*I CANNOT TELL A LIE ...
Chopping down the cherry tree that stood outside of the library entrance must have been pretty rough.
Over the Halloween weekend, on a dark, but full mooned night,
someone chopped down
the cherry tree. Why?*

*Well, it may have been on a dare,
Or it may have been done
to scare,
But one thing is for certain,
The people were caught
and a new tree will be bought.*

The restitution was paid.

SWIMS
'NITTON
ROCKIN' AND ROLLIN'

From the super-stardom of Rush to the local group Theater, all rock bands have the power to evoke enthusiasm from the crowds. Although Lansing isn't a major attraction for big concerts, April Wine, '38 Special, Ted Nugent, Rainbow, Cheap Trick and Ozzy Osbourne have put on spectacular performances in the area. Local bands, such as Theater, The Look and Flight have opened for these groups and set the stage for the primary act. Closeby, however, Detroit receives literally hundreds of concerts a year with some originating from our state. By-products of Michigan include nationally known Bob Seger, Nugent and the Rockets.

In a music poll taken at the beginning of the school year students voted on their favorite groups, vocalists and songs of 1982. Listed below are the top 5 in each category with the number of votes that each received.

FAVORITE SONGS

- "You've Got Another Thing Comin'" by Judas Priest — 37
- "It's Hard To Say I'm Sorry" by Chicago — 35
- "The Eye Of The Tiger" by Survivor — 30
- "Open Arms" by Journey — 26
- "She Was Shakin'" by Eddie Money 17

1. Although not much dancing went on at the Yearbook Dance, the dedicated DJ's still played the tunes.

2. A romantic slow dance to "Still" ended a perfect evening for many couples.

3. The many dances throughout the year gave some of the better dancers a chance to strut their stuff.

4. A homecoming victory brings the best out of these peppy dancers.

What could have been better than a dance celebrating a Holt victory?

Holt fans got together and jammed on quite a few occasions in '83. People weren't prejudiced in selecting their dancing tunes. The traditional rockers were there grooving to a heavy beat, while the punkers bounced around the floor in a lighter fashion. Many people really "got down" as soul sounds filled the gym. Of course, the majority remained romantic as couples streamed on to the floor to sway the night slowly away.

1. Matt Doran advertises his favorite cable TV station.
2. Anyone who knows Steve Eldred knows they will seldom see him without his Sony Walkman.
3. Craig Pier relaxes after school by kicking out his stereo.
4. Mary Beachneau, Tammy Case and Corrina Slaughter spend their lunch hour listening to the latest tunes.
5. Popular MTV shows students' favorite groups in action.

Since the students of Holt High School were into listening to the latest sound, some of them were asked, "Where did you buy your records?" Warehouse Records was voted as the best and cheapest place to get the new songs, while Recordland came in a close second.

Many students were also asked where they had bought their stereos and radios. The top store for buying stereos was Radio Shack. Fretter Appliance Company was also a choice shop. Out of all the people asked, receiving stereos as gifts from generous relatives hit number one.

But where was everybody listening to their stereos? To begin with, most students were found in the halls between classes kickin' out the jams (although radios in school are against the Student Handbook policy) while others sat in their cars before and after school. Music played an important part of a student's life. Whether listening while homework was being done, driving down the road or just walking down the street with the beat in your feet, the "box" of noise became a must for high school students.

Handwritten musical score for a piano piece. The score is written on five systems of staves. The first system includes fingerings (3, 1, 3, 1, 3) and a dynamic marking of ra.. The second system has a dynamic marking of p. The third system includes fingerings (4, 5, 5) and a dynamic marking of ra.. The fourth system includes fingerings (5, 5, 4) and a dynamic marking of sf. The fifth system includes fingerings (3, 2, 1, 3) and the tempo marking leggieramente. The score is set in a key with two flats and a common time signature.

1. Junior Michelle Williams gets into the beat of her Pom Pon routine.
2. Swinging with a song are Ram Singers Jim Parks and Mary Margaret Ward.
3. The 1982-83 Pom Pon squad performs to "Abracadabra".
4. Majorette Kylene Nelson twirls to the delight of the halftime crowd.
5. What would the marching band be like without the stylish flag corps?

FIGHT SONG

*Fight, fight, fight, for dear old Holt
 Fight for victory
 Fight, fight, fight, for brown and gold
 Win Varsity!
 Come on and keep those banners flying,
 Ramblers don't yield,
 See that line weakening,
 Smash onward down the field,
 Rah, rah, rah, rah, rah,
 Rah, rah, rah, rah, rah,
 Yea team, yea team, fight
 Come on and fight, fight, fight, for
 Dear old Holt,
 Fight for victory.
 Fight, fight, fight for brown and gold
 Win Varsity!
 Come on and keep those banners flying,
 Ramblers don't yield.
 See that line weakening,
 Smash onward down the field.*

ALMA MATER

*Hail the name of Holt High School
 The fairest of the fair,
 For in our hearts for years to come
 Your memory will be there.
 School of schools, jewel of jewels,
 We'll keep her standards high,
 For in the many years to come
 We'll honor the days gone by.*

The musical score consists of five systems of two staves each (treble and bass clef). The key signature has three flats (B-flat, E-flat, A-flat). The first system includes a fermata over the first measure and dynamic markings 'Ped.' and '* Ped.'. The second system includes a fermata over the first measure and dynamic markings 'Ped.', '*', and 'Ped.'. The third system includes a fermata over the first measure and dynamic markings 'Ped.' and '* Ped.'. The fourth system includes a fermata over the first measure and a dynamic marking 'p'. The fifth system includes a fermata over the first measure and a dynamic marking 'Ped.'. Measure numbers 2, 8, and 13 are indicated at the end of their respective systems.

1. Arousing spirit to the chime of the bells, Delle Carnahan marches through the halls.
2. Drum Major Nathan Bogo keeps the band in step at the Fall Homecoming Parade.
3. Choir members performing on stage at one of their many concerts.
4. Dave Service, Denise Gable and Jim Pence are behind the scenes at a Choir concert.
4. Marching at halftime adds extra excitement and enjoyment to the games.

Holt High School is traditionally in love with music and 1983 was no exception!

Coming in early on cold mornings proved the Pep Band's dedication for spirited music. During Fall and Winter Homecomings they played enthusiastically in the lobby, arousing the more spirited students to dance to the exciting beat. The group also pepped-up home basketball games and numerous pep assemblies never coming close to winning the "Loud Mouth" contest.

What would a football game be without a marching band? The HHS band donned their uniforms for performances before home games and during halftime activities. Drum Major Tracy Kelly, senior, liked band because, "it helps me to get to know all the members of the band". Many other band members stated, "It's just fun". Later in the year the band performed concerts for the various seasons. Band students also participated in the Band Festival and Solo and Ensemble.

Of all the music programs, Choir was probably the most popular. The Choir met each day and practiced for the Thanksgiving Assembly, the Christmas, Winter and Spring Concerts. They also entertained the young people at Holt's elementary schools. The highlight of 1983 was the musical, "The Music Man". This elaborate production was very special for the students. Senior Maryann Dombroske said "being in Choir is such a rewarding experience, I'm really going to miss the class, the concerts, the musicals and especially the people". Students of HHS gave it their all when it came to music in 1983 and, as you can imagine, the spirit of music will never die.

DEDICATED TO:

Mr. Paul Jolly, Holt's principal of nine years, was born and raised in Pontiac. He received a BA from MSU and a MA from EMU. Mr. Jolly and his wife, Ellen, have two children, David and Joan. In his spare time, he enjoys painting and wood carving.

Mr. Jolly began achieving great things early in life. As an elementary student, he won the Pontiac Grand Champion Marble Player Award. In high school he played varsity basketball and presented a radio story hour for children.

Beginning his career in education, Mr. Jolly taught Industrial Arts and Speech, coached basketball and managed a swim club. He came to Holt as the Assistant High School Principal.

This year Mr. Jolly made an all out effort to initiate "pride" in HHS. The pride campaign was just one of his ideas to make students and parents realize how much the school has to give. Mr. Jolly trooped about the halls and grounds picking up trash. He was quite handy at trimming trees and shrubs, as well as, repairing filing cabinets and podiums. Principal Jolly looks at pride as a contagious element. He believes that once students begin feeling pride in themselves and their school, the feeling will grow and benefit the entire community.

Juniors: "Rock Around the Clock"
Sophomores: "Eye of the Tiger" by Survivor

Homecoming! What an experience! The whole school got a little crazy. Seniors all lived in a yellow submarine and claimed the 60s as their generation. the Juniors had a rough time with the 50s but never ceased to rock around the clock. Sophomores, with the 80s strove for the eye of the tiger, while their cradles still rocked. Seniors met with mishap when those Quakers kidnapped Pete Townsend, but it wasn't long before those peace-loving flower children set him free. Juniors uncovered the origin of Elvis Presley's "worming", something no one had known before. Now those sophomores . . . whether they were jamming with Pac Man or going to a Go Go, they definitely stole the show. Five days of singing and sound added up to an unforgettable Fall Homecoming.

Election 1982:

Michigan and the greater Lansing area saw Reaganomics playing a large part in the Democratic victories. James Blanchard won over his Republican opponent Richard Headlee for the number one spot in the state. US Senator Don Riegle remained in office as did US Congressman Howard Wolpe — both Democrats. Bob Carr (D) unseated incumbent US Congressman Jim Dunn (R). Attorney General Frank Kelly (D) and Secretary of State Richard Austin (D) remained in office. Locally State Representatives Ernie Nash (R) and Debbie Stabenow (D) held on to their offices. The hard fought campaign was over Nov. 2, 1982 but the actual results of the voters' choices will be played out during the next two years.

Garfield:

We all know Garfield, the overweight, dog hating, lasagna loving cat. Since being introduced to us in 1978 he has become the fastest growing comic strip ever. He has 1,500 products out on the market and he recently starred in his own television special. He also has 16 books in print. Who can resist seeing Garfield with his friends Nermal, Odie and Pooky? Apparently no one — his products earned almost $20 million and it looks like that's just the beginning.

Look out Garfield! You have some competition. The everpopular Smurfs have 25 best selling books and a Saturday morning cartoon that was nominated for an Emmy Award. They also have $600 million worth of Smurfabilia for both the young and old.

Wharton Center:

After years of designing and fund raising the Clifton and Dolores Wharton Center for Performing Arts finally became a reality. On Sept. 2, 1982 the center, which has been in planning since 1974, opened up with a production of "A Midsummer Nights Dream". Holt students were among the many privileged young people in the Lansing area to see the performance. The $20.1 million dollar facility has two luxurious theaters. The Great Hall which seats 2,500 and the 600 seat thrust style Festival Stage. Throughout the years these theaters will be having performances from the MSU theaters and music departments, Broadway and other fine arts organizations.

Teacher Layoffs:

Due to drastic but necessary reductions in the Holt School's budget, many excellent and competent teachers have been released from their positions. It has been alleged that North Central Accreditation is the perpetrator of this horrible "crime". The following message is directed toward these outgoing instructors.

Goodbye teachers. You'll be sorely missed by everybody you have touched with your patience, humor, compassion and genuine concern for their well being. Your friends, colleagues and students bid you good luck and a fond farewell.

England's New Prince:

Just when we thought we'd seen the latest magazine with Prince Charles and Lady Diana on the cover — the big event happened. They had a baby! Once again we saw them on the covers of everything from People, to The National Enquirer. The 7 pound, ½ ounce baby boy named William Arthur Philip Louis was born on June 21, 1982. The future King of England has a staff of three who work day and night in his nursery. Although Diana plans on helping out with the baby more than other royal mothers have, she does escape one annoying task — writing all those thank-you notes.

THE PERFORMING ARTS OFFER SOMETHING SPECIAL FOR EVERYONE. The arts fill our lives with song, dance, entertainment and culture. During the 1983 school year, the fine artists of HHS staged numerous outstanding performances. A few of these artists gladly shared their views on the subject.

Why do you feel the Performing Arts are important?

The Performing Arts are important because they are entertaining and interesting to the people watching the performance. Also, they are a challenge to the performers. There is no limit to how good a performance can be, but it takes a lot of hard work. — Tom Heller

I think that Performing Arts are important in a student's school day because one needs some kind of music or time to spend expressing the inner-feelings within oneself. — Paul Levandowski

They provide a creative outlet for people talented in things other than sports. When people enjoy what they do, then it becomes a special gift which is left with the audience. That's something no sport can provide. — Ken Kyte

What is special about the Performing Arts at HHS?

The Arts are special at HHS because there is much time spent in classes, after school and on your own to make everything the best it can be. — Jenny Scott

At HHS, the Performing Arts aren't seen as a mere fun thing to do. Instead, it takes dedication, time and a lot of love for what you're trying to do. — Delle Carnahan

The people involved with the Performing Arts make the arts special. The people involved are more creative, fun and friendly than the average person. They're unique! They take a chance at being something or showing some part of their personalities that normally would not get the chance to emerge. — Jim Pence

What do the Performing Arts do for the school and community?

The senior citizens and the parents are the biggest percentage of our audiences. The senior citizens just love us and it gives them a chance to get out and see something different.

Actors, Dancers, Singers And Musicians: There's No Business

The parents are always very proud of their children for getting up in front of people and trying their hardest. I feel good contributing to the community and participating in a cultural event. — Marty Phreed

The Performing Arts provide the community with inexpensive entertainment that is more interesting because people they know are performing. In addition, a good performance gives the school recognition and pride. — Kim Maki

Hopefully, the Performing Arts make people happy. Nothing makes me feel better than to know that my performance was appreciated. — Gregg Moore

12 ANGRY JURORS

JUSTICE

What happens when you combine 13 actors, a director and a light man? You end up with an interesting drama called "12 Angry Jurors."

The 1982 Fall Play, directed by Jewell Ratzlaff, was a murder trial about a young man accused of stabbing his father. The 12 jurors were appointed to decide his guilt or innocence.

After a lengthy six day trial, all of the jurors voted guilty, while one juror (Debbie Major) fought to prove the defendant's innocence. The remaining jurors had not considered his innocence on this first vote. Although much of the evidence pointed toward the young man, Major finally succeeded in convincing the jury that there was a reasonable doubt. The defendant was declared innocent after the long and heated discussion. Senior Troy Pence stated, "12 Angry Jurors was a good experience for me. Myra Grant and Thom Foy, along with the rest of the cast, gave excellent performances."

Junior Jodi Abendroth summed it up in saying, "Being in a high school play was an experience that was a challenge. The whole cast was very helpful and made the play the best it could be."

1. Director Jewell Ratzlaff aids in stage direction for a murder scene.
2. Debbie Major fights for the defendant.
3. CAST: ROW 1: Julie Barnes, Thom Foy, Myra Grant, Kim Maki, Jeff Price, Delle Carnahan. ROW 2: Kurt King, Gregg Moore, Jodi Abendroth, Troy Pence, Debbie Major, Tonya Hilliard, Jim Parker.
4. Myra Grant and Gregg Moore re-enact the crime as Julie Barnes looks on.
5. The members of the jury are overwhelmed as an identical murder weapon is exposed.

"FOR JUST THE FUN OF SINGING"

SING OUT

To the many dedicated members, Choir meant more than just singing daily in class and performing concerts. The following questions drew out some of the deeper feelings that can occur in the arts.

