how bad are young drivers in Michigan?

The answer is given in a new state police study of their accident record which shows that as a group they suffer badly by comparison with older drivers, according to Commissioner Joseph A. Childs.

Last year 59,634 or 13.6 per cent of all drivers involved in accidents in Michigan were under 20 years of age, while another 68,223, or 15.8 per cent, were in the 20-24 year age group. This means that 127,857, or 29.6 per cent -- nearly 3 out of 10 -- of all drivers involved in accidents during 1963 were under 25 years of age.

In rural accidents, 15.9 per cent of the drivers were under 20 years represented 7.1 per cent 20-24 years, a total of 33.2 per cent, or one out of 3.

According to an estimate by the National Safety Council, drivers under 20 years represented 7.1 per cent of the driving population while those 20-24 accounted for 10.6 per cent.

Childs said that "if we can assume that this same percentage applied to Michigan in 1963, teenage drivers had almost twice as bad an accident involvement record with relation to the driving population and the total number of accidents, while those 20-24 had nearly one and one-half times as bad a record."

The state police study showed that drivers under 20 years of age violate more frequently than older drivers. The most common violation is that driving "too fast for conditions" or in excess of established speed limits. The most common type of accident is running off the roadway.

Why do young drivers have worse accident records? Childs gives several reasons.

"More mistakes can be expected during the driving learning process," he said. "Then, it takes some seasoning to acquire the ability to make sound judgement and adjust to changing roadway, traffic and weather conditions."

"This also is the age when there is a tendency to rebel against restraints. Young people are more prone to drive too fast. And finally, en route to and from social affairs they frequently become so engrossed in each other that the driver diverts his attention from the job of making certain they reach their destination safely."

Regardless of the record, however, Childs said "it is quite generally agreed that teen-age drivers who have completed approved driver education courses have a much better accident and violation record than those without this training."

State Police Give Welcome

For the eighth year in succession, the Michigan state police will hold their annual open house at each post Tuesday, May 19, Hospitality Day of Michigan Week, it is announced by Commissioner Joseph A. Childs.

Visiting hours at the East Lansing post will be from 8 A.M. to 8 P.M., according to Sgt. Carl Harrison, commanding officer.

All are invited, Sergeant Harrison said. Visitors will be escorted on tours of the post and see an exhibit of equipment and facilities. Questions will be answered and information given on the services provided.

Probate Judge Announces Adoption Cost Increase

Ingham County Probate Judge James T. Kallman announces that effective May 1, 1964, the fee to be paid by adopting parents to the Michigan Children's Aid Society will be increased from $250 to $200.

The Michigan Children's Aid Society presented facts and figures to substantiate their request for an increase in fees; and after several conferences between the probate court and officials of the Michigan Children's Aid Society, the increase was approved.

The United Community Chest of Ingham County issued a policy statement on fees in 1958 which reads as follows:

"We recognize that there is a need to subsidize services. Nevertheless, the duties of agencies should be to collect as much of the cost as is practicable."

"We believe that no one should be denied services because of inability to pay. By the same token we believe that, in many instances the charging of fees by

The East Lansing post is located at 714 S. Harrison rd., East Lansing and is easily identified.

The success of open house has been increasing each year and many look forward to the program, Sgt. Harrison said.

Michigan Week is being observed from May 17 through May 23 and in addition to open house, the State flag will be flown all week at each post.

agencies, either upon partial, or full cost basis, as the individuals case may indicate, constitutes a justifiable part of the income of the agency. Further, such policy will enable those individuals with ability to pay, to do so."

This is also the feeling of the court that no services will be denied because of an inability to pay such fees.

LISTEN TO WHAT OUR TOUGHEST CRITICS HAVE TO SAY

You would have to search long and hard to find a tougher critic of cars than the average Cadillac owner.

For those who have owned and driven this great car over the years have become accustomed—year in and out—to the finest that motoring can offer.

And yet, occasionally, there comes along a car of such dazzling prowess that it inspires their most lavish and unstinted praise. The 1964 Cadillac is such a car.

Listen to a few current Cadillac comments:

"It took my breath away the first time I drove it."

"That new 340-horsepower engine and new transmission turn out the smoothest performance imaginable. It's a wonder in traffic."

"I found it hard to believe a car of its size could be so effortless to handle."

"I've owned five Cadillacs, and this one tops them all—on every count."

And backing up our owners are the men who evaluate cars by stop watch and test track. Never have these professional critics been so eloquent about Cadillac—or any other automobile in its class.

So the next time the talk turns to cars, listen well to the man who has driven a 1964 Cadillac.

You can believe every wonderful word he says. And you can double check him behind the wheel at your Cadillac dealer. You won't be a skeptic long.

Holt Millage Issue to Go On Ballot Again June 8

HOLT - The proposal for an additional 2.5 mills for school operation, which was defeated at the polls April 20, will go on the ballot again at the regular school election on June 8, the Holt board of education has decided.

The action was taken at a special board meeting last Wednesday. At that time the board also voted to increase the salaries of all teachers next year to meet the salary guide provisions proposed earlier this year.

"The board felt strongly that in view of all other schools in this area and almost throughout the state paying higher salaries that our present guide, the action had to be taken," Dr. Maurice Pernert, superintendent of Holt schools, said.

"If Holt expects to retain its present teachers it must pay them salaries comparable with those being paid in other school districts."

"Salaries are the most important items in our budget." "If there is a reduction in the quality of our educational program, our boys and girls will suffer the consequences. This must not happen."

At the June 8 election voters also will elect 2 board members each for 4 year terms. Dorsey Dodson and Donald Lubbers, whose terms are expiring, both have announced they will seek re-election.

Petitions of candidates must be received in the board of education offices not later than 4 p.m. May 9.

Tragic Drama Discussed Before Woman's Club

HOLT-"Doctor Faustus" and "Willie Lohman", came to the Holt Woman's Club Tuesday evening in the person of James Platte. It was an evening of enrichment for the club members as Platte read excerpts from these two classic dramas.

Dr. Faustus is the chief character in the book, "The Tragical History of Doctor Faustus", written by Christopher Marlowe, Willie Lohman is the salesman in, "Death of a Salesman", by Arthur Miller.

Platte chose these two dramas because both are tragedies, and in his lecture he endeavored to bring a better understanding of tragedy to the clubwomen. He explained the difference between comedy and tragedy, pointing out that few tragedies are produced in literature today.

Platte said that a maudlin, melodramatic play is too often considered tragedy. True tragedy, according to Platte, brings not only sadness, sympathy, identification, it also brings knowledge or enlightenment. It also holds out at least a modest hope for the human animal.

Tragedy arises when one is in the presence of a man who has missed accomplishing his job, but the joy must be there, and the promise of a right way, Platte said. He quoted Arthur Miller, "In a word, tragedy is the most accurately balanced portrayal of the human being in his struggle for happiness. That is why we revere our tragedies in the highest, because they portray us."

Platte is a member of the staff of the English department of Lansing Community college. He is active in the Lansing Circle Players, serving on the board of directors, and acting in plays presented by that group. He is a former teacher in the Holt public schools.

Sons, Parents At FFA Banquet

WILLIAMSTON-An important event each spring on the school program is the Williamston chapter of Future Farmers of America Parent-Son banquet. It provided to be true to form last Wednesday night where the boys planned an enjoyable and interesting evening beginning with a dinner under the direction of Mrs. Carol Pino and served by the members of the Williamston Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America.

Victor Loutens, president of the local chapter, opened the meeting and served as master of ceremonies. The president called on various officers to assist in carrying out the program.