What does Choir mean to you?
"Choir is a class where notes are not passed but sung." — Randy Pelky.

"It gives a good feeling when the whole choir works together to create something beautiful." — Becky Maricle.

"The people in Choir seem to have a special bond of friendship." — Gregg Moore.

"It means a chance to get out of harder classes and into something you can share with others." — Amy Wilcox.

What do you like best about Choir?

"The musical is hard work, but it's very rewarding to see the audience laugh or cry at your performance." — Mary-Margaret Ward.

"It's the feeling that we put so many smiles on so many faces." — Beth Austin.

Do you feel Choir has made you appreciate music more?

"Mr. Allen's love and appreciation for music rubs off on everyone." — Becky Maricle.

"Rock, as I have found, isn't the only type of music worth listening to." — Jim Pence.

"I love the sound. Now I view music as an art." — Kevin Herrick.

1. A gift of appreciation is given to Director Mr. Allen from the Choir.
2. Troy Pence sings bass for "If Only You Believe."
3. Joe Mau participates in the Annual Thanksgiving Assembly.
4. Altos Amy Hersey and Wendy DeYoung perform for the Christmas Concert.
5. Soloist Dana Sanders pleases her audiences with "A Song Of Christmas."

"BAND ON THE RUN"

BEAT-IT

Two weeks before school started up the band members shined their instruments and reported to summer band camp. The poor sophomores, with butterflies stirring in their stomachs, were about to learn the techniques of marching from the juniors and seniors. The going was tough at first, but after awhile things began to shape up. With Drum Majors Nathan Bogo and Tracy Kelly, Majorette Kylen Nelson, eight flag girls and about seventy instrumentalists, the band was ready to perform at every home game. Rain or shine the beat always went on thanks to the terrific percussion section.

Finally, the marching season was over and it was time to settle down to a fine concert season. Director Jerry Winters coaxed the band through a fine Christmas performance on December 15. After that the band, as usual, was divided into a concert band and a symphonic band. The end of the year brought much commotion with a spring pops concert, commencement and a couple of parades. Fortunately the Holt High School Band has always made pressured times look easy.

1. Mr. Winters is pulls the band through the Christmas Concert on December 15.

4. David Whiting, Jim Van Dyke and Carl Heller play a snare drum trio.

"Tonight the Ram Band examines conflict and the men who deal with it. First, a salute to the men in blue on the hill ... The Hill Street Blues. The Place ... The Tallahatchie Bridge. The Victim ... Billy Joe McAllister. The Song ... Ode To Billy Joe. Tchaikovsky (intending our final work for outdoor performance) scored the piece for large orchestra and an expanded percussion section that included an actual cannon. As you may note, the band really gets into the idea of a cannon and fires a salute to Tchaikovsky's 1812 Overture. The Tam Band wishes to express its appreciation to Mr. Marshall Hartig and the American Legion for its assistance in tonight's half time performance." Announced at the half time performance on November 5, by Senior Anthony Henry.

"DON'T YOU WORRY 'BOUT A THING"

EVERYBODY REJOICE

Leave it to the RamSingers. They dazzled your eyes as they swung to the sounds of all types of music. The rhythm pattern didn't matter as long as there was a beat. Director Ron Allen patiently "tickled the ivories" as six different choreographers attempted to create the dance steps! Sound impossible? Confusing maybe, but with this type of participation more members received great rewards.

But the greatest reward and satisfaction the RamSingers received was the simple pleasure of a good performance and a good audience. All performances went for the exceptionally low price of "free admission." "We did it 'For Just The Fun of Singing'" concluded Senior Mary Ann Dombroske.

CULTURE WITH CLASS

COMBINING THE ARTS

The Annual Fine Arts Day gave the audience a new type of performance — a ballet by The Ballet Folklorico, a local touring dance company. The first act began with Holt's Choir marching in an ethnic funeral singing a Spanish chant. The chant explained a South American belief that children who died before age seven would become angels in heaven. Along with the Choir, Senior Mary Ann Dombroske played a trumpet solo, Holt's elementary Ethnic Dance Students performed and the Holt High School Band played Spanish numbers before the main event. During the final act, Senior Thom Foy read poetry and the ballet troop included percussion and vocal solo pieces between the dances. Assistant Principal Dave Messner stated the major goal of the 1983 Fine Arts Day was to "expose the community to something different." The ballet was a success.

An added plus awaited ballet goers. The Senior High School Art Department along with two elementary schools displayed works of art in the auditorium lobby and the Holt High Volleyball Boosters hosted a huge bake sale for those who wanted a snack between performances or take a treat home. The assembly also received a free Creative Arts Publication which included works by HHS students.

1. Spikers Jodi Liles and Lisa Whitford sell homemade goodies at the bakesale.
2. The Concert Band sets the mood for the ethnic festivities.
3. Dancers from the Ballet Folklorico come out for the final curtain call.
4. The Ballet company performed percussion solos between acts.
5. Admiring the High School art display are Mike Garland, Larry Kingsley and Mike Amthor.

YE GODS! WHAT A CROWD!

Everyone loves a happy ending, and the Choir's 1983 production of "The Music Man" was no exception. Nearly 1200 people came to see the presentation. The main characters, who began to memorize their lines in March, were ready for the rest of the cast when they came to rehearsal in April. One always heard people running around yelling "who has an extra hairpin?", "is my collar straight?" or the unforgettable, "Where is a needle and thread?"

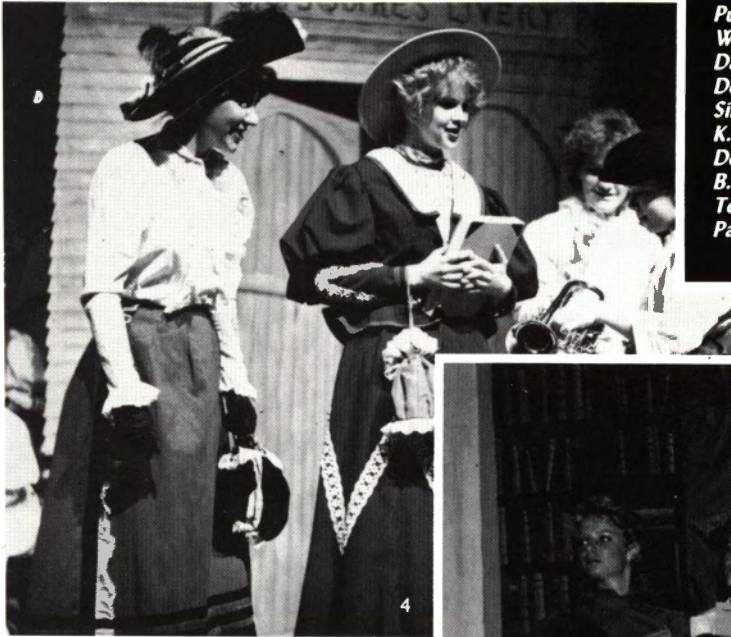

With an authentic barbershop quartet, the musical had the nostalgia of 1912. Playing the lead part of Harold Hill, salesman of band instruments, Junior Jim Pence remarked, "To get some idea how the character should be played, I watched the videotape of the movie version. With all the lines and songs to be learned, I found the musical challenging," added Pence.

1. "I have a bunion there that bothers me sometimes," comments Delle Carnahan.
2. The School Board sings "It's You." while preparing for the social.
3. Marty Phreed and Wendy DeYoung dance the "Shipooopi."
4. Carolyn Jones and Mary Ann Dombroske are in awe as Scott Bolles shows them his new cornet.
5. "Ye Gods!" exclaims Missy Stockenauer as Jim Parks shows her his new invention.

OUT OF SIGHT

MADNESS?!

What is the most exciting thing about being in a play? According to Senior Ken Kyte, "the laughter and cheering of an audience can't be beat!" The rest of the cast of "Harvey" tended to agree with him.

Although most of the cast members had worked together before, none of them had ever worked with an invisible rabbit (who just happened to be the main character of the play). Senior Missy Stockenauer explained "we had to remember at all times where Harvey was and what he was doing." Myra Grant, senior, added, "Harvey was the easiest actor in the world to get along with."

"Elwood (Thom Foy) sincerely believes in Harvey and by the end of the play so will the audience," explained Director Ron Allen at the first rehearsal. Harvey even went out for the curtain call at the end of the show. "It took a lot of hours after school to make the play good, but the time was well worth it," said Sophomore Pete Scavarda. Senior Tonya Hilliard summed it up best saying "the cast and crew was an excellent group of people and I enjoyed working with them all."

1. Nurse Kelly tries to get information from Veta who has made the painful decision to commit her brother.
2. Not knowing that Harvey is an invisible rabbit, Mrs. Chumley promises Elwood that she will give him a ride into town if she sees him.
3. Mrs. Chauvenet doesn't know quite what to think after being introduced to the invisible Harvey.
4. An outraged Dr. Chumley fires his assistant Dr. Sanderson for committing the wrong person.
5. "He took me upstairs and tore my clothes off!" Veta explains to Myrtle Mae and Judge Gaffney.

FANS, ATHLETES AND COACHES, these enthusiastic people make sports. All of them eagerly shared their feelings concerning athletics:

What does it mean to be a fan?

"A fan is someone who is behind the team 100 percent, will sit in the stands screaming his or her lungs out in the pouring rain, will stay for the entire basketball game giving encouragement when we are losing by 50 points, will go to baseball games in below freezing temperatures and will stay with the team in both winning and losing seasons!" — Tammy Bashore

"To be a fan is to go to the games and drink Coke and eat Starbursts and yell at the refs and cheer for your team. Most of all, it means to support your team, no matter what the situation is." — Craig Reynolds

What does it mean to be an athlete?

"To be an athlete means to represent your school, community and family in a honorable way on and off the field. Being an athlete brings forth a sense of pride, but with that pride comes responsibility." — Doug Stover

"Being an athlete means having enough dedication, discipline and guts to improve." — Andy Sherman

What does it mean to be a coach?

"I feel a very strong sense of responsibility towards the individual who is participating and for myself displaying the proper attitude and values I think an athlete should possess. In other words, a coach is a teacher with the major different being that the participants want to be there and you get their full attention." — Mr. Scotty Shimnoski

"Challenge!" — Mr. Peter Kressler

How do sports affect HHS?

"Sports give the high school one more basis for unity and school pride. It has a way of bringing us all together to work toward a common goal." — Mr. Larry Burgess

"Sports affect our high school not so much because students enjoy watching them, but because they like to participate. Personally, competing and trying to build a name for my school and team has made me feel pride and a sense of belonging for HHS that otherwise may not have grown." — Mary Meade

What is the key to a successful season?

"The key to a successful season is cooperation. A season is never a success if the people on the team can't work with each other and their coach." — Pam Kelly

"The success does not come from winning or losing. The success comes from the effort. A participant who pushes himself to the limit or perhaps even exceeds his limit is someone who should be respected.

HHS' Home Of The Rams, Presents World's Greatest

Whether he wins or loses, this person has nothing to be ashamed of." — Jim Parker

What makes HHS sports superior?

"Holt's sports all around are really not superior to other schools. Every once in a while there will be standouts and exceptions, but in most cases we are just average. This year I feel the only thing that kept us from being superior was a lack of seriousness and the relations between seniors, juniors and sophomores." — Marty Schnepf

"A winning tradition along with a solid program supported by fans, parents and students ..." — Mr. Darold Briggs

In years past HHS spirit and pride had been lacking that certain "umph" that seemed to spark during the 1982-83 school year. Students found a distinct change due to the pride trend. "I think we all have a better feeling about Holt, more spirit," said Senior Tracy Kelly.

With the appearance of "Pride Posters," "Pride Buttons" and a jug with "Pride Inside," Holt set out to let the community know that we cared.

1. As usual, the spirited Seniors have some great hall signs.
2. Holt's "Jug O' Pride" symbolizes the peppiness that Holt followers carry.
3. Rowdy Rocky Ram (really Kathy Hunt) fires up the crowd during the Homecoming game.
4. Showing excellent spirit is Principal Paul Jolly as he displays his  buttons.
5. The Rams charge onto the field ready to make oatmeal out of the Quakers.

"FAN" TASTIC

A high level of involvement and enthusiasm characterized Holt sport followers. Senior Randy Pelky believed that, "the winning spirit shared by both the fans and the athletes was responsible for the exceptional crowd participation."

As supportive shouts rose from spectators in the stands, many parents were heard above students. According to Mrs. Elidia Long, "feeling like part of the team by cheering the athletes on," added an extra thrill to sporting events.

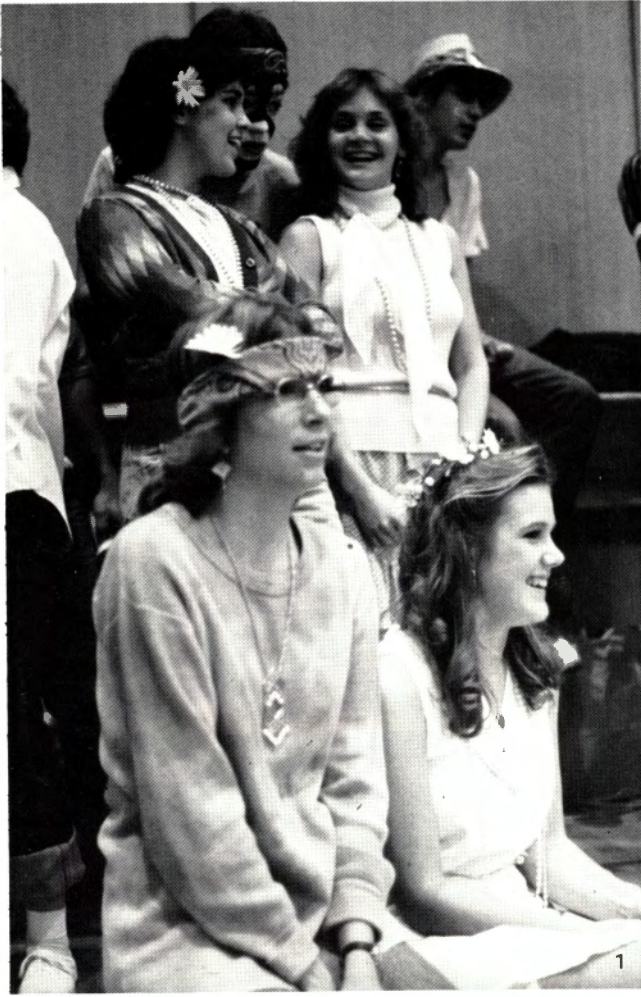

Holt's faculty members didn't neglect their roles as fans. As in past years, the "regulars" arrived devotedly to watch their students compete. Athletic Director Jack Crawford stated that one of two elements made athletics enjoyable, "good keen competition between equally matched teams or Holt teams showing power and dominance over their opponents."

Senior Todd Long defined the "true" sports fan as, "someone who still cheers, even if the team is losing."

1. Excited fans wait to quench their thirst at the concession stand.
2. Mr. Micheals and Mrs. Jagutis do their part by taking tickets at home football games.
3. Only a privileged few get their view from inside the press box.
4. Two Holt Alumni bundle up against the cold while watching the Rams play football.
5. Devoted Holt fans watch as the Rams go into triple overtime against Okemos.