John Dietz introduced special guests. Marvin head a member of the chapter and now serving as State President, was introduced. He told of the work done this year in the State organization, mentioning the furthering interest in scholarships and constitutional changes made and reimbursements to local chapter for expenses of officers and delegates to district, state and national meetings.

Dar Parmalee paid honor to the State Farmers.

Five local residents received honorary chapter Farmer awards. They were: Mr. and Mrs. Allen Liverance, Mr. and Mrs. Ather-ton and Harry Graves. The awards were presented by Ron Edwards and Wendy Hagg. Members of the chapter receiving awards were: Dave Grainger, star green hand; Rus Scott, farm mechanics; Tom Eifert, livestock; Paul Powell, dairying; Gary Perkins, safety; John Pierce, crops; John Dietz, electricity; Dar Parmalee, gardener and seed salesman.

At the speakers and officers table were 4 young women-special guests-they were: Sandy Ried, Jamie Cogswell, Janet Small and Jeanne Smith.

Stresses Citizenship Goals

Strengthening 4-H citizenship values was the main aim of the 34th National 4-H Conference in Washington, D. C. -Saturday, April 18 through Friday, April 24. An intensive day, evening and week end program was planned for the more than 200 top-ranking club members attending--two girls and two boys from each of the 50 states and Puerto Rico.

The delegates represented the country's 2 1/4 million 4-H members and were named by their states for outstanding personal development, and for exceptional achievement in community service, leadership, and citizenship. Joining them were 10 head-heart-hands-health youth on an exchange basis from Canada and a brother and sister visiting from Australia.

Representing Michigan's 74,000 4-H Club members were Robert Harold Cline, 18, Sherwood, branch County; Douglas Bruce Spike, 18, Manchester, Washitaw; Ann Kathryn Miller, 18, of Fairgrove, Tuscola County; and Judy Ann Brown, 19, Mason, Ingham County. All are students at Michigan State University except Douglas Spike, who will be a freshman there this fall.

Educational objectives for the 1964 Conference delegates were to:

Learn more about important national issues and problems facing the American people.

Achieve greater appreciation of the Nation's Capital through touring its monuments and shrines. Because of the Smith-Lever Act of 1914, an additional purpose this year was to recognize the 50th anniversary of extension work, of which 4-H is a significant part.

To accomplish the conference aims, delegates heard selected speakers, engaged in group discussions, visited historical buildings and memorials, met congressional and other national leaders, shared ideas with each other on better 4-H programs back home, and learned better ways to carry out their citizenship duties in their states and communities.

Ex-Judge Retires For His 3rd Time

STOCKBRIDGE - Taking life easy from now on is going to be his permanent occupation according to former justice of the peace Alva Beeman. of Stockbridge.

There is an old saying that goes, "The Third Time is the Charm." Well, Beeman's retirement last July was the 3rd in his lifetime and he says this time is for sure.

Born in 1891, in Lyndon township on the old homestead which his grandfather had acquired from the government, Alva took his turn at farming after his granddad and father.

When his son took over the farm in 1938, Beeman retired for the first time and moved to Stockbridge where he still lives at 215 Elizabeth Street with his wife and daughter.

After moving to town he became the driver of the first school bus used by the school in Stockbridge.

About the same time he started working for the Ingham county sheriff's department, becoming the first full time police officer in Stockbridge.

Once again in 1952, he decided to retire. However one year later he found himself appointed to fill a vacancy as justice of the peace. After expiration of that term, he was elected for two more terms, each for 4 years.

After having suffered a heart attack and being told by his doctor that he must take life a little easier, Beeman began what he calls his permanent retirement last July.

He recalled the days when he was a police officer. He said at that time, the Stockbridge police department was under the jurisdiction of the Ingham county sheriff's department, and that while he was stationed in Stockbridge, he would, at the discretion of the Mason office, work anywhere in the county. Beeman served for 10 years under Sheriff and Miss Alta Moeckel attended. The next meeting will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Moeckel on Thursday evening May 14.

The first meeting of the Junior Girl Scouts was held Wednesday afternoon after school. The leader is Mrs. DeWayne Kitley with two assistant leaders Mrs. Thomas Stephens Jr. and Mrs. Larry McAllister.

Six women from Munith attended the Spring District Women's Committee Meeting held at Rome Grange Hall, Lenawee county this week. They were Mrs. Sherman Hartman, Mrs. Wesley Moeckel, Mrs. Gerald Dixon, Mrs. Reginald Ford, Miss Alta Moeckel and Mrs. Ernestene DeWitt.

Stockbridge Track Star Eyes Big Time Marks

Dave Shepherd, Stockbridge track star, is having the biggest year of his high school career and is hoping to make one of the best showings in the state high school track meet next month.

Shepherd, the state Class B high jump champion, is shaping up to become a real threat to such other defending champs as River Rouge's Willie Betts in the high and low hurdles and Boice Bowman in the broad jump.

With almost 3 weeks to go before the state meet, Shepherd has a good chance to polish his running and jumping to the point where he may be able to best the defending champs.

Betts won the 120 yard high last year in 14.8 seconds and the 180 yds in 20.3. Dave has this year done the lows in 20.5 and the highs in 15.2. Only last week he turned in a 21 foot, 10 1/2 inch broad jump as compared to Bowman's 22 ft., 4 inches in winning the state event last year.

And in his specialty, the high jump, Shepherd has bettered his own winning mark of last year by 2 inches.

His high jump record this year is better by 3 inches than that of any other jumper in the Jackson area and this includes 2 Class A schools, Jackson high and Parkside.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Fillmore announce the birth of a son Ronald, April 15.

Richard Howlett, principal of Stockbridge high school attended a meeting of the Michigan Accreditation Advisory committee in Saginaw.

Mrs. Gene Banks has returned home after surgery at Foote hospital, Jackson.

The Louis Robinson and the Donald Rudolph Families enjoyed a week end at E. Tawas Bay. The Stockbridge Presbyterian Women's Association entertained the women of the Methodist and Baptist churches at their April meeting. After a short devotional period they heard Mrs. T.V. Urmila Pao speak and show slides from her native country of India. She came dressed in her native clothes, a sarl.

Individuals as well as nations hate a creditor whenever he wants his money back.

2 Stockbridge Drivers Hurt

Admitted to the hospital with a broken shoulder was Fred Patton 55, driver of one of the cars involved in a two car collision at the intersection of Leake and Farnsworth roads.

The driver of the other vehicle, Ed Minix, was treated for a head cut and released.

The accident occurred about 5 p.m. as the two cars entered the intersection at the same time and collided head on.

Both drivers were taken to the hospital by ambulance.

Weisenberg Going to Ovid

STOCKBRIDGE - Gaylord Weisenberg, Stockbridge police chief for several years, who resigned recently, effective May 5, has accepted a position as chief of the police department at Ovid. His appointment was announced by the Ovid village council.

Manning Leaving; Mueller Will Succeed

DANSVILLE-G. E. Manning, principal and science teacher at Dansville Agricultural school for the past 27 years, this week announced his resignation. He will leave at the end of the school year and will join the Lansing school system.

He will be succeeded in his post here by Don S. Mueller, musical director for the Okemos schools, who will take over his duties here in time for the opening of the 1964-65 school year in September.

Manning joined the faculty at Dansville in 1936 as science and math teacher and in 1940 assumed the principalship and continued to teach chemistry and physics. From 1943 to 1945 he served as an anti-submarine warfare instructor in the United States Naval reserve. Upon his discharge from service, he assumed his former position in the school.

Manning holds a Bachelor of Science degree from Eastern Michigan university MA in education. He is a member of the Michigan Education.

He is a member of the University of Michigan, and has taken courses at Michigan State university. He is a member of the Michigan Educational association and the Michigan Science Teachers association.

Louise Manning, wife of the principal, who has been on the staff at the Dansville school since 1954 and teacher of English for the past ten years, is also leaving to accept a position in the Lansing system. Mrs. Manning holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from Eastern Michigan university, a Master of Arts from Michigan State university, is a member of the Michigan Educational association and the National Council of Teachers of English.

Manning will teach science at the Dwight Rich junior high school in Lansing, while Mrs. Manning will be in the English department of Everett high school.

The couple have 2 children, David, who is a sophomore in Michigan State university, and Mary Lou, who will be a sophomore in high school next year.

Mueller, 37, has taught in the public schools of Michigan and Ohio for 17 years. Graduating from Mr. Union and Baldwin-Wallace colleges, he earned his Master's degree in school administration at the University of Michigan in 1952. He has continued his graduate studies at M.S.U. toward a doctorate. Prior to coming to Okemos he taught sociology, literature, visual education, and music at Goshen township schools in Ohio and Benton-Harbor Fair Plain. At Fair Plain he also assisted in administrative work.

During his 11 years at Okemos the music program has grown to include more than 400 instrumentalists with a 125 member senior high band and orchestra.

Letters to the Editor

Urges School Vote

Recently a school election was held in Mason school district attempting to increase the school bond issue sufficiently to help relieve the congested conditions in our elementary and junior high schools. This proposal was defeated by a margin of 2 votes. If the taxpayers who voted on this proposal with a negative attitude were to visit our junior high school at the time of change in classes they could see the extensive chaos that exists in attempting to accommodate approximately 900 students in a building that was designed to handle less than 50 per cent of that number.

I am deeply concerned as a rural voter that both the rural and urban voters should show less concern for our most prized and valued possessions in the person of our children than they do for their livestock and automobiles.

It is very apparent that the majority of the farmers in the Mason school district prefer to provide more facilities and care for their livestock than for their own children or grandchildren. Also, your urban dweller shows more concern about providing shelter and care for his car than he does his own children or grandchildren. Someone educated my father as well as myself and now it is my privilege and duty, if not my obligation, to help educate my own youngsters as well as in the future helping to educate the ensuing children in the Mason school district.

I believe that the people in Mason school district can be justly proud of the job of administration that the past and present school boards and administrators have done to utilize to the fullest extent the taxpayer's money in the building of the new high school.

Further, the condition that prevails in our junior high school makes wasted years for most of the students and if disaster should strike in the form of fire it would be wasted lives of our children. Let us take care of today and help prepare for tomorrow.

I respectfully submit that every voter in the Mason school district ask himself this question before going to the polls to vote on the next school bond issue: What Price He Places on the Education and Welfare of Our youth and the Future of Our Great Community and Country?

An Aurelius Taxpayer

A Good Record

In the St. Johns report a swimming pool was mentioned as a municipal project. We can have one also under the same conditions, namely a public subscription. I am sure we would have more concern for its management and upkeep if we invested in it instead of having it handed to us on a platter. A pool costs from $6,000 to $10,000 per year to operate over and above receipts. Some one will have to pay the fiddler. Swimming pools are nice but --

Now about the city hall firebarn project. Since the city is obligated under a lease to the I.O.O.F. for about 50 years and since the lodge has mentioned a figure of $1,000 per year as its value, it would make the abandonment of the present building quite impractical. Further if a firebarn police station could be built that portion of the building the trucks vacated would make room for adequate expansion of city hall facilities in the present location. It is very doubtful that we will be able to finance a firebarn-police station without a vote of the people. Our charter limits us to 20 mills. This budget calls for 17.49 mills leaving us about 2.5 to go. There was a 10 increase this last budget. With ever increasing demands on city government our 2.5 mills will soon be exhausted.

In this matter of indebtedness let me call to mind that our sister city will be "over $1 million" in debt come July 1. Mason's bonded indebtedness is $335,000. In spite of being labeled a "do nothing" council the mayor called to the attention of those in attendance at the April 13 meeting of the council many things that had been accomplished during 19 months, July 1, 1962 and Jan. 31, 1964. We have expended on streets, water, sewer, courthouse parking, equipment, additions to buildings, and other necessities the sum of $133,529. Of this $10,000 was for court house parking. During the same period there has been spent $184,000 of the special assessment money for storm and sanitary sewers, curb and gutter.

Mason has the best paved streets of any town I know of. The remaining areas on Barnes and on McRoberts street will be paved when storm and sanitary sewers are in, and curb and gutter are installed. We have budgeted for park improvements. The proceeds of the bond fund are being spent for community betterment and recreation. Our finances are in a healthy condition. I think we have spent the taxpayer's money in a well rounded program as they would want it spent. We have lived within our means.

Every council meeting in the last several years has been opened with a prayer of invocation. The scripture describes the man who doesn't sit down and count the cost of a project before starting it as being a foolish man. We have endeavored to count costs and avoid embarrassment. I am confident that the new council will also try its best to serve the citizens of Mason well.

Urge Yes Vote

As students of Mason high school, we would like to take this opportunity to tell you about the crowded conditions of the classes.

The conditions of the classes are now exceeding the normal limit of 25 pupils per class. It is hard for one teacher to teach a Government class of 38 students sufficiently.

Lab (chemistry, physics, biology, shop and homemaking) classes have over crowded safety conditions.

Every year the classes are increasing, so we appeal to the citizens of Mason to vote "yes" for a bond issue to enlarge the school.

Disposables Fight Rising Hospital Costs

The surgery is complete. Immediately, gowns, gloves, sheets, sponges—even instruments—are bundled up and thrown away.

Days later, the patient checks out. Immediately, sheets, pillow covers, patient gown and slippers, window draperies, and even mattress and pillows are tossed into the incinerator.

Disposables are playing a major role in the hospital of today; they will play an even greater role in the hospital of tomorrow, predicts W. O. Elson, medical research director, Bauer & Black division, the Kendall Company, manufacturer of surgical dressings and other hospital products.

"Techniques that are being pioneered today will be commonplace in the very near future," Elson said, "as both hospital and industry join in the two-pronged battle against deadly cross-infection and spiraling hospital costs."

Public concern with the high cost of illness has been mounting since World War II. According to figures of the American Hospital Association, the patient's average daily bill has exploded from under $10.00 in 1946 to over $35.00 today—up 250 per cent.

"Disposable hospital products, virtually unknown in 1955, now make up about 30 per cent of the total market," Elson said, "and each day, industry produces ingenious new products which short-cut old methods, yet do the job even better."

"Needles and syringes, pre-packed alcohol swabs, diapers, oxygen masks, trivials—these and other disposable items have been eagerly accepted by hospital administrators, ever alert to cost-saving ideas."

Elson noted that some manufacturers have even combined

Strangely, it's cheaper — and safer — to dispose of new high-grade steel instruments like these after a single use.

all of the items needed for a complicated hospital procedure into pre-sterilized packages that are simply discarded after use.

"For example, Kendall scientists recently perfected two new disposable kits," he said, "one for changing dressings and another for removing sutures—complete with instruments which are precision-made of surgical-grade steel, yet are designed to be used once, then thrown away."

"This seeming waste actually represents a saving—if considered in the total picture of hospital costs. Disposing of supplies and even instruments instead of sterilizing and saving them, drastically reduces labor, and 70 cents of the hospital dollar is paid out in wages."