SPIRIT WEEK!!

On the freezing cold night of October 22, the Holt Rams beat the Eastern Quakers 25-24! The events leading up to the exciting game were, of course, spirit week, lunch time games, the pep assembly and the parade — all a part of the 1982 Homecoming.

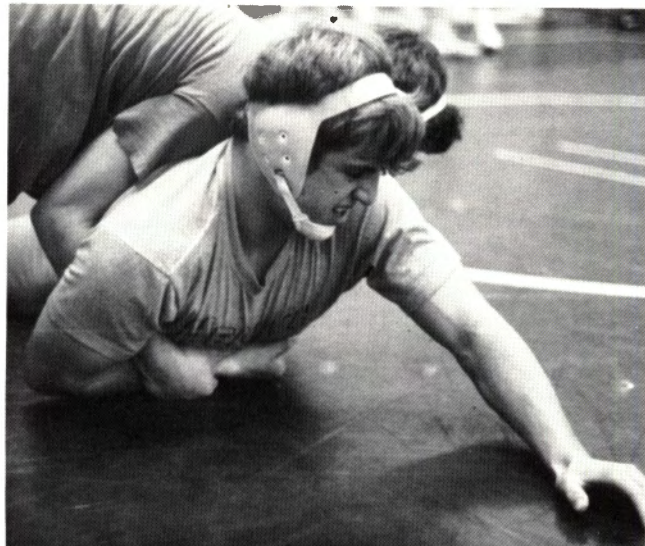

The pep assembly had a new twist this year. DJs Dan Ballard and Doug Burten from 101-FM came to emcee and do some cheers with the cheerleaders! Their presence tied in with the Homecoming theme of music.

Introduced at halftime and crowned at the Homecoming Dance were Seniors Tammy Bashore and Bret Brown. Bashore, overwhelmed to have been elected Queen, said "Being chosen Queen was very emotional for me and I felt very honored. Brown added, "I felt that this year's Fall Homecoming went over a lot better than others in recent years. Speaking for the Senior Class, I can say that we had greater participation, enthusiasm and organization than we have had in earlier years of our high school career.

1. Dressing 1960s style are Seniors Kellie Barnes, Annette Schoonover, Tammy Schafer, Shelly Kruger and Bret Brown.
2. King Bret Brown congratulates teary-eyed Queen Tammy Bashore.
3. DJs Dan Ballard and Doug Burten emcee at Homecoming pep assembly.
4. 1982 Homecoming Court is Queen Tammy Bashore, King Bret Brown, Becky Simpson, Doug Stover, Laurie Hansens, Chris Leyrer, Stacie Foster and Brian Bullock.
5. The aftermath of the lunchtime pie eating contest.
6. Sophomores Alison Smith, Kathie Hunt and Kristin Golden "punk out" on theme day.

UNSEEN EFFORT

Some of the most outstanding athletic performances of 1982-83 were not seen by spectators. There were no spectators on the practice fields, there were no spectators in the gyms and wrestling room after school and there were no spectators in the pool at 6:00 in the morning. Athletes had to put forth some impressive performances during practice in order to earn positions, polish skills and get in shape.

Because coaches weren't easily impressed, athletes had to execute their skills effectively and with extreme effort. Skill polishing took excessive drilling and a great deal of self-discipline in order to do the drills right every time. Conditioning just plain took guts. Hard work impressed most people as much as an exciting play and in that sense practices were better than competition.

ONE FUN WEEK

The 1983 Winter Homecoming was just as wild and crazy as it had been in the past years. During the week you could walk through the halls and see people dressed up as punkers, in togas or just plain "dressed up." If you happened to stay at school for lunch, you may have watched the juniors dominate the lunchtime games with the pudding contest, pie plate relay or the licorice stumper.

Friday was the big day. It started with confusion as students decorated the school halls. Then came the pep assembly. Burton and Ballard from IOI FM got everyone ready to go. The seniors once again proved to have the best skit performing an episode from MASH. However, Monday morning the group was called to the office for unwisely spilling non-alcoholic beverages on the gym floor.

Then the big game — Holt vs. Grand Ledge. The whole week was topped off with a 57-52 victory over the Comets. The King, Queen and Their Court was announced between the JV and Varsity games. The week ended dancing to the sensational music of the Entertainment System.

1. Seniors Lynn Fleming, Celia Langenfeld and Kellie Barnes punkout for Spirit Week.
 2. The noon time games always seem to draw a crowd.
 3. Court members Laurie Smith and Mark Mason await the final decision of King and Queen.
 4. "Introducing the 1983 Winter Homecoming King and Queen — Ronda Beals and Mike Baker."

SHOW TIME

How would you like to see some real enthusiasm? Come to a Holt Pep Assembly. There were smiling faces, cheering crowds and one happy principal — not to mention the good music from the peppy pep band. Students also participated in rowdy events like the loud mouth contest led by Mr. Dan Ernst. If the crowds were enthusiastic enough, there was a pie in the face for your favorite teacher.

Then came the real entertainment. Twelve of the best female dancers in Holt High made up the Pom Pon Squad. Featuring Jodi Atkinson, voted "best dancer," the squad showed a lot of high kicks and pretty faces. Versatility was the theme of this year's squad. Not only did they perform at high school pep assemblies they made up a routine including the Holt High School Cheerleaders and one including over 300 students from Holt's elementary schools. Along with the new routines the girls added sailor uniforms and bright stripes for a new look.

1. Mr. Jolly gets everyone's attention.
2. Robert Taylor helps Mr. Gillett satisfy his sweet tooth.
3. Paul Levandowski demonstrates the heavy way to have fun.
4. The 1982-83 Pom Pon Squad: ROW 1: Jenny Spitz, Kim Boldt, Tammy Duling, Denise Gavin, Tammy Bashore, JoDee Irche, Kelly Fulk, Mrs. Zidell. ROW 2: Jodi Atkinson, Summer Bartholameau, Dana Sanders, Nanette Anthony, Laurie Richardson.

2. Doug Stover is congratulated by Athletic Director Jack Crawford as "Athlete of the Year".
3. Another senior plaque is delivered by LeeAnn O'Neill to Rob Foster.
4. Mike Baker ends his athletic career at Holt High.
5. Jacque Pentacost receives the "Walt Powloski" Award.
6. Three year softball letter winner Kim Barnheart is recognized.
7. Displaying obvious pride is Jody Klepper.
8. The Boys' Track Team hears words of praise from Coach Darold Briggs.

PAY OFF

It finally paid off! The weeks, months and (for some) years of hard work and sweat had been rewarded. Out from under the grime and dirt a unique group of shining, proud spirits left their fields and courts to receive the recognition they deserve.

This year HHS gave a new twist to the Athletic Awards by holding it in the evening. This allowed the parents the opportunity of watching as their children accepted their awards, letters and statuettes.

The comment that carried the most praise was stated by the JV Softball Coach Michael Clark, "... you hear a lot about character in sporting situations, and this team had it. They never got down on themselves, even though we had a tough season. And they never got down on their teammates." That is what team sports are all about — working as a group and striving for the best. Those who made it were the true athletes. Congratulations on one fantastic season after another!

WEATHERED SEASON

The Rams had a tough time getting started due to the rain, but once the good weather came, they played up to six games a week to make up for the cancellations. The Girls' Varsity Softball Team ended their season with a winning streak, but a loss at districts kept them from going on. They started out the season with only four returning veterans joined by nine new players. Their overall season record was 8-12.

Seniors Dori Essenburg and Pam Kelly said, "Our record was disappointing and our season was frustrating, but we had fun together." Coach Snively wrapped up the season by saying, "I had hoped that this season would have produced more wins on paper, but in retrospect I felt that the progress we made this year will be reflected in our 1984 season. The attitudes were great this year, next season will be super."

TOP HITS

The 1983 Holt Rams Baseball Team they never gave in. This was best explained by Coach Del Cory, "We played much better than our record shows. We lost four games by one run. When we received good pitching, we could play with anyone." Senior Deryck Jones proved to be the team's backbone. He received the most valuable player and leading pitcher awards, while being the teams leading hitter. Jones was also named to the All League first team. Senior players David Choma, Mike McClelland and Tim Feeley were named honorable mention on the All League team. The Holt team's Hustle Award went to Senior Mike McClelland and Senior Scott Auvenshine set a school record by stealing eleven bases.

1. Kevin Wiggington winds up, releases the ball and it's a strike.
2. The Rams prepare for their turn to bat.
3. "Your out!" Deryck Jones catches a fly ball.
4. Coach Del Cory puts his all into making the Rams a winning team.
5. Brian Sweet, assistant coach, helps settle a dispute.
6. Holt prepares for the pitch, the ball is thrown and it's a home run.

DEDICATION

The Girls' Varsity Basketball Team had a disappointing but rewarding season. After losing several games, the girls came back to beat Eastern 48-44, leaving the team with a 1-7 record, in the CAC. Coach Mr. Guenther stated, "In spite of our win, loss record I feel we were a good team and continued to work to improve."

Even though the girls' overall record was not good, the team showed a lot of talent. Starting guard, Senior Pam Kelly played an excellent game against Luman Christi with a high score of 20 points. Throughout the year Senior Jane Conklin showed tough aggressiveness while Junior Lisa Whitford and Seniors Dori Essenburg and Jackie Pentecost continued to show improvement by playing good ball.

The season came to an end at Districts' with a defeat against Everett. "I think we all got along good, worked hard and had fun," stated Lisa Whitford. Next year should look much brighter with four returning juniors and one returning sophomore.

HOLT HOOPERS

The Boys' Varsity Basketball Team showed great effort this year. The final record of 2-20 did not display the amount of teamwork and individual talent that went in to each game. The team, led by Senior Tim Feeley and Sophomore Scooter Tropf, was very competitive in most of the games. Forward Senior Brian Wheeler felt that the team's best game was against Okemos. He commented, "We played like a team and showed a lot of pride." Coach Bob Simmons summed up the season by saying, "Our record reflects the level of competition that we played against. Therefore we frequently experienced disappointment, but not failure."

1. Supportive teammates give encouragement.
2. Going for two points is Dan Knechtel.
3. Striving for a rebound is Tim Feeley.
4. First year Coach Simmons is pleased with his team.
5. Displaying his jumpshot is Scooter Tropf.

RAMS DASH TO A WINNING YEAR

You take a deep breath, feel the adrenalin, get set for the big event. This process involved every girl on the 1982 Girls' Cross Country Team. Even the freshmen, whose scores had no significance for the team, pushed themselves as they attempted to see what scores they could achieve before every event. The girls' adrenalin must have been pumping at all their meets because the result of the conference was 6-0. They finished eleventh in Regionals with 337 points, placed second at the League Meet with 71 points and their overall results were 7-2. There were three girls who made the all CAC team, Tammy Decker, Ronda Beals and Cheryl Fleming. The girls' team was CAC co-champions with East Lansing. Congratulations girls!

DASHING FREE '83 AROUND THE BEND

As they pushed themselves around the last curve, through the last few yards and across the finish line, each member of the Boys' Cross Country Team experienced a deep feeling of satisfaction. Throughout the 1982-83 season HHS was well represented by the proud members of the team. Sophomore Jim Parker said, "Thanks to Mr. Gillett, I think we had a successful year."

Although the entire team put forth a tremendous effort, one member strove a little harder than the rest. Senior Mike Stone ran all the way to the state competition where he finished 18th out of the 80 runners covering the distance of a little over three miles. Stone added that he was, "... glad to make the State Meet in my senior year, but it's a disappointment that I didn't place."

The Girls' Golf Team left behind them its reputation as the "HACKERS" and the memory of its proudly worn BBA hats.

Through snow, sleet and rain, the Girls' Golf Team struggled to complete the season with a 4-8 record. The bad weather caused a late start, but the all-senior team pulled together and demonstrated real teamwork. The girls finished fifth in CAC and 11th out of 17 in Regionals. Coach Steve Scott worked with the small team of four players, two of which were returning letterman. Senior Jane Conklin voiced her opinion of their season, "Although we did not do as well as we wanted to in competition, we enjoyed other personal accomplishments during the season." She was right. Senior Betsy Hall broke the all-school record with a score of 43.

NEW TEAM

After losing half their team to graduation, the Girls' Swim Team had only four returning swimmers and divers. The '82 season brought out an unexpected team of 17 girls. With lots of hard work and dedication, the team finished the season with a record of 5-7. Holt finished only fifth place in the CAC even though their record improved from last year. Consolation finalists in the City Meet were Sophomores Amy Wilcox, Michelle Nemshak, LeeAnn Morgan, Angela Young, Juniors Hope Nichols, Kim Kovera and Senior Mary Meade.

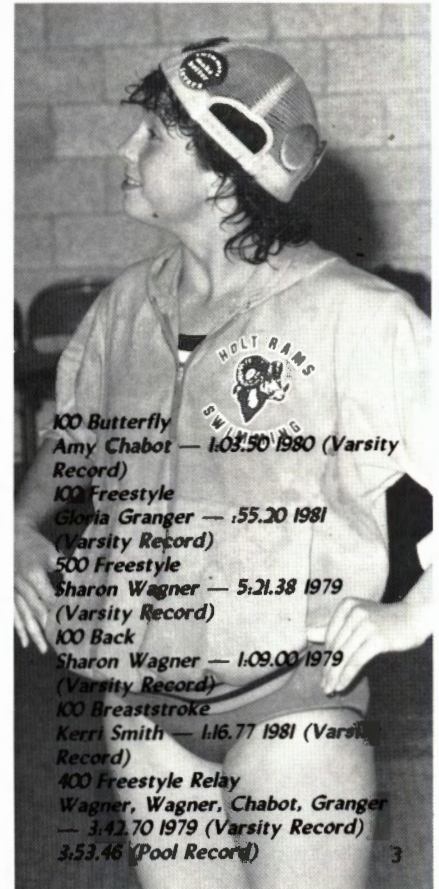

In the finals, Kim Kovera placed sixth in the 500 free style, and the relay team of Kim Kovera, Hope Nichols, Michelle Nemshak and Mary Meade placed fifth overall. Divers LeeAnn O'Neill and Kim Eberly pulled out with first and third place finishes.

SPECIAL RECOGNITION

The divers definitely contributed their efforts to the team. Senior Kim Eberly scored third place in the CAC Meet, sixth place in Regionals and, then going on, placed 22nd at the State Meet. Kim holds the Holt Varsity one-meter diving record for 6 dives at 222.50, for 11 dives at 351.85 and the pool record at 217.50. Junior LeeAnn O'Neill went on to be the only girl from the Holt Swim Team to win a CAC championship. LeeAnn then went to Regionals where she scored ninth place, which qualified her for the State Meet in which she placed 23rd.

GERONIMO!!

Experiencing a successful year, the Holt Boys' Varsity Swim Team moved down the lanes to victory. With some of their meets going as far as Jackson, the swimmers adapted to the varying conditions. Taking a dip in an algae filled pool was one of the season's highlights. Practicing 11 times per week — 6:15 in the mornings, after school and on Saturday mornings — gave the guys the extra strength for their 7-5 victory. "Very often the guys would start practicing fifteen minutes after the scheduled time," remarked Coach Dave Shipman. "We really needed our practices, that's why we did so great at our meets," said Craig "Chappy" Chapman.