"What's more, the chances of spreading deadly staph infection are almost completely eliminated by using throw-away supplies."

Elson concluded that all of this would ultimately be reflected in lower hospital bills.

MSU Gets Scholars

More than 200 Merit Scholarship winners will start at Michigan State University as freshmen this year, the National Merit Scholarship Corporation announced Wednesday (April 22).

Included in the group are 61 students whose scholarships are supported by a variety of sponsors around the nation, plus more than 140 who have won Michigan State University Merit awards.

The MSU freshmen come from 43 states and Puerto Rico, and will major in 38 different academic fields.

A year ago, when it became the first major public university in the nation to sponsor Merit Scholarships, Michigan State enrolled 195 Merit Scholar freshmen. There are now more than 40 colleges and universities sponsoring Merit Scholarships.

Circle IV Has Lesson

Circle IV of Mason Presbyterian church met Tuesday, April 22, at 9 a.m. in the assembly room.

Mrs. Robert Cone, chairman, presented the lesson entitled "Mature in Christ."

Later refreshments were served by Mrs. Richard Magel and Mrs. Ed Heiby.

Nursery service was provided for pre-school children.

May Magic Themes Party

May Time Magic will theme the Arbutus chapter No. 45 Order of the Eastern Star annual benefit, May luncheon and card party. The event will be staged Wednesday, May 6, 1 p.m. in the main dining room of the Masonic Temple, 217 S. Capitol avenue, Lansing. This is one of the highlights of the chapter year.

Mrs. Elmer O'Berry has been named general chairman of the affair. Mrs. Irving Trudgeon, associate matron of the chapter, has charge of all arrangements. Plans were made previously by worthy matron Mrs. Albert Ricketts.

Attractive door and table prizes will be given. Reservations may be had by calling Mrs. Gerbert Cusick, Mrs. Robert Bolenbaugh or the Masonic Temple.

Servicemen

Billy R. Way, shipfitter second class, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Reynolds of Mason, is serving aboard the destroyer tender USS Isle Royale, operating out of Long Beach, California. She provides repairs to destroyers of the Pacific and Seventh Fleets, and is capable of making repairs to destroyers not required shipyard work. In his first year of active duty, her Engineering Department was awarded the "E" for engineering excellence.

Gale D. Winkle, airman apprentice, son of Mrs. Marion Casaday of Dansville, is assisting Kodiak, Alaska, in recovery operations while serving aboard the seaplane tender USS Salisbury Sound operating out of Whidbey Island, Washington. Her crewmembers assisted in cleaning a power plant, operating heating boilers and repairing of electrical and electronic equipment damaged during the Alaskan tidal wave.

Don K. Prince, fireman apprentice, son of Mr. and Mrs. James O. Prince of Mason, is serving aboard the command ship USS Wright operating out of Norfolk, Va. Wright is presently in the Norfolk Naval Shipyard, Portsmouth, Va., undergoing an extensive overhaul.

Color Problems

Color problems, such as variation in darkness of the red color in fresh pork cuts, are a result of the amount of colored pigment present in the individual animal's muscles, say Michigan State University food scientists. They suggest this variation might be minimized through changes in breeding practices.

Horse Show Set

The Port City Saddle club of Muskegon, will stage its 4th annual horse show May 2 and 3 at the club's show grounds about 5 miles east of Muskegon on M-46 with contests for speed horses starting at 7 p.m., Saturday, May 2. Beginning at 9 a.m. Sunday, May 3, there will be halter classes for registered Quarter horses, Arabians, Half-Arabs, Pony of America, and other breeds both registered and non-registered.

Editorial Comments

Let's Be Positive

Growth brings responsibilities. Growth brings problems. Growth makes solutions to those problems necessary or growth becomes backwardness.

These facts of life are evident. Two good examples of these facts are facing Mason and the Mason school district in 2 different areas within the next few weeks.

Mason's city council is faced with the chore of increasing revenues for city water and sewer services. Councilmen don't like the thought of increasing the utility rates. Water and sewer users won't like it either but the fact is there. Growth has made it necessary.

The water department is not breaking even on current rates. That unbalanced condition will get increasingly out of balance as city residential and business growth depletes the water supply, increases the maintenance costs and as old equipment wears out and needs replacement and repair.

Mason is over ripe for a new well. That was proved last summer when a water shortage developed. Mason's 4 wells now operating are undergoing extensive work right now. Users should pay for the service.

In addition Mason must come up with more bond repayment cash under the schedule set up by the revenue bond ordinance approved by voters a few years ago.

Mason school electors are faced with the same sort of a decision. There is no argument that Mason enrollment figures are ever spiraling upward. There is no denying the fact that residential growth in the district is bringing more and more pupils into the system. More pupils mean more classrooms. More classrooms mean more teachers. More classrooms and teachers mean more administrative costs. It's an ever-increasing circle of problems.

School electors helped remedy some of the pressing immediate problems by passing the millage issue which helps the operating part of the school picture.

But that doesn't solve the crowded conditions which are prevailing at the junior high and elementary levels right now.

We've got to be positive. If we are going to educate our children as they have been educated and as they must be educated then we're going to have to provide school administrators with something besides an ever increasing school population.

We've got to think positive. If we expect our city government to operate in the black then the users of city services must pay for those services. We shouldn't expect the city street fund, the money for police and fire protection, the money for parks and recreations to be used for providing water and sewer services.

Wrong Labels

The designation of Civil Rights Leader ought to be passed out with a little more discretion. Anyone who claims to be a civil rights exponent automatically is labeled as a Civil Rights Leader. These days a man or woman, black or white, can curtail the rights of others in the name of civil rights and still be identified in the metropolitan press, radio and television as a Civil Rights Leader.

And conversely, anyone who suggests that there are some other rights that need a helping hand, is automatically labeled as a bigot and opposed to civil rights.

A real defender of civil rights is someone who recognizes all of the civil rights—not just the ones that appeal to his own selfish mind.

Yet we label as civil rights leaders men and women who:

Forbid the rights of others as they seek civil rights of their own choosing.

Violate laws when in their own opinion they are unjustified.

Hamper others' freedoms in order to secure some of their own.

There's nothing American, civil or right about any of these actions, yet the papers, radio and television are full of such reports—and all in the untouchable name of civil rights.

Certainly, all of us possess varying amounts of civil rights. And there is really little likelihood that all people will ever really be equal. Not that we shouldn't strive for it. We should.

There is something incongruous about a block of the citizenry advocating civil rights when they in fact deny the civil rights of others and flout the laws of the land. Such a worthwhile goal as equal civil rights shouldn't be handicapped by individuals who are willing to deny the civil rights of others to achieve their own definition of civil rights. Few men and women so far have qualified as Civil Rights Leaders. Most of those who espouse to be so, are in fact merely lobbyists on the national stage seeking rights for a particular segment of society—and too often at the expense of others.

To succeed, the civil rights movement must be civil, not barbaric; on the side of right, not wrong.

The Ingham County News is going international. Sheldon Bibbins, ace of all printing trades is straightening out the composing department this week and next for the St. Thomas Daily News in St. Thomas, Virgin Islands.

Ariel Melchoir, publisher of the Daily News, read a trade publication last week while visiting in New York and saw an article on the Ingham County News and an offset consulting service which has been organized to serve the mushrooming offset trade.

He called asking for immediate help. First I packed my bags and then thickened out because of the press of business. Then Shorty packed his bags for the trip but it looked as if he couldn't be spared.