According to Coach Shipman, the swimmers went home after the meets and didn't have much spare time. But the team members managed to find time for dates, flicks, pizzas, flat tires at 3:30 AM, breakfast after morning practice and locking Waverly's team in a Grand Ledge locker room.

SEASON OF STRUGGLES

Throughout the season, the Girls' Varsity Tennis Team had many struggles. Due to the injury of Ris Watson, the positions were juggled to accommodate for the available space. Senior Mary Margaret Ward led the team as first singles to a 3-6 overall record. The girls then went to place sixth at CAC and fifth at Regionals. The team was young with little experience, but with Pat Somers as head coach and Al Inkala as the new assistant coach, the girls improved immensely.

The season ended with a banquet at Chuck E. Cheese and awards at the Country Parlour. While the seniors accepted their last letters with teary eyes, the underclassmen were full of energy and looked upon the day when they would be number one.

4th IN CAC

The 1983 Boys' Varsity Tennis Team had its first CAC Champ in five years when unseeded Sophomore Chris Thomas beat Sexton, upset East Lansing and, then, got by Eastern to claim the championship at the league meet in fourth singles.

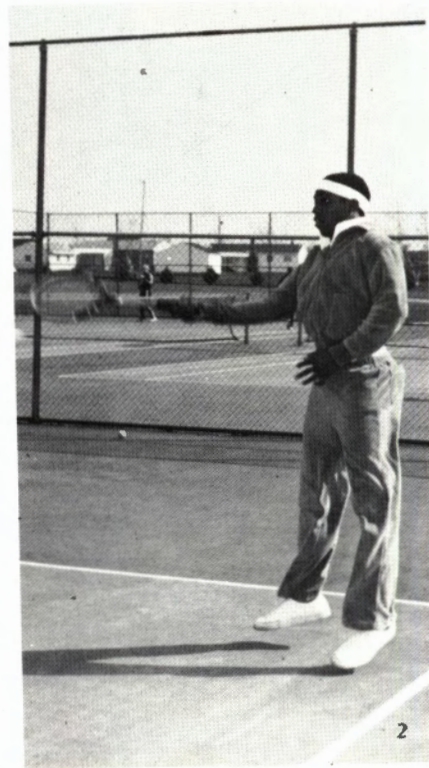

Over-all the team finished an average season with a 6-6 record. The four singles players, Todd Eastman, Kirk Nelson, Jeff St. Clair and Thomas, all finished with winning records. Also finishing with a winning record was the doubles team of Joe Ramon and Gary Carlson.

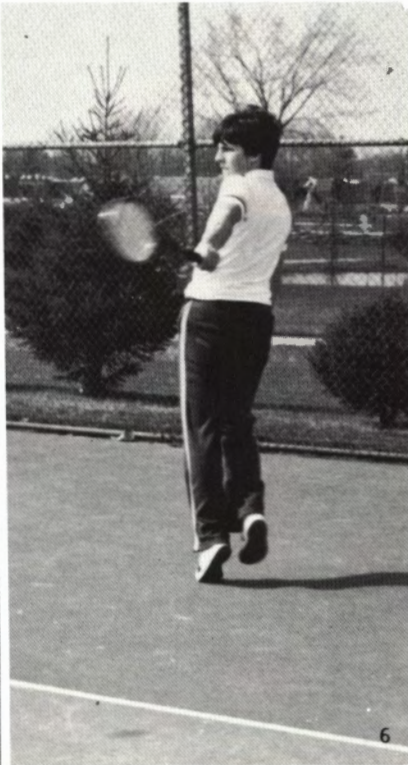

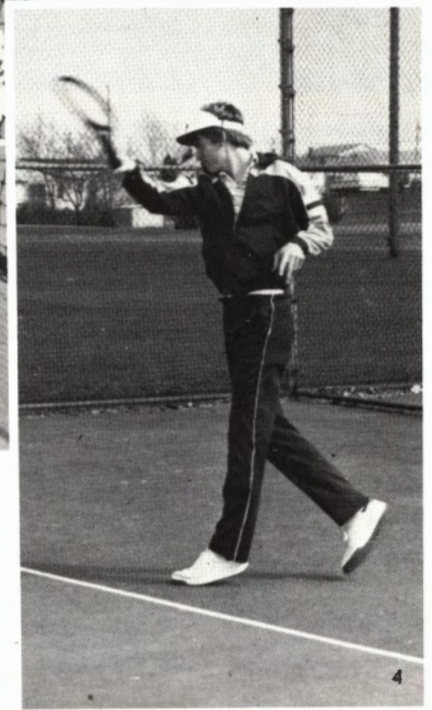

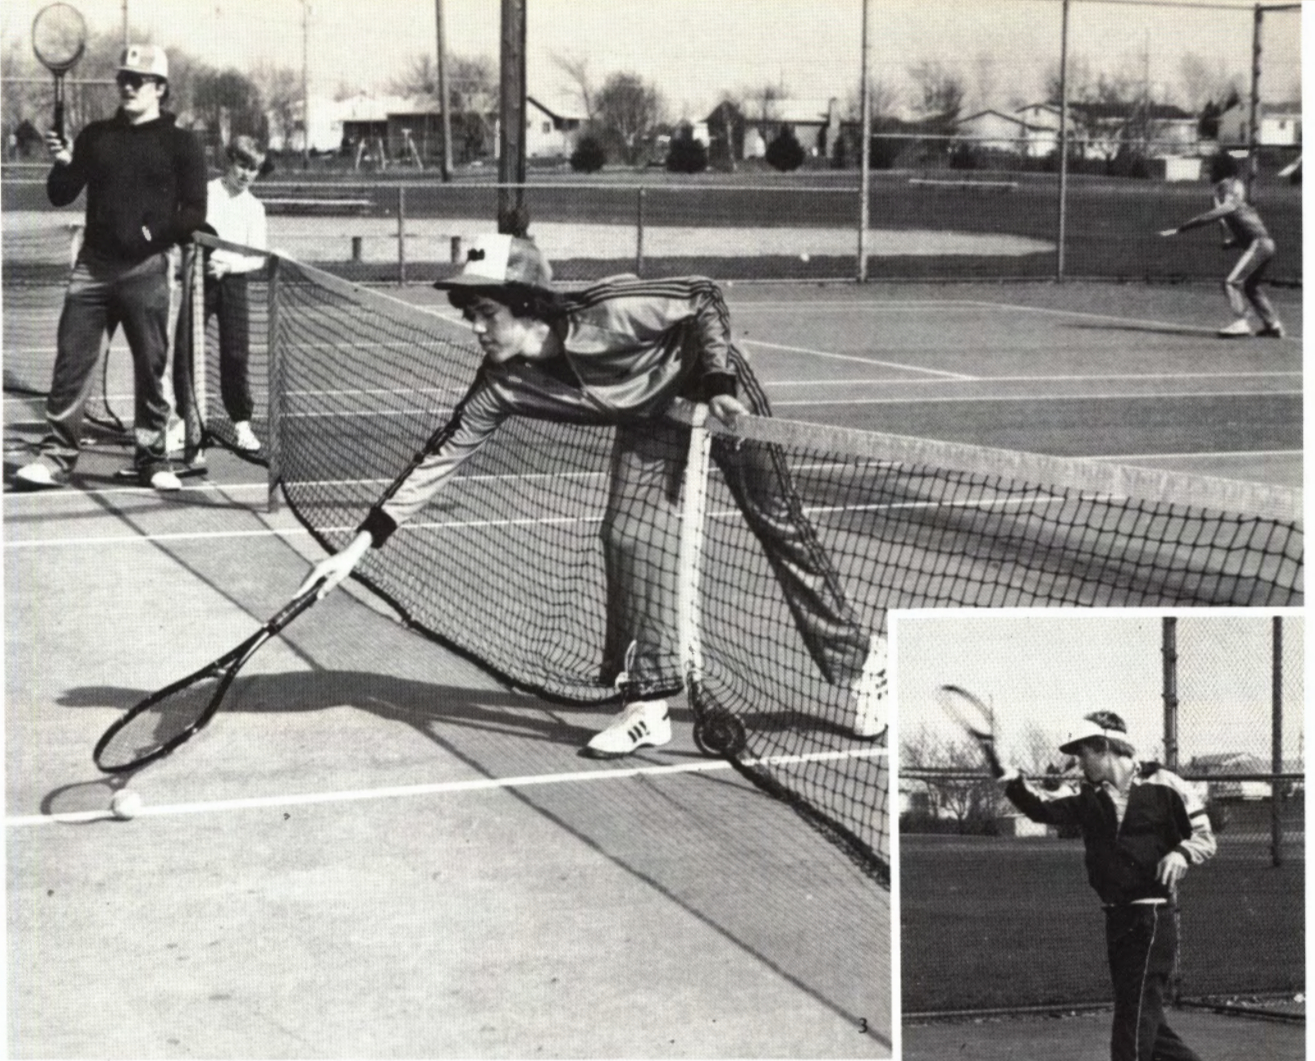

Summing up the season was first singles player Eastman, "This year brought us many ups and downs but over-all we will remember the good times we shared together. I would like to thank Coach Inkala for making my last year of tennis my best."

1. Brian Pierce warms up his backhand before a match.

LEADERSHIP

The 1983 Girls' Track Team had a successful season with a record of 4 wins and 7 losses. They were a young team with some good leadership from a few seniors. The key performers all season were Seniors Jackie Pentecost and Tammy Decker.

Junior Christy Kraght had this to say about the team, "Track is alot of hard work, but we all had fun learning, improving and winning together." After putting in a hard season Coach Lila Guenther received the district 4 "Coach of the Year" award. "The coaching award is a unique honor as it is initiated from fellow coaches in your own field." she stated.

SPRINTERS

The Boys' Track Team had a 7-4 dual meet record. The team demonstrated a great deal of athletic talent. Seniors Dan Reisner, Mike Stone, Brian Wheeler and Sophomore Biff Bongard broke the mile-relay record with a time of 3:264. "The Rams, with stand-out Stone qualifying for the state meet, still maintained their respected place in statewide track circles through a number of fine large meet performances," stated Coach Briggs. The team also showed improvement especially by Bongard and Sophomore Adrian Arnold. Senior Dave Powers with his endless spirit helped bring out the teams potential. "We had a good season with many individual and team triumphs," stated Wheeler. Next year the track team will depend on strength from junior leading scorer Pete Oade.

HOLT GYMNASTS: CAC CHAMPS

Another great year! Holt Gymnastic Team finished the season with an outstanding record of 11 wins and 2 lose. The loss to conference rival East Lansing was strongly avenged in the CAC championship meet held at Holt. The Holt Gymnasts once again were crowned CAC champions. At Regional competition they placed fifth, 20 points shy of qualifying for the State competition. Seniors Dawn Baker, Mary Meade, Jackie Pentecost and Roxane Younglove all qualified for Regionals. Illene Wyzowyany, after an excellent Junior year, was allowed her performance once due to an injury.

The Junior Class proved many sparkling performances. LeeAnn O'Neill and Dee Ann Dalrymple qualified for regionals. Dalrymple also finished with an outstanding sixth place in the floor exercise at the sixth State Meet. With Sophomore Lori Detering, LeeAnn Morgan and Allison Smith as strong contributors this year, "we are all looking forward to great performances from them in the future," remarked successful coach Mike Sharples.

WRESTLERS GO FOR THE GOLD

The 1982-83 wrestling season started in mid-November with an unproven team, with uncertain expectations. After three weeks of practice, it was time to see what Coach Rocky Shaft's wrestlers were made of. The initial test was to be the first of two home invitationals. They came through with flying colors, carrying a first place and defeating their closest competitors by 110 points. The weeks to come proved to be tougher tests at the Haslett and Eastern Invitationals. Both tournaments were won sending the team into winter break with three tournament victories and a rating of second in the state.

After vacation things were slowed down with second place finishes in the Jackson County Western and Forest Hills Invitationals, but the team pulled through with a victory at the second Holt Invitational. With high hopes, they went into the League Meet with a 5-2 dual meet record and sights set on the 28-29 dual meet loss to Eastern. They fell 18 points shy but scored a second place league finish. In the two following weeks the tides changed, Holt won both the district and regional tournaments, with eight regional qualifiers and a school record of seven state qualifiers.

Eight Regional Qualifiers Season's Accomplishments:
Mark Mason: 40-4 record, CAC, District and Regional Champ, 5th in State tournament, First place in Holt #1 and #2, Haslett, Eastern and Jackson Co. Western tournaments. Voted Most Valuable and Sparkplug.
Doug Stover: 30-8 record, 2nd in CAC, District and Regional Champ, State qualifier, First place in Holt #1 and #2 and Eastern tournaments. Voted Most Improved.
Chris Leyrer: 32-8 record, 2nd in CAC, District and Regional placer, State qualifier, First in Holt #1 and #2, Haslett, Eastern, Jackson Co. Western tournaments. Voted Team Captain.
Marty Schnepf: 32-9 record, 2nd in CAC, District and Regionals, 5th in State tournament, First in Holt #1 and #2, Recipient of Coaches' Award.
Mike Tulip: 31-8 record, CAC Champ, District and Regional placer, State qualifier, First in Holt #1 and #2, and Forest Hills tournaments.
John Bradford: 32-11 record, league placer, District and Regional placer, 6th in State tournament, First in Holt #1 and #2 and Haslett tournaments.
Jim Shannon: 27-11-1 record, 2nd in league, District and Regional placer, State qualifier, First in Jackson Co. Western and Forest Hills, Voted Outstanding Wrestler at Forest Hills tournament.

ALL OUT EFFORT

"I've never had a team quite like this one, they dedicated themselves to a season of improvement and they never gave up, and when the going got rough, they fought harder. They realized a dream come true by becoming class district champs after a fifth place in the CAC. Even though we were predicted to have a losing season, we came out 11-10 and had a first class good feeling about our senior's efforts!" said Coach Margo Snivley.

That was how Coach Snivley summed-up the 1983 Volleyball season. They started off with big wins over Okemos and Sexton, then game scores were close and victories hard to get until Districts. Three teams were defeated on Holt's way to the championship. The next week at Regionals, Brighton dealt the girls a hard loss in the first round of the four team tournament.

The team was lead by Seniors Pam Kelly and Dori Essenburg, who provided the floor leadership needed for success. Senior contribution was a big part of the season but also were the efforts of the juniors and sophomores. Sophomore Kathy Pifer's consistent setting added a new dimension to the team's offense. Pifer said, "Even though the season wasn't great, we all felt we had some success."

GET TOUGH RAM PRIDE SHOWS

The 1982 Holt Rams Varsity Football Team got off to a good start this season, beating non-conference rival Okemos in triple overtime 19-13. Though the Rams fell short in the CAC their determination was evident. Coming out of a three game losing slump, the Rams beat top notch Eastern on Homecoming Night 25-24.

Senior Troy Becker received the Coaches' Award this year and was also chosen as a member of the All CAC team with Seniors Doug Stover and Scott Auvenshine. The Most Improved player was Junior Aaron West, while the team's Most Valuable players were Seniors Doug Stover and Bruce Shively.