Monday morning a tear jerking plea from the Virgin Islands was too tearful to turn down so Shorty bid bon voyage, got out his sun helmet, short pants and loud sport shirts and headed by plane for tropical paradise down in the sugar cane country of the Caribbean.

If he likes it so well he refuses to come back, I have been selected to go down and bring him home.

Shorty didn't appear too skeptical about making the trip until one of his working buddies pointed out in bidding farewell that Castro had heard about the prospect of the News moving into the area and was alerting his anti-aircraft batteries to defeather Shorty's plane when it gets close to Cuba.

There is no truth to the story that members of the News bowling team shanghaied Shorty out of the country after his last 2 disastrous bowling debacles.

While Shorty may be going to the land of sugar cane, rum and molasses, he is leaving a pretty sweet section of America behind him. It's been years since the sugar bush operators have had such a vintage year.

The Mason FFA chapter certainly knew when to jump into the syrup business. They took over the Paul Scherer sugar bush this year as a club project. Not only have they had a lot of fun but they have been making a lot of syrup.

They tapped 400 trees and hung 1,000 buckets. With Mike O'Malley cracking the whip from his command post as FFA adviser and with the help of some other Mason faculty members who wanted to get out of the house nights, the 50 boys in the chapter have come up with a good money making project with the proceeds to be used in setting up a hog breeding chain.

Dansville school pupils also have done a commendable thing. Thursday a Dansville elementary class celebrated Arbor Day by planting a tree at the school in memory of Wessels Bohnet, longtime elementary teacher who died during the winter.

If every class in Ingham county schools took on such a project the loss of the thousands of trees to Dutch elm disease and modern progress wouldn't hurt quite so much.

Only God can make a tree but he sure wouldn't mind a little help from us humans.

Texas Town Shows It Can Be Done

(Reprinted from the Frankenmuth News)

The falsity of the plaint by proponents of all-out federal aid to education that it is needed to make up for the shortcomings of community school systems was never more strikingly exposed than in the case of Riesel, Texas.

Confronted with a grave financial situation in its school system, this town of 600 population not only met all of its obligations in this crisis but did so without a nickel's worth of help from the state or the federal government.

In order to pay off a debt of $85,000 incurred by the school system over a period of a number of years, and provide an additional $148,000 to the new term's budget. Rieselites were told that they had a choice of either doubling their existing tax rate (from $1.50 per hundred dollars of assessed valuation to $3.00) or appealing for outside aid.

Without a single dissenting vote, the residents of this Texas community volunteered to double their taxes, and what's more, 96% of them paid their taxes, well in advance of the stipulated due date so that the debt could be promptly wiped out and so that the funds could be provided for the new term before it opened.

Riesel, Texas, of course, is but one of the vast number of communities that insist on paying their own way and shun government handouts like the plague. The tragedy is that communities dedicated to this kind of self-help usually go unsung, while the advocates of welfare-statism literally bask in the spotlight.

Thoughts For The Week

Read Matthew 13:1-8, 18-23

He shall be like a tree planted by the streams of water. (Psalm 1:3. ASV.)

ALONG a stretch of Cuba's central highway between Havana and Matanzas, the road is lined with tropical-type laurel trees. They extend their leafy limbs across the highway, affording a canopy of green shade.

At intervals among the trees are telephone poles, splintered, gashed and weather-beaten. They sprout no branches, shoot forth no leaves, and contribute no beauty for the enjoyment of travelers.

Why the difference? The answer, of course, is simple. The trees have roots; the telephone poles have none. The telephone poles are lifeless pieces of wood sunk into the ground. But the trees have tapped an unseen source in the earth from which they draw their nourishment.

The person who has put his faith in Christ is like a tree. He has sunk his life into the promises of God, and in those promises he has found the power that transforms life into a fresh, vital thing.

PRAYER: Dear Father, we thank Thee for Thy wisdom given to us in the pages of Thy holy Word. Teach us constantly to seek the resources that are available to those who put their faith and trust in Thee; through Christ our Lord. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

"Like the days of a tree shall the days of my people be."

L. Elbert Wilson (United States)

Evidently when the News moved from Jefferson onto Ash street and the land of unlimited parking, it was too much of a blow to the city treasury. It's understandable. In the old Jefferson avenue days, the combined staff tribute for parking violations was a staggering thing. Somehow, hardly a day went by that someone didn't get tagged with an over-time ticket.

As soon as the city can stir up the yellow paint, some of the parking is going to be removed along Ash next to the News building. And someday probably the 2-hour limit signs will follow the city's best customers onto Ash.

During the mourning period for President Kennedy, the News flag nearly destroyed itself while being flown at half mast. One of the spring hooks broke one day and Old Glory fell to the ground. It wasn't until Friday that the flag could be flown again. Originally I had threaded the rope through the pulley at the top of the pole. The feat was accomplished by scaling a skinny ladder to the top of the building, then standing on my tippy toes waving a 10-foot stick with rope attached towards the pulley. The rope eventually slipped into its mark and with a daring balancing act suggestive of the 7-man pyramid act, I pulled the rope, through the pulley, back to the ground and eventually was able to lift the flag to the dizzy heights of the pole.

To replace the rope Friday, I hired a professional steeplejack. Son Tim took the job for $2. He simply shinned up the pole, slipped the rope through the pulley and slid back to earth. It was a quick job, but worth the price to both parties.

There's nothing like the spring-time to make just about anyone's lawn look like a picture. The test of true horticultural greatness, however, comes in August when lawns like mine turn brown and the gardens and borders that appear perfect now turn to rock.

Early this spring another 2-story house rose from the ground in Art Jewett's new Beverly Acres subdivision. The first floor area was constructed from a packing case. The second floor was created from boards and scrap garnered from throughout the community. The edifice doesn't quite pass Mason's building codes, but no one's complaining. Even City Assessor Cliff Walcott was seen to smile as he appraised the building.

The skyscraper is the work of several eastside boys who have built a fort that makes the Leaning Tower of Pisa look straight up and down.

Building shacks may be coming back now that the emphasis is on Pockets of Poverty. And maybe it's a good thing. When boys are building shacks they're keeping out of a whole lot of trouble. Another reflection on the shack situation is that it brings out some good qualities in adults, too. The fact that the shack is in Art's newest subdivision is a credit to Art. And Coe Emens who has been fitting the subdivision for another corn crop skirted the building project in order to let the boys keep their shack. Even the assessor has shown reluctance to put the dwelling on the tax rolls.

Shacks are among the good things available to small boys in small towns. Taken for granted here, they would be sheer luxury in a large city.

225 FFA Boys Compete In Land Judging Event

Approximately 225 FFA vocational agricultural students in Ingham County competed last Thursday in the annual Ingham county land judging contest at the Ralph Hills farm, 3 miles northwest of Dansville.

Apply All Fertilizers As Directed

Apply commercial fertilizers according to recommendations whether it be on the front lawn in the city or on a farm in the country.

This is the advice of Director G.S. McIntyre of the Michigan Department of Agriculture. The department's laboratory division has charge of the registration of all commercial fertilizers sold in the state. Last year there were about 1,600 fertilizer products from 250 companies registered.

Tests are run in the laboratory to make sure the material meets the formula declared on the container.

Michigan annually uses about 720,000 tons of commercial fertilizer, worth an estimated $43 million.

Fertilizers properly used are a boon to growing vegetation of all kinds; fertilizers improperly used can cause damage and be a waste of money. Recommendations on use are important.

There is no one formula of fertilizer that is ideal for every soil or every crop. Farmers usually depend on a soil analysis to determine the proper fertilizer formula for a certain soil or crop.

Gardeners and lawn enthusiasts usually gain advice on fertilizers through books, bulletins, magazines, county extension offices, or their suppliers of garden needs.

A universal trade practice among commercial fertilizer companies is to show the formula of a fertilizer on the container or package. This is required by law in Michigan. This formula is expressed in percentage of content of nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash.

A marking of 10-6-4 on a bag of commercial fertilizer means the product contains 10 per cent nitrogen, 6 per cent phosphoric acid and 4 per cent potash.

Two farm families in the Williamston area will be hosting international students the weekend of May 2 and 3. Mr. and Mrs. Coridon Webster will host Taha Mahmoud and his wife, Mahmoud is from Egypt, and is currently studying at Michigan State university.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Traver are having Dieter Zuhke, Germany, for the weekend. Zuhke is also a student at Michigan State.

Each family has hosted international students previously. Arrangements for the current visits have been made through the Ingham County Extension Service. Many international students seek opportunities to learn about U.S. farming on a first-hand basis. They hope to learn about the production and management practices that make our agriculture so productive. Visiting farm families benefit the students as well as the hosts who also learn about customs and life of other countries.

necessary to make the land most productive.

The five highest scores from each high school determined the winning FFA chapters. Following are the winning schools and 5 high individual members: First--Stockbridge FFA with a total score of 1143 points. Second--Dansville FFA with 1072 points, and third--Williamston FFA with 1020 points.

The five high individual FFA members were: from the Stockbridge FFA--Paul Bauer, Larry Barbour, Larry Arnett, John Snay and Ron Kaiser; from the Dansville FFA--Ted Russell, Donald Strobel, John Diehl, Keith Switzburg, and Michael Jackway; from the Williamston FFA--John Dietz, Scott Hitchcock, Dave Grainger, Dennis Hunt and Dan Parmelee.

The land judging contest is sponsored by the Ingham County Soil Conservation district of which Ralph Hart of Mason is chairman. Orla Sheathelm, Carroll Glynn, Howard Fay and Paul Rowe are other members of the board of directors. Also assisting the district were Larry Tripp, Melvin Stroud, Robert Hicks of the Soil Conservation Service; James Mulvaney and R. C. Lott from the Cooperative Extension Service.

New Wheat Program Is Worth Study

The voluntary wheat program included in the agricultural act of 1964 contains several provisions that Ingham county farmers may want to consider, says R.C. Lott, county extension director. Participating farmers can qualify for price support loans, marketing certificates with a cash value, and payments for diverting cropland to an approved conservation use.

A wheat farmer who wants to take part in the new program must declare his intention and sign an agreement at the county ASC office, Mr. Lott points out. The sign-up period extends only through May 15.

A producer who signs up and carries out the program provisions becomes eligible for price support loans on all wheat produced. He also can receive marketing certificates based on the normal production of acres of wheat for harvest. Two kinds of certificates will be issued. One will have a value of 70 cents a bushel and the other a value of 25 cents a bushel.

Lott explains that a farmer qualifies for price support loans and marketing certificates by producing within his farm wheat allotment, and not exceeding his wheat allotment on other farms in which he has an interest. He also must divert an acreage equal to 11.11 per cent of his wheat allotment to conservation use, as well as maintain the farm's normal conservation use base. He will receive payments for diverting this acreage. In addition, the producer can divert up to 20 per cent more wheat acreage (or 15 acres total diversion, which ever is larger) to conservation use. If the allotment is 13.5 acres or less, the entire allotment can be diverted. A farmer complying with this and other program provisions will receive diversion payments.

Ingham county farmers can receive more information about the wheat program at the county ASC or Extension offices.

Drenching Sheep

Kills Parasites

Drench all adult sheep before they are turned into pasture for effective parasite control, says a Michigan State university sheep specialist.

Such a drench reduces the number of worms which can infect pastures, says Graydon Blank.

Finely ground or microfine phenothiazine, the new Thibenzole drench or materials available from local veterinarians are recommended.

A phenothiazine trace mineral sale mixture -- consisting of one pound of phenothiazine and 12 to 14 pounds of trace mineralized salt -- should be available to the flock in a box protected from the weather at all times.

Still another drenching for tape worm control should be done between June 15 and July 15, adds the sheep specialist.

Despite general agreement among legislators during the past two years that increases in the beer tax have been unfair, a reduction in that tax must be sought again next year.

Bankruptcy proceedings of one brewery, largely blamed on the 430 per cent tax increase since 1962, seemed to have little effect on the deliberations.

Hopes were high this year when five Senators succeeded in getting a tax reduction proposal through their chamber. These hopes were dashed quickly when the proposal to cut the beer tax by $7 million a year was killed by a House committee.

Just a few short years ago the per barrel tax on beer was $1.25. Then came Michigan's cash crisis and beer was one of the industries to be included in the temporary "nuisance tax" package enacted to raise money quickly.

In the so-called temporary package, the beer levy was doubled to $2.50 per barrel. This rate was reimposed practically before the temporary levy expired.

Then in 1962 there was a new need for revenue and beer again came under scrutiny. By changing the tax base from the barrel to the 12-ounce bottle, the Legislature imposed the large jump in the levy. The equivalent of the new bottle tax was $6.61 per barrel.

It was this increase that really brought the brewers to their feet and is blamed for the bankruptcy of one company.

A valiant struggle led by the Michigan Brewers association to get the tax lowered again, now that the state anticipates a return to surplus, has gained only sympathy as time ran out in this legislative session.

The brewers' fight to get the reduction is getting like the axiom, "Everybody talks about the weather but nobody does anything about it."

Books and Service

Libraries serve their intended function as best as can be done with funds available, according to State Librarian Genevieve M. Casey. The limitations, however, are considerable.

A survey taken by the State Library in Lansing showed about one-eighth of Michigan's citizens use library facilities every week.

About 70 per cent of this one million people are students with required reading for school and active interest in the world about them. Others include a good number of business men and women, housewives, retirees and unemployed workers.

Information sought through libraries is available in about 75 per cent of the cases, the study showed.

Financial problems of the individual library systems were largely responsible for the failure to supply information or materials in the other 25 per cent of the cases, said Miss Casey.

"About 260,000 patrons every week are unable to get the books, pictures, films, phonographs and tape recordings they request because many of our libraries cannot afford first-rate collections and the necessary related services," she said.

War Begun On Cereal Beetles

The 1964 effort to suppress the cereal leaf beetle in southwestern Michigan is under way with an intensive survey program tied in with aerial treatment of about 40,000 acres in Berrien county and possibly some other infested spots in May.

The cereal leaf beetle is the greatest destroyer of growing small grains known. It was first reported in 1962 around Gallien. It has been known in Europe, Siberia and North Africa for a half century. It has practically destroyed cereal crops in some countries in some years.

Seventeen counties in Michigan, 27 counties in Indiana and six in Ohio in 1963 were placed under quarantine because of cereal leaf beetle infestation. The suppression program now under way in the state is operated jointly by the Michigan Department of Agriculture's Plant Industry Division and the USDA's Plant Pest Control Division.

Survey crews equipped with nets this year will extend their efforts past the 17 quarantined counties in an attempt to learn the perimeter of infestation.

In the 40,000-acre area in Berrien county two and possibly three applications will be made by airplanes using the Niles airport as headquarters. Eight ounces of technical malathion will be applied per acre. The application will be in a mist so fine as to be almost imperceptible to the eye. Sensitized plates on the ground will enable ground crews to check coverage and direct crews in the planes. Cost of the malathion and the application is expected to be around $1 per acre.