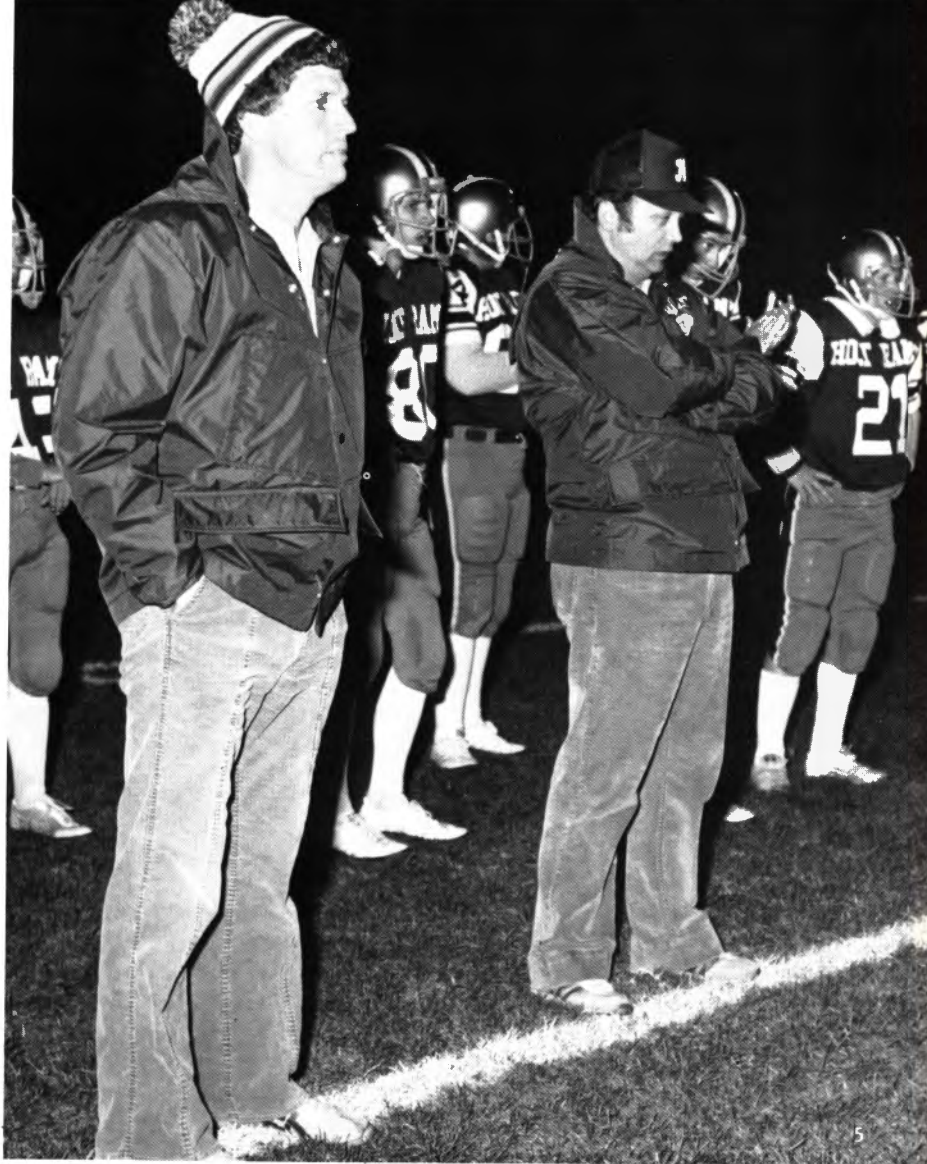

The Junior standouts this season were quarterback Tom McFarland, split end Dan Knechtel, tailback Mike Smith, center John Peterson and defensive players Chris Leyrer and Marty Schnepf.

1. Jim Parks clears the way for tailback Mike Smith.
2. Quarterback Tom McFarland punts to a Quaker receiver.
3. The offensive line shows strength and determination.

LET'S CHEER

GIVE ME AN H-O-L-T

The 1982 Football Cheerleaders began practicing for camp early this summer. Practices varied from 5:30 AM to 9 PM. Both Varsity and JV attended camp at U of M. Varsity placed fourth while JV placed in the top ten. The overall attitude about camp was best stated by Laurie Hansens, "Camp was an exciting experience that taught me the fun of competition. I got to know everyone on the squad better."

After camp came Nationals and the tension began. Everyone was getting ready for the final cheer off. The Varsity Rams stepped on the stage, looking their very best and hoping for a win. The final moment was approaching fast. The squad for the 24th place was announced. It was Royal Oak Dondaro, Holt's rivals at camp. "The anticipation and waiting to perform, then waiting for the results — 23rd WOW!" remarked Captain Debbie Major.

Next came the spirited football season. Plenty of time was spent on preparing for games and pep assemblies. Both squads accomplished their main goals — to arouse crowd enthusiasm and spirit. Betsy Hall summed up the feelings of this cheering season, "It was fun, the best year I've ever had."

CHANT AND CHEER

It has been taken for granted that Holt will have an enthusiastic Cheerleading Squad to cheer on the fans at athletic events. The eight member team lead the cheers at pep assemblies and JV and Varsity Basketball games. Also included were many hours of after school practice.

The 1983 Varsity Basketball Cheerleaders were not surprised by a losing basketball season, but they were caught off guard by a new male addition to their cheering squad. Although a few other schools in the area have had male members, this was a first for Holt. There was strong opposition as well as strong support. According to male cheerleader Paul Levandowski, "At first it was really rough, but the support of the public made this cheering season an exciting, worthwhile experience for me."

MONO DID NOT MATTER

If a girls' basketball team was to have an outbreak of mononucleosis which limited them to five players for three weeks during the season, how would you expect them to end up in the League Standings? First? Probably not, but that is where Holt's 1982 Girls' JV Basketball Team finished. Since five players were needed to play basketball, each member was given a chance to contribute to the team's success. The entire team got a chance to play and there was a lot of competition for the statistical leaders. Sophomore Sue Kukula earned honors as the leading scorer, while Sophomore Wendi Rich was considered the defensive leader by Coach Bob Simmons. How do you win your league with or without mono? Team work!

NUMBER 1 IN THE CAC

"Our success was a total team effort, many individuals contributed," Coach Corey said about his 1982 JV Football Team's season. With a team that's working together, it is possible to achieve some impressive goals like their 8-0-1 record. This team, consisting entirely of sophomores, not only worked together but also had some outstanding individual performances. Biff Bongard led all rushers with 650 yards and 62 points. Another ball carrier, Brian Mataya, returned kickoffs and punts scoring two touchdowns. Good runners were aided by good linemen like Bob Moubray, Shawn Feeley, Lary Kingsley, Blake Eitner and Jerry Baker. Defensively, Chris Linderman was the leader with 77 tackles.

JV SEASON SPIKED?

The JV Volleyball players had a tough season. Some girls left the team earlier in the season, leaving a team of 11. With only three weeks remaining in the season, their coach, Mrs. Wagner could no longer stay due to personal matters. Using the best efforts of each team member, they managed an overall record of 5-10. Interim Coach Lisa Howell stated, "They played as a team. The starting line up changed almost every game because the girls all played at the same level."

TOUGH WORK

Tournaments, tournaments and more tournaments. It may have seemed like all the Junior Varsity Wrestling Team was doing was practicing for their next meet. The team also did an excellent job of backing the varsity team.

Sophomore Scott Ammon commented that "Wrestling was ten times harder and more discouraging at the varsity level but the competition was the best all year." The competition was tough, but the team did a great job. The next big step is VARSITY!

1. Shawn Feeley controls his opponent in the closing second of the match.
2. Scott Ammon uses a grand by roll to escape his Clio opponent.
3. Varsity wrestler Mark Mason is put on his back by Rick Brown during practice.

OUR BEST

The orange ball was dribbled down the court. Hundreds of fans cheered as the ball went into the net. These fans had confidence in the JV Boys' Basketball Team. They showed up at all games anticipating a victory. At last, the team beat Eaton Rapids. The fans agreed with the coach, "They played with a great amount of determination, guts and effort. They almost always gave 110%." One can easily see why everyone was behind the team all the way. Sophomore Erik Medina stated his reasons for being on the team, "Getting to know your friends, the competitive 'winning' spirit and most of all meeting players from other schools." Throughout the season until the end, the team kept trying. As Coach Kressler concluded, "We gave it our best shot and we have no regrets. It was fun."

TOUCHDOWN! The first score of the day. It's an interception by the Senior Quarterback Kristen Niles.

Second touchdown in sight! Folks, do you believe the skill Junior Denise Woll showed in that play? She ties up the score 6-6. The Juniors are ecstatic.

The crowd is silent. Two seconds left. Kris calls a right reverse. Everyone's ready. She yells 'hut 1 hut 2 HIKE!' Kris hands-off to Senior Ronda Beals and Beals takes it all the way for a touchdown. The buzzer sounds. That's it folks. The Seniors defeat the Juniors 12-6. What a game! Well, that concludes the 82 Girls' Powder Puff Game. This is Randy 'Ralph' Pelky your announcer signing off."

PLAYERS IMPROVE

"We were a strong team at bat, but our fielding could have used some improvement," stated left fielder Jeff Barnum. With spirit and a lot of determination, The Boys' JV Baseball Team turned out a 4-11 record. The team had a hard time deciding on a pitcher, depending mostly on the dual of Kevin Wellit pitching and Chris Haas catching. Most of the team members felt their best game was their victory against Eastern. The team ended the season with much improvement and high spirits.

KINGS OF THE COURTS

The Boys' JV Tennis Team ended their season with a royal win over Eastern, leaving them with a 3-2 season overall. Good attitude and vast improvement were displayed throughout the season. Coach Mike Smith stated, "The boys were all very positive players and had much potential. I really enjoyed working with them. They are a good group of kids." Hopefully the players will continue their tennis careers at Holt next year.

ALL EFFORT

The 1983 JV Softball Team had a tough season. Most teams would have had a hard time contending but as Coach Clark said, "although this team didn't have the best record, they never gave up nor did they get down on themselves.

They continued to work hard in practice and they never gave less than 100 percent. They are the most fun of any team I've worked with, and I believe they all enjoyed themselves and learned a lot." Clark felt that his team will be an asset to the varsity squad in upcoming years. Some team members may have another year to improve before moving on to the varsity program.

1. Coach Clark congratulates first baseman Margret Baker after a fine inning.
2. Tammy Sykora observes warm-ups before the Eaton Rapids game.

WHAT'S IN IM?

GOOD CLEAN COMPETITION

Holt's Intramural Basketball season began with no delay as in years past. Teams formed, names were chosen and, finally, the sound of basketballs dribbling was heard everywhere. There was a huge amount of competition. It surfaced in the games between the SPEEDERS and TEAM #1, while on the other side of the court, the DIGS and the SUPER Bs worked toward the title, "Champion". The season was long and the struggles were great, but the SUPER Bs and the MEN AT WORK managed to come out on top. Each league team gave the season their best shot and when it was over, the players felt a sense of contentment remembering the good times shared.

WHY A MANAGER?

Fastbreak, rebound, defense, man to man, zonell Did you hear these words? Well, if you were at an IM Basketball game last winter, you probably heard the IM managers shouting these commands to their team members.

NAME CHOICE

In this year's IM Basketball season, there was much controversy over the selection of team names. Teams had chosen names unacceptable to the administration. Mr. Paul Jolly felt, "In the school environment, there should be a standard of acceptable conduct, behavior and language. There is enough profane language in society without the school supporting more." Students didn't necessarily agree with his decision, but accepted the ultimatum of either changing their team names or not appearing in the yearbook. As it turned out, all teams accepted a different name, and in the following years the issue of IM Basketball names will be school policy.

THIS WAS THE YEAR OF THE CUTBACK. Hardships abound, education was dealt the blow along with many other governmentally funded or dependent groups. No doubt the Reagan Administration was doing what it felt to be necessary. Unfortunately, it was partly at the expenses of the nation's educational system. Deploying nuclear missiles in Europe and stockpiling the most destructive weapons known to human kind in our own country obviously in monetary importance ranked above teaching America's youth. Granted, to balance the federal budget, cuts had to be made, but in the meantime military build-up was off-setting many of the sacrifices made by others. — Craig Reynolds

What is your reaction to government cutbacks in the educational system?

"God forbid that the government should sacrifice an armament for a book. What deterrent is Farewell To Arms against the Pink Stain? Strike the man who stands between the American government and its noble pursuit of power, for what are we without the power and courage to destroy the world several times over? No matter that the tank drivers cannot read." — Veronica Hope

"I feel that they aren't doing enough serious thinking about where the cutbacks should really take place. For example: their own luxuries! What happened to today's youth, tomorrow's leaders?" — Michelle Gamet

"It's pretty funny because the MEA (Michigan Education Association, a teacher's union) supported Governor Blanchard and then he turns around and holds back $500,000." — Dave Service

Under Trying Circumstances, Holt Schools Retain

"I feel that it is unfair to the students. This is probably one of the most important times of a person's life, going to high school, and they're cutting all the programs and activities. They're taking all the excitement and learning experience out of our high school years." — Shelly Roberts

"I get goosebumps!" — Kristy Caruss

"Being an educator I am probably too personally involved to be objective. However, I would much rather see the billions of dollars spent annually on "mega" defense reallocated into education. I hope we could educate a generation of global thinking human beings that would recognize the intellectual (as well as physical) absurdity of nuclear holocaust. Locally, I question priorities. I can think of little else that should have a higher priority for the reception of tax dollars." — Mrs. Furtaw

Quality Education With Less Funds

MOMENTS SPENT OUT-OF-CLASS

When the students of Holt were not in the classroom, they definitely had no problem finding another place to be. Ranging from the time it took to pass in the halls to bomb scares and fire drills, each moment outside of the classroom was enjoyed to its fullest.

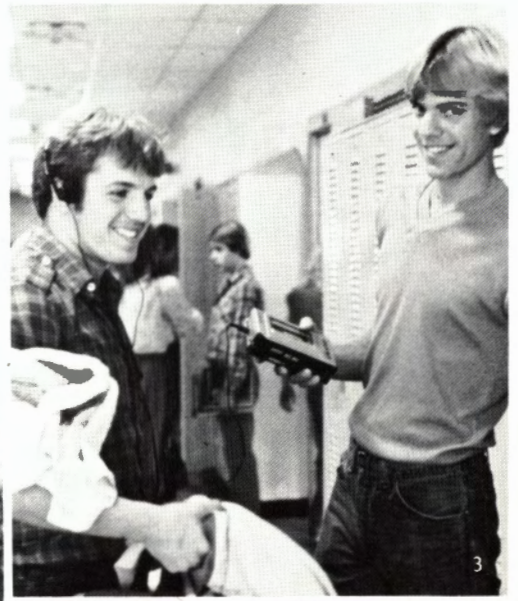

Many students competed to create the most interesting locker. The decorations included such things as suggestive sayings, pictures and signs of favorite rock groups. Although locker decorating was fun, some people couldn't take the time out from listening to their favorite tunes on their headphones. Eating was always a preferred activity and the location really didn't seem to matter. After school, whether heading home or staying on for practices, students found a few more moments to chat.