The initial application in early May is intended to destroy overwintering adult beetles, and a second application late in May or June is to attack larvae. The second and possibly a third application may be extended to include parts of other counties in the event the survey discloses areas of heavy infestation.

Most mid-America caves are carved by running water out of limestone. Many Oregon caves, however, are carved out of solid marble, by the same process.

Whenever people can't or won't think, violence is the next step.

Big Profit Seen In Seed Potatoes

"Michigan potato growers are not taking full advantage of the potential seed market," contends Richard Chase, Michigan State university crop scientist.

"They're only producing about 15 per cent of the total foundation and certified seed which could be sold in Michigan, not to mention the markets in nearby states."

"Any good, careful grower raising potatoes on upland soil can produce certified seed without too much extra effort and, at the same time, receive premium prices," Chase contends.

Chase explains that many growers buy foundation seed each year which is eligible stock for certification.

"Some of these growers are selling most of these potatoes at table stock," he says. "If they had certified this seed, they could sell the B-sized (1 1/2" x 2 1/2" in diameter) potatoes at $3 per cwt. or more—and they could improve the value of their table stock by eliminating some of the small potatoes."

"B-sized potatoes sold to a cannery may bring only 50c to $1 per cwt."

Chase advises growers who have foundation seed eligible for certification to check with their Cooperative Extension office of Crop Improvement association for further information on how to take advantage of seed production.

Michigan is presently revising its seed program in order to reverse the downward trend in the state's seed potato industry, says Chase. The new program will (1) provide the potato industry in Michigan with special seed of a quality that can yield table stock potatoes able to compete with the nation's best, and (2) provide diversification for traditionally table stock producing areas by introducing a profitable new, although related, farming enterprise.

The new seed program is the only one of its kind in the United States. It is based on an accelerated schedule of getting certified seed in just 4 years from the selection of outstanding hills. And it includes the testing and evaluation of a potato seed's disease resistance, processing quality, cooking quality and yield.

Growers engaging in the new Premier seed plan will choose the best hills that appear in their field annually. The seed of these individual hills will be serologically tested and then planted in its own separate row to yield what is called a "clonal row." Seed from these rows is evaluated to see that it carries qualities considered desirable by producers, processors and consumers.

The seed program has been adopted by the Michigan Crop Improvement association with the help of the Michigan Potato Industry Council.

4-H Dog Project Group to Meet

Youth interested in learning more proper care, feeding, health and training of dogs will have an opportunity. The new 4-H dog project is being offered through a series of meetings. These will be held at the 4-H building in the fairgrounds in Mason. The next meeting will be Monday, May 4 at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Arlene Robertson, Holt, will serve as project leader for the group. Neil Barr, Mason, plans to be junior leader, and he will conduct the dog training portion of each session.

This project will stress practical information for youthful dog owners. It should help make life more enjoyable for dogs through improved care. People will benefit by having better behaved dogs.

Wheat Field Weed Problems Eased

A simple herbicide application can eliminate wheat field weed problems caused by field peppergrass and other winter annuals.

"But timeliness is important as these weeds are best controlled while still small," says Milt Erdmann, crops science specialist for Michigan Cooperative Extension Service. "Wheat may also be damaged if spraying is done at the wrong time."

Wheat and barley, without forage seedings, should be sprayed with one-half pound of 2,4-D amine per acre when grain is six to eight inches high. Be sure and include at least 10 gallons of water per acre in the spray application, Erdmann advises.

On small grains with a legume seeding, three-eighths of a pound of MCPA per acre should be used. Two other herbicides approved for use on grains with a legume seeding are DNB and 4-(2,4-DB).

Since oats are more sensitive to spray damage than wheat and barley, the crop should be sprayed with three-eighths of a pound of MCPA or one-quarter pound of 2,4-D amine per acre to control broad-leaved annuals, the Michigan State university authority advises.

Asks Attendance At M.N.G. Camp

Major General Ronald D. McDonald, adjutant general of Michigan, has asked Michigan Chambers of Commerce and Business associations to help promote full attendance at summer field training of the Michigan National Guard.

In letters to secretaries of Chambers of Commerce and to executives of business associations, General McDonald said that annual field training for more than 11,000 Michigan national guardsmen will get under way early in July. In addition, he said, Michigan will be host this summer to approximately 23,000 army and air national guardsmen from 5 other states, providing an income of some $100 per man to the economy of the state.

ALBION, EATON RAPIDS, HASTINGS, MARSHALL, MASON

by Dennis Massie Kennel & Field

One day a year or so ago one of the neighborhood dogs was run over. If an adult had owned the dog there wouldn't have been an excuse because the dog should have been trained to stay out of the street. As it was, the woolly haired little mutt belonged chiefly to a 7-year-old boy. The boy had played in our neighborhood and we knew him and had talked about dogs before. So I knew how he felt now he'd lost his friend. I go his mother's okay and went to the Humane Society and was glad to donate for the wiggly collie-shepherd pup that I brought back to the boy. He took it with the express understanding on his mother's part that the family would get the dog his shots. Other than that I was sure this lonesome little kid would take care of the pup's needs. It was about 6 months later when the pup died. The boy thought it was pneumonia because the dog had sniffles and some other symptoms. I asked if the dog had his shots. He hadn't. They just never got around to it. Again I felt sorry for the kid but not to the point this time of being a good Samaritan.

I've talked to some farmers who don't bother getting their dogs inoculated. Maybe some of them get away with it because of the fearfulness of dogs in the area. One of them I know waited until his beagle was in the early stages of distemper to take him to the veterinarian.

This seems strange to me. I guess my dad taught me to take it for granted that you always get shots for a young dog.

As long as a pup is nursing from a mother that has been inoculated, he is safe from disease. When he is weaned, he loses his immunity. This is the time to take him to your vet for temporary shots for distemper. When the dog is 12 weeks or older he is ready for permanent shots for distemper, hepatitis and for his first rabies shot.

The most commonly encountered disease of these 3 is distemper. The canine version of the flu, distemper is caused by a virus that attacks the nervous system of the dog. It strikes the brain if it isn't taken care of and inevitably leads to convulsions, paralysis and death. Distemper is contagious and carried in the saliva and droppings of an infected dog. It was felt until 1961 that so called permanent shots for distemper were just that. Now Dr. Arthur North doesn't believe this. Probably the best idea is to take your vet's advice along with your own good judgment concerning the length of time an injection for distemper will last.

At the same time your veterinarian gives your dog a distemper shot, he will probably give him an injection for hepatitis. This disease is rather new among dogs and is especially serious when it strikes a pup. Once inoculated against this disease, it is thought that a dog will be safe from it for a lifetime. Some of the symptoms of hepatitis are similar to those of distemper—infamed throat, swollen glands, thirst, high fever, watery eyes, diarrhea or vomiting, etc. A pup will be listless which is not normal.

The last of the big 3, when we think of shots for dogs, is of course rabies. This shot is by no means permanent. If you're traveling out of the country with your dog, he'll have to have a rabies shot often than if you keep him strictly in the United States. Rabies is a deadly disease to humans as well as animals although it's not half so common as it once was. The rabies shot is optional but by no means is it unimportant. Every now and then, there is an outbreak of this disease in other animals as well as dogs. A person bitten by a dog, unless he can prove the dog was free from rabies, has to go through a painful and sometimes dangerous immunization.

No matter what your purpose is for having a dog, whether for hunting, guarding, pulling, racing or simply companionship, it's worth the little trouble and expense to get him his shots as soon as he's old enough. He'll thank you with a longer healthier life. Your community may thank you too.