1. "A pass, who needs a pass?" say Bill Collins, Jim Shannon and Brad Cottom.
2. Bret Morey and Mark Coscarella pose with their version of "Home Sweet Home."
3. Headphones are popular in class and out of class as proven by Bill Walls and Gary Carlson.
4. It's lunch time for Biff Bongard.
5. Wendy DeYoung sells carnations at lunch time.

55 MINUTES WHAT WENT ON?

Have you ever wondered what happened in the class across the hall? Why were they laughing? Don't they have work to do? Chances are, they had a teacher who mixed a little fun with work. It made the work seem bearable and more enjoyable. Aside from the teacher, what was gotten out of a class depended mostly upon what was put into it. If you came to class with an open mind, you were probably surprised at what you learned in 55 minutes.

... And who were those students that never stayed in class? Running errands and doing odd jobs, described the high school teacher assistants. They did a lot of things that teachers couldn't find the time or energy to do themselves. They corrected papers, made dittos and almost polished shoes. They were a great help and most assistants agreed it was a great way to spend the 55 minutes.

BOOK BREAK!

Did you ever feel you just needed to get away from school books, written reports or essay exams? There were classes at Holt High School which only asked for your participation. A little elbow-grease, imagination, effort or involvement put you right in the center of the activity. Such courses as ISAAC, art, physical education, band, choir or an assistantship took you out of your desks and your eyes off the books. Although each class had it's own requirements and expectations, the variety added "spice" to the school day. Senior Jodi Atkinson stated, "There are times when you need to refer to books but there are other classes that don't need books; just experience. For example, an art class doesn't need a book just a lot of work."

INTERNATIONAL FRIENDS

Imagine walking through a crowd of people that are totally different and unfamiliar. Imagine feeling all alone, friends far away. Imagine going to school with a strange sounding name. This happened to two students in Holt High School.

A young man, Anssi Korhoren, and a young woman, Lone Jensen, came to Holt from Helsinki, Finland and Bjayrson, Denmark. This was how they felt their first day at HHS.

In the fall Anssi Korhoren tried out for Cross Country saying "I never ran for a sport. Mostly I tried out to meet new people and make friends." Anssi enjoyed the sport and he met new people and made friends. As most foreigners, Anssi loved McDonalds. His favorite teacher was Mr. Bill York. Anssi, 17, was a senior here at Holt, but when he returns to Finland he will still have two more years of schooling.

Seventeen year old Lone Jensen also attended classes everyday at Holt. Lone thought the students were friendly and considerate. She enjoyed listening to the radio and watching television. American type football was new and American schools were much easier. At home in Denmark she has completed high school. Lone Jensen plans on furthering her education in some sort of private school or college.

GERMAN GIRLS

Elue Sohlbrand, Sybille Rommelt, Uruse Sigrid — students from Holt? No, they were three of the 13 exchange students from the Elsa-Brandshiom-Gymnasium in Germany. 1983 was the tenth-year anniversary for the Munich-Holt exchange.

The German exchange students arrived in Lansing on March 25, 1983 and left on April 15, 1983. The three weeks they were here were packed with educational trips and assemblies. A trip to Greenfield Village, a tour of the Capital Area Career Center, a trip to the Warton Center to see the musical Peter Pan, a tour of the Michigan Museum and a visit to the State Capital were a part of their agenda. Many host families took the German students on family trips during spring break to Florida, Niagara Falls, Lake Michigan, Canada and Washington.

Arriving in Holt as complete strangers, they formed bonds of friendship, trust and respect. When asked what they liked best about their stay in Holt, they said they liked the friendly people, their host families and the trips they took. When the time came for the German girls to leave, tears had to be held back. The girls that came as total strangers, left as friends not to be forgotten by the families that hosted them. During the summer of '83 Holt students had the opportunity to visit Germany making new friends, or perhaps greeting old ones.

SCHOOL IN THE ELSA-BRANDSHION-GYMNASIUM was completely different from school in Holt, according to the responds of the German girls. When asked to compare, many said school in Holt was much easier than school in Germany. In Germany, the students can not choose their classes, taking about 13 required subjects every year. Each student stayed in the same class until the 11th grade. Each class remained in its own room and the teachers moved from one room to the other. The relation between teacher and student was more strict — not as easy going as Holt. They also added that Holt had more athletic activities and musical activities than they had in Elsa-Brandshiom.

UNDER THE COVER

What makes a yearbook, you ask? Well, lots of hardwork, plenty of dedication, a little brains and loads of determination. This year's book has a tough act to follow after the terrific response to the previous book. Many students wished they had purchased the 1981-82 book after viewing it, but because extra books are not ordered, quite a few people had to go without. Students seemed to particularly like the cover of that book — the black background with the bright overprint was a definite plus.

New ideas, plus just as much work was put into this yearbook. Deadlines became second nature to the staff after a while. Introduction deadline! Senior color deadline! Did they ever stop? Not until the end of the year when everything was wrapped up into the final deadline. Some new members wondered if it was worth it, but Editor Gregg Moore stated, "I'm confident that this year's book will also be a success!" With a creative staff this year, this book will most likely receive very positive results.

THE LOFT FOR STUFF

Remember when you ran out of paper at school or when you had bad breath and needed some Velamints? You probably took care of these problems by taking a quick trip to the school store, The Loft. Other items available for purchase were hats and mittens for the winter time cold and T-shirts of all types. The "HOLT" items boosted the students' spirits and displayed pride in their school.

With the knowledge gained from their business classes, the Loft's two managers and five employees got an opportunity to "convert their theory into practice," said business teacher and overseer Mr. Scotty Shimnoski. This year the store also involved the Math department. Mr. Lehman's independent math student, John Bowkus, helped computerize the store's inventory system.

CAREER VIEWS

PRACTICAL TRAINING

By attending the Capital Area Career Center, Holt students had an opportunity to meet new people and gain new experiences. Along with students from twenty other schools, they received job training while attending school. The students attended Monday through Friday, three hours a day. Most students enrolled in the CAC during their junior and/or senior years.

Another opportunity for on-the-job training was CO-OP. Thirty-five juniors and seniors worked at jobs during a portion of their school day. To be on CO-OP students had to work fifteen hours and turn in an evaluation every Monday. Oldsmobile secretary Kristen Niles stated, "I think CO-OP is good because it gives students a chance to see what the working world is like."

One last example of the working world was given to HHS students through the Annual Career Day. Just when they decided what goals to reach and which career to pursue, Career Day threw them for a loop. As St. Patrick's Day approached, coordinators Ms. Karyn Wells and Mr. Dave Messner, prepared for the fourth annual event. So once again, HHS students decided on a new career, that is, until the next Career Day tosses them in a new direction.

CO-OP: B. Bateman, Schmidts

Capital Area Career Center: W. Reynolds, small engines; M. McClelland, technical drawing; N. Anthony, cosmetology.

JOB HUNT

Displaying a bit of that well known "loop throwing" are Seniors Dyana Trujillo, Marla Wilson and Lisa Losey. Career Day was not only educational but it was also inspirational for both the students and the volunteer staff. This year's options ranged from accounting to welding. That included options such as child care, landscaping and nursing. "This year was, however, geared towards the technical careers of tomorrow," stated coordinator Wells. Whichever way Career Day may have been intentionally directed, it was a tremendous success. As for the girls on the right ... Do you think they've decided?

HONORS

The new NHS members were inducted into the organization at a special ceremony on May 10. Starting in the school auditorium, several students gave speeches about what it takes to be in the National Honor Society and then Dr. Henry Sienkiewicz and Mr. Paul Jolly added their own comments. After the induction, the parents of the seniors received roses. The event was concluded as everyone went to the library to eat munchies and "mingle."

On May 16 a dinner was held at the junior high cafeteria in recognition of students with a 3.5 or better grade point average. After the invocation by Rev. John A. Toth, students and families sat down to dinner. Later that evening special guest Miss Sue Carter, Press Secretary to Governor Blanchard, talked about moving beyond the high school years. At the end of the program, the certificates of achievement were handed out by Dr. Robert Foy.

May 2 the Top Ten graduating students were recognized at a ceremony in their honor. The ten members introduced one another, saying a little something about each person. Mr. Paul Stuhmer, Director of Economic Development of the Lansing Regional Chamber of Commerce, was the special guest. He spoke about the impact of micro-computers on society and the influence they have on everyone. The Holt Kiwanis Club, who sponsored the event, donated $150 worth of books to the John W. Chi Library in the names of the Top Ten students.

OUR BIGGEST FAN

Holt High School students have a right to be proud of their school. We have a long tradition of providing excellent educational programs, competitive sports teams and a variety of extracurricular activities. It is my sincere hope that we will continue to have students who want to make a contribution and that we do not live on the momentum of the past. We should not have a proxy, inherited, second-hand pride.

Our challenge is to convince students that they have a vital role in our school. We need more students who are ready to take on responsibilities and accept the privilege of service to make our building better. Too often we hear — "wait, I am just one person — what can I do?" Today, there is a tremendous need for youth who are willing to stand up and be counted — not just a few class officers, STAR Club members, National Honor Society students, but an overwhelming majority that can make this school the best in Michigan.

Mutual concern, cooperation and caring are the adhesives of our school. Without them, our school cannot solve problems and build a healthy future. We have all the ingredients at Holt to make us great — great students and great staff. Let us continue to add on to our tradition by taking pride in our accomplishments today. — by Paul Jolly, Principal

AD DIRECTS

Having pride in oneself and one's team is most important in athletics. Pride is a quality that coaches hope their athletes possess because it promotes success and winning.

A successful athletic program also helps other members of the student body to develop pride in their school. This becomes a two-way street because if athletes have the feeling that their peers are supportive and interested in them, then it helps them to develop pride in themselves. When members of the student body respect and support each other the school becomes more productive in all areas. — by Jack Crawford, Athletic Director

VICE AT WORK

Holt Pride can be interpreted as self-pride. Students and staff members are in part viewed in terms of the school. Encouraging people to keep the campus litter-free would help. Developing a spirit of working together would help reinforce the pride in oneself and in the school. — by Dave Messner, Assistant Principal

"The best and the most beautiful things in this world cannot be seen or touched, they must be felt with the heart and school pride is one of them." — by Donna Barends, Attendance Officer

SECRETARIES: Mrs. Barbara Warner, Miss Cheryl Grand, Mrs. Esther Fileman, Mrs. Judith Wolston, Mrs. Dolores Cornelius, Mrs. Lynn Doerr, Miss. Rosanne Wright.

Dr. Henry Sienkiewicz

SUPER SUPERINTENDENT

The Superintendent of the Holt Public Schools has the same wide range of responsibilities and duties as any chief executive officer of an active and dynamic organization. The ultimate responsibility for the leadership of the school system rests with the Superintendent, who reports directly to the Board of Education. He is charged with providing leadership in curriculum, fiscal matters, personnel, student services, communications, community relations and a host of other similar areas.

While supported by a staff to assist in working with these varied responsibilities, the coordination and direction of the total organization rests with the Superintendent.

Being the Superintendent of the Holt Schools is an exciting and rewarding position, where challenges are met and new challenges constantly emerge to stimulate and provide new opportunities to solve problems and there in provide leadership.

THE BOARD GETS THE JOB DONE

The Board of Education has the responsibility to approve the educational standards and goals for our schools. This includes innovations and alterations in curriculum. Exercising education leadership is our primary challenge.

We must also establish district policies and provide a superintendent to execute them. The Board continuously reviews these policies in light of changing community needs.

Other responsibilities include the establishment of school attendance areas within the district, maintenance of fiscal stability, and calling for elections to determine tax levels and annual elections to the Board.

All Board members have a keen sense of community service and strive to perform in the best interest of their constituents.

— by Dr. Foy

IT WASN'T EASY

Who took care of the students during the school year? The roughest part of the job was done by the bus drivers, cafeteria workers and custodians.

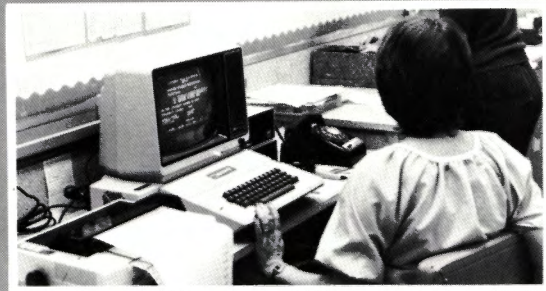

The bus drivers played the role of chauffeur for the students. They hauled sleepy, grumpy students to school and hauled important, energetic ones back home again. They also tackled the job of driving to sporting events. The rowdy athletes often made concentration difficult, but they never seemed to bother the Holt drivers.

The cafeteria workers had the task of supplying the food for the students' "bottomless pits." Preparing and serving food for the hot lunch program was only part of the job. They also kept the snack bar running smoothly while hungry students poured through the line. Comments about the food seemed not to upset them; they smiled and came back with a joke of their own.

The toughest of all jobs was the custodians'. The responsibility went way beyond sweeping the hallways and gymnasium floors. It included fixing everything that failed to work — especially the heating system! They repaired vandalized drinking fountains and resurfaced the gym floor several times a year. Most noticeably, no matter how big or bad a mess students made each day, they had everything cleaned and in good condition by the next morning.

GETTING A LITTLE HELP

If you were walking past the Attendance Office, you might have noticed that things were not as frantic as they used to be. That's because Mrs. Bares and Mrs. Woolston have a new helper. It is an APPLE II computer and it has cleared up a lot of confusion. Mrs. Woolston said, "It's time saving, accurate and not hard to figure out."

Mr. Woolston's traditional Egyptian "dance" has become famous throughout HHS. As usual, "JC" hopped up on the table and struck poses for his enthusiastic Western Civilization classes, but 1983 brought an added treat. Seniors Ronda Beals and Debbie Major decided it was time "The King of Egypt" had an outfit. As one of their required Western Civilization projects, the girls designed a pharaoh's wardrobe complete with headdress and hieroglyphic necklace. After all, King Tut may rest in a tomb of gold, but "JC" dances in a red satin robe.

AYOTTE'S PRANKS

During the week of Halloween, Juniors Sue Hall and Barb Kristen were studying Boyle's Law in Chemistry. They courageously prepared to bob for turnips floating in a vat of liquid nitrogen while wearing swim fins, masks, snorkles and a beach towel. "Sue will be going to the Olympics in 1984 for turnip bobbing," said Coach Kristen. "I've been training hard all year," added Hall, "it should pay off in the end."

SENIOR HIGH AT LAST
 ... An essential part of the 1982-83 student body was the presence and participation of the Sophomore Class. Those "youngsters" arrived with a sense of excitement and anticipation toward meeting new friends, enjoying activities and accomplishing new goals. Although most felt that high school was a tremendous change, the many fears were overcome with that first year. The sophomores did mature, did survive and, hopefully, did return the next fall as juniors.

WAITING AND ANTICIPATING ... nobody looked forward to the first trip to the Counseling Center. Many thoughts went through a new high school student's mind while waiting (sometimes up to 45 minutes). Come to find out, it usually wasn't as bad as you thought — just a personal touch of interest from your counselor.

GOTCHA! ... It was Eric Line, the 1983 Rampages photographer. Getting his first camera for his thirteenth birthday, Eric took his photography seriously. He has taken photos at weddings, proms, sporting events and, of course, everywhere possible for the Holt High School yearbook. Clicking his camera at pep assemblies, school concerts, in classrooms and during lunch hours, chances were Eric had probably caught you once or twice on film.

30 MINUTE HOUR . . . Lunch hour was considered the favorite hour of a day — an hour of only 30 minutes. A small part was spent eating lunch, while the remainder of the time might have been spent exchanging gossip or studying intensely for a forgotten test. The privileged people who had cars, and chose not to stay in school, raced to 7-11 or McDonalds. Other students bought food from the loft rather than risking the lunch-room food. Soon, however, the 30 minutes had quickly passed. The school bell rang and things became hectic again with people scattering desperately to make it back to class.

SITTING PRETTY . . . Fancy new clothes, not a hair out of place, ready for a picture, the perfect pose. To capture the "real you", National Studios came September 22 and again (for retakes) on November 1. The pictures were taken with the most serious intentions. After all, they were not only published in the yearbook, but they were also distributed to friends and family. So in a flash, they captured that impeccable smile, the twinkle in those eyes and a fraction of the word "cheese."

*LOCKERS ... Lockers are assigned at the beginning of the year.
They are empty and desolate and have no cheer.
And then you move in and give it your own special style;
It all fits in after a little while.
You go through the year cleaning it once, maybe twice,
To keep the teachers happy and get rid of the mice.
But then comes the end, it is no longer yours,
You take one last glance as you reach for the doors.
You walk out of the building thinking it is no longer mine,
And then you smile ... It is done. It is time!

NARCS NOTICED . . . Gorgeous blue eyes, dark hair, tanned face and dazzling smile. That description did not belong to just any guy at the high school, but to none other than Mike Freeman, the Narc. A junior at MSU, Mike planned on becoming either a teacher or a counselor. Just like any other guy, he enjoyed sports and four-wheeling. But could he be topped? Behold! the new Narc. With his enticing smile and piercing hazel eyes, he was enough to win any girl's heart. His name? David Green. Twenty-one years old, also an MSU student and majoring in Social Sciences, Dave hoped to become a secondary school teacher. Like Mike, he enjoyed reading "anything" and writing "poetry, stories, you name it!". When asked if he liked being at Holt, David replied "So far!".

AWAY FROM IT ALL ... Holt was a small town, but most students seemed to be able to find things to do and places to go during their spare time. The things people did differed from person to person but usually the majority ended up at the same place.

There did not seem to be many things to do after school. Most students either ended up going home and watching the soaps or attending an athletic practice. Later in the evening there might have been sporting events — football games, basketball games, track meets or any other activity. But during the weekends, most students found plenty of things to do (like going to 7-11 to see who was there or getting together at a person's house to socialize.)

On Fridays after the football games, many students went to Little Caesars in Cedar Park Plaze to grab a pizza and chat.

For most people it did not matter where they were as long as they were with friends.

S-S-S-SPECIAL EFFECTS . . . An unusual aspect of the IM sports this year was the use of Joe Evan's one and a half year old Burmese python as a mascot. The Holt Football Team had its live four-legged ram, the Holt Basketball Team had "Rocky" and, of course, various stuffed animals were carried around by individual players from all sports. But, at last, the IM sports have decided to join in.

CLASSES? . . . Scheduling "high school style" was a new experience for the sophomores. They learned how to follow directions, change their schedules with counselors' assistance and accept the disappointment of several closed classes. It was the same old routine for the seniors, but, at long last, they were first to choose their classes. The juniors, happy not to be last, managed to stay on top of things and some managed to do their own schedule revisions. Miss Lynn Doerr and Mrs. Susan York both said that the scheduling ran smoother than before.

STUDY? ... Of course. Everyone studied for assignments and tests. There were a lot of short breaks when students could "crack" the books. There was time between that great club meeting after school and that new TV show; between the compulsive video games and the telephone conversations. One could always study on that date or while eating dinner. But when the real breaks came, it was good just to relax. So let's try that question again, Study? Huh?

THE BEST YEARS OF OUR LIVES BY
BILLY SQUIER

*You can talk about me if you want to
 You can try to harm me while you can
 You can try to run me all you want to
 You may find that I don't suit your plans*

*But we don't need your business man
 We don't go by your rules
 The fast times beat the past times teacher
 We just blew your cool*

*We don't need no song and dance on how to run our lives
 We don't need no second chance
 take you by surprise
 The good times come, the bad times go
 Fast times help to make it so
 The time is now for all we know*

This could be the best years of our lives

*You may worry what they say about you
 You might wonder about your future plans
 You may long for someone just to talk to hold you close and take you by the hand*

*'Cause now you know there's more to life than what we learn in school
 The fast times are the best times sugar
 Let's not blow your cool*

*You don't want no fancy dance to take you by surprise
 You don't get no second chance
 open up your eyes
 The hard times come, the hard times go
 The fast times help to make it so
 The time is now for all we know*

...ED PORTRAITS? WHERE DID THEY COME FROM? When the Senior Class discovered that their yearbook pictures wouldn't be in color, they put their heads together and looked into the situation. They discovered that the problem was a shortage of funds. The Class of 1983 raised money through advertising, a powder puff football game and other fundraisers. Senior Kim McGoldrick, who supported Forest Park Library and Archives, Capital Area District Libraries the idea of raising the extra funds, said, "It is great that our class had the 'get-up and go' to earn what they want."

DECISIONS, DECISIONS, DECISIONS. Deciding what to do after graduation could be a tough choice. Leaving high school and life long friends was a hard step to take. It was a time to fulfill your goals and go after your dreams. College, the job market or marriage, which would it be?

The majority of Holt High graduates planned to attend college. Such colleges ranged from LCC to larger universities like MSU. The fields of study varied from telecommunications to travel agents to law enforcers. In reality, college tuition costs had risen greatly over the past few years, student loans were hard to get and chances of a scholarship were slim. With this in mind, many of the seniors had been saving or attending school part time. On a percentage basis, 67 percent of graduating seniors attended college, while on 33 percent planned to enter the job market or marry after graduation.

HAVE YOU EVER HEARD OF A PERSON DYING FROM WRITING A BOOK REPORT OR STUDYING FOR AN EXAM? Studies show that this rarely occurs, however, some students would swear that if they actually read that book or even began to take notes for that test a heart attack would hit them on the spot. Although students dreaded writing reports and studying for exams most realized that they must do so to get a decent grade. Of those students that did decide to write that report or study for that test about 96 percent crammed the night before (if they decided to study at all). The other 4 percent prepared weeks ahead of time to make sure that everything was perfect. Whether you were one of the few that studied ahead, a last minute crammer or just out in left field you usually ended up with the grade that you deserved — whether you liked it or not.

"YES! TODAY IS FRIDAY!" This phrase could often be heard when one walked through the halls on a cheery Friday afternoon. After school, started the "week-end." Not only did the week-end mean freedom from classes (quite often called "the prison"), but it meant a time for celebration. Many students were asked what activities they participated in during this short vacation. Some said, "Party." Just about all students said they went to flicks or did homework. Whatever it was that HHS students did on Saturday or Sunday, everyone was grateful for the break.

"I KNOW ... BUT THE SENIOR CLASS NEEDS A LOT OF DIRECTION," stated Social Studies teacher Mr. Jerry Gillett. By the time a student made it into his/her senior year, chances were he/she had had Mr. Gillett for at least one class. He taught a wide variety of classes including psychology, government and sociology, and, as every one of his students knew, he could lecture on any subject never tiring of talking. When asked how she felt about such a teacher Senior Mary Meade stated, "Oh geez — I think he's funny! He rants and raves and yells. I really like him."

THE SENIOR LUNCH ROOM: There was one place where seniors were able to free themselves from those silly sophomores and those jerky juniors, besides government and consumer's education classes. This place was originally designed to keep the underclassmen out, yet just about everyday one could see at least one youngster in the crowd. Truthfully, there weren't many seniors who ate in the lunchroom, but those who did thought it was something really "cool". Senior Troy Becker said, "Eating in the senior lunchroom is something I've anticipated since my sophomore year. When I walk out I feel like everyone thinks I'm someone special."

WHO IS IT THIS TIME? Each class had its special student who reached beyond his or her means in some outstanding way. This year the seniors were proud to present two exceptional members of their class. Many students were involved in a school related activity in one way or another, but seniors Jim VanDyke and John Bowkus reached beyond the confines of HHS sports. VanDyke belonged to the Greater Lansing Hockey Association and played two years for the Eastern Quakers. Bowkus had played ten years with the Mudville Lakers in Detroit.

ROOM 301 . . . Was it Mr. Rudd's stories or a course requirement that attracted most college bound seniors to Physics Class? It was Mr. Rudd's outstanding personality that made class interesting. Senior Marissa Watson said, "He just makes your day with his stick person, Norm, and Norm's girlfriend, Geraldine." Some of his other ideas were the "Buttergun Theory" and the "Theory of Trees." Physics at HHS was an educational and fun class. It also was a good preparation for college.

BODIES BLOCK HALLS . . . A new system for monitoring the halls during lunch was designed by Assistant Principal Dave Messner. Mr. Messner designed the program to keep students out of the hallways during the last ten minutes of lunch. The people that Mr. Messner asked to monitor the halls were the senior football players. When he was asked why he said, "Because they're big." He also asked some senior girls but they turned down his offer. So if you planned on going through the halls without a pass, forget it!

WHICH CLASS HAS THE MOST PRIDE AND SPIRIT? Ask any senior and he/she'd tell you, "The Senior, of course." Ask any junior or sophomore and he/she'd probably tell you his/her class, but the seniors knew that when it came to having pride for our school there was no beating the Class of '83.

Who led the other classes out of their seats and down onto the floor at the fantastically rowdy fall Homecoming Pep Assembly? Which class set up and decorated the Christmas Tree by the office? You guessed it. The seniors! Sure, the other classes had spirit, but they just couldn't match the feeling that the Senior Class had for good old HHS.

GOING OUT IN STYLE . . . During the 1982-83 school year many new trends were set (and reset) in fashion. Baggy pants and tailored tops, argyle sweaters and alligator shirts, designer jeans and rubber shoes, cowboy boots and bow ties appeared everywhere throughout the year. The mini-skirt, knickers and the 20s look were brought back with the added feature of ties, pinstripes and ruffles. For an added attraction to almost any outfit, legwarmers were worn. Jewelry was "in" and a hat of varied sorts was an absolute for every wardrobe. And, of course, the classics were back!

HHS HAS ALWAYS SUPPLIED ENTHUSIASTIC RAMS WITH A VARIETY OF WAYS TO SPEND THEIR FREE TIME. Many actively involved individuals related their attitudes toward clubs and special events:

Why are you a club adviser?

"I enjoy working with the students and watching them take on responsibility. The growth I see is fantastic." — Mr. Mike Lehman

"I like to socialize with the students. It is super to know young people in other situations." — Mr. Norm Garnett

Why do you participate in HHS clubs?

"If I am going to spend three years in high school I might as well enjoy myself and take advantage of all my opportunities." — Lisa Gafner

"Being involved in extra curricular activities has always been very important to me. They give you a chance to take on a challenge and give you a sense of accomplishment. Some may also help you for your future career." — Melanie Barends

How does belonging to clubs affect students?

"It provides self esteem, a sense of accomplishment and a realization that accomplishment can be more than just a class related exercise." — Mr. Bill Savage

"A student learns commitment and leadership through involvement." — Mrs. Ann Kressler

What activities do you consider most outstanding and worthwhile?

"The activities that are most worthwhile are those that benefit people outside of the organization, as well as the participants." — Maryann Dombroske

Clubs and Events Offer Opportunity And Involvement

"Those which provide students with meaningful experiences and give club members a chance to get involved with the school and community." — Troy Becker

What do clubs do for the school and community?

"They keep up the morale, unite the students and teach them more about something they like. They give students a sense of pride and dignity for their school and themselves." — Mike Bayles

"Schools should be in step with the community. Efforts should be made to prevent schools from becoming the focus of confrontation, as opposed to the center of inspiration, utility and hope." — Mr. Guil Northrup

To Enthusiastic HHS Activists

ASHHS OFFICERS: R. Pelky, Vice-President; K. Bruning, Treasurer; R. Beals, Secretary; M. Stone, President.

1. Ronda Beals finalizes plans for a big event.
 2. Kelly Foster puts her shoulder to the grindstone as Becky Simpson assists.
 3. Mr. Jerry Woolston and Lori Smith pause for organizational tips on ASHHS clean-up day.

UNIFIED

Rake it and bag it! Aside from clean up days and sponsoring dances, ASHHS (Associated Students of Holt High School) is also an organizational group. It worked as a cooperative body uniting students and staff. They also used their funds for charitable purposes such as helping out a specific class when it hit a financial crunch.

Randy Pelky, senior, put it best when he said, "I feel that this year's Student Government has set new goals and standards for upcoming years." Ronda Beals, senior, added that "this year we had better representation than any other year. Unity has developed within the

SCHOLARSHIP

ONLY THE BEST

Year after year, students have been selected to the National Honor Society for their outstanding leadership, scholarship, service and character. These qualities were displayed throughout the past year as the NHS sponsored many activities such as the popular candy cane sale, the blood drive, dances, the hosting of German Exchange students, raffle ticket sales, tutoring students and the NHS Exchange Day. With the help of NHS officers Ann Maurer, Nathan Bogo, Debbie Major and Ronda Beals the members worked hard to raise funds for an over-all successful year.

SPANISH EVENTS

This year's Spanish Club members planned some very interesting events during the school's activity periods. They hoped for a trip to Ramon's Restaurant, tobogganing at Echo Valley, a Road Rally, (collecting clues which reward the winner with some type of prize) and a hay ride. After one hay ride, member Scot Marsh commented, "Everybody seemed to be in an ultra sense but we had a good time with hay fights and wrestling around." Miss Grew, advisor, said, "It was fun, unusual, and I don't want to talk about it anymore. The pizza and ice cream were really good too." All in all, the year for the Spanish Club turned out to be an exceptional one.

1. The talented sophomore Kim Trujillo swings mightily at the class pinata.
2. Spanish Club members meet during activity period.
3. These finished pinatas wait to be sent to the children's wards at local hospitals.
4. These Spanish Club members allow their minds to wander in planning interesting events.

ALLONS AU CERCLE FRANCAIS

The crepe dinners, the meetings, the parties, the planning and the friends were just a morsel of the fun things included in French Club. Gretchen Pamer said about the Christmas Party, "It was really fun, I had a good time and I think everyone else did too." The Annual Crepe Dinner was one of the big events that all the members tried to attend. The crepes were delicious. These events and others were the reasons members joined the club.

1. "Tous pour chacum et chacum pour tous," says Mr. Norm Garnett, which means, "all for one and one for all."
2. The crazy French Club officers are Tonya Yarbrough, Kathy Pifer, Steve Gensterblum, Pam Promer, Veronica Hope and Lee Howell.
3. Gretchen Pamer and Tina Arend make crepes.
4. Some French Club members gather together during an activity period.