Services Map Armed Forces Festivities

Saturday, May 16, has been designated as Armed Forces Day, according to Captain C. D. Emmons, project officer for the Greater Lansing area. The theme for this year's celebration will again be Power for Peace.

Captain Emmons, inspector-instructor, Company "C", 1st Bn, 4th Mar Div, heads the Armed Forces Day committee which consists of local military representatives of the active army, navy, air force and marine corps, as well as the Michigan National Guard, reserve units of all services and the Civil Air Patrol.

The Armed Forces Day Committee has been holding bi-weekly meetings at the Lansing Navy and Marine Corps Reserve Center in order to plan this year's activities. The activities will include a proclamation by Governor George Romney proclaiming May 16th as Armed Forces Day in Michigan, luncheon with members of local service clubs sponsored by the Lansing Rotary Club, a cornerstone laying for a new National Guard Armory at 2500 South Washington Avenue, static displays at the various Reserve Centers in Lansing, which will be in conjunction with civilian displays, concerts and exhibitions located in the immediate vicinity of the Armories. An Armed Forces Day dance will culminate the week's activities on the evening of 16 May at the national Guard Armory.

This year the military and civilian displays will be held along Marshall street between East Saginaw and Jerome. The SEVENTEEN YEARS of record keeping and organizational work for the Mason Kiwanis club paid off last week with a fancy wall plaque and a standing ovation for Frank Guerriero. He received the plaque from President Tom Christensen. In the 17-year period Guerriero served as secretary the club almost tripled in membership, due in no small way to the job performed by the secretary.

In other business, the board discussed the feasibility of black topping the school parking lot and developing a track for the athletic department, turning the matter over to the building and grounds committee for further study.

Schools Seeking Teachers

STOCKBRIDGE - Superintendent Jesse Batchelor, of the Stockbridge Community Schools announced that there will be a number of vacancies in the teaching staff at the end of the year. In addition to a number of vacancies in the elementary grades, teachers are being sought in the high school for chemistry, both boys and girls physical education, junior high math and Spanish classes.

Starting base pay for a beginning teacher with a bachelor degree is $4600, ranging to $6200 after ten years, with an additional $300 being paid for a master's degree.

The annual Stockbridge school election will take place on Monday, June 8.

There are two vacancies to be filled this year as the terms of president Almon Lathrop and trustee Dan Howlett expire. Two persons will be elected for four year terms, ending June 30, 1968.

Names will be put on the ballot by petition only and such petitions may be secured at the office of the Board of Education at the school.

Both Lathrop and Howlett have said they will make their services available.

School Board Sets Policy On Retirement

The Ingham Intermediate board of education, last week, adopted a personnel policy dealing with retirement of employees. The substance of the policy is that 65 years is the age of retirement with one year renewals possible on application of the employee and approval of the board.

The board also adopted a special education budget calling for a tax requirement of $659,512. This fund would be used to support the employees of the board of education office engaged in special education work, reimburse local school districts for their programs of special education and provide funds for construction of special education facilities.

School Mergers Still to Come

Alton J. Stroud, Ingham Intermediate superintendent of schools, told a group of 30 Lansing elementary school teachers meeting last week at the Bingham street school in Lansing that while there have been many consolidations of school districts in the county, there are still more to come, not excluding the possibility of combinations of high school districts.

He was speaking on the operation of county schools, and recent changes in the nature and future of such schools.

"There will be an extension of consultative services, particularly in districts outside Lansing," he said.

"Some of the dollars now being spent for education in Ingham county will be devoted to research and probable development of clinics, the purpose of which will be to determine more about how children learn."

Moved by Supervisor Carr and supported by Supervisor Bruegel that the resolution be adopted. Carried unanimously by roll call with all members present voting therefor.
Supervisor Ernst entered the room. The following report was presented by the Law Enforcement Committee:
During the past three months the Law Enforcement Committee of the Ingham County Board of Supervisors has conducted an investigation of the County Sheriff's Department and the various law enforcement activities within this County.
Last month, a letter from the Safety Council of Greater Lansing was given to this committee which prompted this Committee to consider appraisal of the Sheriff's Department from the law enforcement activities.
The Committee found the following situations existing:
32 persons are employed in the Department of the Sheriff for various purposes, 10 deputies of the 32 employed, are used for 24 hour patrol work. The Committee finds that between the hours of 10 p.m. and 6 a.m., a total of 2 patrol cars and 4 men are in use for an entire County with a population of 80,000, excluding cities.
The Committee considers this to be totally inadequate.
A meeting has been held with the Ways & Means Committee for the purpose of expressing this Committee's feeling in this matter.
The Committee also finds a deficiency in the Sheriff's Department. While studying the process of investigations, the Committee found that detectives and patrolmen are typing lengthy reports concerned with the individual case which properly should be dictated to some type of recording device to be later transcribed by a typist or typing clerk thereby releasing the higher paid detective and patrolmen for their proper work. This deficiency as outlined, should not be construed as criticism of the Sheriff's Department forced upon the Sheriff because of inadequate staffing.
In reviewing the proposed personnel increase asked for in the 1964-65 budget of the Sheriff's Department, the Committee finds that the requested increase in manpower is in any way unreasonable or unrealistic. The increase requested would not necessitate the acquisition of new equipment, it would only require the full utilization of the present equipment rather than the part-time use as is presently the case.
With full consideration that the new budget is considerably higher than the previous budget, this Committee urgently recommends to the Ways & Means Committee and the members of the Board of Supervisors that immediate favorable consideration be given to the increased manpower request by the Sheriff of Ingham County. If the request is not honored, we can expect to see an increase in highway accidents and fatalities, and increased crime of all types due to the lack of manpower, particularly during the night hours. This Committee hopes that the members of the Board have reviewed the Annual Report of the Sheriff for 1963, especially noting the last page of the report entitled "Analysis of Criminal Record of the Ingham County Sheriff's Department."
It will be noted that the overall cost to the County for the operation of the Sheriff's Department is totaled at $2,747,745.17. The total amount from the budget was spent on the Sheriff's Department. Money and values returned was $199,470.00. Money returned amounted to $37,963. Production raised in the jail farm was valued at $4,600. Minus labor for custodial work and maintenance of County buildings, properties was valued at $153,324. Had prison labor been furnished by providing these services could otherwise have been met by direct appropriations from the State.
This Committee then is favorably inclined to accept the Sheriff's evaluation of the amounts of money saved for the County by the services rendered to the point that the actual cost of operation of the Sheriff's Department of this County is less than $25,000 per year.
In a county of this size, with a population of approximately 80,000, power request by the Sheriff will result in any situation being "lingering" . . . but will result in County providing the minimum amount of police protection and service that is expected by its citizens.
Signed: Harold Slater; W. Porter Bickel; Ray Ranzon.

"BLESSED ARE THEY..."

As the little birds trust the mother bird, so let men trust God. If a sparrow cannot fall without God's attention, if He counts the hairs of our head... why do we fear (Mat. 10:29-31)? Worry about future security? God is the security for those who trust Him. Your Heavenly Father feeds the birds, and you are of far more value than they (Mat. 6:26). "Blessed are they who hunger for God's good things; they shall be filled." In childhood we needed mother and welcomed her... as adults we need God and ignore Him. In prosperity we forget God, the Bible, the church; but when disaster comes we want them all.

As your days so shall your strength be (Deut. 33:25). He will cover you with His feathers, and under His wings shall you trust (Psalms 91:4). Then why not trust God where you cannot see; the plan is His, the promise yours. "Blessed are they."