1. STAR Club officers are Libby Jean, Gretchen Pamer, Melanie Barends and Lee Howell.

2. Members collected Holt's contribution to the Lansing Food Bank.

3. The first place trophy for the Christmas doors went to Mrs. Jagutis's first Hour.

4. Mrs. Neureither's class donates their second place door decoration to Lansing General Hospital.

STAR CLUB HELPING OTHERS

The STAR club participated in the 4-H Horseback Riding Assistance Program at Beekman Center, collected the Christmas food baskets, organized the Christmas door decorating contest, took orphaned children to Greenfield Village on December 19 and made profits from a M & M candy sale. Students in the STAR club took active roles as students and citizens. The members did their very best to help others. Lee Howell stated "The feeling you get after you've helped a group or individual can not be expressed in words alone."

✓-MATE

The 1983 Holt High Chess Team was primed and ready to play; the only chess team in the area. Adviser Bill Savage arranged to have a few players from MSU and LCC to come in and play. A chess expert, Mike Williams, came weekly to one of their three practices. The team joined a Lansing tournament league and the February state meet. Captain Kevin Cramer said, "the 1982-83 team had better coaching and more seriousness from the players."

1. Kevin Cramer studies a tricky move in practice.
2. The team listens to instructor Mike Williams as he interrupts their game.
3. Williams shows Rob Foster and Dan Bruining some advanced moves.

OUTRAGEOUS

The Senior Class began early to plan a large variety of activities. The first major decision they faced was whether or not they were going to raise money to have colored photos in the yearbook. With help from their class officers, they raised the $1,375.00 needed. Money makers included, selling senior wills, an autographed yearbook ad and an all school dance. ASHHS Vice President Randy Pelky organized a Senior Class Party and a Senior Christmas tree. Bret Brown commented "I am thankful that my peers elected me as their Class President, because I gained an attitude of responsibility and allegiance to my class and school."

1. Dedicated Seniors show their spirit while assembling the Christmas Tree.

2. Senior Class Officers: Bret Brown (President), Becky Simpson (Vice President), Melanie Barens (Secretary), John Bowkus (Treasurer).

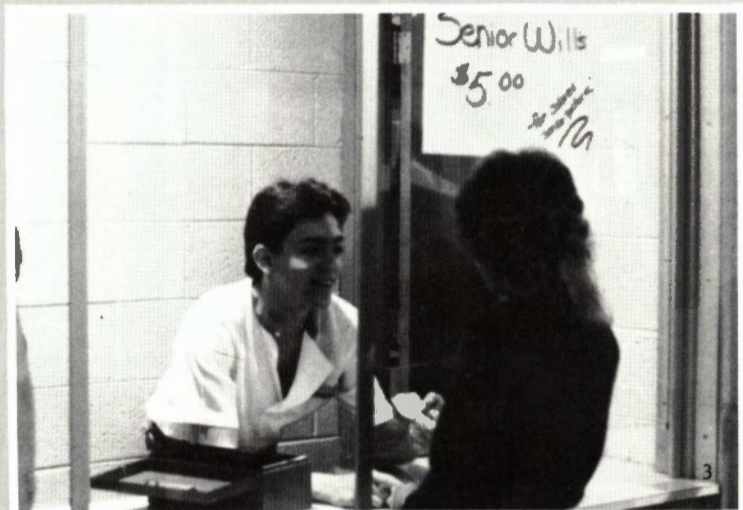

3. Earning money for color yearbook photos, Class President Bret Brown sells senior wills.

4. Junior steering committee members show the variety of cookie tins they sold.

5. Junior Class Officers: Shelly Roberts (Vice President), Kelly Foster (Secretary), Jodi Abendroth (Treasurer), Wendy DeYoung (President).

6. Sophomore Class Officers: Tonia Yarbrough (President), Andrea Zaenglein (Treasurer), Lisa Gafner (Secretary), LeeAnn Morgan (Vice President).

7. The popular rainbow logo helped the sophomore steering committee members sell paper and bulletin boards.

OUTSTANDING

The Junior Class had a lot of organizing and planning to do this year. Their first and most important project was the Junior-Senior Prom. When picking the site, the class decided to save money and hold the prom at the junior high school. This enabled the steering committee to go "all out" on decorations. They began the construction right after the holidays. Involvement in class activities can be rewarding according to Junior Class President Wendy DeYoung who said, "I really enjoy being Class President because I get to know first hand what is happening within the school."

OUTGOING

Off to a slow start, new class sponsor Mr. Bruce Kutney with the steering committee and class officers, finally got the class organized and moving. Selling cards, stationary and bulletin boards with the rainbow logo was their first fund raiser. They also sponsored dances in preparation for an excellent Junior-Senior Prom. Sophomore Class President Tonia Yarbrough described her involvement with the Sophomore Class as "a learning experience which gave me the skills to become a responsible mature young adult."

MOONLIGHT PARADISE

This year's Junior/Senior Prom, one of the most important extracurricular activities within the school year, turned out to be a night of heavenly bliss. Many students felt apprehension over the location of the Prom. Unlike last year, the Prom was held in the Junior High School. The gym was vividly decorated in light blue and silver which represented the Senior Class colors and the band, ECT, supplied the music. Decorations ranged from streamers on the ceiling to waterfalls and bridges. The couples who participated enjoyed an evening of dining, dancing and fun.

1. Wendi Phenicie and Jim Parks dance to "Stairway to Heaven".
 2. Fresh fruit, cheese and crackers, and apple juice from the flowing fountain served as hors d'oeuvres for Kevin Balmer and Nya Grables.
 3. Sophomore Jenny VanDyke attends her first Prom with Junior Robby Atkinson.
 4. The bridge to Paradise was a common route for many couples.
 5. Seniors Mary Margaret Ward and Debi Rose enjoy an evening of fun sponsored by the Junior Class.
 6. Before pictures are taken, Char Heath and her date fill out the necessary forms.

A VERY "JOLLY" EVENING

"Ruckin once said that when we fail to praise a person who deserves praise, two sad things happen, we run a chance of driving the person from the right road for want of encouragement, and we deprive ourselves of one of the very happiest of our privileges, the privileges of rewarding labor that deserves a reward. The students honored tonight deserve our attention, for they are the contributors that have added to the spirit of the school, have applied their time to the benefit of others, or have excelled academically. It is our faculty privilege to honor these students tonight." — Mr. Paul Jolly

Little did Mr. Jolly know when giving this speech that he was also speaking of himself. After approximately 109 students received certificates, medals or plaques, it was announced that the yearbook would be dedicated to him. The audience full of proud friends and parents ended the evening with a standing ovation.

1. Myra Grant, Jim Pence and Delle Carnahan happily receive their drama awards.

2. Listening to Mrs. Furtaw's touching speech are Sandra Hill, Michelle Thompson and Tara Helgemo.

3. Mr. Woolston proudly presents awards to ASHHS officers Ronda Beals, Mike Stone, Kris Bruining and Randy Pelky.

DRENCHED TRIP

This year the Class of '83 shared their Senior Trip at Cedar Point "The Amazement Park!" The day began at 6 AM when the seniors boarded their busses. Once the sunny ride was over the seniors raced to the gates and prepared for a day filled with excitement. Much to their disappointment, it rained for the majority of the day. Regardless of the weather the seniors were determined to have fun, so between the heavy turrents everyone raced for their favorite rides. When it was raining, crowds of Holt students could be found packed under picnic umbrellas trying to avoid getting drenched. All things considered, the Senior Trip was an exciting and memorable event. Of course the dryest and most welcomed ride of the day was the bus ride home.

1. Huddling in one of the dry spots in the park, a group of seniors wait for the rain to pass.
2. A few friends pause during the downpour to get their pictures taken.
3. Best friends Debbie Major and Dawn Baker enjoy their senior trip together.

ALMOST OVER

With the help of Mrs. Donna Barens and the senior parents, the 1983 Senior Breakfast was a success. High school art students provided the signs and wall decorations, while the parents organized the program, table decorations and menu.

The morning started with a filling breakfast during which the graduating class discussed upcoming activities. Mrs. Shiley Kelly recited a poem she wrote for the seniors and Melanie Barens responded with a special poetic thank you to the parents of the Class of 1983. Following the meal, commencement practice took place on Troost Athletic Field.

- 1. While the underclassmen attend first hour, Ann Maurer and Mark Kowalski eat their last breakfast as seniors.*
- 2. After the Senior Breakfast, it's all over but the shouting.*
- 3. Being class sponsor pays off as Ms. Juanita Grew receives a free meal.*

BACCALAUREATE

On June 5, seniors shared an inspirational moment as they worshiped together in the auditorium. Reverend David Milbourn was on hand to lead the class in prayer. Reverend John A. Toth of Dimondale spoke about wisdom, affection and courage. Seniors Scott Auvenshine, Bruce Shively, Becky Simpson and Melanie Perales also recited special prayers. Ken Kyte read a poem and Delle Carnahan sang and played the flute. Mr. Ron Allen directed the choir and played the organ during the hymns. Baccalaureate was a meaningful way of spiritually entering adulthood.

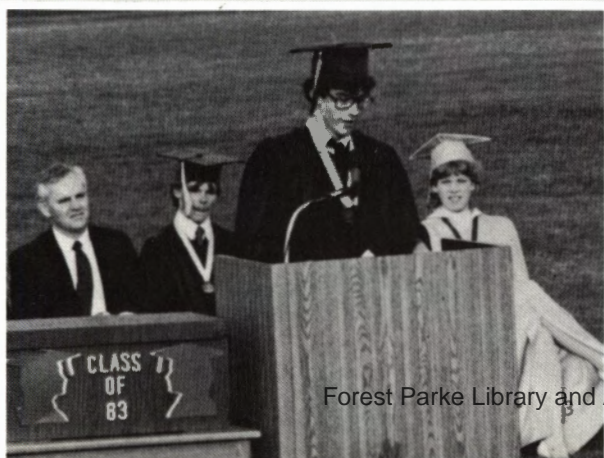

1. The choir set the mood for the afternoon with "I Believe" and "I Sing The Body Electric."
2. Ken Kyte recites Omar Khayyam's "The Rubaiyat."
3. The graduating class of 1983 is inspired by Reverend John Toth's speech.

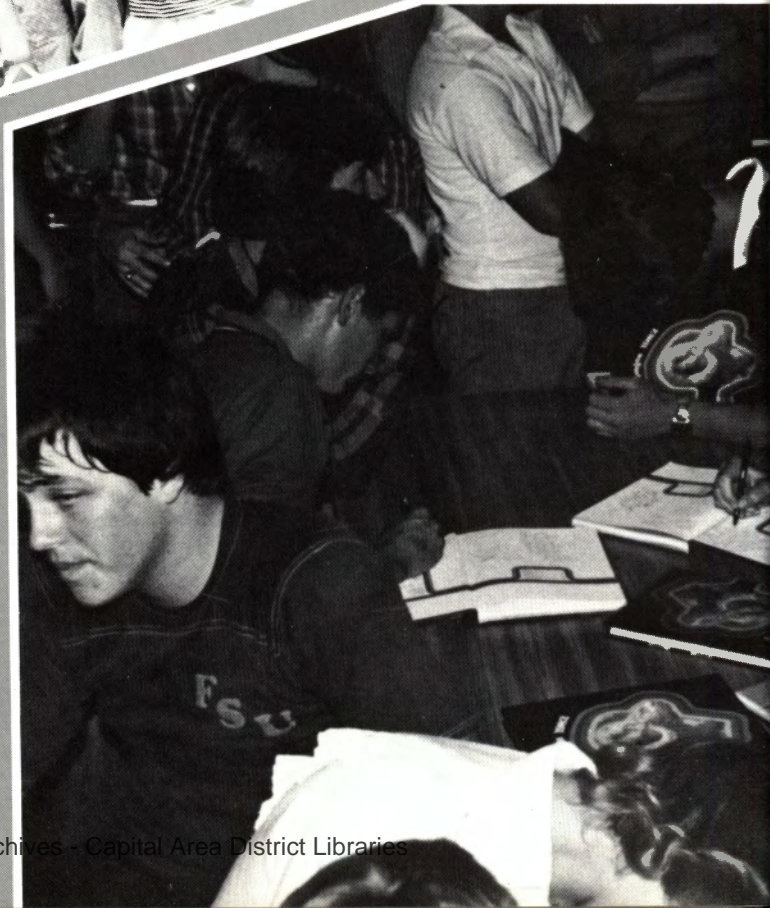

1. Mr. Paul Jolly introduces the graduates while Dr. Robert Føy hands out the diplomas.
2. Mike McClelland, Gary Carlson, Scott Auvenshine, Todd Eastman and David Choma show off their diplomas.
3. Commencement speaker Mike Stone urges classmates to strive for success.

1983 GRADUATES

On June 9 as commencement ushers led the Class of 1983 onto Troost Field. The 268 seniors knew that their high school days were coming to a close. Jane Conklin began the commencement speeches, delivering her thoughts on education. Next, foreign exchange student, Anssi Korhonen, touched the audience with his thanks to classmates for a memorable year. Mike Stone concluded the speeches with a message challenging seniors in their future lives. Finally, the big moment arrived. As their names were called, seniors travelled across the field and with a handshake entered their new lives.

SPECIAL EVENTS

Holt students view the sights of Greenfield Village with the German Exchange students ... Super spirited Sophomore John Chapman thinks Homecoming is a real "drag" ... Mr. Guil Northrup and Junior Chris Sible helped raise the money that sent Senior Debbie Major to Washington for a special "Close-Up" Program ... What would Winter Homecoming be like without Rocky Ram (really Gregg Moore) there to cheer on the team ... Holt High School was just one of the many schools around the country to see "Freedom Jam's" spectacular combination of music and comedy ... Senior Jane Conklin gives blood at the NHS blood drive knowing that she could be saving a life ... It's everybody's favorite part of the new school year — receiving their new yearbook ... Seniors Annette Schoonover, Anne Maurer and Kellie Barnes model the sweatshirts they bought in Germany last summer.

A great deal of time and hard work went into producing the yearbook, but without the support of area businesses the fond memories of a year at HHS would not have been preserved. Each year about 75 organizations have purchased advertisements to make the Rampages possible. The community support enabled the Rampages Staff to include colored photos and colored inks in the introduction, full-color senior portraits, an attractive cover and special end sheets. Many more students are able to purchase yearbooks at a lower price due to local advertisements.

What motivated patrons to support a high school publication? Some companies hoped to promote business from students and their parents. Others, such as Nyeholt Steel, Inc., have a dual reason. The management advertised "to acquaint the

A great number of businesses shared the Lab of Clinical Medicine's reasons for advertising. The Lab stated that "many of our personnel have children in the Holt Public Schools and several others are graduates of Holt."

The entire student body appreciates every business that helped preserve '83 at HHS. The Rampages Staff has enjoyed working with each one of you.

I WONDER

*Sometimes a certain song will bring
A memory of you,
Of days we spent together,
Of things we used to do.
The sweet perfume of yesterday
Brings back a tender smile,
And I return — in memory,
For just a little while.
I often wonder where you are,
And what the years have wrought,
I wonder if you're happy now,
And what the years have brought.
It's sweet to wander back in time
And let your mind roam free,
I wonder — if you wander back,
And sometimes think of me.*
